BRITAIN SMILES DISDAINFULLY AT HITLER'S THREAT

Close Senate Vote Seen On Relief Fund

SUBCOMMITTEE FAVORS AMOUNT FIXED BY HOUSE

Holds Brief Hearings On Roosevelt's Request For $150,000,000 More

WPA ADMINISTRATOR GETS SOME SHARP QUESTIONING

Some Members Express Doubt Any Effort Made To Curtail Expenditures

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—A senate appropriations subcommittee held brief hearings today on President Roosevelt's request for $150,000,000 additional for WPA and, although a vote was deferred, indicated strongly a disposition to accept the house's cut to $100,000,000.

The only witness at the closed session was Colonel F. C. Harrington, the WPA administrator. A vote was put off until Monday, but Chairman Adams, Democrat, Colorado, and Senator Townsend, Republican, Delaware, another subcommittee member, said they felt confident the committee would approve the house figure.

Administration lieutenants conceded they had slight chance to win approval for the other $50,000,000 in committee, but asserted they would make a vigorous fight on the senate floor for a $150,000,000 appropriation.

The final senate vote was expected to be extremely close.

The senate approved by only one vote when congress whittled $150,000,000 from President Roosevelt's original $875,000,000 relief request last January. After this cut, the president promptly requested a further $150,000,000 allocation. The house yesterday voted $100,000,000.

Members of the senate committee were reported to have questioned Harrington sharply as to what effort, if any, the WPA had made to curtail relief expenditures.

Talking with reporters after the hearing, Adams said:

"Between February 11 and February 25 they increased the relief rolls by

SEEK BUS LINES FOR COLLEGIANS

Movement In Progress For Bringing 300 More Students To Northeast Center

Backed by all members of the state legislature from the Fifth congressional district, as well as parish school board superintendents and high school principals in this area, every possible effort is being exerted to provide facilities for increasing the enrollment of Northeast Center by fully 300 more students this fall through the operation of five or six bus lines throughout the area.

Directing this project as a civic undertaking is Sig Masur, chairman of the Northeast Center committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who is urging action in providing these buses by Louisiana State university, sponsor of the local college.

It is pointed out that with the new buildings being completed at this time there is every reason for the present enrollment to be increased by fully 300 students which will entail a total cost of only approximately $15,000 for the buses against an estimated cost of $300,000 for dormitory facilities sufficient for 300 students.

There are at present 1,791 high school students in the Fifth congressional district to be served by higher educational facilities such as North-

CHIEF JUSTICE TO NOTE ANNIVERSARY

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—Chief Justice Charles Austin O'Neill Thursday will celebrate his 25th anniversary as a member of the Louisiana supreme court.

He has been chief justice since 1922, a longer time than anyone has ever served in that position in this state. Only Francois Xavier Martin saw longer service on the high bench. Martin was appointed associate justice in 1815 and remained until 1846.

Justice O'Neill, born in Franklin, La., 70 years ago, held only one other public office. He was elected a district judge in 1908.

The chief justice, a widower, has two sons, six daughters, 11 grandchildren.

THRONG IN ROME FOR HOLY WEEK

Ceremonies Will Open Today With Traditional Blessing Of Palms

VATICAN CITY, April 1.—(AP)—Pilgrims began flocking into Rome today for elaborate holy week ceremonies, which will open tomorrow with the traditional blessing of the palms.

Despite unsettled European conditions, interest in the new pope apparently has swelled the number of tourists attracted this year. Many hotels reported all rooms engaged weeks ago.

The mass at St. Peter's tomorrow will be celebrated by Federico Cardinal Tedeschini.

In the years when Pope Pius XII was archpriest of St. Peter's he celebrated the high mass there each Sunday and was the principal figure in the procession of the palms commemorating Christ's entry into Jerusalem.

This year, as pope, he will celebrate Palm Sunday mass in his chapel, but will participate in the long ceremonies of the passion later in the week.

Next Sunday he will assume his throne in St. Peter's for the magnificent Easter mass and, at its closing, will give his blessings "urbi et orbi"—to the city and to the world—from the balcony of the basilica.

An enormous crowd, possibly running to 250,000, is expected to be in the square before St. Peter's to receive the blessing.

MRS. E. O. SMITH OF WEST MONROE DIES

Mrs. Abigail Blakey Smith, 60, wife of E. O. Smith, died last night at 9:45 o'clock at her home, 705 Trenton street, West Monroe.

Mrs. Smith, who was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Monroe, was born at Atlanta, Tex., March 14, 1879. She was married to Mr. Smith, a former West Monroe city councilman, in 1898.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. H. A. McDonald of West Monroe, and Mrs. W. S. Kendall of West Monroe; and three grandchildren, Louise Gail McDonald, Martha McDonald and Will Sam Kendall, Jr., all of West Monroe.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence with Rev. Ernest Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Monroe, officiating. Interment will follow in the family burial plot in the Riverview Burial park here.

Pallbearers will be John Walters, Clarence Grandberry, J. F. Jones, Jr., Travis Ellis, C. C. Bell, Jr., John Williams, Francis Hamilton and Garnett Anderson.

Peters Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Asserts Germany Won't Stand For Intimidation Nor Encirclement

By Louis P. Lochner

WILHELMSHAVEN, Germany, April 1.—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler decisively threw back the Anglo-French anti-aggression challenge today but avoided going beyond the intimation he might cancel Germany's naval treaty with Great Britain.

"Germany will stand neither for intimidation nor encirclement," he declared.

He spoke to 50,000 men and women of Wilhelmshaven and its vicinity in a 62-minute address after he had witnessed the launching of Germany's second 35,000-ton battleship this year, the von Tirpitz.

In his passage on the 1935 Anglo-German naval treaty, under which Germany agreed that her tonnage would not exceed 35 per cent of Britain's, Hitler said:

"I once concluded a naval agreement with Britain. I was animated by the fervent desire that we might never again have a war with England.

"If, however, that wish does not exist on the other side, then the practical preconditions for concluding such a treaty have vanished."

On the whole the fuehrer contented himself with heaping scorn upon Britain, of which he said:

"For 300 long years she has acted in a virtueless manner but only now in her old age she speaks of virtue."

Poland and the Anglo-French offer of military assistance if her independence were threatened were mentioned only indirectly with the warning by implication to Poland:

"He who is willing to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for others must expect to get burned."

There also was an indirect reference interpreted as aimed at either President Roosevelt or Secretary of State Cordell Hull when the fuehrer, in describing Germany's efforts at economic expansion, asserted:

"We won't take orders in this matter from any European or extra-European statesman."

The chancellor spoke outside the Wilhelmshaven rathaus from behind a bullet-proof glass screen.

Only those in the immediate audience heard his address as it was de-

LOSERS IN SPAIN MUST PAY COSTS

650,000 Republican Prisoners Will Provide Much Of Labor In Undertaking

By Larry Allen

BURGOS, Spain, April 1.—(AP)—The Institute of Credit, Spain's Reconstruction Finance corporation, which is tackling a billion-dollar job of rebuilding the nation, has decided to make those whom the nationalists hold politically responsible for the civil war pay a large part of the bill and republican prisoners supply the labor.

Joaquin Benjumea, 60-year-old soft-spoken director of the bureau of devastated regions charged with financing and supervising the reconstruction, must raise at least 10,000,000,000 pesetas, about $1,000,000,000.

(This would place a value of 10 cents on the peseta. There is no quotation on the currency, however, in the New York market.)

That is the present estimated cost of repairing the damages of the war, but surveys of Madrid and Mediterranean ports might double the figure.

The reconstruction program is to be financed:

THREE IN REVENUE OFFICE DISCHARGED

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1.—(AP)—State Collector of Revenue W. A. Cooper today confirmed reports emanating in Shreveport that three more employes of the Shreveport office of the department of revenue had been discharged. He said the three were removed to curtail forces employed in Shreveport and that there are not now any vacancies in the Shreveport office.

Cooper said those discharged are J. F. White, A. E. Edmonds and J. D. Blake, who have been carried as auditors. The dismissals, effective April 1, make a total of 13 who have been dismissed from the Shreveport office since Cooper succeeded Alice Lee Grosjean as collector of revenue.

FIVE CONVICTED OF MAIL FRAUD

Shreveport Jury Spends Nearly Three Hours In Reaching Decision

SHREVEPORT, La., April 1.—(AP)—Five defendants were found guilty and the remaining two were acquitted on charges of using the mails to defraud by a federal court jury at 5:30 p.m. today in the trial of T. L. Morris et al.

Nearly seven hours were spent in reaching the decision.

Morris, who is 40, his two brothers, L. Hugh Morris, 30, and M. N. Morris, 34, all of Shreveport, Z. B. Freeman, 37, and J. L. Beasley, 33, were found guilty as charged.

R. C. "Cotton" McCoy, Jr., 28, of Shreveport, and H. R. O'Gwin of Dallas, 36, were found not guilty.

A motion for hearing on a new trial was filed by J. Frank Looney, defense attorney, immediately after the verdict was read. Looney also requested that the jury be polled on the verdict. All jurors assented to the decision.

Mercy of the court was asked for L. Hugh Morris and Beasley, and "extreme mercy" was asked for M. N. Morris by the jurors.

NEW BUILDING TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Work Starts On Monroe Furniture Company's Store Early This Week

Construction on the new Monroe Furniture company building will start early this week, it was announced yesterday by Joe Isaacman, president and general manager of the firm. The company's building, located at North Second and Jefferson, was completely destroyed by fire last August 13.

Mr. Isaacman and Mrs. Ida Kaplan, secretary-treasurer of the concern, returned yesterday from New Orleans, where final details were completed for starting construction on the new four-story building. Slight delay in the completion of last-minute details was caused by the illness of several executives.

Caldwell Brothers and Hart were low bidders on the building and were awarded the general contract. J. W. Smith and Associates are the architects and King Stubbs, a member of the firm, was in charge of drawing the plans and specifications. For special designing, Robert W. Heller, of New York, a specialist in designing furniture stores, was associated with Mr. Stubbs in designing the building, which is said to be one of the most

Experts Say Germany Would Lose In War

Believe Britain And France, Aided By Poland, Would Be Strong

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—High American military authorities expressed belief privately today that with Poland as an ally Great Britain and France were in a strong position, should the tense European situation flare into war.

Somewhat guardedly, several authorities closely agreed on these general conclusions:

1. A war over Poland would inevitably become another world conflict.

2. France and Britain would threaten Germany on the flank by circumventing Germany's heavily fortified line along the French frontier and advancing through Italy—if Italy stood with Germany. Combined with possible Russian aid to Poland, this would represent the same double pressure used in 1914.

3. Italy would be faced with the immediate decision whether to risk a French army invasion and British-French naval attacks, or abandon the Rome-Berlin axis. There was a strong belief that Mussolini would be unwilling to see his country become a pathway for marching armies.

4. Hungary was viewed as a likely German ally, but Rumania and other Balkan powers were counted on the side of Britain and France.

5. Hemmed in by British seapower on the Baltic as well as on the land, Germany would have recourse to the air. American military men professed to see no likely means by which London and Paris could be spared from devastation.

6. The allies could count on strong economic and psychological weapons, as well as military might. Some officials doubt the German people would follow Hitler to a war to the finish as they did the kaiser.

"Hitler would have to win in 60 days," one official argued.

These conclusions were tentative, based on the current status of an international situation that has changed

LATIN AMERICA TO GET PLANES

U. S. Will Seek To Increase Commercial Aviation By Six-Point Program

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—This government disclosed today that five major agencies were collaborating on a program intended to meet the bid of totalitarian nations for domination of Latin American commercial aviation.

Officials of the civil aeronautics authority and the state, war, navy and commerce departments, in a series of conferences, have outlined a six-point program.

C. Grant Mason, chairman of the foreign problems committee of the CAA, said German airlines, covering 12 per cent more route-miles in Latin America than United States lines, operate on both the east and west coasts of South America and over the South Atlantic to Europe.

Italy, he declared, intended to inaugurate "in the near future," a service from Rome to Argentina, connecting with existing Italian lines there.

The departmental conference was reported to be considering a program which would:

Increase aircraft exports from the United States.

Provide faster service, with airway beacons to be set up at strategic United States territorial points along the Latin American routes to permit, for the first time, regular night flying.

Change schedules to permit more frequent service over many routes.

Stimulate air traffic by lower rates and other facilities.

Extend inter-American air routes.

PLANE LOOKS FOR HALLIBURTON JUNK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—(AP)—Pilots of the huge California clipper were requested today by Pan American airways to keep an alert watch for the Chinese junk of Richard Halliburton, unheard from for eight days.

The junk left Hongkong recently and Halliburton planned to sail the odd craft to the Golden Gate International exposition here.

600 EXPECTED AT LABOR MEETING

State Federation Will Open Three-Day Convention Here Tomorrow

With an expected attendance of more than 600 delegates and a like number of visitors, the 27th annual convention of the Louisiana State Federation of Labor will open its three-day session tomorrow on the Cherokee terrace of Hotel Frances.

A large number of state and local officials and representatives of the American Federation of Labor and various international unions are scheduled to speak during the convention, which will be presided over by the state federation president, E. H. Williams of Shreveport, among them being Lieutenant-Governor Earl K. Long.

The opening session Monday will be presided over by J. J. Dieterich, president of the Monroe Central Trades and Labor council, who will introduce local speakers and then turn the gavel over to President Williams.

Mayor H. H. Benoit of Monroe and Mayor Harry Williams of West Monroe and G. D. Holland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the convention on behalf of the Twin Cities.

Dr. F. K. Hirsch, rabbi of Temple B'Nai Israel, will give the invocation at the Monday session, Rev. M. R. Walsh, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic church, will give the invocation at the Tuesday session, and Rev. C. Karlos Smith, pastor of the West Monroe Methodist church, the

MINISTER'S SON LYNCHED BY MOB

PANAMA CITY, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Miles W. Brown, 28-year-old son of a retired minister, was shot to death here today by a band of masked men who abducted him from jail after expressing dissatisfaction because he failed to receive the death penalty in a murder trial.

Brown was convicted last night of slaying Roy Van Kleeck, in whose hardware store he formerly worked. The jury's recommendation of mercy made a life sentence mandatory and saved him from the electric chair.

Jailer Johnny Goodwin declared "four or five masked men" stole into the room where he was sleeping, bound and gagged him and took his keys to open Brown's cell.

Goodwin said one of the men told him "the law didn't do justice but we will. We don't want to hurt you."

Brown's bullet-pierced body, clad in pajamas, was found a few hours later on a country road. It was Florida's first lynching since last August.

At Tallahassee, Governor Fred P. Cone ordered State Attorney General George Couper Gibbs to take charge of the investigation and "bring to justice the murderers of Miles W. Brown."

The body of Van Kleeck, well-to-do merchant and former county commissioner, was found in a bayou near here January 16. Brown was arrested at Jacksonville several days later, and Sheriff John Scott said he confessed the slaying.

Construction Of Capital Vessels Would Take Too Long Under Circumstances

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 1.—British naval authorities smiled disdainfully tonight at Adolf Hitler's threat to denounce the British-German naval treaty and there was no indication that he had swerved Britain from her joint pledge with France to defend Polish independence.

High naval experts pointed out not only that Britain had tremendous superiority over Germany in naval power but also that the combined British fleets by a margin of more British-French fleets were stronger than the combined German-Italian fleets by a margin of more than two to one.
than two to one.

Hitler's retort at Wilhelmshaven, Germany, to Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement yesterday in the house of commons of British-French guarantees to Poland came as British diplomats tried to map a new armed strategy to meet German strength with her own.

Britain reassured Poland of the breadth of her pledge and sought to rally Rumania, another German neighbor in the path of possible Nazi expansion, to similar solidarity with the Anglo-French front as a second step toward building a wide "halt Hitler" bloc in Europe.

The visit that Polish Foreign Minister Colonel Joseph Beck is expected to make here Monday assumed even greater importance after the reichsfuehrer's implied threat to Poland.

Foremost problem to be discussed, it was believed, will be the status of the Free City of Danzig, territory taken from Germany after the World war

RITES HELD FOR OAK GROVE FIVE

Throngs Pay Respects To Victims Of Clear Creek Washout Tragedy

OAK GROVE, La., April 1.—(Special)—Last rites for Oak Grove's victims of the Clear creek tragedy were held today.

Throughout Friday night and Saturday morning, until the bodies were taken to the Oak Grove High school auditorium at 2 p.m. today, throngs of people passed through local funeral homes to pay respects to the five victims of the tragedy. Members of Catron Kelly post No. 55, American Legion, and the legion auxiliary stood watch throughout the night.

As the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Schilling, Mrs. Tom Bradley and Mrs. Sam H. Campbell and her 2-year-old daughter, Annette, were being removed to the school auditorium, where services were conducted, all Oak Grove went into mourning and all business houses were closed.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. B. Emmerich, Methodist Episcopal minister of Oak Grove, assisted by Rev. J. R. Campbell, Rev. Trimble and Rev. Jesse Birch, of Oak Grove; and Rev. Drummond of Bastrop.

STARCH MADE OF DEHYDRATED PULP

Longview Teacher And Pupils Credited With Advancing Potato Process

LAUREL, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—A Longview, Tex., high school instructor and his class of chemistry students today were credited with adding a vital step to the progress of making a year-long industry of the now seasonal manufacture of sweet potato starch.

Dehydrated sweet potato pulp prepared by Gilbert C. Wilson and his White Oak High school students of Longview was run through tests at the Laurel starch plant late today and successfully produced starch, according to W. R. Richee, plant manager.

If the dehydration process now can be worked out on a practical large-scale basis, Richee said, there is nothing to keep the industry from operating the year long. Inability to keep sweet potatoes from spoiling has kept the industry on a seasonal basis heretofore.

In preparing a pulp that would not spoil, Wilson and his pupils first ground the vegetable, next added hydrate lime, and then pressed out 70 to 85 per cent of the soluble portion including water, fermenting sugar, and salts. The product then was dried.

Dehydration has been in the experimental stage for some time, Richee said, but the Wilson method seemed to offer great improvement in the efficacy of its press.

The successful test proved a fitting climax to Laurel's "Chemurgic Appreciation day," celebration of which was in progress while the tests were being run.

Officials and delegates of the National Farm Chemurgic conference, which completed its annual meeting in Jackson last night, visited the city and its chemurgic plants during the day, and all this area turned out tonight for the coronation of Miss Chemurgy in the outstanding social event of Laurel's month-long chemurgic trek.

Wheeler McMillen, president of the National Chemurgic council, delivered an address at noon in which he declared Mississippi "could be the richest portion of the world if she would utilize her available elements."

RUSTON CHURCH MAY BE FIRST UNDER NEW ORDER

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(AP)—Rev. Guy M. Hicks, pastor, said the new Methodist church to be dedicated here tomorrow may be the first in the United States to be accepted under the new order of service resulting from unification of the three branches of Methodism.

Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Tex., will officiate at the dedication.

Rev. Hicks said that the ritual by which the church will be dedicated is expected to be finally approved at the approaching Methodist unification meeting in Kansas City, Mo.

"Bishop Smith has a prospectus of the new service," said the pastor, "and he will use the copy in the dedication ceremonies.

"Since the new ritual has not been printed for general distribution, we will be the first in Louisiana and probably the first in the nation to use the new service, which is longer and differs from the former service."

The ceremony will change the name of the local church from "Trinity Methodist Church, South" to "Trinity Methodist church."

The new building, erected for $92,600, is the church's third. The first was built in 1884. The present membership is more than 1,200.

Dr. A. E. Prince will assume his duties as pastor of the First Baptist church in West Monroe with the morning service today, having removed to the Twin Cities with his family from Pineville, where he recently resigned as pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. Prince is regarded as an important addition to the ranks of the clergy in the Twin Cities, having held numerous important pastorates in the south where he is said to have performed a highly constructive work for his denomination.

He was graduated from Howard-Payne college in Brownwood, Tex., from the LaGrange School of Theology and also received the degree of doctor of divinity from Ewing college in Illinois. His pastorates have been in Illinois, Missouri, Texas and Louisiana. Among the number was that of pastor of the First Baptist church in Marion, Ill., the largest church of the Southern Baptist denomination in that state. He also was pastor of the First Baptist church in LaGrange, Mo.; of the First Baptist church in Brownwood, Tex., and pastor of the First Baptist church in Pineville, La., where he recently completed five years of service.

In his extended career, Dr. Prince has filled many denominational offices. Among these was that of executive secretary of the executive board of the Illinois Southern Baptist convention for seven years. He was president of the board of trustees of Ewing college for seven years and was offered the presidency of the same college in 1926 but declined the honor. He also was named secretary of the Illinois State Sunday school and Baptist Young People's association but declined to serve because he preferred to remain in pastoral work.

He was a member of the executive board of the Texas Baptist convention for seven years; a member of the board of trustees of Howard-Payne college for seven years and at the present time is president of the executive board of the Louisiana Baptist convention.

He has been serving for several years and up to the present time has served as member of the board of trustees of the Louisiana Baptist hospital at Alexandria. In accepting the call to West Monroe, he found it necessary the past week to resign as chaplain of three institutions in Rapides parish; that of chaplain of the United States Veterans' hospital; chaplain of the state industrial school for girls; and also as chaplain at the Central Louisiana State hospital.

In connection with his pastorate at Pineville, Dr. Prince founded a radio Sunday school class which he conducted every Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock over the Alexandria radio station KALB. The standard Sunday school lesson was discussed for the benefit of all church denominations. This work of course he was forced to relinquish, but he initiated a similar class which he will conduct in Monroe over KMLB each Saturday at 9:30 a.m. His first Sunday school lesson broadcast was given here yesterday morning and the public is invited to tune in every Saturday morning at the same hour for a half-hour period.

Dr. Prince is an evangelist who has conducted successful services in many southern states. He also is author of several religious books and tracts.

MAKING OF MAPS FAST BUSINESS

Names And Outlines Of Nations Change With Dizzy Rapidity

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Dr. Samuel Whittemore Boggs' head is whirling, but it's surely no fault of his.

Dr. Boggs is the geographer of the state department and has been for 15 years.

And never in his useful tenure at the department has he seen so much hash made of geography as in the last year.

Those who practice it say that cartography (map-making) is a very dignified science. Or that it was, until the last year when trying to follow the cavortings of boundaries became a new form of acrobatics.

Look at what has happened to the world's physiognomy since March, 1938:

Austria became German.

So did the Sudetenland.

And Bohemia and Moravia.

Slovakia became "independent."

Poland added Teschen, taken from Czecho-Slovakia.

Hungary annexed Ruthenia.

Germany took Memel.

Japan moved farther into China.

And took Hainan, large island off Indo-China.

Also the Spratly islands, 600 miles from the Philippines.

Even the United States added a complication by staking out claims to Canton and Enderbury islands in the Pacific.

Not since the World war has there been such a geographical goulash.

And there may be more ingredients to be thrown into the mixture very soon.

"We have had a steady flow of new maps," said Dr. Boggs today. "They come mostly from abroad. The countries which acquire new territory are naturally anxious to show it on their maps. But other countries which lost territory, such as Czecho-Slovakia, also seem ready to admit it cartographically."

He exhibited a new map just arrived from Germany where the map-maker, probably fed up to the neck with bounding boundaries, had simply blotted out names with red ink and printed new names in red.

Dr. Boggs said the difficulty in following changes in Europe and Asia is not merely in keeping abreast with boundary changes, but also with name changes.

The portion of Czecho-Slovakia which was absorbed by Germany now bears new names on the German map. Praha (Prague) has become Prag. Brno, chief city of Moravia, has become Brunn.

Future maps, cartographers suggest half seriously, should be made like jig-saw puzzles so you could move the pieces around and still keep sane.

MAN ONCE SHOT DIES IN RUSTON

Death Of O. W. Wanless Not Attributed To Two-Year-Old Gunshot Wound

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)—Funeral services were held here at 3:30 p.m. Saturday for O. W. Wanless, 63, Ruston filling station operator, who narrowly missed dying when he was shot in the abdomen in December, 1936. Death was not due to the gunshot wound, however, but was attributed by physicians to pancreas trouble, a disorder for which Mr. Wanless had undergone an operation last Monday night. He died at the Ruston-Lincoln sanitarium at 7 p.m. Friday.

Services were conducted at the Ruston Methodist church, with the pastor, Rev. Guy M. Hicks, officiating. Pallbearers were Howard Liner, Ned Causey, Sheriff Bryan Thigpen, Robert Tanner, Neilly Goins, J. C. Berry and C. G. Ruple. Burial was in the Greenwood cemetery here, under direction of the B. F. McClure company.

Mr. Wanless, more than two years ago, was shot by Ross McCorkle, then 18, of Ruston, who is serving a sentence of from 6 to 20 years in the Louisiana penitentiary, having been convicted of shooting with intent to murder, according to Sheriff Thigpen. Though arrested immediately after the shooting, McCorkle waited a week to confess that he shot Mr. Wanless. He declared that Wanless had "been hounding me about 20 cents that I owed him and I decided to march him down the road and give him a good talking to." McCorkle maintained that "the gun accidentally went off" when Wanless turned around, as he was walking him along a street from his filling station after night.

The shot required the removal of about eight inches of Wanless' intestines.

When the operation for the pancreas disorder was performed last Monday night, attending physicians observed that the gunshot wound "had healed perfectly," it was reported.

CHAIRMANSHIP GIVEN DR. RIZZO

Local Physician Named In Early Diagnosis Tuberculosis Work

The Ouachita Public Health and Tuberculosis association announced Saturday that Dr. F. P. Rizzo has been named Ouachita parish chairman of its early diagnosis campaign which is being conducted nation-wide during the month of April. The state chairman is Dr. Sidney Jacobs, New Orleans.

This year will mark the 12th annual campaign of all units of the tuberculosis associations in this particular activity. Early diagnosis stresses the need for protecting young people in whom the health of the nation in time to come is centered to large degree.

With radio addresses and public health talks in schools and before civic clubs, the early diagnosis campaign will be carried on in an effort to make the public tuberculosis conscious and to consult physicians at the very outset when symptoms of dangerous nature are apparent.

The Secret Treaties Again

If there is a showdown this spring between France and Italy, as seems likely, it will be well for every American to remember that Italian dissatisfaction with its share of the spoils of Versailles goes back even farther than 1919.

It goes back to the secret treaties of 1915 and 1916 by which the allies (chiefly France and England) made certain promises to Italy in the event of victory.

At the outbreak of the World war, remember, Italy was allied with Germany, as now. But she had little heart for the war, and hesitated. By making promises of a slice of territory here and a concession there, the allies were able to beguile Italy from the Germans and win her as an ally.

The more specific of these promises, involving South Tyrol, Trieste, Trentino, Istria and Dalmatia, and the whole "sphere of influence" of the Mediterranean area, were included in secret arrangements between Britain, France and Italy long before the United States entered the war. The question of just how much Woodrow Wilson knew of these secret treaties before the United States went in, is an historical riddle, not yet completely unraveled.

But certainly the people of the United States in general knew nothing of the deals by which the loot of the war was already divided up among the victors years before they were sure they were going to be victors. The American people have never felt as heavy a responsibility for the peace of Versailles as others, but for these secret arrangements which preceded the war, they have none whatever.

The controversies between France and Italy over Suez, slices of north Africa, and Mediterranean islands, go back to a time long before the United States ever dreamed of entering the World war.

Italy maintained at the peace conference and has maintained steadily since, that the allies failed to pay the agreed price. Italians have insisted that they were promised certain parts of the loot which they never received. And that is what they are still shouting for today when Mussolini grimaces and screams at France.

Thus the question of whether Italy or France governs the unwilling natives of Tunisia is distinctly no headache for the United States, 4,500 miles away.

SCIENCE SHOUTS

Science has been speaking for some time, but with the announcement that a new process has been developed to make a tough beefsteak tender, it shouts. This is one time that science has said a mouthful.

This process consists of hanging the meat in temperatures higher than are usually used, and killing off the resulting bacteria with ultra-violet radiations. Every grade of beef, it is believed, can be raised approximately one full grade in palatability.

A good many of the developments of science, while they benefit the average man indirectly, are too remote for him to see just where they come in. But this one, getting right down to the evening dinner table, will cause a swelling chorus from 40,000,000 dinner tables: "Good old science!"

Three years of research by the Mellon institute went into this discovery. Maybe, after many years, Andrew Mellon will be remembered not as the greatest secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton, but as the man who took the beefs out of beefsteak.

CONTROLLED HUMOR?

From the American Federation of Actors comes a ban on jokes about WPA workers leaning on their shovels and killing time. It seems that such humor is regarded by the federation as nothing but unfair misrepresentation.

Many people will feel, however, that this is an excessively serious and long-faced view of the matter. There have been many relief abuses. Then why not poke fun at them in accordance with the good old American custom of laughing things off?

But aside from that, the federation action smacks too much of controlled humor, like that now being employed in Berlin under the guidance of Herr Goebbels.

Can't we at least retain freedom in the land of smiles? Is outside interference going to deny us this last realm of jocular liberty?

FOOTBALL DE-EMPHASIS

Resignation of Jock Sutherland as head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh is cited as another indication of the trend toward de-emphasizing the gridiron game. Pitt has apparently decided to put football in its place and keep it there.

This is in no sense a reflection on Coach Sutherland, who, over a period of years, directed the Pitt teams with an effectiveness that brought a lion's share of triumphant achievement.

However, it will probably be a good thing for higher education generally to soft-pedal the popular fall sport and strip it of over-emphasis and commercialization.

Colleges, after all, should be primarily regarded as educational institutions, not as blatant centers of gladiatorial combat on the grandiose scale.

Arkansas legislators will allow bull fights in the state if the matador doesn't use a weapon. Listen, fellows, there's only one Ferdinand.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of five special columns by Bruce Catton, Monroe Morning World-NEA Service correspondent in Washington, telling, for the first time, just what United States foreign policy is today—and why.

WASHINGTON—What American foreign policy is depends in the long run on public opinion. Neither presidents nor secretaries of state really make foreign policy. Any time the American public refuses to go along with them it can cancel statesmen's profoundest plans—as Woodrow Wilson learned after the World war.

So no discussion of American foreign policy today means much unless the things that have been happening to public opinion at home in the last few months are taken into account.

Basically, of course, the American people's idea on foreign policy is beautifully simple: they want peace with justice and prosperity with security.

The administration today is committed to the thesis that this goal can be reached by positive action only. It has turned its back on isolationism and has undertaken to cooperate with democracies to restrain dictatorships. It believes the country at large will support it in this regard.

Looking At The Record

Look at the sequence of events since the first of the year.

1. On January 4 President Roosevelt told congress that "no nation can be safe in its will to peace so long as any other single powerful nation refuses to settle its grievances at the council table." He urged that America use "methods short of war" to restrain such nations.

2. Three weeks later Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles made a speech before the New York Bar association in which he sought further to mobilize public opinion. He said that since the World war we have been witnessing "a progressive and ever more rapid deterioration" in international relation: multiplication of trade barriers, massacre of women and children in air raids, terrific new arms race, decline in sanctity of treaties, constant threat of violence. In sheer self-defense, he said, America must work actively for world conditions which would make such things impossible.

3. Less than a fortnight later a military plane crashed in California, and the public learned the government was enabling the French to buy brand new American fighting planes which had been designed for United States army purchase.

4. Before that news was stale, the American fleet was conducting maneuvers in the Atlantic and the Caribbean—maneuvers admittedly designed to test America's ability to keep invaders out of Latin America, and tacitly understood to be a warning to Germany and Italy that they had best stay out of the new world.

5. On the heels of that a Gallup poll revealed 69 per cent of the American people favored helping France and England by every means short of war, in case France and England should be attacked by Germany and Italy.

6. Then, addressing the 150th celebration of congress, President Roosevelt declared that "with many other democracies the United States will give no encouragement to the belief that our processes are outworn or that we will approvingly watch the return of forms of government which for 2,000 years have proved their tyrant and their instability."

7. Shortly after that Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, introduced (with administration approval) a bill under which South American governments could buy warships built in United States navy yards.

Then came Hitler's occupation of Czecho-Slovakia.

8. Acting with the approval of President Roosevelt, Undersecretary Welles (Secretary Hull being absent) issued a statement condemning Germany as having acted with "wanton lawlessness" and implying that America looked on the extinguishment of Czecho-Slovakian independence as a temporary thing. Simultaneously, the treasury department slapped a 25 per cent penalty on goods imported from Germany.

9. Three days later the American government sent a formal note of protest to Germany, and Senator Pittman moved to extend and modify the neutrality legislation in such a way as to enable England and France to buy arms and other supplies in America in case they were at war with Germany and Italy.

Add up all this and you get a clear picture of the direction in which the United States is moving in European affairs. There are indications—not yet conclusive—that in the main the public is prepared to follow the lead of the administration.

But People Are Cautious

By the same token, however, the American people are going to be cautious about foreign policy.

One evidence of that caution is our withdrawal from the Philippines. Now that the Philippines are gaining their independence, America has no territory of any consequence to defend west of the Hawaiian islands; the house vote on Guam was a pretty definite sign that the country is satisfied with that fact.

The next few weeks, probably, will tell the tale. There has been a shift in public opinion since Munich—a shift which apparently has been hastened along by recent events in Europe, including the latest Chamberlain speech. How far that shift has gone should become evident in what congress does and in what the country says during the immediate future.

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 1.—Even more amazing than the amount of swag garnered by the "Phantom of Bel Air," who has confessed to burglarizing some 60 star homes, is the fact that he's the only house-breaker on record who has made the Movie Colony his favorite hunting ground. The majority of our screen stars actually go out of their way to invite the attentions of bandits and second story men.

Time and again, I've seen Hollywood's big-shots make an ostentatious display of jewelry and cash in crowds where I wouldn't care to flaunt a single saw-buck. I've seen glamour girls wear $20,000 or $30,000 worth of diamonds to the Friday night prize fights, and I've seen some of our male zanies flash a roll of big denomination bills, thick enough to choke the proverbial ox, in night spots where some mighty shady characters are always among those present. And then, having thoroughly advertised what lucrative, made-to-order victims they are, they drive home—usually to some secluded mansion blocks removed from the flow of traffic.

Just to make their invitations more tempting, they also sanction the publication—in roto sections and fan magazines—of floor plans of their houses!

It seems to me that such folly—at a time when poverty has driven plenty of men to desperation—is almost great enough to make the stars themselves "accessory before the fact."

Ask any male star to discuss his leading ladies and he freezes like an Alaskan lake in January—ask a stellar lady about her screen lovers and she talks . . . and talks . . . and talks. That old saw about burned children dreading the fire has at least one exception—Dick Arlen is still a sucker for slot machines. The star name most often misspelled is "Margaret Lindsay"—even the local trade papers frequently substitute an "E" for the final "A." Bing Crosby is immune to flattery about his singing, but praise his golf game and he beams like a delighted schoolboy.

Add chewing gum addicts: Carole Lombard—and wouldn't you know it? Summer is not without its hazards for Arleen Whelan—like most red-heads, she burns more often than she tans. There's something demure about Sonja Henie's habit of keeping her eyes fixed on her plate while lunching—and something pertly tantalizing about the covert glances she steals at passers-by. Come to think about it, I've never seen Joy Hodges wear a costume that didn't have her initials embroidered on it, somewhere.

Here's a Hollywood irony deluxe. After trying vainly to crash the movies for more than two years, Ralph Bowman, of Santa Monica, was offered a screen role yesterday—and had to turn it down. Some time ago, he entered the "Gateway to Hollywood" radio contest, the winner of which gets a movie contract and a featured part in a major picture. Ralph won the first lap—and looks like a bet to win the finals. Yesterday, while visiting in the RKO studios, Director Kanin, was enough impressed by his appearance to offer him a minor spot in the new Ginger Rogers opus. Ralph had to refuse—the rules of the contest stipulate that all participants in the finals must be simon-pure amateurs who have never worked professionally on either the stage or the screen.

And—speaking of ironies—consider the case of Barbara Read, who made such an auspicious debut in the first Deanna Durbin picture, "Three Smart Girls." For some reason that I've never been able to understand, Universal dropped her from contract soon after the completion of that picture, and Barbara has been in the doldrums ever since—while Deanna and Nan Gray, her team-mates, soared to stardom. The other night, "Three Smart Girls Grow Up," the sequel to that first hit, was previewed—with Helen Parrish in Barbara's original role. Deanna and Nan were cheered by an enthusiastic crowd. Barbara wasn't even invited to the preview.

It's much more caustic than fair, but I like the wisecrack Ozzie Nelson postcarded this morning. "A Hollywood executive," he says, "is a guy whose efforts spelled success—even though he couldn't."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE GIFT MAGNIFICENT—In recognition of many favors received, King Louis XIV of France bestowed upon the rich merchant Antoine de Crozat, as a personal gift, the entire territory of Louisiana "to do with as he willed." It was one of the princeliest gifts ever bestowed upon a mortal, as the territory included a vast region out of which 12 American states were subsequently carved. But Crozat could not make it pay. The expense of running this gigantic estate made such inroads upon his private fortune that he was glad to give it back to the French king five years later (1717).

Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1938, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

In 1805, the windows of the New York hospital were sealed tight at the beginning of winter. Fresh air was regarded as dangerous, to be excluded whenever possible. Molasses was the chief item of diet and patients sometimes cooked their own meals on heating stoves in the wards. Carrot poultices were used for cancer treatment. Doctors took blood out of their patients, while today they put blood into them. In 1838 it cost $66.38 to light the hospital with gas and candles, and $2,523.25 to heat it with wood and coal. In 1936, heat, light and power costs were $197,730.54. Operations were performed without anesthesia.

These facts are gleanings from a fascinating book, "So Near the Gods," published by the Society of the New York Hospital, which, in a history of the 160 years of that institution, epitomizes a bold and sweeping advance in humanitarian medicine and gives new assurance of ultimate triumph in the epic struggle of "Man Against Death," at least untimely death.

This tall, white Maginot line against pain and death, at 525 East Sixty-Eighth street, is one of the greatest hospitals in all the world, obviously not an exhibit in our playtime year of the "City of Tomorrow," but, in its vast organization of medical skills and techniques, it projects us far into a happier and safer tomorrow—as science, its leader and mentor, makes seven-league strides with such new triumphs as the amazing sulfanilamide.

In its backward look, the history of the hospital reveals what a grim backdrop of ignorance and slow and faltering medical progress existed in olden days, and thereby brings into high relief the triumphant achievements of today.

In 1891, the first year the New York hospital was opened to receive patients, a savage epidemic yellow fever swept the Atlantic seaboard. The story is sketched by Sigerist, the medical historian. He had learned little or nothing about protection from plagues in the sweep of three hundred years.

"Mad rumors were afloat as to means of protecting one's self," he wrote. "Women and children went about with huge cigars in their mouths. People chewed garlic all day long, or merely kept some in their pockets or their shoes. In many houses, gunpowder, tobacco or alum were constantly kept burning, or vinegar was sprinkled at intervals. People did not dare to walk along the walls of houses, but would run down the middle of the street to avoid poisonous exhalations. Regardless of class, the dead were buried without even the simplest funeral services. Thousands fell victims to the fever."

When Sir William Howe captured New York City, he used the hospital, then at Broadway and Worth street, for a military barracks. In 1788, John Jay and Baron Steuben were stoned while defending the hospital against a mob of hoodlums. By 1814, the hospital had become known as one of the world's leading schools of surgery, and from then there was steadily built today's chronicle of enlightenment and progress. The year 1847 marked the first use of ether as an anesthetic in this hospital, when a leg amputation was performed "with no pain experienced."

It costs approximately $3,880,000 a year to maintain this great hospital. Of this sum, patient fees supply only $2,624,000. The remaining $1,256,000 is met by returns from endowments and by special contributions. In one year when 19,022 bed patients were cared for in the hospital, more than 12,200 paid less than cost, and 1,153 were wholly free. The free and less-than-cost care given to patients amounts to approximately $700,000 a year. Each year the hospital widens and improves facilities for caring for patients of low income, widely extending its social usefulness.

The new hospital, on which construction was started in 1929, is severely modernistic in design, but a structure of great dignity and beauty. We suggest that it is a fitting substitute for the traditional triumphal arch of the conquerors.

PALM SUNDAY WILL BE OBSERVED HERE

Palm Sunday will be appropriately observed in Twin City churches today. Palms will be distributed in St. Matthew's Catholic and in Grace Episcopal churches and special services that will emphasize the day which is a forerunner of Holy Week and of Easter Sunday a week hence will be conducted.

All other churches will have services that will be suited to the day. There will be special services during the coming week in many of the local churches which will lead up to Easter when the usually elaborate services will be held.

GRAND JURY WILL CONVENE MONDAY

The Ouachita parish grand jury will convene Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the courthouse to investigate cases for the spring jury term of court, which will open Monday, May 1. Only eight cases are scheduled for investigation.

Judge David I. Garrett will deliver the charge to the grand jurors.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

Charlotte was a pretty child, fairly good at her lessons, and better at doing the outside jobs that meant recognition by teachers and friends. She did not organize the benefit entertainment, but she sold tickets; she did not organize the play, but she took a leading part in it. She loved to be seen and admired.

Charlotte's mother was a good woman. She held that virtue was above all else, strict integrity above earthly rewards. Money was scarcer than usual and she expected Charlotte to make sacrifices whenever necessary. The usual contributions to missions, charitable funds, must be made and if making them pinched Charlotte it was for her good, and she must be content, even happy about it.

There was a party on in school for the benefit of some charity for children. Charlotte was to take a leading part and she wanted a new dress.

"There is no money for a new dress," said her mother as though that settled the matter beyond discussion.

"Couldn't I have a new over-dress? That would make it like new?"

"We have no money for extravagances, Charlotte. I expect you to believe me when I speak the first time. This is no time for dressing up. Just wear what you have."

Charlotte was rebellious. The tulle overdress would cost very little and Aunt Ella could make it in no time. Mother was unfeeling and unjust and hard. Why not use her own money? Of course mother would not give her permission, but she could take it anyway and perhaps her mother would not find it out. Of course the money was being saved for her future needs, but she wanted a dress right now. She would take the money, get Aunt Ella to make the dress, and keep it all a secret from her mother. She would not be likely to attend the play. And not likely to see Aunt Ella until afterward.

It is never possible to keep a secret from the family. Thoughts leak and mother learned the whole sad story. She was angry, humiliated, hurt at the thought that her daughter would stoop to such deception, plan to deceive her; and she said that Charlotte could not wear the dress, could not go to the play, and would have to tell the people concerned the reason.

Charlotte made a mistake. So did her mother. Charlotte was weak in certain phases of her character. Mother thought that hard discipline would strengthen the girl. And that is not true. Weakness needs a crutch slipped under it, not a heavy load put upon it. Weakness needs to be seen for what it is, and patiently, slowly, kindly treated until it is eradicated by the new and sturdy growth that has been built up in its stead.

Couldn't mother have explained about the need for saving and at the same time have done something to help about that dress? Couldn't she have tried to make the child her partner in the whole situation, sharing all the complex interests involved, with her? Sharing that way strengthens the child. Enlisting her cooperation enlightens and supports her. Discipline without cooperation is about as useless as words without bread.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled "Convalescent Children," in which he tells parents how to help such children to entertain themselves without fatigue. Send for it, addressing your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope.

THEY CALL IT POLITICS

By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—In the long run, appeasement will succeed reprisals as between the country and city blocs in the house of representatives. When the cruel war is over Honest John Taxpayer will be the only sufferer, and it has been a long time since the troubles of Honest John caused any action in Washington—words, promises, yes; action, no.

So the trouble will be straightened out on the good old logrolling principle, "I will vote for you if you will vote for me." When President Roosevelt left Washington for Warm Springs he left the worst looking mess on Capitol Hill that could be imagined. The city boys were insisting on no parity appropriations for the farmers. The farm district congressmen were retaliating by threatening to save on relief.

But each has made his play to his own constituents. There is no use going on with the battle so far as the spectators are concerned. It would get monotonous. Besides, each has to have the votes of the other to get what his own constituents want.

For instance, the city congressman's constituents will be mildly pleased that "our congressman" has voted against what looks to the city dweller like absurd subsidies to the farmer—but a certain percentage of them will be more than mildly affected if the relief funds should be substantially cut. This percentage, be it small or large in any particular city district, will regard that cut as the most important political factor in the world. If its members think that their congressman's stubbornness in holding out against farm subsidies is to blame, they might readily vote against their congressman in the next primary, or election. Which, by the way, isn't so far off as it seems to the average citizen. To the congressman, indeed, it is right around the corner!

On amendment of the Wagner Labor Relations act, the wage-hour law, and overhauling of social security, the farmers have a lot in common with business men. They don't like these laws and can be counted on to ease their application for the simple reason that they don't want to be dragged within their scope themselves.

On taxes, the common interest of industry and agriculture is another kettle of fish. Hence it is not such good politics for many rural congressmen to take any strong position for revision. Even some of the anti-Roosevelt Democrats who will carry the torch for revision say privately that it might be better for business to continue the present setup for another two years than to open up the subject. They don't much like the idea of giving the Republicans a chance to talk on this question on the floor of the house and the senate, to say nothing of committee hearings, and thus make political medicine against the presidential campaign next year.

On the other hand, the die-hard anti-New Dealers are saying privately that, since the president walked out on tax revision, revealing that his real sentiment still is for socking capital, it may be good politics for the conservatives to push through a bill wiping out Roosevelt's philosophy.

Of far more substantial benefit for the rank and file of business, however, will be preventing the boost in the old-age pension pay-roll tax from 1 per cent to 1 1-2 per cent, as scheduled by the law as it stands. This would save business something like $300,000,000—even on present estimates of next year's pay rolls. More if they should expand as is hoped.

There are no two sides to the attitude of business on this, as there are on tax revision, where the burden would be shifted, but not decreased, so that some would be helped but others hurt.

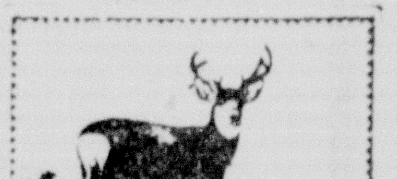
STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein



REPRESENTING 80 subjects, the 1939 wild life poster stamps are now available, either through the state federations or direct from the National Wild Life Federation headquarters, Investment building, Washington, D. C. An album containing both the 1938 and 1939 issues is also available.

Strikingly reproduced in colors, the poster stamps, one of which is shown above, include birds (upland game birds and song and insectivorous species), mammals, fish, trees and wild flowers. The originals are from paintings by eminent American artists. Returns are to be devoted to restoration of wild life over the nation. The series will be continued from year to year.

Postmaster General Farley's philatelic truck, which was to have toured the nation to make it stamp conscious, is having trouble getting started. Its construction is months behind for the first thing, and now the House Appropriations committee has refused a grant of $6500 for its operation. Philatelists, therefore, are raining protests these days on Edward T. Taylor, Colorado, heading the House committee.

NEGRO HEALTH WEEK OBSERVED

Broadcasts And Talks To Emphasize Need To Improve Conditions

The month of April has been set aside by the United States Public Health service, Washington, D. C., as the 25th observance of the improvement of negro health. The week of April 2-9 will be observed throughout the country as "Negro Health week." Elsie Johnson, negro assistant supervisor in Ouachita parish, will give a talk and read the president's proclamation over KMLB today at 1:30 p.m.

Throughout the week there will be talks given at negro schools of the parish in behalf of negro health. The objective for 1939 is given as: "The Citizen's Responsibility for Community Health."

The national health week is described as a period for emphasis and demonstration. The national negro health movement, a year-round service, is called a clearing house for the dissemination of health information to groups and agencies, white and colored, interested in conditions unfavorably affecting the negro. The work of the United States Public Health service in quarantine, research and educational activities is directed as a national service for the protection and conservation of the health of all the people of the nation.

Closely allied with improved health for negroes is the war that is being waged on illiteracy.

Writing in a recent issue of the "Louisiana Colored Teachers' Journal," Elsie Johnson has the following to say: "A new day is dawning in Ouachita parish. Men and women are being lifted from the dark stage of illiteracy to a brighter and more promising stage. Although 1,583 illiterates and near-illiterate students are enrolled in adult classes, Parish Superintendent T. O. Brown, Mrs Kate B. Wilkins and the 68 parish teachers will not be satisfied until all negro men and women have become 100 per cent literate in this parish."

The statement is made that before last Christmas there were between 1,600 and 1,700 illiterate negroes in Ouachita parish. Since then 1,657 have been taught to read and write, under the direction of 68 teachers in the parish and city. The project is supervised by the WPA but teachers are paid by the parish school board.

CHILD WELFARE IS TO BE DISCUSSED

The L. B. Faulk American Legion post and its auxiliary will conduct the annual child welfare meeting at the memorial Legion home in Forsythe park Monday at 8 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to devise ways and means for conducting an educational campaign, first, for the eradication of congenital syphilis through pre-natal care and, second, for the all-round preservation of child health through immunization and innoculation. Speakers on the program will be Dr. Douglas Williams, parish health unit director, and Dr. W. L. Bendel.

At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served by the auxiliary and the Forty and Eight.

modern furniture and house-furnishing stores in the entire country. All of the energies of the architects and designers were toward creating a furniture store "as modern as tomorrow" and at the same time creating an atmosphere of simplicity and comfort, it was said.

The building will be air-conditioned and will contain many modern features. The lighting will be arranged so as to afford the best possible illumination for customers who are inspecting the merchandise, as well as to protect the eyes of the employes, it was announced. There will be six display windows, with a large revolving window on the corner of the building, thus enabling shoppers to inspect more merchandise. Lockers and dressing rooms will be provided for employes.

"Monroe and its trade area have been kind to the Monroe Furniture company during its business life of over forty years," Mrs. Kaplan said, "and we are certain that the new store will be particularly welcomed by the many friends and thousands of customers, the majority of whom are women."

"The ideas of our entire executive personnel are embodied in the new store," Mr. Isaacman said, "and when completed will go a long way toward making shopping for furniture and other household items a pleasure. All engaged in the business are vitally concerned and have given much thought to the finished results, and each and every one concerned are in thorough agreement that the fine new home we are creating for our Monroe operations will be welcomed by the shoppers of Monroe's wide trade area. Mrs. Kaplan, with her fine sense of what pleases women most, has been a great inspiration to all the men engaged in bringing the finished details together."

The building will be completed in slightly more than four months, it was announced.

Mr. Isaacman said that none but local, union skilled labor shall be employed on the job. All labor on the project shall be performed under the sanction and in strict compliance with all rules, regulations and by-laws of union labor organizations whose members are directly or indirectly employed, he said.

Mr. Isaacman and Mrs. Kaplan head a group of associated furniture stores located in Louisiana and Mississippi, with Monroe the headquarters.

Another affiliate, the Supreme Bedding and Furniture Manufacturing company, which is the manufacturing plant associated with the group, is located here. The factory manufactures and ships upholstered furniture and bedding to the foremost furniture and department stores in the south and east. Just a week ago two carloads were shipped to Morgan's, of Boston, Mass., one of the largest retail furniture stores in the industrial east.

BAND FESTIVAL HELD AT RUSTON

Approximately 700 Musicians From 17 North Louisiana High Schools Participate

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)—Music was in the air here today as approximately 700 musicians, representing 17 north Louisiana high schools, participated in the first district band festival ever sponsored at Ruston by the North Louisiana Rally association and the Louisiana Music Educators' association. The festival was under the direction of the music department at Louisiana Tech, headed by LaVerne E. Irvine.

Silver loving cups and $5 in cash, compliments of the L. M. E. A. and the Ruston Chamber of Commerce, were presented to each of the bands. Louisiana Tech awarded medals to each individual musician.

In compliance with the rules of the L. M. E. A. regarding district festivals, no winners were chosen by the judges. A written, detailed criticism of each band's performance, prepared by the festival officials, will be mailed at once to each band director, it has been announced.

As a climax to the day's activities, a parade of all 17 bands through the streets of Ruston was staged. The line of march ended at Tech, where the gifts were presented.

The official judges were Howard C. Voorhies, director of the band at Lafayette, and James Purdy, director of the Natchitoches High school band and member of the Normal faculty.

Assisting Mr. Irvine in directing the festival were J. A. Smith, director of the Tech band, and Harvey Nelson, director of the Ruston High school band.

Schools represented were: Calhoun, Louisiana Training institute of Monroe, Barkdull Faulk Elementary school of Monroe, St. Matthew's Parochial school of Monroe, the Georgia Tucker school of Monroe, Arcadia, Winnsboro, Many, Mooringsport, Jonesboro-Hodge, Bossier City, Homer, Haynesville, Ruston, Neville and Ouachita of Monroe.

NASHVILLE DEFEATS MONROE BY 16-9 SCORE

Monroe Will Play Philadelphia Americans Wednesday

Sports Chatter

By GEORGE V. LOFTON

GUEST COLUMNIST

Freddie Russell, sports editor of the Nashville Banner, departs with the Vols Monday for home. Freddie has been here more than a month, and has made many friends in Monroe who will regret to see him go.

And so it's appropriate that Freddie act as guest columnist today as he prepares to depart for home. Here's his contribution:

"The Vol entourage departs from Monroe Monday with memories of one of the most pleasant stays possible. . . . All the necessary ingredients for enjoyment were present and voting loud and often. . . . Pluperfect weather, hospitality with a personal touch, wonderful food. . . . A vote of the ball players who have been with Nashville the past five or six years would show a decided preference for Monroe as a training spot. . . . Ball players are hard to please and not one complaint has been heard this spring. . . . Take that back, there was too much gravy on one steak a week ago Tuesday.

"The Nashville club seems to have started off doing things right. . . . Getting Larry Gilbert, first of all, and then Larry selecting Monroe as the place for conditioning. . . . The club has never headed for Nashville in better shape. . . . Lone casualty is Secretary W. A. Lillard, whose right elbow is lame at the socket from excessive use. . . . He has been training indoors at Room 416, where Saul Adler, Elmer Meredith, Poco Taitt and other athletes have been running through a few plays daily.

"It is rumored that while the Cotton States league has adopted the Goldsmith ball this year, since the visit of the Vols Mr. Taitt is seeking special permission for the White Sox to change to a certain type of recovered ball. . . . "Quite unexpectedly, I find that we have a few dozen on hand now, so we might as well find some use for them," Taitt said. . . . A group of youngsters personally selected by Taitt chased all Nashville's out-of-the-park drives during practice.

"To George Lofton, one of the south's better newspapermen (Hi, there, Freddie); Don Breitenmoser and Chief Liner of KMLB; the aforementioned Messrs. Adler, Taitt, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith; Colonel J. L. Keenan and Steward C. A. Young and all the folks at the Virginia; all the young ladies of the city saddened by the premature departure of Don (Fly-by-Night) McShane; Banno Lamkin, the Vanderbilter, and Judge S. L. Digby of the lefthand golf club; Paul Martin, Herbert Fink, Bobby Pappas, E. R. Dawson and the Western Unioners, Police Chief Reitzell, who was a daily attendant at the workouts; to Bellboy No. 3 at the Monroe—thanks for everything. And may we be seeing you again next March!"

'FIRST TEAM' HERE

For exhibition purposes, Connie Mack has divided his Philadelphia Athletics into two teams. One is designated "Team A" and the other "Team B." A squad tagged "A," of course, usually means the first team and "B" the second. But Mr. Mack says that isn't the case with the Athletics this spring. He claims to have split the strength as equally as possible.

However, the Philadelphia team which plays the Monroe White Sox here next Wednesday appears top-heavy with regulars and thus can be rightfully termed the "first team."

A letter from Earle Mack last week gave us the lowdown. Here's the roster of the squad which will report at Casino park Wednesday:

SAILOR WATKINS TO MEET CURTIS AT LOCAL ARENA

Former Navy Champion And Vicksburg Adonis Carded For Main Event

After sending a dozen-odd telegrams about the country and making several long distance telephone calls in an effort to contract an opponent measuring up to the caliber of Jack Curtis, young Vicksburg, Miss., wrestler, Promoter Gus Kallio announced last night that he scheduled Sailor Watkins of Amarillo, Tex., former navy champion, to meet Curtis in the main event of the weekly mat program next Wednesday night at the Monroe wrestling arena, 310 Walnut street.

Sailor Watkins held the middleweight wrestling championship of the navy for three consecutive years. Taking up wrestling as a profession following his discharge from the navy, he gained weight and now is a light heavyweight with an impressive record.

In 1934, before he became a light heavyweight, Sailor Watkins wrestled Kallio at Amarillo for the latter's middleweight championship of the world before a huge home town crowd. Kallio, conceded to be one of the greatest scientific wrestlers of all time, was Watkins' master in that type of wrestling, but admitted last night that the rugged, former navy champion dealt him a lot of punishment before the bout ended with Kallio retaining his title.

A stocky wrestler with a rugged, aggressive appearance, Sailor Watkins will meet in Curtis a grappler who is an Adonis of the squared circle, and who goes about his ring work as neatly and smoothly as Sonja Henie skating on ice. In fact, there is quite a bit in common between the physiques of Curtis and the dainty little skater. From long arms and well-built but not barrel-shaped shoulders and chest, Curtis tapers down like a Kentucky thoroughbred, with not a single bulging or over-developed muscle.

Curtis won the admiration of the fans last Wednesday night when he stopped the rampage of the German grappler, Carl von Bromberg. The Vicksburg Adonis has an unusual appeal as far as the lady fans are concerned, and is expected to draw a large attendance of the fair sex to the Wednesday night program.

In the semi-final bout, Indian Bill Cazzell of New Mexico will meet Bob Castle of Memphis, Tenn. The Indian defeated Ned Taylor, of Seattle, Wash., with the Indian death lock after 23 minutes of a one-fall match here last Wednesday night. Castle was defeated by Taylor, who snared him in a rolling leg split, in Promoter Kallio's inaugural program here three weeks ago.

Both Cazzell and Castle use the same kind of tactics in the ring, neither depending much upon the scientific style.

The weekly mat program will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

LIONS ENTERED IN BOLTON MEET

Sixth Annual Track Event To Be Held At Alexandria Next Saturday

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 1.—(Special)—Leading high school track and field teams from all parts of Louisiana are expected here next Saturday to participate in the sixth annual Bolton High school invitational track and field meet, according to an announcement by W. D. Allen, director of athletics at Bolton.

Fortier High school of New Orleans, defending champion, will send a full team to battle to retain the title. Other schools expected to send full teams are Ouachita of Monroe, Byrd of Shreveport, Istrouma of Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Lafayette, Crowley, Minden and Rayville.

At least 30 more schools are expected to enter, Coach Allen stated. Invitations were sent to over 100 schools.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded first, second and third place winners in each event. Trophies will be awarded the team compiling the most points in relay events and the team scoring most points in all events. Bolton will not compete for the team trophy.

MINNESOTA NINE TRIMS TULANE, 4-2

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—The University of Minnesota nine trimmed Tulane today, 4 to 2, to even the two-game series.

Walter Blessey pitched hitless ball for Tulane for four innings, held the Gophers scoreless on two hits in the fifth, and then weakened badly in the sixth, allowing Minnesota all its runs in that frame.

The Greenies scored their two tallies in the fourth inning, when Ed Dvorak gave a walk to Walter Blessey and a triple to his brother Sid Blessey. The latter scored on Tiedeman's grounder.

Score by innings:

Minnesota ....000 004 000— 4 6 0
Tulane ....000 200 000— 2 7 1

Dvorak and Fust; W. Blessey, Cassibry and Dexhimer.

L. S. U. GOLF TEAM TROUNCES TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—Louisiana State university's crack golf team defeated the Tulane squad 12 to 6 today.

Henry Castillo gained a 2-1 decision over Vincent D'Antoni, and Bert McDowell downed Maurice Picheloup 3-0, for L. S. U. Harry Deas of Tulane trimmed Lee Ramsell, 2-1. Warren Renfrow of L. S. U. and Jack Daray of Tulane split, 1 1-2 to 1 1-2.

Castillo and Ramsell nipped D'Antoni and Deas 2-1 in the No. 1 doubles competition. McDowell and Renfrow defeated Picheloup and Daray, 2 1-2 to 1-2.

Castillo played the best golf, chalking up a one over par 37 on each side for a 74.

LILLARD SEEN AS BIG HURLING HELP FOR CUBS

Pitcher By Accident Tosses Impressive Game Against White Sox

By Tom Siler

CHICAGO, April 1.—(AP)—Robert Eugene Lillard, a third baseman turned pitcher by accident, is responsible for the latest upward surge of the Chicago Cubs' National league pennant stock.

Lillard, a 26-year-old righthander, has been pitching well in short gaps in grapefruit competition. But yesterday he served notice on Manager Gabby Hartnett he was ready to "go" in the big time.

A moundsman only the past two years, Lillard yielded the Chicago White Sox four singles at Yuma, Ariz., yesterday, blanked them, 2-0, issued no passes and allowed none to reach first after the fifth inning. He was the first Cub hurler to go a full game.

Lillard was understudying Third Baseman Stanley Hack with the Cubs during the 1936 season when he got his first chance to pitch.

"In 1936," Lillard says, "Hack was having a good year and I didn't get to play much. I was crazy from just sitting around. Roy Johnson had been pitching for batting practice every day and his arm was dead.

"Charley Grimm (then the manager) wanted somebody else to pitch to the hitters. I figured it would give me some exercise at least, so I went out there, although I knew nothing about pitching.

"I just stood on the mound and started throwing as hard as I could. The hitters moaned a little about it—and there I was, starting out to be a pitcher."

Grimm saw possibilities in Lillard as a pitcher and sent him to San Francisco in the Pacific Coast league in 1937. He won 14 and lost 10 games. Last year, pitching for Los Angeles in the same loop, he won 16 and lost 10.

Hartnett has been "high" on the rookie ever since spring training began. Lillard figures to rate a starting berth if he maintains the form he has shown thus far.

After watching Lillard again this spring, Grimm, now a radio broadcaster, said the rookie needs "to learn to let up a little more in the easy spots and save his best stuff when he'll need it."

"Then he'll be a helluva pitcher," Grimm concluded.

BENEFIT SLATED FOR PAL MORAN

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—"Lefty" Lew Tendler, old Philadelphia lightweight, climbed to fame and fortune over Pal Moran of this city.

The pair fought three times. The first bout, a 10-rounder, was a draw at Philadelphia. In the second go-round, Pal decisioned Lew and won a match with Charley White of Chicago. The New Orleanian polished off the Chicagoan in 14 rounds at Madison Square Garden.

Lew trimmed Pal the third time they met over 15 rounds. He almost tore Pal's nose off in the 12th with an uppercut. The victory boosted the Philadelphia southpaw into a $125,000 purse and a fight with the titleholder, Benny Leonard. Benny won.

Lew became a successful businessman in Philadelphia and Miami Beach. Pal? A few weeks ago he was a messenger at the Fair Grounds race track here. Then he went down with tuberculosis, dangerously ill.

His friends are putting on a benefit fight program for him here April 10. Lew will referee the bouts.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT SCHEDULED AT TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—The fourth annual interscholastic tennis tournament will open at Tulane university's courts here April 12 and continue through April 15, said an announcement today by the university.

The tournament is open to all preparatory and high schools of the south, the announcement said, but entries will be limited to four players from each institution.

Both singles and doubles competition will be held and Professor Frederick H. Fox, tournament chairman, said entries will close Monday, April 10.

Billy McGehee of Fortier High school, New Orleans, won the singles championship last year and teamed with Earl Bartlett, a schoolmate, to capture the doubles title.

GIANTS, INDIANS TO TANGLE HERE ON APRIL 10TH

White Sox To Play Aces Of Evangeline League In Alexandria Saturday

Baseball big leaguers will be presented in Monroe in the next eight days, the visiting clubs of note being the Philadelphia Athletics, the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's invade Monroe next Wednesday for an exhibition engagement with the Monroe White Sox at 3 p.m. in Casino park.

Then on April 10, an all-major-league game will take place in Casino park between Bill Terry's Giants and Oscar Vitt's Cleveland Indians.

Some of baseball's outstanding notables are expected here, although neither the Athletics, the Giants or the Tribesmen have announced the roster of players that will come here.

However, such baseball headliners as Johnny Allen, Bob Feller, Mel Harder, Harold Trosky and Earl Averill of Cleveland; Leroy Parmelee of Philadelphia; and Clyde Castleman, Carl Hubbell, Bill Jurges, Alex Kampouris, Burgess Whitehead and Mel Ott of the Giants are all expected here.

In addition to the big leaguers' exhibitions, the Monroe White Sox, who are meeting Nashville this afternoon at Casino park, will go to Alexandria next Saturday for an exhibition battle with the Alexandria Aces of the Evangeline league. The Aces will be in Monroe for a second game with the Sox next Sunday.

ARIEL TOY WINS ARKANSAS DERBY

Speedy Colt Comes Up To Expectations In Hot Springs Feature

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 1.—(AP)—Ariel Toy, Hugh W. Jackson's speedy little brown colt, came up to all expectations today to easily win the fourth running of the $5,000 Arkansas Derby by three lengths.

Heavily played by the betters, who moved his opening odds of 6-5 down to 2-5, Ariel Toy took the lead when he got ready and moved out in front as much as he chose to win Oaklawn park's closing feature almost without opposition before some 7,000 fans.

The son of Ariel-Toyo, the little Kentucky Derby candidate paid $2.70, $2.60 and $2.40. In second place was the Indian Lake stables' brown colt, Radio Gold, which moved up from fifth place at the top of the stretch. Radio Gold got the second place over the old Fox stables' filly, Torch Stick, in a photograph finish.

Radio Gold, closing at 15-1, paid $6.30 and $3.80 while Torch Stick, closing at 10-1, paid $3.30.

CAMBRIDGE CREW DEFEATS OXFORD

Light Blues Row Opponents Into State Of Collapse On Thames

LONDON, April 1.—(AP)—A makeshift Cambridge crew that had been scorned and ridiculed by the experts rowed Oxford into a state of collapse today on the Thames to win the 91st boat race by four lengths in 19 minutes 3 seconds.

After the first 100 yards it was a procession. Cambridge bounded ahead with a magnificent sprint at the start, put clear daylight between the shells in the first half-mile of the four and a quarter-mile course, and almost disappeared in the fog at the finish.

Around half a million people saw the race, which was Cambridge's first victory since 1936 and its 48th in the series.

Obviously upset by Cambridge's lightning start, Oxford never got within two lengths of the light Blues after the first mile. At the finish only their 71-pound coxswain, Hart Massey, was able to hold his head up. Little Massey, son of the Canadian high commissioner to London and nephew of Actor Raymond Massey, could be seen from the launches ringing his electric buzzer system to urge the Oxfords on but nobody answered.

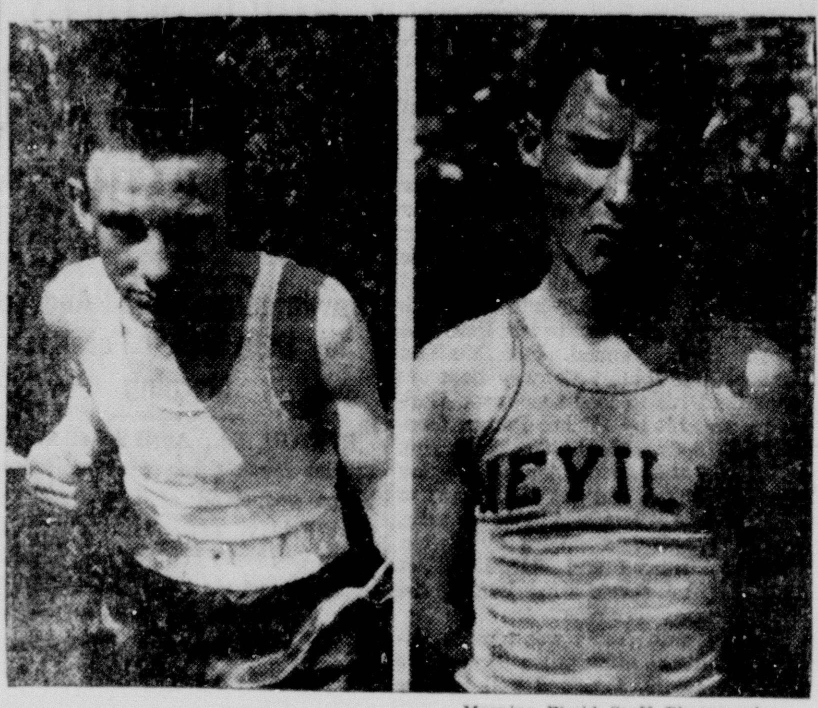
Meanwhile, Cambridge, churning through the water with powerful if unorthodox short strokes, finished fresh. At the end, their American No. 5, Hugh Parker, from Boston, remarked:

"If we had been pressed I'm sure we could have given a lot more.

"We practiced starts diligently for a week before coming to Tideway and decided to try and outsprint Oxford from the start. The only thing we didn't expect was that we would get such a long lead in the first two miles. After that we practically paddled."

A recent survey disclosed 11,159 aircraft and 22,983 pilots in this country. At the same time there were 221 gliders and 172 glider pilots.

WIN STATE TITLES



—Morning World Staff Photographs

Northeast Louisiana produced two state champions at the ninth annual state boxing tournament at Baton Rouge last night when Thurman Goodnight, left above, of Bastrop, captured the 90-pound crown, and E. B. Peddy, right, of Neville of Monroe, won the championship of the 98-pound class. Both Goodnight and Peddy are holders of northeast Louisiana district titles in their respective weights.

GUERNSEY WINS OVER SURFACE

Will Meet Kovacs In Finals Of River Oaks Tennis Tournament

HOUSTON, April 1.—(AP)—Twenty-two-year-old Frank Guernsey of Orlando, Fla., took advantage of a blazing sun and the age of Hal Surface today to eliminate the Kansan Citian from the semi-finals of the River Oaks tennis tournament, 1-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

The victory shoved the diminutive intercollegiate champion into the final match tomorrow against lanky Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif.

Just before Guernsey, who is a student at Rice institute, beat Surface, pretty Marta Barnett of Miami, Fla., won the tournament women's singles championship by defeating Eunice Dean of San Antonio, 6-2, 7-5. Miss Barnett is a left-hander and is south-women's singles champion.

In a semi-finals doubles match, Kovacs and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta defeated John Doeg of Rumson, N. J., and Jack Tidball of Los Angeles, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Elwood Cooke and Surface, playing a doubles quarter-finals match against Wilbur and Jake Hess of Houston, won the right to meet Jack Rodgers and Bobby Curtiss of Houston and Rice institute tomorrow in a semi-finals match to determine the doubles team that will play Kovacs and Grant in the finals. Cooke and Surface today won by a score of 6-4, 8-6.

In the semi-finals of the veterans matches, J. B. Adoue of Dallas defeated C. I. McLean of Houston, 6-2, 6-2, and Neil Thomason of Dallas defeated Leslie Dufton of Houston, 6-4, 6-0. Adoue and Thomason will play the veterans finals match tomorrow.

Earl Bartlett of New Orleans and Tom Nixon, who entered the junior singles finals with victories in semi-final matches yesterday, will meet Sunday in the junior finals match.

MRS. PAGE WINS NORTH AND SOUTH

Captures Golf Tourney By Beating Dorothy Kirby Three And One

PINEHURST, N. C., April 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Chapel Hill, N. C., housewife, annexed the 37th North and South Women's golf championship today with a 3-and-1 victory over young Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Page, 1937 national champion, played brilliantly in every round of the tournament, after setting the pace in the qualifying round with a 74, women's par. She equalled or bettered par in each subsequent round.

In the semi-finals she won on the 14th hole from Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., and played to bye holes for a 68.

Mrs. Page was 2-up at the half-way mark of today's match. Showers fell while the remaining holes were played.

The finish came at the long 17th, when Mrs. Page hit a grand drive and wooden club second to the green, putted within six inches of the hole for a birdie four. Miss Kirby, bunkered in two, was over the green in three. The match was lost as she played a chip shot past the hole.

GREER NEARLY EQUALS MARK IN TEXAS RELAYS

Michigan Stater Runs 100 In 9.5 Despite Brisk Cross Wind

By Felix R. McKnight

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—Baldish Wilbur Greer of Michigan State tore into a brisk cross wind on a 100-yard sprint today that left him flirting with a world record in the feature of the Texas relays, kickoff of the national outdoor track season.

The squat sprinter, pushed by Freddie Wolcott of Rice institute, scrambled to the tape in 9.5 seconds, one tenth of a second off the world record and the Texas relays most prized mark.

Wind blew directly across the track. Greer got away ahead of Wolcott, who seemed to falter at the start, and stayed there. His fine dash fell one-tenth of a second short of the accepted relays mark of 9.4 set in a memorable dead heat finish in 1935 between Ray Neugass of Tulane and Harvey Wallender of Texas.

Wolcott failed in his effort at attacking his own 120-yard high hurdle mark of 13.9 seconds, set last year with a kind wind at his back, sliding over the timbers today in a respectable 14.1 seconds to win by two full strides. The same cross wind prevailed on his hurdle excursion.

Records tumbled all over the place, six university and junior college marks going by the boards while the schoolboys toppled one and equaled another.

Climax event of the day, the mile relay, brought 8,000 fans up screaming as Louisiana State, Anchor Man Frank Church kicking in with an amazing burst, edged out Oklahoma A. and M. and Rice institute. The 3:18.8 time was only four-tenths of a second higher than a relays mark established back in 1929 by the University of Chicago.

New records were made in the shotput, university 440-yard relay, junior college mile relay, junior college 440-yard relay, university sprint medley and the broad jump. The high schoolers kicked over their old shotput mark and equaled the 100-yard dash.

Beefy Elmer Hackney of Kansas State, national intercollegiate shotput champion, made the best heave of his competitive career, 52 feet 3¼ inches, to smash the old mark held by Sam Francis, former Nebraska fullback, at 51 feet 11¾ inches.

Two fine junior college performances in the relay events stood out. The University of Texas freshmen, anchored by Lonnie Hill, who warmed up with an outstanding 9.6 sprint in the 100 yards, cracked the national junior college record for the quarter-mile relay with its mark of 42.1 seconds. Pasadena Junior college holds the accepted national mark at 42.4 seconds.

The North Texas Teachers college freshmen, emulating their famous upper classmen—Wayne and Blaine

VOLS TO BATTLE WHITE SOX AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON

Cotton States Champs Aid Foes With Poor Playing In Two Innings

April Fool's day was appropriately celebrated by the Nashville Volunteers and the Monroe White Sox in an exhibition baseball game that resulted in a 16 to 9 victory for the Vols here yesterday afternoon.

PLAY AGAIN TODAY

The Monroe White Sox and Nashville Volunteers will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Casino park in the second and final game of their exhibition series.

Manager Larry Gilbert, pilot of the Nashville club, announced last night that Ray Starr and Ace Adams, the Vols' ace hurlers, would be used against the White Sox today.

Manager Doug Taitt said Tex Nugent, member of the Monroe pitching staff last season, would start on the mound for the locals, but he was undecided on a relief hurler.

The game will mark the close of the Vols' exhibition schedule in Monroe, and the Southern association club will break its training camp here tomorrow and depart on an exhibition tour through the Southeastern league before returning to Nashville for the season opener on April 14.

Along in the seventh inning, after the fans had witnessed six frames of good baseball, the Southern associationers turned the battle into an April Fooler's joke and got plenty of assistance from the Sox.

Monroe was leading 6 to 4 going into the seventh, but Manager Larry Gilbert's Vols trotted seven runs across the plate in that frame and followed with five more in the ninth. The Sox managed three more tallies in the final inning.

Errors and passed balls contributed to the White Sox defeat.

The lead changed hands three times

BULLDOGS SCORE FOURTEEN RUNS IN SIXTH INNING

Game Called After 2 Hours And 40 Minutes For Gents To Catch Bus

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)—After Louisiana Tech had a lead of 24 runs to 4 against Centenary here today, the game had lasted two hours and 40 minutes and Umpire Hal Willis announced that "the Centenary players have to catch a bus."

The Shreveport Gents were ahead, 3-2, in the second stanza and 4-3 at the first half of the fifth. Tied at 4-4 as the sixth period started, the Bulldogs in that inning negotiated 14 runs to rout the visitors completely and added six more tallies in the seventh.

The game opened the home season for Tech, who next week at Ruston play Purdue university on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and the University of Iowa on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

NORTH CAROLINA RUNS AWAY WITH FLORIDA RELAYS

Captures First Places In All Four And Wins Mile Team Race

GAINESVILLE, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Capturing first places in all four relays and the mile team race, the University of North Carolina track team completely dominated the first annual Florida relays today.

A heavy downpour less than an hour before starting time soaked the track and made the relays an hour and a half late in starting.

Led by a great two-mile relay team, which more than lapped all its competitors in winning by a big margin, the North Carolinians were hard pressed only in the mile relay, but managed to finish several yards ahead of Florida.

In the mile team race, Jimmy Davis and Tom Crockett finished first and second, and Dave Morrison finished sixth to give the Tarheels an easy victory. Georgia Tech, whose men finished third, seventh and eleventh, in the 16-man event, placed second.

North Carolina took only two seconds in the individual events as Auburn and Florida did most of the scoring in this phase of the relay. Big John Smith of Florida was the individual star, capturing firsts in the shot put and discus and second in the javelin throw.

Robert Dickinson of Auburn was the only other contestant to win two events, capturing the 100-yard dash and the broad jump.

Alabama topped the freshmen and junior college events, winning both quarter mile and sprint medley relays. Florida's freshmen ran second in both races and Tampa third.

No team totals were scored for the meet as a whole.

More than 20 university varsity performers, freshmen, and high school runners participated in the event. Alabama, Auburn, Georgia Tech, Florida, Vanderbilt, North Carolina, Tampa, Oglethorpe, and the University of Havana, Cuba, competed in the university division.

VOLS TO BATTLE WHITE SOX AGAIN

during the close playing in the first six innings, but the last three innings turned out to be nightmares.

Bill McClain, the former University of Texas outfielder, who was sent here by Dallas, connected with the only circuit blow of the game when he clouted a homer off Dykes Potter over the left field fence in the fifth inning. The longest base-knock inside the park was a triple by Charlie Gilbert, Vol outfielder and son of the Nashville pilot.

Orlin Collier, starting Vol hurler, went four innings, allowing only one hit, but he gave up three runs in the fourth inning as the result of two walks, a sacrifice hit that was erred, allowing one run to come in, and a single that counted two more Sox runs. Other hurlers, four of whom were used by Monroe, were hit freely.

The Vols scored once in each of the first and second innings. In the initial frame Cal Chapman scored on an outfield error after getting on base with a single; and Whitey McMullen, leading hitter of the game, scored in the second after singling to center field, advancing to third on a wild throw by Pruitt to second and tallying on Collier's outfield fly.

The Sox got to work in the fourth inning to take the lead. Frank Hargrove and Manager Doug Taitt drew bases on balls. Frank Hackney was safe on a sacrifice when Collier threw wild to third and Hargrove scored, Taitt going on to third and Hackney pulling up at second. "Red" Pruitt singled into center field to score Taitt and Hackney.

But the Sox lead was short-lived. Coming to bat in the fifth frame, Wally Rospond was walked and scored on a triple by Charlie Gilbert against the center field fence. Gilbert scored a minute later on an infield hit by Cal Chapman.

Then Bill McClain's four-ply blow for the Sox in Monroe's half of the fifth tied the score.

The Sox took a two-run lead in the sixth when Pruitt singled and scored on Tony Woods' double into left field. Hank Taylor flied out to left field and Floyd Speer fanned, but McClain walked and Johnny Conway beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Hargrove was hit by Pitcher Potter, forcing in Woods with the Sox sixth run.

Then in the seventh inning the Sox went to pieces and the Vols went to town. Three errors, two bases on balls, a passed ball and singles by Potter, Rodda, Williams and McMullen accounted for seven runs before the hectic inning was over.

The seventh frame was almost duplicated in the ninth when three more Monroe errors, a passed ball, a base on balls, singles by Rae Blaemire and Rodda and a double by Lutz accounted for five more Vol runs.

The Sox tapered off with three runs in the last inning. Hargrove singled, advanced to second on Taitt's out at first, stole third and scored on a passed ball. Hackney walked and eventually scored on a wild pitch. Ted Jarreld doubled and scored on a single by Woods

CROSSETT NAMES BUSINESS MANAGER

CROSSETT, Ark., April 1.—(Special)—Leo Scriber, Crossett filling station manager, has been named business manager of the Crossett Millers of the Ouachita Valley baseball league.

"Chick" Galeria, former Cotton States league hurler, who pitched for the Pine Bluff Judges several years ago and last year won 20 games for the Greenville, Miss., Buckshots, has been signed as playing manager.

Holdovers from the Millers' 1938 team are Cortez "Tex" Moore, catcher; Ike Rorie, pitcher; Fred Alexander, Paul McDaniels, Rich Cole, Harold "Shorty" Oslin and James Scriber, infielders, and Roland "Governor" Laiche and Jerry "Mule" Fryer, outfielders.

Manager Galeria announced today that Berry Hinton, a first baseman in the league last year, would report for duty at the close of the school term at Junction City, where he is teaching.

The Millers' field is being improved and bleachers repaired. It has been announced that most games here will be played at night.

SWIM MEET WON BY OHIO STATE

Captures National A. A. U. Indoor Championship Second Straight Year

COLUMBUS, O., April 1.—(AP)—Ohio State university, only college swimming squad ever to win the National A. A. U. indoor championship, snagged that title tonight for the second straight year.

The Bucks, scoring in nine of the 10 events, piled up 28 points to 23 for the second-place New York Athletic club team, and 19 for Medinah club of Chicago.

In addition to taking the team title, the Bucks furnished the meet's only double-champion, diver Al Patnik of Ohio State annexing both the one and three-meter board crowns for the third season.

Patnik and Earl Clark of Ohio State finished one-two in the high board diving to clinch the team laurels for the Bucks, but they added two more with a fourth place in the final event, the 400-yard medley relay, which went to Princeton's world record-holding trio.

In the other event Ralph Flanagan of Austin, Tex., unattached, successfully defended his 500-yard free style title in the long-awaited duel with Jack Medica of the New York A. C., holder of the world record. Although Medica boasts the world mark of 5:16.3 for the route, he was at least eight yards back of Flanagan as the latter won tonight in 5:30.7, almost a quarter of a minute off the record pace.

In the battle scene above, Shore (No. 2) is having a couple hung on his nose by the Rangers' Murray Patrick, former amateur heavyweight champ of Canada. At right, Ranger Phil Watson is backed against the boards by Hamill of the Bruins. P. S.—There was a hockey game and the Rangers won, 2-1.

Exhibition Games

CARDS WHIP ALBANY

ALBANY, Ga., April 1.—(AP)—Lon Warneke wasn't fooling today and he yielded only three hits and struck out 10 in seven innings as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Albany of the Georgia-Florida league, 9 to 2, in an exhibition game.

Clean fielding would have given the Cards a shutout. Albany tallied once off Warneke on an error and got its second round, also on an error, off Ken Raffensberger, who finished for the Cards.

A'S TROUNCE CATS

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—Behind the three-hit pitching of Carl Byrd and Leroy Parmalee, the Athletics' so-called first team defeated Fort Worth, of the Texas league, 7 to 3, here today.

Byrd, up from Williamsport of the Eastern league, yielded only one hit in five innings.

Five hits, coupled with two errors, gave the A's four runs in the fourth to sew up the game.

Score by innings:
Philadelphia (first team) (AL) .....000 402 100— 7 13 1
Fort Worth (TL) ..000 001 020— 3 3 3

Byrd and Dorsett; Hayes and Linton.

PHILLIES SHADE BROWNS

WACO, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—In a game featured by eight home runs, the Phillies again defeated the St. Louis Browns today, 13 to 12. Gill Brack, Phils' center fielder, smacked out three round-trippers. Chuck Klein and Les Powers also connected for the circuit for the Phils with Joe Glenn, Harland Clift and Joe Grace doing honors for the Browns.

SENATORS DEFEAT BEES

BRADENTON, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Held to seven scattered hits, the Boston Bees registered a ninth-inning score today to escape a shutout in an exhibition game won by Stanley Harris' American league Senators, 6-1.

The Senators tallied 11 hits, highlighted by a seventh-inning homer by Estalella. Joe Krakauskas allowed but four safe bingles in seven innings.

YANKS SWAMP PELS

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio led an 18-hit attack today as the New Orleans Yankees walloped the New Orleans Pelicans, 15-2, in an exhibition game. DiMaggio figured in every scoring rally for the Yanks, poling out four straight extra-base hits with runners on the sacks. He doubled with one aboard in the first inning, tripled with one on in the third, drove home two more tallies with a fifth-inning double and finished up with another two-bagger in the sixth. Bump Hadley and Steve Sundra limited the Pels to seven hits and had a shutout up to the last inning.

NO. 2 A'S BEAT DALLAS

DALLAS, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—A three-run rally, sparked by Lou Finney's triple, gave the so-called Athletics' second team, under Coach Earl Mack, an 8-to-5 victory over Dallas of the Texas league in 10 innings today.

Score by innings:

CRACKERS SHADE RED SOX

ATLANTA, April 1.—(AP)—Five errors, one of which resulted in Rookie Ted Williams' removal from the game by Manager Joe Cronin, helped the Atlanta Crackers to a 10 to 9 victory today over the Boston Red Sox.

Missing a short foul fly to right field in the eighth, Williams picked up the ball and in a burst of temperament tossed it right out of the park. Cronin at once sent the hard hitting rookie to the showers, replacing him with Fabian Gaffke.

Score by innings:

BUCS ROUT ARIZONA U.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—A triple play by the Pittsburgh Pirates high spotted their 14-4 rout of Arizona university in a exhibition today.

Lloyd Waner might have made the three-star feature all by himself had he kept on charging toward the infield after making a shoestring catch of a Texas leaguer in the second frame. Instead he tossed to Arky Vaughan who touched second and the second runner almost at the same time.

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh (N) ...141 101 321—14 22 2

CUBS BEST WHITE SOX

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—Clay Bryant, making his first exhibition start of the spring, became the second Chicago Cubs pitcher to go the route today, when he limited the Chicago White Sox to seven hits, winning, 7 to 5.

After a shaky start in the first inning, when the Sox scored all their runs aided by errors, Bryant settled down and hurled shutout ball.

The victory was offset, however, by news that Dick Bartell, ailing regular shortstop, had been ordered back to Chicago for an examination by doctors.

Chicago (N) ....110 011 102—7 14 5
Chicago (A) ....500 000 000—5 7 2

Bryant and Mancuso; Lyons, Knott and Silvestri.

GIANTS NOSE OUT TRIBE

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1.—(AP)—A run scored by Alex Kampouris after a foul fly gave the New York Giants a 9-to-8 victory in the 12th inning of their game with the Cleveland Indians today.

Kampouris, who forced the affair into extra innings by hitting a home run with one on during an eighth-inning Giant rally, received one of two walks issued by Lefty Al Milnar after Tom Hafey opened the 12th with a triple. Jim Ripple forced Hafey, whose place on third was taken by Kampouris.

Then Johnny McCarthy smacked a long foul into left and Jeff Heath, instead of letting the ball drop, caught it and Kampouris streaked home with the winning run.

Cleveland (A) .000 401 300 000—8 16 1
New York (N) .110 200 040 001—9 9 0

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—One of the gifts Monty Stratton will receive on "Stratton day" in Chicago will be a contract to coach the White Sox. . . . The football Giants think they have another Bronko Nagurski in Walter Neilson, ex-University of Arizona fullback. . . . One of these days the P. G. A. will get around to announcing the Ryder cup matches will be played during the last ten days of November. . . . A two-year-old named Praetor is getting ready to show you some speed down at Bowie. . . . It was just another day in Armstrong's life, but a pretty busy day, at that.

Ho hum, just a bum.

Well, the critics agreed that as an actor Signor Galento is no worse than expected. Some comment:

Post—The only thing that can help this act is the sanitation department.

Sun—As a Thespian Two-Ton Tony is best described by the word with which he refers to Louis.

Mirror—His witticisms proved he had slicked Joe Miller to the bone.

Herald-Tribune—No Broadway actor's reputation is threatened.

World-Telegram — He boxed one round, then had a tough time speaking into the mike. . . . Reason: Out of breath.

(The Times' Mr. Kierman admits he gave the act a "wide detour.")

Reviewers for the News and Journal-American fell asleep and wrote exactly nothing.

Did you know that outfielders use longer spikes on their shoes than infielders? . . . Babe Pinelli, National league umpire, has two sons on the Notre Dame baseball squad. . . . Don Meade isn't going to ride in Maryland until he makes his peace with the racing brass hats here. . . . Duke 33, Springfield 1; Duke 26, Colby 8. . . . CINCINNATI PREPARES TO LEAVE TAMPA CAMP

TAMPA, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds prepared to break camp today and Manager McKechnie, in a mood for summing up, found things good among his crew.

"The morale is high, the pitching is good. The batting of the team will improve. I know the Reds can play ball when the chips are down," was the substance of his reflections.

NEVILLE TENNIS SQUAD DEFEATS ARCADIA, 12 TO 7

Tiger Racqueteers To Participate In District Rally At Tech

The Neville High school tennis team opened its season at Arcadia Friday by trouncing the Arcadia High school Hornets, 12 to 7. The Arcadia team had not previously been beaten this season, having defeated Winnsboro, Homer and Ruston.

PEDDY OF NEVILLE 98-POUND STATE CHAMPION

Gene Sarazen Takes Lead In Augusta Golf Tournament

BRANTLEY TAKES THIRD PLACE IN BOXING TOURNEY

Plaquemine Noses Out LaGrange For Team Title; Tigers Finish Sixth

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1.—(AP)—By a margin of a single point, the Plaquemine High Green Devils won their fourth straight annual state high school boxing title tonight, nosing out the LaGrange High, Lake Charles, squad 17 to 16.

Catholic High of Baton Rouge won third place honors with nine points.

Plaquemine's margin of team victory was the closest in the meet's history. A consolation win by Hollis Simpson in the 112-pound class, earning a single point, was the difference between a championship and a tie with LaGrange.

Plaquemine's champions tonight were Shelby Dupont, 126 pound class, and P. A. Monson, 105 pound division. Carol Ourso was 90 pound runnerup, Tony Palermo was runnerup in the 155 pound class and Simpson got third place in the flyweight division.

LaGrange, which suffered two close setbacks in the important 112 and 126 pound classes, either of which would have given the Lake Charles team the championship, had individual kingpins in the 155 pound and 165 pound classes in Leo Coe and J. L. Jinks.

Jinks won the 175 pounds title last year. Clarence Thibodeaux, who won the Brink sportsmanship trophy, was LaGrange's loser in the 112 pound finals, dropping a very close decision to Istrouma's Frank Scemica.

LaGrange's other finalist, Batson Dugas, was outpointed by Plaquemine's Dupont in the featherweight division. The latter was his fourth successive state championship.

Catholic High of Baton Rouge, third team winner, produced the lightweight champion in V. J. Culmone, a classy southpaw who scored the lone knockout of the championship class tonight. Culmone cracked a hard left to Fred Edgerton's body and the Tallulah boy was completely out, after only 27 seconds, a new record for brevity in the state meet bouts.

Plaquemine High won the lightweight division, consisting of the first five weights, while LaGrange was easily winner in the heavy division.

Fifteen schools shared in the scoring.

Following are the team scores: Plaquemine, 17; LaGrange of Lake Charles, 16; Catholic High, Baton Rouge, 9; Istrouma (Baton Rouge) 8; Baton Rouge 7; Neville (Monroe), 6; Bossier City, Abbeville and Bastrop, 5 each; Tallulah and Lutcher, 3 each; Lafayette and Morgan City 2 each; Donaldsonville and Gonzales, one each.

126 pound consolation: Burton LaHaye, Lafayette, won decision over George Stovall, Baton Rouge High.

126 pound championship: Shelby Dupont, Plaquemine, won decision over Batson Dugas, LaGrange.

135 pound consolation: Eddie Odom, Baton Rouge High, won on forfeit from Tibbets, Bossier City.

135 pound championship: V. J. Culmone, Catholic High (Baton Rouge) won over Fred Edgerton, Tallulah, technical knockout in 26 seconds of first round.

145 pound consolation: Frank Blakeman, Morgan City, won decision over Harry Langlois, Catholic High.

155 pound consolation: Royal Mayon, Morgan City, won decision over Perry Snyder, Neville.

155 pound championship: Leo Coe, LaGrange, won decision over Tony Palermo, Plaquemine.

165 pound championship: C. L. Junks, LaGrange, won decision over Ivy Thompson, Baton Rouge High.

175 pound championship: Lahood, Mansfield, won decision over Assunto, LaGrange.

175 pound consolation: Sciortino, White Castle, no opponent.

Heavyweight championship: Broussard, Lafayette, first; Salassi, Eunice, second. No third.

90 pound championship: Thurman Goodnight, Bastrop, defeated Carol Ourso, Plaquemine, decision.

90 pound consolation: Murray, Bossier City, defeated Howard, Lafayette, decision.

98 pound championship: E. B. Peddy, Neville High (Monroe) won from Doug Ellwood, Catholic High (Baton Rouge) decision.

105 pound championship: P. A. Monson, Plaquemine, won by decision over Charles Sharkey, Baton Rouge High.

105 pound consolation: Charles Canova, Donaldsonville, defeated Underwood, Bogalusa, decision.

112 pound championship: Frank Scemica, Istrouma, (Baton Rouge) won from Thibodeaux, LaGrange (Lake Charles) decision.

112 pound consolation: Hollis Simpson, Plaquemine, defeated Roe Cagnolotti, Tallulah, decision.

118 pound championship: Hebert, Abbeville, won from Roy Amedee, Lutcher, decision.

118 pound consolation: Buck Brantley, Neville, beat Carl Brown, Istrouma, technical knockout in second round.

SQUIRE SHOOTS 66 TO STEP OUT AHEAD OF FIELD

Bobby Jones Far Down In Ranks At Halfway Point In Own Big Show

By Kenneth Gregory

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 1.—(AP)—It was April Fool's day and the weather, as customary here, did a lot of fooling—but the fellow who fooled all the wiseacres was Mr. Eugene Sarazen, the Connecticut farmer-golfer.

Dripping wet but uninjured by hailstones whipped furiously by the wind, Sarazen walked into the club house in mid-afternoon after breezing through the second act of Bobby Jones' Augusta national golf show in 66 shots.

Some one accused the Connecticut squire of playing white hailstones near the cup to get three birdies on the last four rounds, but Sarazen ordered a cup of tea and assured one and all that his record-equalling 66 was legitimate.

As the sun played hide-and-seek with lightning, hail, rain and wind to give golf's "World Series" a clean sweep of the elements, Sarazen finished in a cloudburst to take the lead through 36 holes at 139, one shot in front of the field seeking the $1,500 check.

The freak display of weather threatened for a while to force postponement of play, but after 45 minutes the sun beamed down again and the field resumed activitiy, with Jones winding up with a 77, five strokes over par, and far down in the ranks with a halfway total of 153.

Sarazen, who scored the famed "double eagle" here in 1935 to tie Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and then defeat him in the playoff, was one shot under three favored players, Sammy Snead, Ralph Guldahl and Byron Nelson, as the field lined up for tomorrow's 36-hole finals.

Although he equalled par, Billy Burke of Cleveland, O., the 1931 National Open champion who led the opening 18-hole journey with a 69, dropped to fifth place with a halfway total of 141. He was one stroke in front of Henry Picard, winner a year ago.

Sarazen's great 66 was two strokes under the day's next best effort. Guldahl put together nines of 34-34 for a 68 and Nelson shot 35-34 for a 69 to step up to contending position. Tommy Armour, the silver Scot from Chicago who was tied for third after the first round, slipped to a 74 and dropped to a tie for ninth place with Wood at 145.

A stroke in front of Armour and Wood were Paul Runyan and Lawson Little.

Charlie Yates and Chick Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich., were tied for the amateur leadership with 147 totals as Jones' 153 dropped him into a tie for 32nd place. Yates and Harbert had identical scores today of 36-37—73.

GREER NEARLY EQUALS RECORD

Rideout—burned up the junior college mile relay with 3:19.6 time that fell four-tenths of a second shy of the national record but broke the relays mark by 6.2 seconds.

The Rice institute 440-yard relay team, composed of Blagg, Steakley, Sanders and Wolcott, clipped one-tenth of a second off the old mark they jointly held with Texas as Wolcott stormed in on the anchor with a five-yard margin.

The Rice sprint medley team, made up of Turney, Jones, Blagg and Bell, built up a bare margin for Bell, great middle distance runner, and he converted it into a rout to finish the distance in 3:28.4, bettering the old mark of 3:29.6 they set in 1937. Rice robbed itself of a chance at bagging another relay when they dropped the baton in the 880-yard relay while going neck and neck with Oklahoma.

The Rideout twins, with Wayne a stride in front of Blaine, led the North Texas Teachers to easy triumph in the one-mile team race. Texas' Jud Atchison bettered his own broad jump record by one-quarter of an inch in a leap of 24 feet 8 inches.

B. F. (Beefus) Bryan of Texas failed to break his pole vault record, stopping at 13 feet 6 inches, but he took one more pull in practice and hurtled over at 14 feet.

T. A. Weems of Rockdale High school made the most impressive school boy showing, putting the shot 51 feet 9 inches to scrap the old mark of 51 feet ½ inch. Fleet Jack Cooley of Kaufman High stepped the 100-yard sprint in 9.9 seconds to equal the existing record while G. D. Hopper of Brackenridge, San Antonio, leaped 6 feet 1⅞ inches in the high jump—a scant one-eighth of an inch below the record.

2 VOL ELEVENS BATTLE TO TIE

Practice Game Indicates Tennessee Will Have Good Defensive Team

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 1.—(AP)—Tennessee's Volunteers, who held 10 opponents to 16 points last fall in winning the Southeastern conference football crown, will have another strong defensive team next fall if today's intra-squad practice game is any tipoff.

A regulation game between an "orange" team, composed largely of last year's first-stringers, and a "black" ended in a 6-6 tie, concluding several weeks of spring drills.

The "orange" outfit, with George Cafego igniting the fuse, blasted through a stubborn "black" line for a touchdown in the second quarter after a 54-yard march. Fullback Joe Wallen plunged over after Cafego had set the stage with two sparkling runs of more than 20 yards.

A 70-yard sustained march led by Halfback Buist Warren accounted for the "black's" marker in the third period, Warren racing over the double-stripe on a 26-yard spin through center. The fleet reserve back completed four passes in the drive.

A few moments later he started another slashing attack that bogged down on the "orange" 24-yard stripe when he was carried from the field with a head injury.

Joyce, and Freemont Connor, pitchers, and Stan Sperry, utility.

The first-string infield of the A's is expected to include Gantenbein at second, Newsome at short and Lodigiani at third, unless Bill Nagel, who played with Clarksdale year before last, beats him out of the job. Moses, of course, is a fixture in the outfield, and Miles, who was a holdout but broke in last week with some lusty clouting, and Finney are first string gardeners. Old Bob Johnson, of course, is still to be reckoned with. Brucker is the top catcher, while Caster, Smith, Gumpert, Ross, Potter and Nelson undoubtedly will start the season on the Mackmen's mound staff. Maybe some of the others who will be seen in action here also will be around when the gong sounds.

Moses, incidentally, will be returning to the scene of his early activities. You remember, of course, that Wally was a member of the Monroe club back in 1932.

From all reports the lads who furnish the opposition for the White Sox next Wednesday are Connie Mack's prized possessions.

L. S. U. TO PLAY NORTHWESTERN BALL CLUB NEXT

Tigers To Try To Make Clean Sweep Of Games Monday And Tuesday

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1.—(Special)—Louisiana State university's baseball team, winner of four straight games from Minnesota in its 1939 collegiate debut, will seek to make a clean sweep of intersectional competition by defeating Northwestern here Monday and Tuesday.

The two-game series with Northwestern and a tennis match with Illinois' netmen Monday afternoon will inaugurate a busy week of campus activity for four Tiger sports teams.

Tiger track and golf teams will go into action next week end to climax a busy week's activities that will see seven intercollegiate sports contests played at the university.

The golfers, preparing to defend their Southeastern conference and Southern intercollegiate titles, will meet Washington university of St. Louis in an intersectional tilt over the L. S. U. Country club course Friday.

Coach Bernie Moore's defending Southeastern conference track champions will engage Southwestern Louisiana institute and Louisiana Normal in a triangular meet on the Tiger track Saturday afternoon.

Coach Harry Rabenhorst's baseball team will open its conference season against the University of Mississippi here next Friday and Saturday. The second game of the Ole Miss series will be played at ten o'clock Saturday morning in order to avoid a conflict with the New York Giants-Pittsburgh Pirates exhibition game that afternoon.

One of the best L. S. U. nines in recent years appeared in the making as the Tigers opened their season with four straight victories over Minnesota.

L. S. U. showed more power at the plate and strength on the mound than has any Ole War Skule nine in years. years.

The heavy bats of the Bengals rattled off 33 hits in four games to account for 16 earned runs.

Four hurlers, three veterans and a sophomore, held the Big Ten team to 17 hits and only three earned runs as L. S. U.'s mound stars registered 28 strikeouts. Bryan Hammett, veteran right hander who starred as a relief pitcher last season, performed nobly in that role in the opening game and then came back in the finale to shut out the Minnesotans with four hits in an abbreviated seven-inning contest.

Ray Radovich, stocky sophomore from New Orleans, blanked the intersectional foe with four hits in his varsity debut in the third game.

Coach Charles Diel's tennis squad, paced by the veteran Jack Bushman, inaugurated its 1939 campaign at mid-week by defeating Western State Teachers college of Kalamazoo, Mich., and the University of Alabama on successive days.

The track team opened L. S. U.'s spring sports season by dominating the Southwestern relays at Lafayette March 25.

DUROCHER DECIDES TO MAKE REISER A DODGER

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—While rain prevented his watching Pete Reiser play second base against the Detroit Tigers, Manager Leo Durocher today decided definitely to make the sensational rookie an official member of the Dodgers. He now belongs to Brooklyn's Elmira, N. Y., farm club, and buying him will be a mere formality.

Durocher said he would play Reiser at second in every exhibition game, adding, "He will make and has made plenty of mistakes afield—but only one of each kind."

Trochesset Wins N. C. A. A. Title; Michael And Daniel Lose In Finals

MADISON, Wis., April 1.—(AP)—Omar (The Assassin) Crocker, Wisconsin's hustling 145-pound boxer, tonight knocked out Anthony Guida of Temple in one minute and nine seconds of the second round of their bout in the finals of the National Collegiate Athletic association's fifth annual tournament.

It was Crocker's twelfth knockout in 16 straight victories, and his third straight knockout of the tournament.

Carl Eckstrom of North Dakota, the defending 127-pound champion, lost his title to Ted Kara of Idaho, who was captain of the 1936 Olympic boxing team. Kara got the decision in three rounds.

Gene Rankin of Wisconsin, former national diamond belt champion, outpointed Henry Davis of Mississippi State for the 135-pound title.

Sewele Whitney of Loyola (New Orleans) took 120-pound laurels by outpointing Al Michael of Louisiana State.

Summaries:

120 pounds: Sewele Whitney, Loyola of the South, outpointed Al Michael, Louisiana State.

127 pounds: Ted Kara, Idaho, outpointed Carl Eckstrom, North Dakota.

FOOT ITCH

ATHLETE'S FOOT

Relief Guaranteed Or Your Money Back

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading

Ofter the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get relief from this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious, and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to relieve it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salves or ointments seldom do any good.

Here's How to Relieve It

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why the ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of relieving Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

Itching Stops Quickly

As soon as you apply H. F. you may find that the itching is quickly relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. should leave the skin soft and smooth, you may marvel at the quick way it brings you relief; especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get relief from Athlete's Foot without success.

A SPECIAL SPRING TONIC FOR YOUR AUTOMOBILE

For a long time automotive engineers and oil company chemists have tried to prevent the formation of sludge, gum, and grit deposits in automobile motors. Air cleaners, crankcase ventilators and oil filters help in a small way, but a large amount of the sludge and gum formed in every automobile engine is produced by the combustion of gasoline and air in contact with oil in the motor.

Right now, there is probably a diluted, black, dirty mixture in your crankcase. Chances are your winter oil is contaminated with carbon, gritty dust, unburned fuel and water—all the natural by-products of winter driving. These foreign substances are NOT lubricant and by their abrasive action, can only do harm to your motor.

The formation of this sludge and gum can not be avoided, but with our new GRACO VITALIZER we are able to remove these harmful deposits, to clean out the sludge, gum, grit and carbon deposits from the inside of your motor, freeing the piston rings, valve stems, and other working parts enabling them to work more smoothly to develop the maximum power of which your motor is capable.

Automobile racing has been recognized as the acid test for all commodities identified with automobiles for three decades. In the 1939 racing season GULFPRIDE MOTOR OIL was used by 45 winners in as many AAA Contest Board-sanctioned races.

When an oil can take it at over 100 miles per hour in a race driver's car, when it is the pick of experts whose lives and livelihood depend on unfaltering engine performance, isn't it doubly safe at the speeds you drive, doesn't it stand to reason it is a better oil?

Bring your car in today and let us with our GRACO VITALIZER clean out the accumulation of gum, sludge and gritty carbon that is in your crankcase, and refill with summer grade Gulfpride motor oil, that is refined from 100% Pure Pennsylvania crude by Gulf's patented Alchoor process.

THINKS FUEHRER COULDN'T STAND

to give Poland an outlet to the Baltic at the head of the Polish corridor.

Poland was understood to be willing to substitute for theoretical League of Nations control a German-Polish joint rule over the Free City but not to renounce her rights in it.

(Nominally, Danzig is governed by a League of Nations commission but actually all its officials are Nazis and its laws are based on German Nazi law. However, Danzig is within the Polish customs administration.)

Poland also was understood to want a loan from Britain and emigration facilities for Jews she may want to emigrate.

In return, it was believed, Poland would reciprocate Britain's defense pledge, making Chamberlain's declaration a two-sided British-Polish military alliance.

Last December 30 Germany took advantage of a clause in the Anglo-German naval pact, which restricts her generally to 35 per cent of British naval tonnage, to announce her intention of building up to parity with Britain in submarine tonnage.

Informed British naval sources, however, cited what they considered would be important reasons why Hitler would have no desire to get into a capital ship race with Britain.

They pointed out:

1. It would be too expensive.
2. Britain has an advantage in men and materials available.
3. The building of capital ships would take too long in the face of present European conditions.
4. The German navy being designed as an aggressive, offensive force, to strike chiefly with submarines and bombing planes, Hitler would gain little by spending vast sums on large craft to fight on the high seas.

British reassurances of the scope of her pledge to Poland were understood to have been given to Count Raczynski, the Polish ambassador, who spent an hour with Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, at the foreign office.

The British reply to Count Raczynski's reported request for clarification as to whether Chamberlain's momentous statement really was an unconditional pledge of armed aid or merely an invitation for Poland to come to some agreement with Germany over Danzig and the corridor was not disclosed.

British officials emphasized privately, however, that should Poland resist German action in either territory as a threat to her independence, Britain and France would go into action.

Some doubt had been cast by an editorial in the pro-government Times of London that Britain's promise did not bind her "to defend every inch of the present frontiers of Poland."

Shortly after the Polish ambassador's visit to Lord Halifax an official statement was issued expressing "surprise . . . that attempts should have been made in London to minimize the prime minister's statement in the house of commons yesterday."

The prime minister's announcement, it said, "is regarded (in official circles) as of outstanding importance, the meaning of which is perfectly clear and categorical."

POLAND BELIEVES HITLER WANTS TIME

WARSAW, April 1.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's Wilhelmshaven speech was interpreted in Poland tonight as a bid for time in which to split this nation from her new-found solidarity with Britain.

Authoritative sources reiterated, however, that Poland was willing to discuss the future of Danzig with Germany as an equal but that Poles would resist forcibly any German attempt to take Danzig by arms.

The British ambassador, Sir Howard William Kennard, conferred with Foreign Minister Joseph Beck, who is to leave for London tomorrow noon.

In London, Beck is expected to prepare for any contingency despite the comparative mildness of Hitler's speech.

After considering Hitler's words, informed quarters declared he was playing for time in which to recast German demands.

They contended that by mobilizing last May Czecho-Slovakia balked Hitler but the Nazis, by biding their time, got what they wanted in September when the Munich accord arranged the first Czecho-Slovak partition.

Warsaw observers believed Prime Minister Chamberlain's promise Friday of British-French military assistance to protect Polish independence had taken Hitler by surprise.

As the Nazi fuehrer was speaking, a German newspaperman was arrested at Bydgosz, in the Polish corridor, charged with "inventing atrocity stories" which he sent to Germany regarding the treatment of the German minority in Poland.

The Lithuanian minister to Poland, Jurgis Szaulys, declared Polish-Lithuanian relations had been brought closer together by Germany's absorption of Memel and expressed "Lithuania's belief that Chamberlain's action marked a turning point in European history."

PITTMAN BELIEVES PEACE CAUSE AIDED

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Chairman Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, of the senate foreign relations committee, said today in his opinion recent events in Europe had diminished the possibility of a general war in Europe.

Pittman, who often reflects in congress the administration view toward foreign affairs, said it was his personal opinion the statement of Prime Minister Chamberlain, pledging Great Britain to fight to preserve the territorial integrity of Poland, had "opened the door to peace in Europe."

He said it was his belief that the clear indication from American officials of favor for aiding the European democracies, in every way short of actual armed support, had had an effect in dissuading Chancellor Hitler of Germany from pursuing further territorial ambitions.

FRENCH BELIEVE HITLER RETREATING

PARIS, April 1.—(AP)—Belief that Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy now may be backing down from their campaigns of expansion in the face of a stronger French and British stand was expressed in diplomatic quarters tonight.

Chancellor Hitler's speech at Wilhelmshaven today was interpreted as a gesture for at least temporary conciliation with the democracies.

Hitler's address followed by only a day Premier Mussolini's announcement that Italy could "wait" for satisfaction of its colonial demands against France.

Study of Hitler's speech led to the conclusion it contained "no sensational announcement."

The French-British pledge to support Poland in event of aggression was received at a cabinet meeting this morning, and further negotiations were foreseen with Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

French diplomats, accepting Prime Minister Chamberlain's pledge to Poland as a final decision by Britain to commit herself on the continent, sought to complete a mutual assistance bloc around Germany and prevent any expansion of Hitler's empire to the detriment of France, Britain and their allies.

almost daily especially since the Munich crisis of last September.

Should war come this year, opinion appeared virtually unanimous that the United States would escape direct involvement, as at the outset of the 1914-18 conflict.

Privately, high American military officials reported they considered the French army Europe's best, and Soviet Russia able to stand off Japan in Siberia as well as aid Poland.

Major-General H. Rowan-Robinson, of the British army, writing in the semi-official American Infantry journal, predicted Italy would be defeated if she sided with Germany.

Italy, he said, "is exceedingly vulnerable and likely to remain so even should she win the alliance of Spain."

"Britain, for her part, is subject to a threat in Egypt, but any Italian success there would have no decisive value.

"Aided by France, she should be able to control the Mediterranean, provided she were to discard it for her trade and larger warships, and to initiate at once a policy of building small craft in large numbers."

branch decorated with flowers from the Brescia family of San Remo which, since 1586, has had the concession of supplying the palms used at St. Peter's each year.

The privilege was granted the family by Pope Sixtus V as a reward for the presence of mind of one of its members which saved the lives of a number of the pontiff's workmen as the obelisk which still stands in St. Peter's square was being erected. Pius XII is the 31st pope the Brescias have served with palms.

Picturesque ceremonies will be held in many parts of Italy during holy week.

The end of Lent will be celebrated Saturday in front of the cathedral at Florence by the explosion of rockets and other fireworks set off by an artificial dove which descends from the cathedral roof by a wire with a lighted torch in its mouth.

SUBCOMMITTEE FAVORS AMOUNT

78,000. This was despite the fact that about 150,000 persons leave the relief rolls each month because they obtain other employment."

A further opportunity for reducing the relief rolls was offered, Adams said, when the WPA dropped 45,000 aliens under provisions of the last relief measure. He said that 36,000 persons were eliminated because they were found not to be in "actual need" of relief.

"But," he said, "these have all been replaced by others and the relief total still stands at approximately 3,000,000."

The WPA has announced that 200,000 persons would have to be dropped from relief rolls during April if the $100,000,000 appropriation should be retained. Adams disputed this, saying that the "normal withdrawal" of 150,000 monthly from relief rolls would make it necessary to eliminate only 50,000.

Mangham

The Mangham Junior Literary club held a monthly meeting at the home of Miss Janet Hixon, with Miss Ada Preston as co-hostess. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Nathan Blair. The minutes were read and the roll called by Miss Bessie Noble, secretary-treasurer. After a short business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Alford McConnell, who was leader of the program.

Mrs. F. A. Childress gave a talk on "Landscaping and Outdoor Gardens." Mrs. W. D. Cotton of Rayville, a guest who is president of the junior clubs in the Fifth district, addressed the club for a few minutes. She commended the club for its record. Miss Inez Reynolds rendered a solo, accompanied by Mrs. C. Noble Hatch.

A plate luncheon was served to the following members and guests: Miss Ola Cooper, Miss Doris Terral, Miss Bessie Noble, Miss Dorothy Stark, Mrs. Flem Hatch, Mrs. Elsie Terral, Mrs. Raymond Geiger, Miss Mattie Adams, Miss Inez Reynolds, Miss Sybil Tillman, Mrs. John C. Kenton, Mrs. F. D. Childress, Mrs. Dow Case, Mrs. Alford McConnell, Mrs. Nathan Blair, and the guests, Mrs. W. D. Cotton of Rayville, Miss Shea, president of the junior club of Rayville, Mrs. C. Noble Hatch, Mrs. E. E. Randall, Mrs. W. E. Hixon, and Misses Janet Hixon and Ada Preston.

FIVE CONVICTED OF MAIL FRAUD

ican Benefit association, Shreveport, La.; the Southern Protective union, Denver, Colo.; the Guardian Benefit association, New Orleans, La.; the Imperial Protective union of the District of Columbia, and the Imperial Life Insurance company of Shreveport, all were found guilty as charged by the jurors.

Date of sentencing was not set definitely by Judge Ben C. Dawkins, but he indicated that it would be the latter part of the coming week. The defendants found guilty were permitted release on bonds in the same amount on which they previously had been held.

The first trial of the Morris case occupied six weeks in June and July, 1938, and ended in a mistrial when the jury failed to agree.

The Morrises, Freeman and Beasley were found guilty, as charged, on 11 counts of using the mails to defraud in connection with their operations of the various insurance companies. Various positions in the insurance companies were held by the five found guilty. Morris, president of several, testified during the trial that he formed all the policies of the companies and assumed all responsibility for operation of the insurance business.

The government charged that some $2,500,000 insurance was put in force, that $1,000,000 was collected in premiums and only approximately $120,000 in claims paid out.

The case went to the jury at 10:55 o'clock this morning following nearly two hours of instructions to the jury by Judge Ben C. Dawkins.

At 3:30 o'clock today, the jury requested that a letter and insurance policy introduced in evidence be given them for examination, but gave no indication that they were near a verdict.

The letter requested was signed by L. Hugh Morris as secretary of the American Benefit association, and gave permission to an agent to issue a policy to one John W. Mahan, of Newark, Ark., Spanish-American war veteran who had written to the association stating that he still suffered ill-effects from an injury, and wanting to know if he might secure a policy in spite of it.

The letter authorizing the policy and the policy were introduced by the government as part of its case involving the insurance methods used by the American Benefit group and other defendant companies.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Dawkins authorized them to find any defendant or group of defendants guilty, and asked that each count charged be considered separately.

Trial of the case opened on March 13, and two weeks were spent by Special Prosecutor J. Fair Hardin in presenting the case of the government. Ninety witnesses were called to the stand by Hardin.

HITLER SCORNS BRITISH ACCORD

livered because a scheduled short wave broadcast abroad was broken just after he started to talk.

Later, however, a recording of his voice was broadcast in Germany.

Officials said the failure of the short wave transmission was due to technical reasons.

Hitler proclaimed anew that the Rome-Berlin axis was unshakeable for all time and he called Italy "the state with which we shall march now and in all the future."

"If any nation wants to measure its strength with ours (the axis) in any other way than a peaceful one," he declared, "we are ready for that also."

Hitler insisted that the Czechs, who have become subjects of the Reich "will have more freedom than the suppressed peoples of virtueless nations have."

He defended his course in Czecho-Slovakia by asserting that state had been created only as a base for attacking Germany.

"We have no hatred against the Czechs," he said.

"The British evidently do not know that we have lived with them (the Czechs) for hundreds of years.

"Neither the British nor the French built Hradcany castle (in Prague)—it was a German architect who did it.

"And a thousand years before me, a German king stood there and received the homage of Bohemians.

"I had hoped very much to solve the Czech problem in a simple and sensible way. But when it became apparent that the same forces which brought about the September events were again getting the upper hand, I went back to our good old German right of self-defense.

"I rendered a big industrial area secure in the interests of all.

"I advanced peace, for I destroyed the instrument intended to start a war against Germany."

Germany, he insisted, "is not thinking of making war upon anybody, provided others leave us alone."

The bodies of Mrs. Tom Bradley and Mrs. S. H. Campbell and daughter, Annette, were taken to the Oak Grove cemetery. The cortege was led by an escort of state police, passing through long lines of bared heads.

Pallbearers were all members of the Catron Kelly American Legion post with the exception of those for the child. Pallbearers for Baby Annette were members of the Sons of the American Legion and girls of the junior auxiliary.

JAS. CHILLMAN, JR., HEADS ART LEAGUE

SAN ANTONIO, April 1.—(AP)—James Chillman, Jr., of Houston, director of the Houston Museum of Fine Arts, was elected president of the Southern States Art league today at the closing session of the two-day 19th annual convention.

Other officers named included: Edward S. Shorter of Columbus, Ga., first vice-president; Miss Edith Fairfax Davenport of Zellwood, Fla., second vice-president; Miss Ethel Hutson of New Orleans, La., secretary-treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Harold Dwelle of Charlotte, N. C.; Amos Lee Armstrong of Shreveport and Dr. Frederick Jochem of Baton Rouge.

Members of the league voted to hold their 20th annual convention in Charlotte, N. C. Shreveport was selected as the 1941 convention city.

LOSERS IN SPAIN MUST PAY COSTS

ists against persons judged to be responsible for the war, or its prolongation, under the law of political responsibilities.

2. By fines not assigned by law to other funds.
3. By individual contributions.
4. By treasury advances.
5. By issuing Institute of Credit bonds up to denominations of 100,000 pesetas.

The institute will seek to spur provincial, municipal and private reconstruction by advancing funds against first mortgages and loans, bearing interest at three per cent, payable in 20 years.

The nationalists have 650,000 prisoners, the majority of whom will be used for building highways, bridges, railroads, homes, streets and churches.

Three hundred thousand prisoners already are working in Catalonia and southern Spain.

They are paid four and one-half pesetas (45 cents) daily and get their food and living quarters but two-thirds of the wage goes to their dependents.

The government will require that employers give jobs back to soldiers when they leave the army.

The army now has a strength of between 900,000 and 1,000,000 men and gradual demobilization is to start in two months.

Soldiers not absorbed by private industry will be given reconstruction jobs.

Juan March, multi-millionaire financier, placed his fortune at the disposal of Generalissimo Francisco Franco to help pay the cost of the war.

The nationalists received millions to conduct the war through a ten per cent tax on all sales, including food. In addition, during the last two years, there was a restriction on the amount of food served but customers were required to pay the bill for a normal meal—the difference going to the government.

Franco issued and declared legal his own greenback peseta currency, backed solely by his confidence in victory.

He expects to reconstruct Spain without asking for foreign loans.

Some expected that foreign legionnaires would leave Spain in the next two months. The foreigners include an estimated 13,000 to 20,000 Italians and 8,000 Germans.

east Center offers, a survey shows. With a bus system operated in all directions from Monroe, over concrete paved highways, two years of college instruction will be available at almost no cost as students can reside at home. Unless these facilities are provided, many of these high school students will never be able to attend college, Mr. Masur points out.

Northeast Center is fast outgrowing its swaddling clothes and is becoming recognized as an important educational center as has been recently borne out, Mr. Masur stated, by the two high honors that have been accorded Dean C. C. Colvert in his election to high national offices of educational groups.

HURT IN PLANE CRASH, VICKSBURG MAN DIES

VICKSBURG, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—Lieutenant Joe Moore, injured in the crash of his light airplane a week ago in which George Millican, Vicksburg insurance man, was killed, died late today. He had had several blood transfusions.

Lieutenant Moore, a government licensed pilot-instructor, was clearing shrubbery at the edge of the local airport when his dual-controlled Aeronca-K was caught in a downdraft. He and Millican were taking off on a pleasure flight.

Moore was a graduate of Kelly field, army air base at San Antonio, Tex.

Sugar

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Domestic sugar futures advanced today under speculative buying and purchases by trade and refiner accounts. Selling came principally from local commission houses and Cuban trade interests. Final prices were unchanged to one higher.

World futures were influenced by Wall Street and speculative support and commission house buying. Selling in large part was through Cuban houses. The market ranged unchanged to 1-2 higher at the close. May was bid 1.19 1-2 and July 1.1-8 1-2.

No sales were reported in raw sugar, the spot price holding to 2.88 for duty frees. Refined was unchanged at 4.40-4.50.

Oil And Gas News

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—Ten new producers in Louisiana oil fields, with total initial daily production of 3,482 barrels, were listed in the weekly report of the minerals division of the state department of conservation.

All but one of the new wells were in south Louisiana fields, with the Eola field accounting for the two largest, Nos. 2 and 3 Haas, with daily production of 763 barrels each through a quarter-inch choke. The Charenton field reported a state well in Bayou Crue with an initial flow of 600 barrels through the same sized opening.

Twenty-five permits for new wells were issued during the week, of which 10 were for operations in Caddo parish fields. Twelve permits were issued for operations in south Louisiana, including new wildcats in Assumption, Beauregard and Pointe Coupee parishes.

Daily production of oil in Louisiana during the week ending March 25 was estimated by the department at 261,899 barrels, of which 191,349 barrels were produced in south Louisiana fields, and 70,550 barrels in north Louisiana.

New producers listed in the report, with date of completion ranging from February 21 to March 26, were:

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—In one of the fastest Saturday sessions in more than a year, the stock market today rallied and relapsed at frequent intervals but managed to end on a rising note.

The European scene held Wall Street's attention to the virtual exclusion of domestic business and political happenings. Many traders were said to have stepped in on the buying side at the opening on the theory the sharp declines of the past two days called for a "correction" no matter what occurred overseas.

The rapid churning of the list put the ticker tape several minutes behind floor dealings during almost the entire first hour. There was a slow-down in the final period as Hitler started his speech at Wilhelmshaven. A revival of bidding at the last resulted in a substantial come-back for numerous issues that had undergone pressure after the opening. Transfers for the two hours approximated 1,500,000 shares.

Final gains ran to two or more points for favorites, but there were a number of losers of as much.

The financial district seemed to derive some courage from the belief that the stronger stand of the Anglo-French entente might avert war. In addition indications of calm over the week-end were seen in the fact Prime Minister Chamberlain left London for his country home, Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck had not seen fit to postpone his trip to London tomorrow, and Mussolini's latest utterances were viewed as relatively moderate.

United States recognition of the Franco Spanish government and the coincidental lifting of the embargo on the export of arms to Spain by the president were thought to have propped market sentiment to some extent.

American issues at Amsterdam, the only important foreign market open today, advanced. Bonds and commodities were somewhat irregular.

GERMANS DEFY BAN ON RADIOS

Thousands Listen Despite Penalties Ranging As High As Death

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Radio company officials, puzzled by the sudden cut-off today on Hitler's speech, disclosed tonight that thousands of Germans regularly listened to American news broadcast by short wave in defiance of penalties ranging as high as death on the guillotine.

A National Broadcasting company spokesman said there were 11,000,000 radio receiving sets in Germany, with at least half of them capable of receiving short wave broadcasts.

"During the first three months of 1939, we have received 1,348 letters from German short-wave listeners," the spokesman said.

"A majority of them wrote guardedly of their appreciation of the 'objective' news supplied by foreign stations and said they got the news through foreign broadcasts as much as 20 hours before the official German releases.

"Many of the letters indicated that Germans gather in groups to listen to the broadcasts, in defiance of published orders."

Officials of the Mutual Broadcasting system said they also received "hundreds of appreciative letters a month" from German listeners.

The abrupt shutoff of Hitler's reply to Prime Minister Chamberlain was attributed by German officials tonight to technical reasons.

For American listeners, the speech lasted just 78 seconds. Hitler addressing his unseen audience as "Germans, compatriots" although the broadcast was verboten to Germans themselves. They were not to hear the speech until later in the day—in a recorded transcription—whereas the original broadcast had apparently been approved for transmission outside Germany.

NBC officials hazarded the explanation that German officials were angered when W2XAD, the General Electric company short-wave station at Schenectady, N. Y., as a routine procedure, rebroadcast NBC's pickup back to Germany.

As an added measure of mystery, Mutual Broadcasting system officials said that at 1:35 p. m., eastern standard time, when they were idly trying to pick up German stations—without warning—a transcription of Hitler's speech came on the air.

Mutual broadcast the whole speech over 109 of its 110 stations.

There was only one flaw. Hitler, of course, spoke in German. And MBS's translator had gone home!

NEGRO WHO BEAT EMPLOYER HELD

Posse Captures Black Accused Of Attacking Calhoun Mill Foreman

Following his capture by a posse in Cheniere swamp Saturday morning, Johnny Wood, negro, 35, employe of a sawmill located near Calhoun who had beaten his white foreman, was brought here to the negro clinic of the St. Francis sanitarium for treatment of bruises. Sheriff Milton Coverdale said the negro would be charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

Wood fled to the swamp after he had beaten his foreman, Paul Wright, a man of slight physique, with a heavy piece of board, a few minutes following his discharge from the mill. The negro had received his bruises when the posse brought him from the swamp to the mill offices, where he was being detained when Sheriff Coverdale and Deputies Frank Cline and Clyde Mitchell arrived.

The negro was employed by the J. B. Brown sawmill. He had given his employers some trouble, Sheriff Milton Coverdale was told, and when he was discharged by Mr. Wright Saturday morning he was said to have demanded his pay immediately. Wright and the negro entered an automobile to go to the mill offices, located in Mr. Brown's store, about a quarter of a mile from the mill. The automobile had not left the mill yard before the negro's harangue caused Mr. Wright to stop the automobile, Sheriff Coverdale was told. The negro then was said to have jumped out of the car, and to have beaten Mr. Wright, who also jumped out, with the board. Mr. Wright said he was beaten to the ground three times before the negro left the scene. The blows were delivered to his body.

Employes of the mill soon learned of the attack on Mr. Wright, and the mill was closed and the posse formed. Sheriff Coverdale and deputies brought the negro to Monroe.

MID-WEST SENATORS FORM WHEAT BLOC

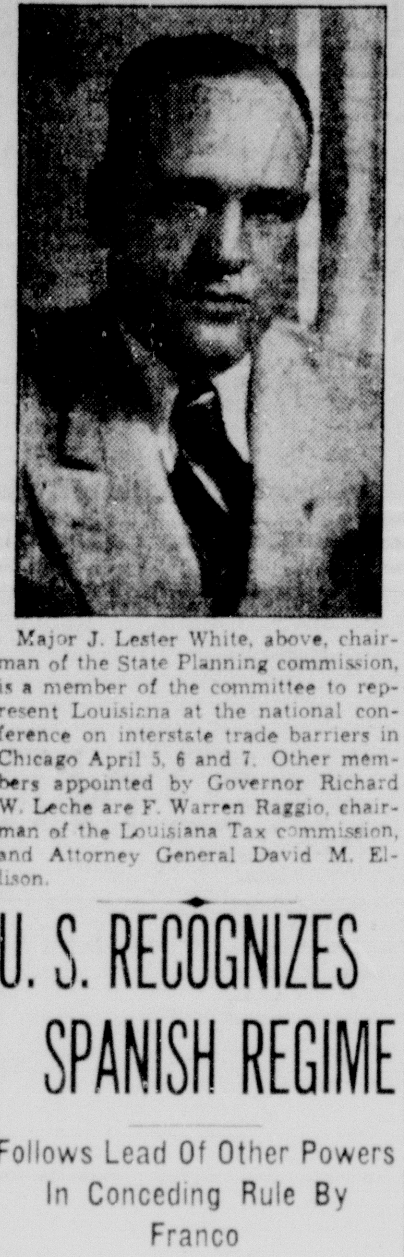
WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Midwestern senators, ignoring party lines, formed a corn-wheat-dairy bloc today similar to the older and powerful cotton bloc of southern senators.

The presence of Secretary Wallace at the birth of the new legislative group gave rise to immediate speculation it was formed to oppose the cotton bloc, now engaged in controversy with Wallace over his proposed cotton subsidy program, but the middle western senators emphatically denied that.

Senator Lucas, Democrat, Illinois, leader of the new bloc formed in his office, said its purpose was "a broad-scale, unified farm program affecting all sections of the United States against current uncertainties in world affairs."

The Illinois senator said the middle westerners would designate a committee of three to meet with a similar group of southern senators to "reach an agreement upon broad questions of general farm policy."

TO TRADE PARLEY



Major J. Lester White, above, chairman of the State Planning commission, is a member of the committee to represent Louisiana at the national conference on interstate trade barriers in Chicago April 5, 6 and 7. Other members appointed by Governor Richard W. Leche are F. Warren Raggio, chairman of the Louisiana Tax commission, and Attorney General David M. Ellison.

U. S. RECOGNIZES SPANISH REGIME

Follows Lead Of Other Powers In Conceding Rule By Franco

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—The United States followed the lead of other powers today and accorded formal diplomatic recognition to General Francisco Franco's nationalist regime as the legal government of war-torn Spain.

President Roosevelt at the same time lifted a two-year embargo on the shipment of arms to either side in the long conflict which ended with Tuesday's fall of Madrid and the final collapse of the former republican government.

The recognition of Franco's victory, forthcoming after Great Britain and France had acted, apparently was unconditional.

Secretary Hull merely sent a telegram to General Francisco Gomez Jordana, foreign minister of the Burgos regime, stating the "disposition of this government to establish diplomatic relations with that government of Spain."

Left to negotiations were such knotty matters as an exchange of envoys and American claims for compensation of properties seized during the civil war.

Hull avoided at a press conference a direct answer to a question whether cognizance had been taken of the presence of Italian and German troops in Spain. For obvious reasons, he said, he could not go into details now on such matters. He replied likewise to a question as to the possibility of a plea for leniency for the former republican fighters.

The proclamation lifting the arms embargo was signed by the president at Warm Springs, Ga. In it the chief executive stated that "in my judgment the state of civil strife in Spain" described in a joint senate-house resolution of January 8, 1937, had "ceased to exist."

Simultaneously with its publication, the state department revoked regulations governing the soliciting and receiving of contributions for use in Spain.

DEATHS

REIVE RITES HELD

The funeral of Charles Reive, 89, father of Mrs. C. C. Bell of West Monroe, who died at the Bell residence Friday at 6 p.m., was held at the residence Saturday at 3 p.m. Dr. C. Karlos Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church of West Monroe, officiated, and interment was made in Hasley cemetery with the Mulhearn Funeral home in charge. Pallbearers were A. W. Riggs, W. A. Kirkpatrick, H. H. Bayh, C. A. Kimball, C. B. Brown and M. L. Langford.

Mr. Reive was a native of Ontario, Canada, but spent his early manhood at Muskegon, Mich. He moved to Louisiana in 1899 and had resided with his daughter in West Monroe for 15 years.

Surviving are four daughters and two sons: Mrs. C. C. Bell, West Monroe; Mrs. M. D. Abbott, Topeka, Kans.; Mrs. S. H. Dew, Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. J. W. Dew, Marshall, Tex.; Emery Reive, Houston, Tex., and Ernie Reive, LeCompte. Also he leaves 17 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

RUPERT GRASBY

OAK GROVE, La., April 1.—(Special)—Funeral services for Rupert Grasby, 45, World war veteran who died at a Lake Village, Ark., hospital Friday, will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Oak Grove American Legion hut.

Interment will follow at McGehee, Ark., at 2 p.m. with members of Catron Kelly post No. 53, American Legion, conducting the rites at the grave under the direction of Arden B. Smith, fifth district commander of the American Legion.

APPARENTLY POOR, WOMAN DIES RICH

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—(AP)—Miss Louise E. Pim, 89-year-old spinster, lived for years in the atmosphere of poverty.

But a few days after her death, March 21, an ancient piano in her poorly furnished room was found to be the hiding place of $40,000 in old currency.

Yesterday puzzled executors of the old lady's estate went to her bank safety deposit box searching for a will. They found it—tied up with a second secret fortune of $103,000 in old bills.

The bulk of the estate will go to Catholic charities.

ROOSEVELT EYES EUROPE CLOSELY

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., April 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt kept a watchful eye on fast-moving European developments today, but withheld comment on Adolf Hitler's Wilhelmshaven speech because he said he had not seen the text.

Talking with reporters from his car after he had dedicated two new buildings—a school and medical center—at the Warm Springs foundation for infantile paralysis, the chief executive said he had been in frequent touch with Washington but had received nothing new except terse press dispatches.

Asked how he regarded Hitler's speech, the president said he did not know because he did not have the whole speech before him.

Asked whether he thought the European crisis had "eased," the president again declined to give an opinion.

Late in the day Mr. Roosevelt delivered two informal speeches dedicating the two brick structures here for the benefit of crippled children.

He also accepted on behalf of the foundation a bronze plaque in memory of the late George Foster Peabody, co-founder of Warm Springs, donated by Peabody's daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Peabody Waite.

SEARCH LOSES PUNCH

JACKSON, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—The search for an airplane, which residents near Prentiss said they saw crash in a swamp Wednesday, lost some of its punch late today. Wally Schanz, Ohio pilot who had been reported missing in the area, notified authorities he was very much alive—had in fact been one of those aiding in the fruitless search.

LOCAL PEOPLE'S KIN AID RESCUE

In First Car To Avoid Tragedy On Jackson Side Of Clear Creek Washout

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Tennant of Vicksburg, together with members of their party, who were in the first car which stopped on the Jackson side of the Clear creek bridge washout in time to keep from going into the water, are a son-in-law and daughter of C. C. Earnwine, living at 509 Layton street, Monroe.

In the car with Mr. and Mrs. Tennant at that time were their daughter, Miss Katherine Tennant, and Misses Ann Marie and Billy Leist of Vicksburg. Mrs. Evelyn Leist of West Monroe is the mother and Mrs. Norman Rushing of West Monroe is an aunt of the Leist girls.

Members of the Tennant party were returning from Jackson Wednesday night where they had gone to meet Miss Tennant who was returning from Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus for the spring holidays, when they came up on the Clear creek bridge tragedy.

"We were driving along at a moderate rate of speed not exceeding forty miles an hour," said Mr. Tennant today, "and any number of cars passed us. The last two cars that passed us between Smith's station and the bridge were the two cars that we saw disappear over the bridge.

The last car was approximately a half a block ahead of us when it went in. Upon seeing this car disappear my daughter remarked, 'Daddy, did you see that?' Then I stopped my car as quickly as possible. Just how far I was away from the washout I could not say. However, I was close enough to see the tail lights of three cars down in the creek which were still burning.

"Hearing the screams of those who were in the creek I turned my car around and returned to Mrs. Pennybaker's home. On arriving there I got out of my car and flagged a man driving a Ford car. He stopped immediately, and after telling him what had happened, he proceeded on to the bridge to help out. The next car I attempted to flag but did not stop, but the man in the Ford who had reached the bridge was successful in stopping him before he went off.

"The next car was Miss Hazel Ryan and a party of Vicksburgers who were returning from Jackson. They were attracted by Mrs. Tennant waving a red coat from the rear of our car and stopped.

"Leaving Mrs. Tennant and the other members of our party on guard in the middle of the highway to stop all cars possible, I ran into Mrs. Pennybaker's to telephone for help from Vicksburg.

"Raiford Guion of Guion-Theobald Funeral home was the home I talked to in Vicksburg and asked to send ambulances, doctors and highway patrolmen to the scene.

"Then I got in my car with my party and proceeded to Edwards. But did not pass a car on the way. At Edwards I stopped at the Chichester home and asked that they help me to locate help in that town telling them what had happened.

"While I was at the Chichester home the man who I had flagged in the Ford came to the house with the first victim rescued from the creek that I knew of. The injured man stated his brother and his two lady friends who were in the car with him he felt sure were dead. He asked that we do our best to recover them.

"My party and I then immediately returned to the bridge and my daughter and I began to assist in the rescue work. The first person we contacted was Mr. Lewis, driver of the Westbrook truck. We were taking him to my car, when Mr. Noble, the mayor of Edwards came up and then we put Mr. Lewis in his car and sent him on into Edwards.

"Then I was successful in stopping a colored man in a car en route from Jackson, who assisted in helping us rescue the others. These were one woman and two men. The woman was Miss Schrack of Mansfield, O. I did not know the names of the two men.

"The man in the Ford who I first stopped took the lady and Mr. Rucker of Vicksburg carried the two men off.

"There was only one dead man brought from the water while we were present. I did not know his name.

"After we rendered what assistance we could and with hundreds of rescuers at work, and my family tired out, we proceeded home by Utica arriving in Vicksburg about 2 o'clock."

SINGING CONVENTION

G. W. Roberts, of Chatham, president of the Jackson Parish Singing convention, announced Saturday that the next singing meet will be held at Eros, Sunday, April 9. He urged that all interested attend and make the affair one of the biggest and best thus far conducted.

Concerted efforts are being exerted to obtain action by Louisiana State university to purchase and operate six bus lines carrying students daily from cities and towns in north Louisiana to Northeast Center. The six buses will cost approximately $15,000 and after their purchase they will be self-sustaining. With these buses, a total of 300 students could be conveyed from their homes to college daily, enabling them to obtain two years of college studies at a minimum cost. The map above shows the proposed six bus routings. Also a recent survey discloses that there are 1,405 high school graduates, of the year 1937-1938, living on these routes. The number of high school graduates in proposed bus line parishes of the years 1937-1938 total 1,791.

Palm Sunday Is Being Celebrated Throughout The Christian World Today

Local Girl To Be In Rome Easter Sunday

Interesting Events Of Past Week Include Lecture By British Knight And Concert By Rubinoff

PALM Sunday! Fragments of palms, reminiscent of the Sunday long ago when Christ made his last entry into Jerusalem where palms were strewn along his way by the multitude, are being distributed in churches throughout the civilized world today.

"The Palms," one of the most beautiful sacred songs ever written, will highlight the services. The words of the song, "Bless Him who cometh to bring us salvation," still ring down the ages and will be associated with Palm Sunday for all time to come.

A week devoted to prayer and fasting awaits the devout who observe Holy Week. The 40 days of abstinence and deprivation will be over next Sunday when a gala Easter parade, thrilling music, and a world fragrant with lilies awaits those who look forward to this season of gladness and rebirth.

Imagine being in Rome on Easter Sunday! Winnie Graham Breard, who is attending school in Switzerland, writes that she will be among the thousands who will see Pius XII pontificate in St. Peter's on Easter morning. She will be on the broad square in front of the Duomo, or cathedral, to watch the Explosion of the Sacred Cart, a ceremony which has no duplication in Europe and which has been taking place in Rome every year since 1303 A. D.—a strange mixture of pagan beauty and romance of medieval Christianity. At high noon, while the cathedral bells ring out, a flaming dove, carrying fire struck from a flint brought from the Holy Sepulcher at Jerusalem, shoots over the heads of the crowd inside the cathedral, out through the wide doors and alights on the sacred cart which is waiting in the middle of the square. On the top of the cart is fastened a fuse. In a flash, fireworks concealed in every crevice of the wagon's frame begin to sputter and shoot. A wire reaching from the altar inside the cathedral and passing over the heads of the congregation to the cart, guides the bird in its flight. In olden times, popular superstitions attached great importance to the manner in which the bird made its flight.

Winnie Graham will go from Rome to Florence where, according to the old saying, "Easter time is Florence time." She will be among the thousands who steep their soul in the fragrance of the lilies growing wild on the sunny slopes at Easter time. She will also be among the vast throng congregating on the Via Tornabuoni and the ancient Ponte Vecchio where Michelangelo and Donatello once worked as silversmiths.

Interesting events to spice our urban life took place last week. There was a lecture by a celebrated speaker, Sir Charles Morgan-Webb, a member of the British parliament, for instance. Leta Tisdale, like the proverbial early bird who gets the choicest morsels, was on hand to take Sir Charles driving over the city. Her motif was not exactly ulterior, but nevertheless she did ply him with questions regarding the Duke and Duchess of Windsor—of the attitude of the people toward the duke's abdication and numerous other questions of which no one is better informed than Sir Charles. Leta evidently got an earful.

Of luncheons there were many last week. There was Irene Fox's luncheon at the Virginia hotel, where white iris, an army of them, marched down the white satin damask-covered table. There was Mabel Wallace and Helen Sherrouse's luncheon and Emily Wright's luncheon at the Lotus club, all for Elizabeth Cutler and her sister-in-law, visitors at Bethaven, the Henry Biedenharn home.

Then there was Mrs. Ray Rhymes and Mrs. Patrick White's luncheon at the Frances hotel where bridal wreath and pink honeysuckle formed the table's floral decor. Francesca Biedenharn's luncheon table was gloriously beautiful—handsome silver and china and sparkling crystal and a floral piece of supreme artistry.

We tip our new Easter bonnet with the blue ribbon on it, to a band of courageous young women—members of the Junior Charity league, for putting over with a grand flourish their main project of the year—the Rubinoff concert. It was simply stupendous—well—one can't find a word nice enough for it. The great artist drew his bow across his famous violin and such enchanting melody poured forth. The parade of fashionables down the aisle was equal in style to the Easter parade. Hats that look so ridiculous when perched on mannequins in the shop windows, looked simply adorable on heads of pretty girls with their beautifully coiffed hair. The leaguers were out with their husbands in tow and the sight of them was far more stimulating than the cocktails served at the number of parties before the concert.

Mary Lee Milam, the league president, was beaming—and why not? She did some good work that brought splendid results and now there will be no need for wading through another project such as the Follies. From a financial standpoint their work is over for the year.

Miss Denson To Wed Claude Emory Gallman

Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas Horn announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their sister, Miss Dorothy Denson, daughter of the late Dr. J. O. and Mrs. Dorr B Denson, of Bay Springs and Taylorville, Miss., to Mr. Claude Emory Gallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gallman, of Rayville, La., the wedding to take place in the Bay Springs Baptist church Sunday morning, April 16.

Miss Denson received her B. A. degree from Mississippi Woman's college and also a diploma from the home economics department, and has been a member of the faculty of several schools in this section of the state. She is now a member of the Taylorville school faculty. Mr. Gallman attended Centenary college, Shreveport, and later completed a commercial course in Jackson, Miss. He is now engaged in farming in Rayville, where he and his bride-to-be will make their home.

Laura Grace Kendall And Dr. Faler Marry

Marriage Of West Monroe Girl Takes Place In New Orleans On 31st Of March

Announcement is made today by Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Calvert of West Monroe of the marriage of Mrs. Calvert's daughter, Miss Laura Grace Kendall, to Dr. Lewis George Faler, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hood of Shreveport, which took place on the afternoon of March 31 at the Holy Name church in New Orleans, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Edward Cassidy, S. J.

Miss Kendall wore a long fitted coat, a Schiaparelli model of ivory porosa over a navy blue Stehli sheer, a large hat of ivory rough straw trimmed in navy, accessories of ivory and corsage of orchids and pink Token roses.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Martha Elmer of New Orleans, who wore a navy blue sheer with white accessories and corsage of Souvenir roses.

Dr. Fred Boyd served as best man.

After a brief wedding trip on the gulf coast the couple will return to New Orleans, where they will be at home to friends in the future.

Miss Kendall is a direct descendant of Joseph M. Papin and wife. Marie Louise Chouteau, who with Pierre Laclede Liguest, was among the founders of the city of St. Louis. She is a great-granddaughter of the late Theophile Papin of St. Louis, and a granddaughter of the late Bernard Caulfield, who represented the state of Illinois in the 43rd and 44th congresses.

Miss Kendall attended Ursuline academy and Gulf Park college, and is now studying voice in New Orleans. She is a member of the Delta Beta Sigma and Delta Alpha Sigma sororities and a great favorite in younger social circles of this city.

Dr. Faler is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta, Theta Beta and K. O. S., the last two being honorary fraternities. He is president of the class of 1939, school of dentistry, Loyola University of the South.

Little Theater Plans Two Plays

The Little Theater will present two one-act plays on the evening of April 4, at 8 p.m., at Northeast Center. This is in accord with their policy to alternate three-act plays with evenings of the shorter variety of play. Those responsible for the selection of the two plays to be given on April 4 believe that they present particularly interesting questions. "The Other Side," directed by Lucyle Godwin, is an intensely dramatic picture of a father who must mete out the ultimate punishment to his son, who has set himself against society as a criminal. "Two Crooks and a Lady," directed by Rosalia Kusin, is in lighter vein, but interestingly enough, deals with two more criminals. The methods an old lady, who is a helpless invalid, uses to defeat the ends of these two crooks make as gripping a play as one could find.

Wayne Wamsley, Jr., Bill Walker, Olan Black, and Fred Fudickar, Jr., compose the cast of "The Other Side." Mrs. Olan Black, De De Arnold, Jackie Gulley, Jacob Seligman, Rufus Goza, and H. O. Coates compose the cast of "Two Crooks and a Lady." The Little Theater has come to expect large audiences, with its current membership of over 800, and there are always nonmembers who swell the crowd by paying admission to see the evening's entertainment. Following the April 4 presentation, there will be one more three-act play, and another evening of one-act plays which will close the present season.

Noe's Ark Scene Of Delightful Affair

Redecorated River Craft Furnishes Charming Setting For Informal Gathering On Friday

The Noe's Ark, spic and span, after five months in drydock, where it was completely overhauled, repainted and additional comforts added, drifted down the river on Friday with a congenial company of guests on board.

Their gracious hostess, Mrs. James A. Noe, wearing a sport model of dusty pink with a big pink rose from her gardens tucked in her belt, and wearing a sun bonnet made of natural colored grasses, welcomed her guests in the cabin. Later everyone became comfortably seated on the broad upper deck where the glory of the springtime is seen to the very best advantage along the margin of the river. The boat drifted down stream past low hanging water oaks decked in bright green foliage and blossoming locusts sending forth divine perfume.

A splendid view of White Hall, the Noes' plantation home situated near the bend in the river, was obtained from the deck of the boat. The hostess had planned to serve tea in the spacious hall at her plantation home, but due to recent rains the banks of the river looked rather formidable. The change of plans, however, did not lessen the charm of the occasion as refreshments were enjoyed on the upper deck where white-clad servants passed trays of luscious sandwiches, relishes, cakes, cold drinks and coffee.

The guests on this occasion, the second of a series of afternoon teas, included Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. Reese Major, Jr., Mrs. Reese Major, Sr., Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. M. A. McHenry, Mrs. Albert Horuff, Mrs. H. R. Speed, Mrs. T. O. Bancroft, Mrs. Charles Wallace, Mrs. John Potts, Mrs. Charles McCord, Mrs. John Munholland, Mrs. Dix Ellett, Mrs. John Breard, Mrs. D. A. Bradford, Mrs. Travis Oliver, Mrs. Henry Biedenharn, Mrs. Haydn Cutler, Mrs. Travis Oliver, Jr., Mrs. Richard Allen, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell, Miss Lucy Moore, Mrs. Victor Cooper, Miss Eve Bradford, Mrs. Gordon Cummings and guest from New York, and Mrs. Leon McHenry.

Mrs. Dennis Fetes Readers Clique

Crystal bowls of spirea and pink snapdragons added a note of spring time to the home of Mrs. J. Leon Dennis when she entertained members of the Readers clique on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. G. L. Morgan, study leader, gave an interesting talk on "Modern or Contemporary Decorating." She said in part: "Modern art and decoration, far from being a fad, have become a definite part of modern life. The modern home is especially designed to meet modern requirements of present day living. One of the most striking features is the sense of spaciousness it achieves. We find extreme elements have disappeared and modern, as interpreted in furniture and furnishings at present, introduces only the most simple and pleasing forms. Modern furniture manufacturers have made use of all the new and interesting materials available. Such materials as glass, metal, rough-textured fabrics, rare woods and synthetic products all combined are found in the furniture of today.

"Textiles, today, like furniture, are keeping pace with the progress in modern design. One evidence of the uniformity they have attained is that texture and weaves hold the main point of interest and that is fabrics of the present day complement perfectly the mood of modern furniture.

"Color, also, has played an important role, for the architect and decorator have used this medium to create unusual backgrounds and effects, as for example dark ceilings and light walls, varying shades of color on the four walls of a room.

"Glass in its various forms is one of the most outstanding of all the elements which have found their way into the modern market. It has become an important medium in the architectural field as well as in the decorative. Perhaps the most interesting development in glass is the vacuum block used in the actual constructions of exterior walls and interior partitions. It allows sunlight to stream through into darkened corners of light to pass from one room to another when it is used as a wall between. We find large sheets of plate mirror now answering both practical as well as decorative purpose.

"Those of us who still cling to many of the traditional forms find a very pleasant and congenial setting in what is called classic modern. One is neither adhering to the strictly traditional nor are you going completely modern. For instance, the walls of the room are painted a pale blue with a classic wallpaper border in white and soft gray-blue, giving the effect of a deep cornice."

A distinct feature of the afternoon was the music presented by Mr. Max Kulke, pianist of note, who entertained the guests with classical and popular selections.

Members present were Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Clyde Blanchard, Mrs. Leon Dennis, Mrs. J. S. Harbuck, Mrs. W. F. Hemler, Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. X. Holt, Mrs. G. L. Morgan, Mrs. Clay Olbon, Mrs. C. J. Phelps, Mrs. H. B. Staples, Mrs. J. L. Whitfield.

Numerous Courtesies Extended During Past Week To Olive Hodge, Bride-Elect

Wedding To Take Place In West Monroe Today

Hostesses Include Mrs. Rhymes, Mrs. White, Miss Hogge; Buffet Supper Is Held At Arant Home

Breakfast at 10 o'clock in the blue room of the Frances hotel was a charming interlude in a week overflowing with pre-nuptial courtesies honoring Miss Olive Hodge, whose marriage to Mr. Walker Glenn, Jr., will take place this morning at the Methodist church in West Monroe. Hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. Ray Rhymes and Mrs. Patrick White.

The table, overlaid with white damask and serviced in silver, was florally adorned with pink snapdragons and white bridal wreath spreading to the table's edge.

Miss Hodge was wearing a smart tailleur of beige with japonica pink accessories.

A luscious four-course breakfast was served to Miss Hodge, Miss Priscilla Hodge, Mrs. W. F. Thurmon, Mrs. Wesley Hodge, Mrs. Dorothy Apgar Hodge, Mrs. Walker Glenn, Sr., and the two hostesses.

Among other courtesies of the week, abounding in beauty of appointment and gracious hospitality was the buffet supper at the Abe Arent home with Dr. and Mrs. D. I. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Selig, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kuhn, Mrs. Jake Block and Mr. Henry Haas assisting in the courtesies.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Haas' hospitality Wednesday night brought a few intimates together in their home with Miss Hodge a charming figure in one of her loveliest trousseau models.

Miss Juanita Hogge's boating party on board the Brown Kraft was still another gracious compliment bestowed upon Miss Hodge and Mr. Glenn.

A buffet supper in the suburban home of Mrs. E. E. Pritchett brought a congenial company of guests together with Miss Hodge and Mr. Glenn the central figures.

White garden flowers, iris and bridal wreath, were employed in the table's floral decor. White tapers in low silver holders burned in the midst of the flowers.

The delectable viands were served from silver platters placed along the board for the convenience of the guests who were seated at small tables, serviced with silver and adorned with silver bowls of spring flowers.

The two hostesses, Mrs. Pritchett and Miss Lois Golson, presented Miss Hodge with pieces of china in her chosen pattern.

The courtesies extended Miss Hodge and Mr. Glenn climaxed in a supper party at the Virginia hotel Saturday night, with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thurmon and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Thompson the genial hosts.

Considerable beauty was reflected in every detail of this gracious compliment.

Poetry Society Holds Meeting

Mrs. H. J. Fernandez was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon when she entertained members of the Monroe Poetry society at her lovely home, Helendale, on the Columbia road.

The luncheon table was centered with a flaring bowl of pink roses and white spirea. A delicious fried chicken luncheon was served the guests.

After the luncheon a business session was held by the members and officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Warren Gregory, president; Mrs. J. R. White, vice-president; Mrs. H. J. Fernandez, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. L. V. Tarver, parliamentarian; reporter and historian, Mrs. L. F. Grigsby.

A motion was also adopted by the club to work toward the compilation of a book to contain either the published or unpublished poems of the club members and that these poems must be favorably criticized by an acknowledged critic of poetry before publication in the book.

Parent-Teacher News

Plans for the state convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association, which will be held in Monroe April 20, 21, 22, are rapidly nearing completion and the three-day program, which includes several speakers of national prominence, has just been released by Miss Essae M. Culver of Baton Rouge, who is chairman of the program committee. The theme of the convention will be "The Family in a Democracy," and Mrs. Paul Blanchard, state president, Baton Rouge, will preside. Miss Myrtle Rodgers, Monroe, will officiate as convention chairman.

Outstanding among the convention speakers will be Dr. Charles Knudsen of George Peabody college, Tennessee, who will deliver an address, "In Defense of Youth," Saturday morning, April 22.

Representing the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will be Mrs. C. H, Turner, national vice-president, Redonda Beach, Calif., and Miss Marion Telford, national safety chairman. Mrs. Turner will address the convention Thursday afternoon, April 20, and Miss Telford who has spoken at Louisiana P.-T. A. conventions on numerous occasions, will talk on "Safety in the Home," Saturday morning, April 22.

Other speakers on the program will be Dr. Pierce Cline, president of Centenary college, Shreveport, whose subject will be "The Future of the Family in a World of Turmoil," Thursday afternoon, April 20. Mr. Larry Fox of the department of sociology, L. P. I., Ruston, will speak on "Protecting and Training Youth," and Dr. Henry O. Dresser, associate professor of health and physical education, L. S. U., Baton Rouge, will deliver an address on "A Democratic Experience for the Family," Thursday evening, April 20.

Dr. Charles Hyneman, director of the school of government and public affairs, L. S. U., will be the guest speaker at the banquet, Friday evening, April 21. His subject will be "Is Democracy Worth Saving?"

Miss Margaret Lesser, editor of junior books, Doubleday Doran, New York City, will also be a prominent speaker.

Georgia Tucker

The March meeting of the Georgia Tucker P.-T. A. was held in the school auditorium, with Mrs. Elmer Richards, president, presiding over the business meeting.

Mrs. Sam Smith, publication chairman, acted as secretary during the absence of Mrs. X. Holt. She also acted as treasurer during Mrs. J. M. Drouett's absence and gave the report.

Mrs. Richards thanked Mayor Benoit and the lighting department for the new lights, that are so much appreciated by the faculty and students in the library and office.

Some of the members nominated a committee to nominate the officers for the ensuing year. They were as follows: Mrs. C. B. Broun, Mrs. J. C. Liner, Mrs. F. C. Bennett, Mrs. W. R. Hammond and Mrs. R. H. Johnson.

Mrs. F. D. Lippman passed the bulletins and Mrs. Richards called special attention to the article on "Monroe Welcomes the Convention," by Miss Myrtle Rodgers, sixth vice-president, chairman of the convention.

A motion was carried that Mrs. Richards appoint the delegates to the state convention and the registration fees would be paid.

Miss Rodgers, principal, was unable to attend the meeting because of illness.

Swartz

The Swartz Parent-Teacher association featured a safety skit, "Ten Little Autos," at their regular March meeting which was held last week. The play was given by girls of the fourth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Roy Pittard. A short playlet was also presented by the sixth and seventh grade girls, entitled "The Pumpkinville Center P.-T. A.," and was directed by Mrs. John Scarf and Mrs. Eddy Matthews.

The playlet, which was both interesting and instructive, carried out a model P.-T. A. meeting, bringing out all the fundamental rules of parliamentary law.

Following the program, the president, Mrs. G. B. Wilson, gave an interesting report of the Fifth district meeting which was held at the Crosley school, West Monroe, March 9.

The report of the nominating committee was read and accepted and the following officers were elected by acclamation: President, Mrs. G. B. Wilson; vice-president, Mrs. H. S. McGlohon; secretary, Miss Opal Davis; treasurer, Mrs. John Scarf.

Miss Eloise Jeansonne was introduced as the winner of the Fifth district winner of the safety poster contest. It was announced that Constance Spatafora was awarded the second place. The winner of third place will be announced later.

After adjournment the mothers of the pupils of the third grade served sandwiches and iced tea to the members.

Clarks

Mrs. Walter Crowell, president, Miss Marie Minard, secretary, and Mrs. G. N. Harrison, program chairman, presided at the meeting of the Clarks P.-T. A. unit, held at the Baptist church. The program was as follows:

Cornet solo, "Finlander," Charles Cooksey and the school band; lullaby, the school band; piano solo, Gloria Anne Bradford; trio, "In My Garden," Mary Ferree, LaVerne Lewis and Sylvia Greene; vocal solo, "Florian's Song," Mary Ferree; and a piano solo, Gloria Anne Weaver.

A fourth grade music lesson was taught by Mrs. Walter Crowell, using the following students as a representative group: Inez Hutson, Rose Mary May, Hazel Dartlove, Mary Francis Kraft, Eddie Glenn Jordan, Eugene Eason, L. J. Cooper, Robert Howell, Murphy Ballard, Paul Young, Murelyn Carter, Calvin Hilliard and O. C. Thompson. Preceding the lesson, Mrs. Crowell gave a talk on "The Four Types of Singing Taught in the Elementary Grades," and selected the "Reading Song," for her demonstration lesson.

The life of Stephen Collins Foster was read by Joy Kees, after which Billy Harrison gave a flute solo, "Sewanee River," by Foster. "The Sharpshooter's Band" was played by the school band.

Mrs. U. N. Bradford presented the highlights of her Indian unit, in an introductory talk. She also explained "The Progress Method of Education As It Operates in the Classroom." Contributory parts were given in the unit by students, and the concluding number was a dramatization of a scene from "Hiawatha." The children participating in the unit presentation were Gloria Anne Bradford, Naomi Harris, Lois McCrea Steeley, Pauline Broussard, Bennie Ray Gandy, Evelyn DePriest, Charles Patton, Jr., Dorcy Allen, Billy Gilbert Pettijohn, Fred Jackson and Carl Fowler.

The school band students presented in the band numbers were Betty Thomas, Jimmie Harrison, Charles Riser, Stuart Richman, E. P. Chapman, Jr., Helen Francis Harris, Margie Bass, Charles Cooksey, Billy Harrison, Hazel Dean Gilbert, Billy McDermott, Mary Beth Lewis and Virginia Eason, with Mrs. G. N. Harrison, accompanist.

Dr. Wilson To Talk To Tallulah Club

The Tallulah Book club is fortunate in securing Dr. Fadra Holmes Wilson of Louisiana State university as speaker for its meeting April 6. She will not only address Tallulah club members but also other club members of surrounding territory and other women interested in this subject, "Family Relationship."

Y. W. C. A. Plans Busy Program

During the week following Easter Sunday, an opportunity will be given Y. W. C. O. board members, committee members and members at large to receive help in understanding and interpreting the entire program of the association. April 10 through April 12, Miss Oolooah Burner, secretary of the national board of the Young Women's Christian association will be with the Monroe association. She will spend her time instructing, counseling, and planning.

Miss Burner is one of two general advisory secretaries for associations other than student in the southern region. This includes all states south of the Mason and Dixon line, from the Atlantic west through Louisiana and Arkansas.

Counseling with leadership groups and individual leaders among younger and adult members, boards of directors, committees, councils, chairmen and staff members is the major part of Miss Burner's advisory work during her visits to local associations. She is especially interested in the religious purpose of the association as it works out through the relationship of various groups in the Y. W. C. A. and in wider community life.

The following schedule has been planned for Miss Burner:

Monday morning a conference with the general secretary will be held. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the worship technique group will meet. The house committee will meet at 4:10.

Monday night there will be a general meeting of representatives of various civic, literary, and religious groups.

Tuesday morning at ten o'clock the board members will meet. A luncheon will be served at noon. The training for board members will continue during the afternoon. Girl Reserve advisers will be at 4 p.m.

Wednesday morning at ten o'clock the nominating committee will meet. In the afternoon the education and public affairs committee will meet.

Miss Burner will leave Wednesday afternoon for El Dorado for a two day stay. She will attend the conference of the southern region April 17 through 20.

Announcement is made by Mrs. G. B. Wilson, state safety chairman of the Louisiana P.-T. A., that safety posters designed by the following school children have been awarded first and second place by the committee of judges: Eloise Jeansonne, Swartz, first place; Constance Spatafora, second place. The third place will be announced later. The posters, which were on display at the Fifth district meeting held in West Monroe March 9, depicted phases of safety, sponsored by the state safety committee. Only school children are eligible for competition in designing the posters.

Awards for the three best publicity scrap books will be announced in the near future. Owing to the fact that several of the judges were unable to be present at the Fifth district meeting, due to illness, the decision regarding the book has been delayed.

Neville Group To Stage Plays

The second in a series of one-act plays will be presented by the Neville Play-Production class, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Neville auditorium.

Miss Dorotha Fluke, director of the plays, says the class has selected outstanding plays for this presentation.

The first play, "Wienies on Wednesday," is the story of what happens when the Foster family entertains Madame Castinelli, a noted singer.

The second play, "The Valiant" an unusually powerful drama which tugs at the heartstrings, is generally considered to be the finest one-act play of its kind, having won over ninety prizes in contests throughout the country.

"Farewell, Cruel World," is a comedy about three young people who decide to commit suicide when all the world seems against them. Circumstances, however, change their minds, and the outcome is hilariously funny.

The "old set" is taking on some very new aspects. First it is the cozy breakfast room in the Foster home, then the cold, bleak walls of a warden's office in a state prison, then it becomes a sophisticated living room of a fourth-story city apartment.

Miss Richardson Will Wed John B. McIntosh

Announcement Of Engagement Made In Home Of Mr. And Mrs. R. Guthrie Jarrell Of Epps

Of paramount social interest was the candlelight tea given last week by Mrs. L. L. Lipp in the home of Mrs. R. Guthrie Jarrell of Epps, to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her cousin, Miss Betty Clark Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamilton Richardson of Los Angeles, to Mr. John Brown McIntosh, son of Judge and Mrs. John R. McIntosh, of Oak Grove.

The Jarrell home was banked with beautiful garden flowers—bridalwreath, pink azaleas, blue and white iris—forming a florescent setting for the hostesses, their guest of honor and friends who called during the receiving hours.

Joanna and Marion Louise Lipp, dressed in crisp Swiss dresses and carrying baskets, handles tied with fly-away bows of pink tulle, presented each guest with a miniature scroll which disclosed the announcement. Mrs. Lipp, the honoree, Miss Richardson and Mrs. J. R. McIntosh were receiving. In the dining room the bridal motif was carried out with white and pink. The bride's table, which was overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a miniature bride and groom standing under an arch of English ivy and white sweet peas; crystal candelabra, supporting white tapers graced the four corners.

Pouring were Mrs. M. H. O'Connell and Mrs. D. M. McIntosh, and assisting with the courtesies in the dining room were Mrs. W. L. Gill of Darnell, Mrs. Marion T. Lipp, Baton Rouge, Misses Helen Long, Eleanor Long, Edna Carol McIntosh, Gloria Koerner and Naomi Pollard.

Indvidual wedding cakes inscribed with the letters B and J, and ices frozen in the form of bride's slippers were served during the afternoon. Wedding ring mints decorated with valley lilies and other confections were also served.

The approaching marriage of Miss Richardson and Mr. McIntosh is of much interest to a host of friends and relatives throughout the south.

Miss Richardson is a graduate of San Marino Hall of Pasadena, Calif., and attended the University of Washington, at Seattle.

She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and since college days has been active in the social life of Los Angeles, having served as president of Debutante Service league and is now on the board of directors of Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts club.

The wedding will be solemnized on Friday, April 14, at 5 o'clock, in the Oak Grove Methodist Episcopal church.

Mrs. A. R. Williams of Los Angeles will serve the bride as matron of honor, Miss Valerie McIntosh, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, and Joanna and Marion Louise Lipp, as flower girls.

Mr. McIntosh has chosen his brother, Mr. David McIntosh, as best man.

Mr. McIntosh is the oldest son of Judge and Mrs. McIntosh. He attended Centenary college and Tulane university and is affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon.

The young couple will reside at Oak Grove, where Mr. McIntosh is a prominent young planter.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and the bride-elect's cousin, Mrs. Audley R. Williams, of Los Angeles, will arrive next week to attend the wedding.

LOVELY APRIL BRIDE

Miss Mary Virginia Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Burton Evans of Winnsboro, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. John Jacob Kersh of Reading, Penn., is formally announced today.

Current Literature Club Holds Meeting

The gracious hospitality extended by Mrs. John Best in her attractive home was enjoyed by the members of the Current Literature Book club. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. G. D. Holland. Reports were submitted by the treasurer, membership chairman and program chairman.

Mrs. J. C. Kramer, Jr., gave a splendid review on "Young Doctor Galahad," by Elizabeth Seifert. She said in part:

"The author, Mrs. Elizabeth Seifert Gasparatti, wife of the chief engineer of the City Ice and Fuel company of Moberly, Mo., got an idea for a novel. Mornings after her four children were off to school she hustled through the house work, wrote until a luncheon deadline. Afternoons she could sometimes squeeze in a couple of hours more. Odd moments writing gave her prose an odd moment style. She knows hospitals and doctors. Before her marriage she worked in St. Louis hospitals, and she has definite ideas about the social role of the medical profession.

"The young Canadian physician, Tony McNeill, has accepted Dr. Gordon's offer of a job in his Westriver hospital, and at once began to learn the facts of life in a place like this Missouri town of Darcet. Acting as Dr. Gordon's assistant, Tony comes in for a great deal of hard work and a wide variety of surgical cases as well as the usual hospital routine."

Members attending were Mesdames R. L. Conway, Jr., G. W. Guerriero, F. T. Harkness, G. D. Holland, Mike John, Jr., J. E. Kersh, J. C. Kramer, Jr., Louis Peters, E. R. Whitaker, William Whitfield, Raymond John, R. G. Seiler and Warren Gregory.

Junior Gavel Club Meets

The Junior Gavel club held a very interesting meeting in the home of Mrs. John Naylor on Pargoud drive Thursday afternoon. Throughout the reception suite were colorful spring flowers in graceful arrangements.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. H. L. Deloney, who welcomed to the club two new members, Mrs. Gordon Elliott and Mrs. Oliver Lowery.

Roll call and minutes were read by Mrs. C. O. Boyce, in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. D. L. Bornman, Jr. The president urged the members to attend the Federated Women's clubs Fifth district meeting to be held in Oak Grove, April 15, starting at 9:30 in the morning.

Mrs. H. V. Collins, contact chairman for the Welcome Branch club, announced that Mrs. Fagan J. Cox, Fifth district director of the women's field army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, is planning a public program in this city, April 13, in behalf of warfare on cancer, and invited all members to be present.

The subject for study, practical English and effective speech, was ably presented by Mrs. Ray Rhymes and was followed by an open discussion.

"Spotlight on the News" was the title of Mrs. John Richardson's interesting talk, which included the most outstanding current topics of the past weeks and a prophesy of coming events.

During the social hour delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Olan Black, Mrs. H. L. Deloney, Mrs. L. A. Duffee, Mrs. G. V. McCaskill, Mrs. Ray Rhymes, Mrs. Blair Bartleson, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. C. O. Boyce, Mrs. Gordon Elliott, Mrs. Oliver Lowery and Mrs. H. V. Collins, contact chairman for Welcome Branch.

Local Women Attend Convention

The state convention of the Woman's Benefit association was held in New Orleans March 24, at Hotel Monteleone. Twenty-five members of the local W. B. A. Review attended as follows: Mrs. Myrtle Stubbs, Mrs. Vivian Kelly, Mrs. Daisy Nord, Mrs. Bill Cole, Mrs. Dorothy Fuller, Mrs. Bertha Wallace, Mrs. Hattie Thompson, Mrs. Ruby Gideons, Mrs. Lorainne Matthews, Mrs. Elaine Hislop, Mrs. Josie Henderson, Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, Mrs. Mildred Lucky, Mrs. Verna LaMonica, Mrs. Mildred Wimbish, Mrs. Bernice Goss, Mrs. Ethel Smith, Etta Zuline Smith, Marjorie Roberts, Mrs. Estelle Brantley, Mrs. Alma Boyette, Mrs. Juanita Abboud, Mrs. Verlie Allbright, Mrs. Beulah Baskin, Mrs. Julia Tanner.

Mrs. Bina West Miller, Port Huron, Mich., founder and supreme president of the Woman's Benefit association, was the guest of honor. Mrs. Pearl H. Croy of Birmingham, Ala., supreme vice-president and field director in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida, presided at the sessions. Mrs. Lucille M. Sharp and Mrs. Fay Argulles, district deputies of the association, assisted Mrs. Croy.

Monroe officers and guard team in full regalia took part in the opening ceremonies, with color bearers escorting the distinguished visitors.

Mrs. Josie Henderson, present financial secretary of the local review, was elected supreme representative of the state of Louisiana to the national convention which will be held in New York City on July 17.

A banquet was held in the Hotel Monteleone which was followed by a dance. A sight-seeing trip of the city was also provided for the guests on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reid and two children, Rosanne and Charles, Jr., and their guests, Mrs. William Swartz and son, Kent, of Houston, Tex., motored to Natchez on Saturday to attend the garden pilgrimage.

The regular meeting of W. B. A. Review No. 11, was held in the club rooms at the K. of P. hall Tuesday night with 36 members present.

The members attending the state convention in New Orleans gave their reports of the meetings and the highlights of the convention.

Mrs. Daisy Nord was selected as press correspondent. Plans were outlined for the next meeting which will be held April 11. This will be a social meeting, and all members are especially invited.

Mr. Edward Seymour and Mr. Wharton Brown are attending a national convention of insurance men at Hollywood Beach, Calif.

The Neville senior class play has been selected, a three-act comedy, "The Family Upstairs." Miss Dorotha Fluke, director, announces tryouts will begin Friday.

Interest of friends is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Lettie Bell Murphy and Mr. Marquett Emory at the home of Rev. C. K. Smith, with Rev. Smith officiating. The bride wore a lovely suez rose lace model with navy blue accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses. Mr. and Mrs. Emory are now at home to their friends in Monroe.

Rubinoff Concert Sponsored By Junior Charity League Outstanding Success

Auditorium Packed With Music Lovers

Celebrated Artist And Two Piano Accompanists Are Given Great Ovation

The Junior Charity leaguers have a smart, new feather in their cap. Their presentation of the celebrated violinist, Rubinoff, and his superb piano accompanists, Fray and Braggiotti, at the Neville auditorium Friday night was indeed a triumph and added one more bead to their rosary of achievements.

The generous proportions of the auditorium were filled to capacity with musical connoisseurs and music lovers who gave the artist all of the applause of which they were capable.

Sensing the depth of feeling prompting the lusty applause, Rubinoff expressed his appreciation in an impromptu talk. He told of his early youth in Russia. His genius, although ill-nourished and incompletely expressed, was discerned by the great American composer, Victor Herbert, who brought him to America. One of the most beautiful numbers on the evening's program, "Sweet Mystery of Life," was dedicated to the artist's benefactor, Victor Herbert.

Rubinoff came to America in his youth and has become Americanized yet he speaks in music of his native Russia—a sort of emotional force that one always associates with Russian artists.

Technical mastery is one of the characteristics of Rubinoff's playing. Combined with a dramatic instinct, he sways his audience with his artistry. A technical achievement was "Danse Russe," one of his compositions. His fingers flying with lightning rapidity played as important a part as the bow on the violin.

Rubinoff was at his best, perhaps, in "Dance of the Russian Peasant." Gay and lilting the music poured forth, growing louder until sonorous accents and tones were obtained. Rubinoff's facial expression accented his playing. His heavy brows were raised and lowered with the poignancy and the depth of his music. His face lit up during the lighter strains and grew serious when the heavier passages required the utmost skill.

Believing that swing music can be played to advantage on the violin, Rubinoff treated his audience with his version of American swing. There were many in the audience who were disappointed that even a small portion of the time was taken up with "jazz" but a great number were highly pleased as manifested in the ringing applause.

It was one of the happiest moments of the evening when Rubinoff drew the bow of his violin across the violin for the ever beautiful "Souvenir." The player delved deeper and deeper toward truth of melody and harmonic investiture in this number. He was called back again and again by the enraptured audience.

"Mon Reve d'Amour" was poignantly beautiful. It could well be classified as food for the soul, so soothing, so lyrical and so emotionally rendered was this particular number.

The duo-pianists, Fray and Braggiotti, shared plaudits with Rubinoff. The audience was thrilled with their performance and gave vent to their feelings in thunderous applause.

Mr. Braggiotti, responding to a curtain call, expressed a desire for such an audience when he and his partner appear in concert at the fair in New York City. He said such a responsive audience inspired him and he felt like giving them the very best of which he was capable.

Members of the Junior Charity league, headed by their president, Mrs. DeWitt Milam, were out en masse, in evening attire. They stood in the foyer of the auditorium and were assisted in ushering by members of the Delta Beta Sigma sorority, a lovely coterie of girls in evening gowns.

Mrs. Harvey Rester of Baton Rouge, formerly of this city, was privileged to greet old friends in the home of Mrs. Clifford Johnson Wednesday afternoon when she entertained with an informal conversational hour.

A variety of delicious confections were served with iced drinks during the afternoon.

Mr. J. Hunter Thatcher has returned from a trip to Cuba on board the steamer Rotterdam. During his absence Mrs. Thatcher visited friends in New Orleans.

Miss Mamie McNeil was forced to cancel her reservation on board the Rotterdam bound for Havana, on Sunday, due to an attack of influenza.

Mrs. Roumain Peters and two sons, John and Benny, of Alexandria are the guests this week of Mrs. Peters' mother, Mrs. John Potts.

Claiming the interest of friends today is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Cleola Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hudson, and Mr. Darwin McCormick, of West Monroe, Tuesday, March 21.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are now at home to their friends at their plantation home near Cheniere.

Mrs. McCormick was a member of the Ouachita Parish High school graduating class of 1935.

The following article appearing in the Hollywood Herald concerning Mrs. Janette Powell, Mrs. Alice Nelson Briggs and their brother, Mr. William Nelson, will be of interest to friends in this city:

"Mrs. Charles L. Smith of Whitley Heights, and her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gilpin of Toluca Lake, are helping to make interesting the visit here of three southerners, William Nelson and his sisters, Mrs. Janette Nelson Powell and Mrs. Alice Nelson Briggs, all from Monroe, La.

"The travelers are making the Hayvenhurst their home for a month or two, while they tour southern California's beauty spots.

"Mrs. Smith saw Mrs. Briggs, her sister-in-law, for the first time in 23 years when she went to Louisiana last year, and at that time she persuaded her to interrupt her series of annual trips to Florida with a journey to California.

"Mrs. Robert Hoyt gave a dinner party Saturday night for the visitors and followed it with an informal Sunday night supper party. Others who are entertaining the Louisianians are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. De Pattie.

"The visitors will spend this weekend at Palm Springs."

Mrs. O. D. Brasher of Alexandria is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wadell of West Monroe.

Mrs. W. K. Hunt and daughter Jeanne spent several days last week with relatives in New Iberia.

Mrs. Earl Nance left last week for Auburn, Miss., where she will enjoy a month's visit with her parents. She was accompanied to Auburn by Mr. Nance, who returned home on Thursday.

Mrs. Gordon Cummings and her house guest, Miss Mable Moore of Brooklyn, N. Y., motored over to Natchez on Tuesday for the Garden Pilgrimage.

Miss Moore's visit in Monroe as the guest of Mrs. Cummings, will be marked by several charming courtesies of a social nature.

Mrs. B. Beasley was summoned to Orange, Tex., last week by the serious illness of her brother.

Dr. and Mrs. John Bostick of Gilbert have named the daughter who arrived in their home March 29, Alice Wilcox, for her maternal and paternal grandmothers.

Mrs. M. E. Frenkel and daughter, Mrs. Claud Crawford, of New York City, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sig Marx.

Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Trousdale of New Orleans are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Trousdale.

EASTER IS TRAVEL SEASON FOR BABY CHICKS

Tiny chicks like these, snapped with Lucy Ann Niles, 4, at Buffalo, N. Y., are filling the mails nowadays. Just possibly, Easter has something to do with it. But the postoffice people, who handle millions of chicks every year, sometimes in carload lots, don't think so—they say the mild weather this time of year makes it a good shipping time. Commercial hatcheries produce an estimated 650,000,000 a year; about half of these are shipped out, the rest used locally. Relatively few are sold as Easter pets—but they certainly make cute Easter pictures.

Visitors Continue To Claim Interest

Mrs. Haydn Cutler Already Here; Several Others Expected To Arrive During Week

Guests and expected guests continue to add interest, gaiety and the spice of expectancy to party plans of Monroe's hostesses.

Always a welcome addition to the younger married set is Mrs. Haydn Cutler, who arrived from Rochester with her two children to spend the Easter season at Bethaven with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biedenharn. She was accompanied to Monroe by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Allen of Topeka, who was included in the many courtesies extended by hostesses last week.

Guests expected to arrive in the city this week are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chumney of Mexico City, who are now visiting relatives in San Antonio. They will visit Mrs. Chumney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Stubbs. Mrs. Chumney is remembered here, where she was a popular member of the younger set, as Miss India Stubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Fitzpatrick, who have made their home in Indianapolis ever since their marriage, will make their home in Memphis in the future and before they become established in their new home will visit Mrs. Fitzpatrick's mother, Mrs. Percy Sandel. Mrs. Fitzpatrick is another favorite whose visit will inspire a flurry of social activities.

The presence in the city of Mrs. E. F. Hammann of Dallas is the occasion for considerable entertaining of an informal nature.

Mrs. Joseph Ramey and Mrs. Harry Thain introduced Mrs. Hammann and Mrs. D. D. Dudley, who recently took up residence in this city, to 70 or more guests during the coffee hour last Thursday morning. The reception suite was fragrant with the perfume of many flowers, arranged with exceeding artistry in the background.

Conversation was enjoyed over the coffee cups in the dining room, where the lace-covered table was presided over by Mrs. Harold Woods, Mrs. Hugh Lennon, Mrs. Preston Fergus and Mrs. George Phebus.

The pastel shades were used exclusively in the flowers arranged charmingly in an oblong urn for the central decor.

A fascinating array of open-faced sandwiches and sweet confections were passed among the guests by Mrs. John Whitfield, Mrs. F. E. McVay, Mrs. Louis Peters and Mrs. Jack Masur.

The hostesses were also assisted by their mother, Mrs. H. M. Branch.

Compliments planned for Mrs. Hammann during her visit in the city include a bridge with Mrs. George Phebus and Mrs. B. L. Risher, hostesses, and a dinner party, with Mrs. D. D. Dudley, hostess. Mrs. Jack Masur named Mrs. Hamman guest of honor when she entertained her luncheon-bridge club. Mrs. W. J. Veazey's compliment was a morning bridge on Saturday. A coffee hour Monday morning with Mrs. J. Prendergast, hostess, will pave the way for other activities during the week.

Jonesboro

The W. M. S. of the Methodist church held a business meeting at the church with Mrs. Paul Stinson presiding. Mrs. Fred Callaway gave the devotional from the first chapter of Joshua, using as her theme, "Courage" Reports from the offficers were given and also the circle leaders made their monthly reports.

After the business session an executive meeting was held and the report for the quarter were made and the work for the next quarter was planned.

Those present were Mrs W. S. McDonald, Mrs. Fred Callaway, Mrs J. F. Sneed, Mrs. J. E. Cox, Mrs. J. J. Breihn, Mrs. Robert Jeffress, Mrs. W. W. Kavanaugh, Mrs. T. L. Walker, Mrs. T. D. Callaway, Mrs. J. C. Barnes, Mrs. W. W. McDonald, Mrs. A. A. Merideth, Mrs. Paul Stinson, Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Mrs. Lynn Hall and Mrs. J. A. Thurman.

The Ruth Brown circle of the Methodist W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. W. W. McDonald for a mission study. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. J. J. Briehn.

Mrs. George, the teacher, taught the fourth and fifth chapters of "The Church Takes Root in India," using in this connection the third chapter from "Moving Millions," which was given by Mrs. E. L. Thompson. All present took part in the discussion. Mrs. George gave the devotional and closing prayer.

A salad course was enjoyed by Mesdames A. D. George, J. J. Briehn, R. A. Crowson, Neil Thomas, V. L. Brumfield, E. L. Thompson, and the hostess, Mrs. McDonald.

The Ella K. Hooper circle of the Methodist Episcopal Missionary auxiliary met in two sessions in the past week to complete the study in India.

The first session was held in the home of Mrs. Leon Mitchell, with Mrs. W. S. McDonald, mission teacher, as leader. Those present were Mrs. W. T. Holloway, Mrs. M. M. Hearne, Mrs. H. W. Ayres, Mrs. E. Stewart, Mrs. J. F. Sneed, Mrs. W. S. McDonald and Mrs. A. Meredith.

The second session was held in the home of Mrs. A. Meredith. Mrs. McDonald presented the last two chapters and conducted a most interesting discussion on the evangelistic and church work in India. A devotional was given from E. Stanley Jones' "Christ of the Indian Road." There were seven members present.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor
Dale Cobb, Choir Director

The Sunday school begins today to study a new character from the Bible lesson. We especially are anxious to have all our people present and get started with the first lesson, beginning at 9:45 a.m. Those who study the Bible think there was never a time when we need to have this knowledge so much as now. Come and study with us.

The Baptist Training union will begin at 6:30 p.m. Be on time and bring your friends, and let us make much of the fine lesson, "How Christians Should Live." The new quarter's study will be a great asset to our church if we will be gleaning from this harvest field.

The pastor and church were greatly encouraged last Lord's day by the coming of five fine people for church membership, one from the young people's department and four from the adult department. There are many Baptists out of service in this city who ought to be in the church and at work. The enemy is abroad in the land and the Lord is looking to the saved to share this Gospel with those who know it not.

The pastor's subject for the morning hour of worship is: "Some Things Which Caught the Eye of Jesus" and for the evening: "God's Work Shop." We cordially invite all our friends to worship with us in all these services. "Let's not forsake our own assembling together (for worship) as the custom of some is, but exhorting (encouraging) and so much the more as you see the day drawing nigh (the coming of Christ)." (Hebrews 10:25.)

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

St. John And Grammont Streets
L. T. Hastings, Pastor
D. C. Black, Pastor's Associate

The regular services will be held Sunday, beginning with Sunday school at 9:45. The pastor will occupy the pulpit both hours. The choir under the direction of Mr. Black with Mrs. B. D. Allbritton at the piano will bring special music. The services will be broadcast over KMLB. Although many are still shut in on account of the flu, still we are looking for large crowds. Visitors and strangers are always welcome. The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the close of the evening service. The Baptist Training union and the Baptist Brotherhood will welcome you to their services at 6:15. In these days of mental strain and soul anxiety, people want to know the "thus saith the Lord." You need the pastor's messages Sunday. Unless you belong elsewhere, we need you and you need us.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

South Second And Apple
J. P. Lowrey, Minister

Bible study 9:45 a.m. Preaching 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. This is the beginning of a series of meetings which will continue until April 14. Evangelist V. E. Howard, of Conway, Ark., will do the preaching.

The Ladies' Bible class will meet on Tuesday at 3 p.m.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Corner St. John And Oak
R. T. Watson, Minister
Hodge Mason, Church School Superintendent
Mrs. P. J. Newman, Choir Director

Church school at 9:45 a.m.
Worship service at 10:50 a.m.
Communion of the Lord's Supper.
Special music.
Sermon subject, "The King of Mankind."
Pastor's class meeting at 6:30 p.m.
Young people's C. E. meeting at 6:30 p.m.
Intermediate C. E. meeting at 7 p.m.
Evening service at 7:30 p.m.

This will be the first service in our pre-Easter evangelistic campaign. W. B. Boozman, of Alexandria, will be with us to lead the song service. There will be a service each evening except Saturday. Come promptly at 7:30, and the service will close promptly at 8:30. Mr. Boozman and the choir will furnish special music each night. The minister will deliver the sermons. Some of the sermons will be "Who Killed Jesus?" "Lord, Is It I?" "The Person Who Ought Not Be a Christian." Bring your friends, and come every night. On Thursday evening, after the sermon, the annual candlelight communion service will be conducted. Everyone is most cordially invited.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

Auburn Avenue Avenue And North Second Street

"Unreality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 2, 1939.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error." (I John 4).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The confidence inspired by science lies in the fact that truth is real and error is unreal. Error is a coward before truth. Divine science insists that time will prove all this." (p. 368).

GRACE CHURCH

Fourth And Glenmar Sts.
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for this Sunday next before Easter, commonly called Palm Sunday, are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. and the church school will convene at 9:30 a.m., while a choral Eucharist, with procession of Palm and sermon by the rector will be the service at 10:45 a.m. Evensong and address at 7:30 p.m. The rector will journey to St. David's, Rayville, and hold service at 4 p.m.

We are now come almost to our journey's end. Today we are at the gate of the Holy City and the Passover is nigh. From all directions the Jews have been coming up to Jerusalem to keep the feast, and there is excited talk about the Prophet of Nazareth, for the news of the raising of Lazarus from the dead has gotten about. Jesus, knowing that His hour has come, prepares to present Himself to the people in royal dignity as the Messiah, but He waited until after the Sabbath. It was on the first day of the week in which He suffered that our Lord entered the Holy City. The multitude, by a divine influence, greeted His approach with hosannas and the waving of palm branches. This beautiful event, viewed with the scenes in connection with that which immediately followed—the hosanna of the Sunday contrasted with the away with Him of Friday—has taken deep and mysterious hold upon the hearts and the imaginations of men, and its associations still brighten with melancholy light the somber solemnities of the week before us.

The public is invited to Palm Sunday services, and to all other services in Grace church. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate.—The Rector.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH

Harrison and D'Arbonne Sts.
Sherrouse Addition
Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

Sunday school meets at 9:30 a.m. Bible class at 10 a.m. Church service at 10:45 a.m. Will you worship the Lord in His house on this Palm Sunday?

The Lord's supper will be celebrated Easter Sunday.

Choir rehearsal Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST

J. M. Alford, Pastor

We earnestly request all the members and all our friends, who will do so, to meet with us at the church today at 11:00 a.m. for the communion of the Lord's Supper. This is observed once each month—the first Sunday. However "unworthy" you may feel you can come and partake in a "worthy" manner. The pastor will bring a message on: "Why Was It Necessary for Christ to Suffer and Die for Sinners." The Sunday school will open at the usual hour—9:45—we hope with all the teachers and officers in their place on time. We request all the children, who are members of the church, to remain for the service and participate in this most precious service. The Epworth leagues will meet at 6:45 p.m. At the evening service the pastor will deliver a message on some evangelistic subject. The Woman's Missionary society will meet at the church Tuesday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, for the regular monthly business session. Mrs. C. L. Taylor, the president, will be in charge. There will be special songs, as well as inspirational congregational singing, and good music at all services today. We cordially invite all to come and worship with us.

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH

Stone Avenue And South Third Street
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

In the long ago, in order to evade the fact of personal responsibility, a brother, in answer to the divine question, asked, "Am I my brother's keeper?" The teachings of Holy Writ reveal unmistakably that we are "our brother's keeper" insofar as our example and influence is concerned. What will the harvest of my life's influence and example of this day be? May we each ask ourselves this question, and endeavor to answer it in the light of eternity. Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p.m. Evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m. Circle meetings Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Song service Tuesday evening at 7:30. Mid-week prayer service Thursday evening at 7:30. At this service we will begin the study of Revelation, using the first chapter for the evening lesson. We invite you to begin with us.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH

'The Church With The Lighted Steeple'
Walter C. Scott, Minister

Palm Sunday! This day of the triumphant entry at the beginning of Holy Week calls to mind the cheering multitudes who hailed Jesus as a conquering king. May we today sing, "Hosanna to the Son of David. Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." Jesus cannot go through the world on a triumphant march unless we go before Him and make a path for Him. Human hands and hearts may open the way along which the Spirit of Christ gets into human souls and into the world.

"What the Church Stands For" is the sermon theme for the 11 o'clock service at which time a large class of children and young people will be received into the church. There will be no communion service today, but on Thursday evening at 7:30 and also on Friday morning at 9:30, the sacrament will be administered. You are cordially invited to attend these services. A retreat and devotional service on Good Friday from 12 to 3 will be an important occasion for members of the Woman's Missionary society and any others who desire to attend. On Friday evening, from 7:30 to 9, there will be a special devotional program, "The Christ of Calvary." You are welcome to all of these services. The doors of our church are open at all times for any who desire to worship here.

The Woman's Missionary society will meet at the church Tuesday at 3 p.m. for the business meeting. The Parker Memorial class will have the social and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Clark Ransom Wednesday evening at 7:30.

On Easter Sunday, at the 11 o'clock service a class of adults will be received into the church. At 4 o'clock of that day there will be a special service for the baptism of infants and small children. At the evening hour on Easter day the choir will present an Easter cantata, "Rabboni." The public is invited to all services.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

West Monroe
C. Karlos Smith, Pastor-Evangelist

This is the ideal time to attend church and Sunday school. It is the dawn of spring and then it is that holy time when we are thinking of the tragedy of the trial and crucifixion of Christ, the glorious resurrection and what it should mean to all humanity.

We invite you to be present at our church for Sunday school and church services. The Sunday school meets at 9:45 a.m., with Mr. R. M. McClendon as our efficient superintendent waiting to greet you, and to direct you to a class for every member of the family. Preaching services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The subjects for the morning and evening will be "The Arrest and Trial" and "The Crucifixion." Every member and friend of the Christian church should hear these messages.

The choir will be under the direction of Mr. G. C. Williams, assisted by Miss Maida McClendon and a fine choir.

Let us attend every service even if it does look like rain. The church does not leak and you will be well protected from the weather.

"The church with a welcome."

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Thomas Avenue And Richmond Street
G. M. And Mrs. Akin, Pastors

Sunday school will open at 9:45, S. P. Quigley, superintendent. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. Evening evangelistic service 7:30.

Young people's meetings at 6:30 under the direction of their respective leaders.

Monthly business meeting of the church Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Woman's Missionary society will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, 4505 Lee avenue. This will be the business meeting of the month and all women are urged to be present.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening 7:30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Grammont At Catalpa Street
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

The communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed this Sabbath morning. The members of the congregation are urged to attend. Our thoughts will be turned to this theme: "Love to the End."

Sunday evening we are thinking about the integration of personality, based upon the words of Jesus, Mark 12:28-30. Is it possible for us to unify the parts of our nature? If so, about what or whom can this be effected?

The Sabbath school attendance is good. Will you attend today? Will you study with us the book and discover its meaning for us now?

The pastor will lead a communicants' class. The first meeting of the class will be held Monday afternoon, April 3, from 4 to 4:30 p.m. If you are thinking about uniting with the church, we believe it will be to your profit to attend. Fathers and mothers are urged to encourage their own sons and daughters to enroll. Our Redeemer expects His people to unite with His church.

The session will meet Easter morning, April 9, to receive people into the church. The hour is 9:30; the place, the primary room.

With your prayers and interest, this will prove to be one of the high points in the history of our local congregation. The Lord is counting on you.

SALVATION ARMY

Adjutant Glen Washburn

Sunday school 9:45 a.m. Holiness meeting 11 a.m. Sunday night 7:30 p.m. Revival services will continue during the next week, ending Easter Sunday.

Evangelist Roy Lewis will speak Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service on "Consider Him." Sunday night the subject will be "The Triumphant Entry."

The interest has been good at these meetings and those who have not attended are missing some real old time gospel messages.

Oak Grove

Circle No. 2 of the Methodist Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Clayton Gunter for a Bible lesson taught by Mrs. J. R. McIntosh from the books of Samuel and Kings.

The meeting was presided over by the leader, Mrs. J. T. Williams, and opened with a piano selection by Miss Jerry Gunter, followed by the 24th chapter of Second Kings, given by Mrs. J. J. Joyce, Jr.

A short business session was held and reports were given, followed by the lesson taught by Mrs. McIntosh. Miss Gunter gave another piano selection, and dismissal was made by Mrs. Williams.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. S. Pollard, Misses Nina Love Gunter, Jerry Gunter and Ollie Robinson, served a plate lunch and ice tea. Mesdames Spencer Farmer, J. J. Joyce, Jr., J. R. McIntosh, C. H. Neely, J. S. Pollard, J. T. Williams, J. L. McKenzie Harriet Buchanan, D. M. Copeland and one guest, Mrs. A. Dozier.

The executive committee of the Methodist Missionary society met at the home of the president, Mrs. Jesse James, and discussed reports for the first quarter. Those in attendance were Mesdames Mae E. Kelly, W. A. Ross, B. H. Bolding, O. C. Roberts, C. H. Neely, D. M. Copeland and Jesse James.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC

CHAPTER XIX

John Harker looked up from papers on his desk. He looked up with interest, but not the slightest sign of recognition. He got to his feet.

"How do you do," he said politely.

Susie inclined her head, enjoying the situation. It was drama and Susie had never experienced the heady sensation of holding the center of the stage.

"How do you do, Mr. Harker," she said.

He looked at bit confused. There was something familiar about her voice.

"May I do something for you?" He wore the flattering expression of a man who looks once, then quickly again.

"You have done something for me," Susie said softly, graciously. "So much that I can never thank you."

"Oh," he was enlightened now. "You have been following our Susie rules for beauty. May I say that you have been vastly successful?"

Susie laughed. The little play had gone far enough. "Yes," she said, "I have been following the Susie rules and I'm glad you are satisfied because—well, you see—I'm Susie."

There was an instant of stunned silence, then he shouted, "No," and again, "No."

"Yes, yes," Susie laughed. It was the proudest moment of her life.

Harker flung open the office door. "Hear—hear—," he shouted. And added, in a stentorian voice, "Presenting Suzanne. Come in—all of you."

Susie held court until the store closed. Mr. Harker complimented each and every member of his staff who had taken a part in the transformation. Susie thought he went out of his way to shake Jeff's hand, to congratulate him on the splendid publicity.

She heard Jeff say, "How about having her on parade, sort of as hostess, in the different departments? Wearing the famous Princess makeup, Avalon shoes, knitted frocks by Anslow and so forth. Advertising her appearance here and there through the store on different days. I think it would bring out a crowd."

She saw Mr. Harker nod, heard him say, "Great idea, Jeff—swell."

Jeff took Susie to dinner that night. From the menu she chose wisely and not too much. In fact she scarcely felt the need of food. She was wrapped in the glory of achievement and success. Men at adjoining tables paid her the tribute of second and third glances, women looked frowningly at her clothes, smoothing their own garments, taking compacts from their purses to look into tiny mirrors with dissatisfaction. Quite humanly Susie reveled in the sensation she created.

Over a dessert of green gage ice without cake Jeff inquired, "Well, Susie, where do you go from here?"

She looked up, faintly startled by the question. Not once had she looked beyond the day when she was to burst her cocoon.

"I don't know," she faltered. "Mr. Harker wants me through the holidays, Miss Jones, in the dresses, suggested that I'd make a good model—."

"Not thinking of leaving Chicago, are you?" Jeff asked. For some vague reason, unknown to himself, Jeff did not want Susie to leave the city. "I'd be lonely as the dickens if you went away."

"Oh, I won't go away," she said quickly. The very thought of leaving Chicago made her feel lost, helpless. Could it be that Jeff lived in Chicago? The thought did not occur to her.

"You see I'm going to be a stray dog one of these days," he told her.

"I don't understand, Jeff."

"Edna is wearing an emerald, completely smothered in diamonds. The chief gave it to her." There was a queer tightness about his mouth as he attempted to appear unconcerned.

"How wonderful," Susie breathed.

"Yes—wonderful. I want Edna to be happy, cared for, but I don't know how I'm going to get along without her." Jeff was trying to laugh.

"I know, Jeff—that's bad," she went on sympathetically. Then she brightened. "But you'll have a home of your own one of these days—a wife and—." She stopped, not quite pleased with the thought.

"Ha," Jeff snorted. "I'm not the marrying kind. Be scared to death of a wife." But after a moment, when she said nothing he continued, "Do you know something, Susie? I'm absolutely in the dark concerning this thing called love. There must be such a thing or the poets and scenario writers wouldn't spend so much time building it up, but it leaves me cold."

Susie still said nothing, raised and lowered her eyes so distractingly that Jeff lost the thread of conversation for a moment.

Then Jeff resumed. "Edna's got it and I've noticed the change. She gets all rosy when the Chief telephones, spends hours dressing up for him, moons over his flowers and gifts—I don't know what it's all about."

Quite unconcerned Susie remarked, "Love is a terrible thing, Jeff."

"Then why does everyone do it?"

"It's something you can't help."

"Oh, rats—say—what do you know about it?"

"I know everything about it."

Jeff was plainly disturbed. He glanced about the thinning room, puzzled. "Where is he? Do I know him? For gosh sakes, Susie, why didn't you ever tell me?"

"I've never told anyone."

Jeff's distress was more and more obvious. He looked positively miserable.

"Does he love you?"

"Not yet." Dreamy-eyed, she twisted the stem of her goblet.

* * *

"Look here," Jeff said irritably, "give me the low-down, will you? I'm responsible for you. I can't have you running around loose like this."

"What do you mean, loose like this?"

"Well, loving some guy, thinking about him, getting all starry-eyed and silly." Jeff hadn't the remotest idea what ailed him. He was confused, he was baffled.

"There isn't much to tell," Susie began, the silly stars way back in her eyes. "Once upon a time I fell in love with a boy, he's a man now. Naturally he didn't know it. To him I was only the dumb-bell who passed out waffles over a counter. But he was nice to me, Jeff—so very nice." Her voice trailed away on a soft thrill.

"And you still love him." Jeff seemed to be having difficulty crediting the news.

"Oh, yes. It was because of him that I had to be beautiful, it was for him that I've starved and worked and struggled to this day. Do you think he'll like me, Jeff?" she added with sudden wistfulness.

"When're you going to see him?" Jeff asked gruffly.

"I don't know—but I'll see him—if I have to cross the continent to find him." She spread her hands in a pretty, expressive gesture. "That's what it's all been about, don't you see?"

"Yeah—I see." Jeff was silent during the evening. A queer despondency held him speechless. In vain he endeavored to break through it, finally deciding that he must be suffering a letdown after the feverish advertising campaign.

His abstraction troubled Susie not at all. Jeff must feel terribly about his mother. She was sweet and understanding and friendly. Each time she caught a glimpse of herself in a mirror or plate glass window she completely forgot Jeff's difficulties. Intoxicated with her own surprising charms, she went to bed with a feeling of absolute contentment. From the unhappy past she carried only one memory. Dick Tremaine, the beautiful white knight of her dreams.

Meeting Is Held By Wisner Women's Club

Mrs. Segrest Named President; Reviews Given By Mrs. Mitchell And Miss Wilson

The Woman's club of Wisner met in the home of Mrs. P. Archibald, with Mrs. W. S. Knotts, Mrs. E. B. Knotts and Mrs. W. C. Knotts as cohostesses.

The "Awakening of Spring" was reflected in the background of flowers, which suggested on this occasion the specific subject, "Flowers."

The meeting was opened with the singing of "Louisiana," accompanied by Mrs. Tom Gilbert at the piano.

During the business hour, presided over by the president, Mrs. T. L. Owen, the officers for the coming year, selected by the nominating committee, were announced. They were as follows: President, Mrs. R. L. Segrest; vice-president and chairman of the year book, Mrs. T. L. Grace; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. S. Mecom; reporter and chairman of the press, Miss Georgia Knotts.

"The South's Pageantry of Flowers" was presented by Mrs. Gordon Mitchell. This interesting number gave brief glimpses into some of the outstanding gardens and pageants.

Mrs. Mitchell said in part:

"The city of Nashville, Tenn., is designated as the city 'where the world pays homage to the iris.' Every May iris festivals are held and displays are made by the iris fanciers of the nation. Here is featured the annual iris show with elaborate pageants in costume. At this time the most famous private gardens of Nashville are opened to visitors in the spirit of cordial southern hospitality with no admission charges.

"Garden week in Virginia is rich in historical lore dating to pre-Revolutionary days. Hundreds of homes are opened to the public. Though the magnificent homes, such as Monticello, Williamsburg and Berkeley, are among the chief centers of interest, yet each of them has its attractive gardens. Jefferson not only introduced new styles of architecture and decoration but he was the first in America to step aside from the old-fashioned gardens and to introduce the naturalistic garden. His proposals for Monticello anticipated some of the finest European gardens."

Discussing the gardens produced by Luther Burbank, the noted horticulturist, Miss Blanch Wilson gave a highly interesting account of the life and accomplishments of one of America's most lovable characters.

She said in part:

"Luther Burbank was born on the Burbank farm in Lancaster Township near Boston, Mass.

"He owed most of his education to his cousin, Levi Sumner Burbank, a professor of Paducah college, who had a bent for natural science. He was a great believer in Darwin and spent much time reading his works.

"He believed in heredity and environment in man, animal and plants. His father, Samuel Walton Burbank, loved beauty, and was greatly influenced by the pleasantness of the land in its garments of spring and autumn. His mother loved her garden and loved to make things grow whether domesticated or the things she found in the woods. He believed that he inherited these traits from his parents. Even as a child he was a great lover of flowers.

"He also thought that the environments in which he was reared in Massachusetts, with its keen sweetness of air on sharp mornings, the sun on snow or green carpets of grass, rugged rocks, sharp crack of ice on a pond in winter, its unexpected vistas, hidden vales, unanticipated breathless sights of the sea made him notice and love natural beauty.

"When he first began a garden patch he only had a hoe, a pair of overalls and a voracious appetite for knowledge.

"After the death of his father he bought 17 acres of very fine land on which was a good old house. He set himself up as a market gardener. It was his idea that the garden pay its own way, while he experimented, but he found that he was not the only one who thought of raising produce for market. His competitors knew much more about raising vegetables than he, a mere youngster, did. He found that the only way to success was to raise better vegetables and get them to market earlier than anyone else could.

"Better vegetables meant not only the best seeds and roots to be had, but the best that could be produced. He began by finding certain plants on the same row that grew more rapidly and some with better foliage. He marked these plants and when the seeds matured gathered them for the next year's planting. Stored in every cherished seed was all the heredity of the variety, and improvement that environment had placed there. After a time he found that part of the second year's growth would show all the finer characteristics of the marked plants, and a tendency to improve on their improvement.

"It was not long before he knew that he was on the right track. His start had been made."

OOPSIE, DAISY!

New as the spring season and sure to attract the right kind of attention are long, pull-on gloves of the same colorful silk print as the smart day dress. To go with them, Eric, Paris' so-called Mad Hatter, created a spectacular spring bonnet. Of Mediterranean blue straw, it is finished with a tall spray of feather leaves. For sheer flattery, the lines of the hat itself can't be beaten. For sheer novelty, neither can the trimming.

Mrs. Duke Selig has returned from Alexandria where for two weeks she was at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. F. P. Bolton.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Woodall and children of Shreveport were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Hamm and Mr. Bob Woodal recently.

Mrs. E. Cooper and little son, of Rayville, spent a week-end here with relatives.

Ferriday

Mr. W. A. Hall entertained the members of his Sunday school class at a lawn party. Refreshments were served.

Members of the faculty and the Home Economics club surprised Mrs. Woodrow Davis with a linen shower at her home. Mrs. Davis is the former Vera Drane, drum major of the Ferriday High School band.

A regular meeting of the Little Theatre was held at the home of Mrs. Fox. Plans for a play were discussed and assignments made. William (Bill) Posey was welcomed as a new club member and assigned a part in the production.

THIS MAN EARNS $100 A MONTH ★ ★ ★ HE PAYS $231 A YEAR IN "HIDDEN TAXES"

THERE is a common impression that only the family that owns property pays taxes . . . that if you, for example, pay nothing to the tax collector directly, you pay no taxes at all. ● NOTHING COULD BE FARTHER FROM THE TRUTH. ● The need for greater tax revenues to finance huge increases in government spending, has brought about many new methods to make everyone pay taxes without realizing it. The men who think up these taxes call them "Painless Taxes" . . . because they are easy to collect, for this kind of taxpayer does not realize he is paying taxes. ● Those who have studied the subject call them "Hidden Taxes" for the same reason. ● YOU PAY TAXES WHETHER YOU OWN PROPERTY OR NOT. If you buy a loaf of bread you pay 58 taxes . . . which began before the wheat for the flour was harvested. Your 15c package of cigarettes is really only 9c worth of cigarettes plus 6c in taxes. OUT OF EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND FOR ELECTRIC SERVICE, 15½ CENTS GOES TO TAX COLLECTORS. ● While the tax bill is paid by the manufacturer, by the retailer, by all others in business . . . they simply pay this money "on account" for you and all the other consumers of their products. The butcher, the grocer, the landlord . . . each is actually a tax collector, adding to his price the taxes which are levied on him and on his products. They have no choice but to pass the taxes along, for otherwise, they would have to go out of business. ● Amazing as it may seem, it has been found that THE MAN WHO EARNS $100 A MONTH PAYS $231.72 A YEAR IN HIDDEN TAXES . . . IN ADDITION TO ANY OTHER DIRECT TAXES HE MAY PAY. ● The man who earns $150 a month pays $363.60 a year in Hidden Taxes. ● Year by year, month by month, new taxes . . . Hidden Taxes . . . are being invented and added to the total which you already pay. ● Unless this increasing burden of hidden taxes is stopped, it will continue to take a constantly greater share of every family's income.

The amazing table on HIDDEN TAXES appearing at the right was compiled from figures gathered by accountants and tax experts for the State Committee for Florida Tax Information. It represents an accurate estimate of HIDDEN TAXES paid by the average American family in three income groups, reduced to monthly comparisons. It very clearly demonstrates the tremendous growth of so-called "painless" taxation.

'Adventures Of Huckleberry Finn' Opens At Paramount

Louis Hayward, Richard Carlson and Tom Brown are three of the dukes starred in "The Duke of West Point," which plays next Friday and Saturday at the Paramount theater. Joan Fontaine is co-starred in this authentic, most touching and the most thrilling story ever told about Uncle Sam's West Point.

James Dunn, Horace MacMahon and "Jinx" in a scene from "Pride of the Navy," which also features Rochelle Hudson, Gordon Jones and Gordon Oliver and plays Tuesday at the Capitol theater.

Rooney Stars In Picture Of Twain's Story

Delightful Tale Of Youngster's Adventures Makes Engaging Film

"THE ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN," Mark Twain's sequel to "Tom Sawyer," with Mickey Rooney in the title role, playing his first solo starring part in a dramatic story of life on the Mississippi, is the attraction starting today at the Paramount theater.

Familiar to millions of readers, the Mark Twain story presents Mickey as the river lad who seeks to aid a runaway slave to escape up the river to a free state. Their raft is invaded by two comical swindlers, "The King" and "The Duke," who give bogus Shakespearean plays, plot to sell the slave back to slavery, and are about to defraud two girls of their father's estate when Huck exposes them and precipitates a dramatic climax.

Much of the action was filmed on the Sacramento river, which did service as the Mississippi, and where one of the last old river steamers still in service in this country staged the dramatic race to rescue the slave from a lynch mob.

Richard Thorpe, who filmed "The Crowd Roars" and other hits, directed the new picture. The cast includes Walter Connolly as the "King," who, with Mickey as Juliet, stages an absurd "Romeo and Juliet" performance in a river village. "The Duke," second of the swindlers, is played by William Frawley, veteran of stage and screen, and the kindly Widow Douglass, benefactress of the boy, is enacted by Elizabeth Risdon. Jim, the runaway, is played by Rex Ingram, the negro actor who scored as "De Lawd" in "Green Pastures."

The two heiresses whom Mickey rescues from the swindlers are played by Lynne Carver and Jo Ann Sayers, and the remaining supporting roles are filled by Minor Watson, Victor Kilian and Clara Blandick.

Dramatic highlights include the boy's attempt to run away to save the widow from paying blackmail, his discovery of the runaway slave, their raft trip up the river with frequent narrow escapes, the encroachment of the swindlers, the absurb Shakespearean performance and the plot to swindle the girls. The negro carrying the boy, bitten by a snake, to medical aid, knowing it means return to slavery, and the mad dash of the steamer to save him from the lynch mob, are other dramatic thrills.

Florence Rice, Ann Rutherford, Mary Howard, Una Merkel, Buddy Ebsen in "Four Girls in White," the attraction which plays Wednesday and Thursday at the Paramount theater.

SCHOOL BOARD BUILDING IN CATAHOULA GRANTED

The Works Progress administration has just approved the allotment of $3,441 for Catahoula parish, according to information received from the office of Representative Newt V. Mills.

The project comprises the construction of a school board office building at Jonesville, including the installation of electrical and plumbing facilities, preparing the site, excavating, landscaping and performing appurtenant and identical work. The sponsor and owner of the property is the Catahoula parish school board.

"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" brings Mickey Rooney to the Paramount screen in his first solo starring role as the young hero of Mark Twain's immortal story of a boy who represents the carefree ideal of boyhood the world over. It plays today through Tuesday.

Newspaper romance climaxes in wedding of Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell in the swiftly-paced drama playing Thursday at the Capitol theater. Bobby Jordan is in support.

There was "The Covered Wagon," there was "Cimarron," there was "Wells Fargo" and now roaring from the screen is "Stand Up and Fight," starring Wallace Berry, Robert Taylor and Florence Rice. The supporting cast includes Helen Broderick, Charles Bickford, Barton MacLane and John Qualen. It plays Friday at the Capitol theater.

Gloria Dickson and John Garfield are the romantic pair in "They Made Me a Criminal," starring the "Dead End" Kids, playing Wednesday at the Capitol theater.

Vivid Drama Of High Seas At Capitol

'Pacific Liner' Cast Headed By Victor McLaglen And Chester Morris

TWO determined men pitted against each other in a deadly struggle of brawn against brains, within a steel-walled world surrounded by treacherous high seas—that's RKO Radio's "Pacific Liner," gripping drama of unleashed passions which is coming to the Capitol theater today.

Virile Victor McLaglen as a two-fisted chief engineer, swaggering dictator of an ocean liner's murky stokehold and Chester Morris as a rugged ship's-doctor are co-starred.

Crammed with adventure, romance and conflict, the story unfolds during an ill-fated voyage from Shanghai to San Francisco. Morris ships aboard the S. S. Arcturus as physician in order to be near nurse Wendy Barrie, although his skill with tropical diseases has brought him more lucrative offers. McLaglen accepts the post as chief engineer on the liner because the captain, looking forward to a record-breaking run, wants the only man who holds the throbs of a ship's engine more important than the pulse beats of his motley crew.

It is inevitable that the two strong-willed men should clash, especially when the hard-boiled engineer takes too great an interest in the pretty nurse. The conflict becomes further aggravated when a strange epidemic breaks out, concentrating itself below deck among the grimy members of the engine and fire rooms where the chief engineer rules so tyrannically.

From this point on the drama and suspense of the story reach spectacular heights, with the doctor and the nurse striving desperately to halt the spread of the malady, and the chief engineer struggling to keep the engines running in the face of hysteria among the fast-diminishing survivors. How the stokehold tyrant finally succumbs to the disease himself, thus precipitating a near mutiny among his men, and how the physician saves his life and wins the girl are events leading to the film's smashing climax.

In addition to the principals, other important roles are played by Barry Fitzgerald, as a good-natured "wiper"; Alan Hale as a pugnacious fireman and Allan Lane.

Lew Landers directed "Pacific Liner," which was produced by Robert Sisk from a screen play by John Twist.

CLUB HEARS HOW ENDURANCE BUILT

Business Men's Athletic Club Works Out For Health And Strength

Members of the Business Men's Athletic club, which meets at 8 o'clock each Tuesday and Friday nights at the Monroe Recreation center, 124 1-2 DeSiard street, are learning the technical meaning of endurance and the scientific explanations of how endurance is attained.

One of the reasons why the club's instructors impart this educational knowledge is that it is interesting to young men determined to build up their health and strength, but the primary reason is that it is designed to curb the enthusiasm of club members who would attempt to build up their bodies too quickly and who would thereby draw too heavily upon their reserve strength, break down their muscular tissues too greatly and accomplish an opposite end, the weakening of endurance.

Exercise, such as the weight lifting, tumbling, boxing, wrestling and calisthentics performed by members of the Business Men's Athletic club, actually breaks down the muscular tissues, according to the instructors. But when nature rebuilds the tissues, they are stronger than they were before. This is where the club's practice of progressive breaking down and rebuilding of tissues builds endurance.

Endurance is defined as "the ability of the body to keep up repairs during continuous physical activity." The circulatory and respiratory functions rid the blood of poisons generated by exercise, but when the untrained and ambitious physical culture student engages in too much exertion, the poisons accumulate faster than his system can get rid of them. On the other hand, when the lungs and heart are progressively trained to perform their proper functions, endurance is being developed, it was explained by the instructors.

Membership in the club, which fills a long-felt need of an organization in which young business men may obtain exercise, is open to interested persons. The membership fee of one dollar a month is used to purchase athletic equipment. The instructors work without pay and count the exercise they receive and the fellowship of the club as their reward for their services.

'BEST DRESSER' CONTEST TO END

Wednesday Last Day; Pictures To Be Published On Easter Sunday

The Twin Cities' "Best-Dresser Campaign" is nearing its close for the contest ends on Wednesday and after that it will be too late. No one knows who the judges are but it is known that they have been out on the streets of the two cities for the past few days and everybody has been subjected to the most searching scrutiny.

The five best-dressed men and five best-dressed women will be announced in the Morning World on Easter Sunday, when their pictures will be published.

Good-natured rivalry has been the regular rule the past few days and men and women have been better dressed than usual, people evidently paying more attention to their attire than usual.

Men have taken to green suits, the prevailing rage, while women's apparel has been of the usual varying hues, there being a riot of spring colors to be seen on every hand.

No one was sure just when those elusive judges would be on duty and the mystery shrouding the affair lent to its interest.

The contest is being staged by the retail merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB NINE YEARS OLD

A double celebration was held by the Y's Men at their meeting at Hotel Frances the past week to observe the ninth anniversary of the founding of the group here and also to conduct a ladies' night. Members of the club and "Y's Manettes" attended.

The program comprised a vocal solo by Miss Johnette Register, a piano solo by Dr. Verne Kelsey, local pastor and prominent musician, a reading by Miss Dorothea Fluke and a musical number by Jack May.

John L. Madden, international vice-president, discussed some of the features and objectives of Y's Men's clubs and a "birthday cake" with nine candles was cut by President "Doc" Bennett. But the cake proved to be pasteboard, so the expected feast in that direction failed to materialize, but the evening was one of great pleasure, members asserted.

HODGE SCHOOL ADDITION IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

JONESBORO, La., April 1.—(Special)—Construction of a two-story, eight-room brick addition to the Hodge Grammar school is progressing satisfactorily and the work is expected to be completed early in July.

Having four rooms on each floor, the addition will form a wing on the south side of the building and will be finished with the same type of brick as the main building.

CLASSES MAKE TOURS

CHOUDRANT, La., April 1.—(Special)—Senior and sophomore classes of the Choudrant High school have made their annual tours, the former class going to Natchez, Miss., and the latter to Barksdale field, near Shreveport. Mrs. Mary O'Neal and Miss Doris Durrette chaperoned the seniors, and Mrs. R. W. Kemp chaperoned the sophomores.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING!

Glass Work Done While You Wait At Ouachita Glass Co.

You can get automobile glass, plain or safety, rapidly replaced while you wait at Ouachita Glass company, 310 Washington street. Or you can have a window or windshield glass replaced in your car while you shop. There's plenty of parking space for your machine on all sides of the place of business occupied by the firm.

But Ouachita Glass company offers more than convenience for motorists. It gives first class workmanship. Its owners, Johnny Cutrer and Hardy Rutherford, are generally conceded by Monroe automobile dealers to be two of the best auto glass men in this section.

Besides automobile glass work, however, Ouachita Glass company engages in the installation of window glass and in the manufacture of glass tops for desks and other pieces of furniture.

When in need of the services of Ouachita Glass company, just call telephone number 270. You'll receive prompt attention.

Be Thrifty, Buy Yourself A Home

Be thrifty! That, in modern-day language, means to spend wisely, to invest carefully rather than save slavishly.

The best investment now open is a home. It's something you can enjoy while you're buying.

Never before have such values in Monroe and West Monroe properties been offered as have been made availabl by the People's Homestead and Savings association, corner of DeSiard and Catalpa streets. And never before have such convenient purchase terms and financing been offered as are available at the People's Homestead and Savings association.

Think of it—10 per cent down and the balance at only 5 1-2 per cent interest over a long period of years! That makes the acquisition of a home possible for almost everyone.

The sale of all properties owned by the People's Homestead and Savings association is handled by Jonas Selig and Morton Myatt, licensed real estate brokers. They maintain an office at the association and their telephone number there is 4990. Mr. Selig's home phone is 978 and Mr. Myatt's, 3382.

Their listings include homes in every section of Monroe and West Monroe. They're virtually certain of having exactly what you've been looking for at the price you are able to pay. Moreover, they have listed several pieces of desirable business property.

Spatafora's Gives Excellent Service

It's that it's-a-pleasure-to-serve-you atmosphere that prevails at the establishment that makes Spatafora's Pharmacy, 801 DeSiard street, one of the most popular drug store in Monroe.

That and the fact that it handles the high grade of merchandise in its line that the public demands. That and the fact that it maintains a fast free delivery service.

All customers are greeted with genuine cordiality and given prompt service by the employes of Spatafora's Pharmacy.

The prescription department—the department devoted to the relief of the sick—is the pharmacy's pride. All prescriptions are carefully compounded with the best of drugs by the four registered pharmacists who serve the department.

You can get anything you need in the line of drugs, toilet articles, cosmetics, candies, tobaccos and the like at Spatafora's Pharmacy. A combination bar and soda fountain is operated in connection with the drug store. It serves plain and fancy drinks of all kinds and deals in packaged liquors, both domestic and imported.

HOWARD GRIFFIN'S MODERN ESTABLISHMENT

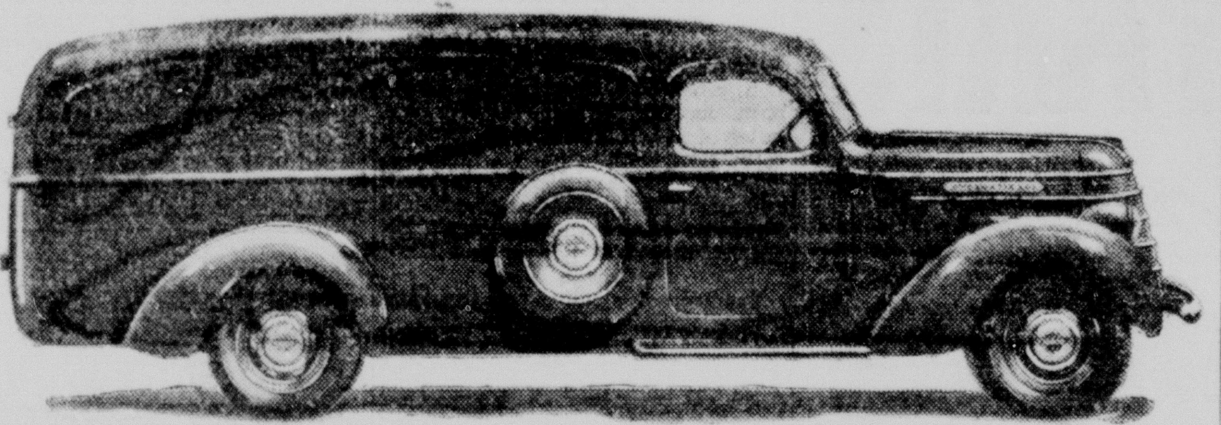
BEAUTY AND ECONOMY COMBINED



Smart modern styling, dependable performance and long life are yours in an International truck. International trucks are built for trucking in the first place and built to operate at a minimum expense. And International Harvester company, 720 DeSiard street, the dealer for this area, is here to keep them operating that way. Factory standard parts and factory standard methods of repair will make your Internationals earn their way on every load they carry. Make Internationals your truck partners—and make International Harvester company the truck service department of your business. Pictured above is one of the panel models handled by International Harvester company. There are many other types of Internationals, one for every requirement. Some of the best used tires you've ever laid eyes on can be had at O. K. Rubber Welder, 2404 DeSiard street. The concern has a fine stock of 6.00x16's and 5.50x17's priced from $2.50 to $6. These tires are scarcely visibly worn and are good for 5,000 to 15,000 miles of service. In other words, they're almost new.

But these are not the only used tires stocked by O. K. Rubber Welder. The firm has tires as cheap as 50 cents and used tubes varying upward in price from 35 cents. Moreover, O. K. Rubber Welder will trade with you on your old tires and tubes if they are useable.

The establishment handles tires and tubes of all sizes, including retreaded and recapped tires as cheap as $5, and operates a free road service within a radius of five miles of Monroe. If you have a blowout or puncture and need a tire or tire service, O. K. Rubber Welder will provide it for you. Just call telephone number 9233.

In addition to buying, selling and swapping used tires and tubes, O. K. Rubber Welder engages in the tire repair business. It welds patches on tires and tubes—patches that stay put, patches that will wear as long and take as much punishment as the tire or tube itself.

Your tire or tube is permanently repaired, without sacrifice of balance, when it's repaired by O. K. Rubber Welder. Don't throw your injured tires and tubes away. Save money. Have them repaired by O. K. Rubber Welder.

Fine Mattresses Made By Ouachita

Blue Ribbon Ice Cream Available Now At Ladart's

People living in the extreme northern part of Monroe need no longer come all the way to town to get Blue Ribbon ice cream. It now may be had at Ladart's Spaghetti Garden, 815 Park avenue.

Announcement of this distribution center for Blue Ribbon ice cream has just been made by Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company, 114 Catalpa street, which is now featuring fresh fruit strawberry ice cream. The firm manufactures, distributes and retails high grade ice cream of all popular flavors and delivers orders of as much as a pint anywhere in Monroe and West Monroe.

The price of Blue Ribbon ice cream is 15 cents a pint or 25 cents a quart.

Curb service may be had either at Ladart's or at the plant at 114 Catalpa, where a hot dog and hamburger stand is operated in connection with an ice cream parlor.

In addition to ice cream, Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company makes and distributes ice cream bars, ice cream sandwiches and sherbet. At present the sherbet is available in two flavors—orange and pineapple.

Give Blue Ribbon's products a trial. Then you, too, will agree that they're the best.

Trailers For All Purposes Built By Frost Trailer Co.

If you need a trailer for any purpose—for heavy hauling, for taking along your fishing boat—the place to get it is at Frost Trailer and Supply company, 1214 Cypress street, West Monroe. Besides manufacturing and selling stock model trailers for virtually every purpose, the firm builds trailers to order.

In addition to manufacturing trailers, however, Frost Trailer and Supply company, is equipped to repair trailers of every description and handles trailer equipment and parts of every kind, including axles, hubs, wheels, bearings, springs, shackles, shackle bolts, U bolts, hub caps and grease seals. The firm is the distributor in this area for Midland air and vacuum brakes for trucks and trailers.

Frost trailers are widely used throughout this section and have established a reputation for durability. They're built to take the hard knocks that trailers have to take to be of maximum service to their owners. If you are looking for a trailer to get your stuff to its destination, Frost Trailer and Supply company has it or can build it.

NORMAL STUDENTS CHOOSE OFFICERS

Frank Eason Potpourri Editor, Joe Polancic Junior Vice-President

NATCHITOCHES, La., April 1.—(Special)—Seventeen officers including heads of the student association and classes and editors of publications were selected for the 1939-40 session at the Louisiana State Normal college here in the annual election staged by the student body.

Melvin Bradley of Sarepta defeated John D. Bell of Franklin and Elmo Futrell for president of the student association, and Edmund Saucier of Eunice won over Patrick Murphy of Natchitoches for vice-president of the organization. Alma Fluitt of Haynesville was named secretary-treasurer of the student association without opposition.

Frank Eason of Monroe was named editor of the 1940 Potpourri, student yearbook, over Mary Bell White of Oil City, and William Rigdon of Coushatta was chosen editor of Current Sauce, student paper, winning over John Duffy of Alexandria and Theresa Harbourt of St. Gabriel.

In the class elections Jack Fisher of Natchitoches defeated John Renwick of Monroe for president of the senior class, with Hampden Murrell of Crowley named vice-president over Meredith Cravens of Little Rock, Ark., and Marjorie Gaunt of Shreveport winning over Frances Mae Fournet of Natchitoches for secretary-treasurer of the class.

Roland Migues of Kinder defeated Ernest Tyler of Springhill for president of the junior class; Joe Polancic of Monroe won over Jimmy Steen of Crowley for vice-president; and Marjorie Gathright of Natchitoches was named secretary-treasurer over Helen Lowe of Haynesville.

David Bramley of Arcadia won over Tom Schwalm of New Orleans for president of the sophomore class; Sheila Caldwell of Shreveport defeated Warren Allen of Winnfield for vice-president; and Beverly Dumestre of New Orleans was named secretary-treasurer of the sophomores over Thelma Palmer of Natchitoches.

Student council members at large selected in the general election are Jimmie Perkins of Natchitoches, Abe Rhodes of Waterproof and Donnie Waller of Haynesville.

MANY TO GO TO MASS MEETING

Highway Project For South Arkansas Will Be Given Emphasis

Interest is being exhibited in two states over the proposed mass meeting and luncheon scheduled for Monticello, Ark., Thursday noon, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis and Lions clubs of that city.

The purpose of the meeting is to emphasize the necessity for the Arkansas state highway commission to hardsurface the present unpaved gaps on state highway No. 13 to connect at the state line with Louisiana highway No. 204, which in turn links up with federal highway No. 165 through Monroe to Alexandria and New Orleans.

Governor Carl Bailey of Arkansas will attend as will the following members of the Arkansas state highway commission: Hugh B. Benton, Fordyce; W. W. Mitchell, Little Rock; John H. Vogel, El Dorado; and large delegations from Bastrop, Columbia, Monroe, West Monroe, and from south Arkansas cities such as Hamburg, Monticello, Star City and Pine Bluff.

A Twin City delegation, headed by Tom Hicks, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee, has the past week visited Bastrop and Columbia and has secured active support for the project from Chambers of Commerce and civic clubs in these two cities.

The local party plans to leave Monroe Thursday at 9 a.m. and will proceed directly to Monticello where the luncheon will be held in one of the buildings of the A. and M. college. Those desiring to attend but who lack motor transportation can obtain same by calling the office of the local Chamber of Commerce which assures that all who desire to go will be provided with means of making the trip.

PLAN ACHIEVEMENT DAY FOR UNION 4-H CLUBS

FARMERVILLE, La., April 1.—(Special)—Union parish 4-H clubs are making extensive preparations for their annual achievement day, to be held here April 22.

The grammar school club and high school club earning the most points in the achievement day contests will each be awarded a trophy provided by the local Lions club and the parish farm bureau.

The contests will include dairying, gardening, poultry judging, break making, meal serving, crop judging, livestock judging, meat identification, health, food preservation, clothes making and club reporting.

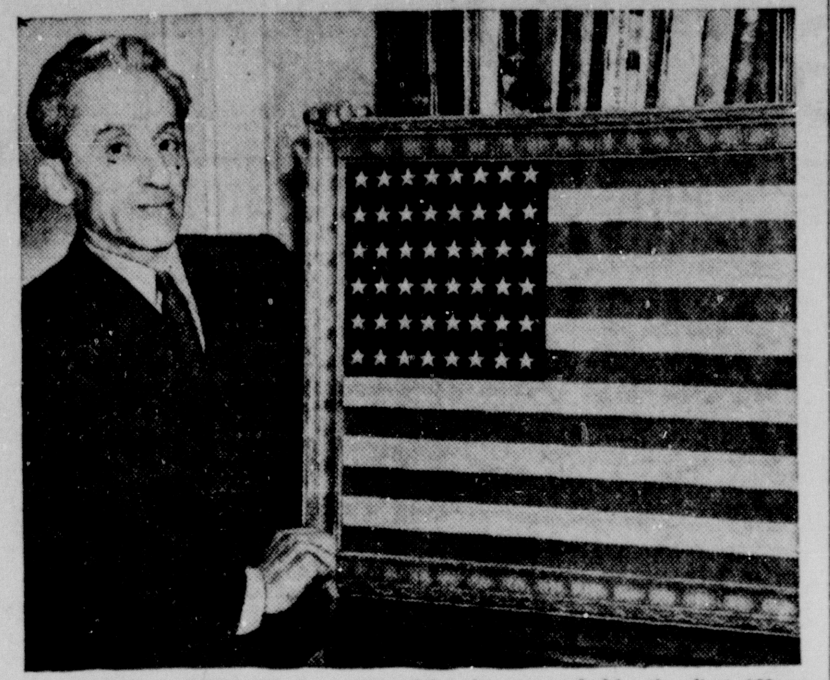
DELTA TRAFFIC MANAGER WILL SPEAK AT CENTER

Leigh Parker, general traffic manager of the Delta Airlines corporation, stationed at Selman airport, will be the speaker at the assembly period at 10:30 a.m. Monday at Northeast Center.

He will discuss the development of aviation transportation and the public is invited to be present, it was stated by W. R. Hammond, chairman of assembly programs at the college.

Candy is popular in London, where new confectionary stores open at the rate of one a day.

OLD GLORY—ALL U. S. SILK



John Ousta, of New York, poses with what is probably the first 100 per cent American-made silk flag. Silk worms, born and bred in Ousta's Bronx flat, produced the silk. On a machine he invented Ousta unreeled the silk, had it woven into satin and milled by a New Jersey flag firm.

Ruston Methodist Church Will Be Dedicated Today

Service Is Believed To Be First In Nation Following Unification

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)—Unusual distinction will come to Ruston with the dedication of the new Methodist church here at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. The occasion, it is believed, will mark the first church dedication in the nation to be performed under the new acceptance service resulting from the unification of Methodism between the north and south.

In fact, the ritual by which the local church will be dedicated has not yet been formally adopted but is expected to be approved at a meeting of the united Methodist churches in Kansas City within the next few weeks, according to Rev. Guy M. Hicks, pastor of the church here.

Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Tex., who will officiate at the dedication ceremonies here Sunday afternoon, has a prospectus of the new order of service and he will use that copy, Rev. Hicks said.

"We will be the first in Louisiana and probably the first in the United States to use the new service," the pastor stated.

To Change Name

The dedication will change the name of the local church from the "Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South," to the "Trinity Methodist Church." With the unification of the northern and southern churches, the word "Episcopal" was dropped, it was announced, but the churches may continue to use such "given" names as "Trinity."

Bishop Smith's dedication of the church here will conclude a series of revival meetings he has been conducting at Ruston this week.

The new building is Ruston's third Methodist church. The first was erected in 1884, only a few months after the town was founded. The second was built in 1903.

Property on which the second church was built was deeded to the Methodists by Robert E. Russ, for whom Ruston was named. After the third church was erected, about a year ago one block east of the second church, the Russ heirs sought to prevent sale of the second church and lot by the Methodists, maintaining, in effect, that the lot was deeded for church purposes and could not be sold as property of the Methodist group. The state supreme court, it is said, recently decided in favor of the Methodists and the property will be sold the Methodists, probably in private sale.

Canvass Conducted

Prior to beginning the new church, a canvass for funds was conducted among the membership and a total of $92,600 was raised. Included in that sum is $1,000, listed in the record book as "A Gift of God," given anonymously by the parents of a baby daughter, who burned to death several years ago.

"When the little girl was born," the father told Rev. Hicks, "my wife and I started to create a fund for her education. When she was three years old, her clothing caught fire and she was burned to death. We have kept up the fund and would like to give the money to the church."

It is understood that another anonymous gift of about $3,000 recently was given to the church to provide stained windows. A contract for the stained glass is said to have been awarded a few days ago.

With the sum raised since the fall of 1937, the Ruston Methodists have erected one of the finest buildings of its kind in this part of the state. The attractive brick building adjoins the Methodist education building, which was erected a few years ago. A distinctive feature of the new church is a porte-cochere entrance on the south side, which permits convenient entering of the building in case of funerals and other occasions.

Membership Of 1,200

A history of the Methodist church in Ruston, compiled by Judge S. D. Pearce of Ruston to be placed in the cornerstone of the new building shows growth from a handful of members and a frame building to the present membership of about 1,200 and church property valued at more than $100,000.

Among other items to be placed in the cornerstone will be the fragile and moulded remains recently removed from the cornerstone of the second church. These items will be placed in a glass jar and labeled.

All living presiding elders of the Ruston district and all former Methodist pastors serving the Ruston church are among those invited to attend the dedication and cornerstone laying Sunday afternoon. Since the church was organized here by Rev. J. H. Stone in 1883, with Rev. T. B. White being the first officially appointed pastor, 22 ministers have served the Ruston church.

PLEADERS GET PENALTIES IN FARMERVILLE COURT

FARMERVILLE, La., April 1.—(Special)—Several defendants pleaded guilty in district court here and received sentences as follows: John Farrar, assault and battery, $10 and 30 days in jail; C. B. Andrews, violating liquor laws, $100 and 30 days in jail; Clarence Brantley, Arthur Pardue and Charlie Shadic, violating game laws, $10 and costs; "Sonny" Booles, violating game laws, sentence deferred; Ray Futch, giving bad check, sentence deferred; Bertha Petteway, assault with a dangerous weapon, 90 days in jail.

CARNIVAL PLANNED

In order to raise funds for the construction of the new home planned by Rodney J. Hobbs post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, a carnival will be held by the John Ward shows on the Missouri Pacific lot near the passenger station, from April 3-9. The public is invited to participate and thereby aid the post in its project.

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS
THE FOE DRAWS NEAR
MAL-YUT, CHIEF OF THE HALF-MEN, WAS AWED BY THE DEADLY MAGIC OF MARSADA'S THUNDER-STICK.
WITH ANIMAL CUNNING AND HUMAN CRAFTINESS HE DECIDED TO MAKE THIS WIZARD HIS FRIEND. MARSADA WAS DELIGHTED. HE COULD TRAIN THESE FIERCE CREATURES TO RAID NATIVE VILLAGES FOR IVORY.
BUT FIRST HE MUST DESTROY THE ONLY OBSTACLE TO HIS PLAN--TARZAN, THE JUNGLE GUARDIAN.
TARZAN AND LINDA DWELT NOW WITH THE APE-TRIBE, OF WHICH TARZAN HAD BECOME KING.
THE GIRL FELT SECURE WITH SO MANY STRONG PROTECTORS. BUT TARZAN WAS NOT SO CERTAIN OF SECURITY.
HE WAS PUZZLED BY THE LINGOOS, THE MYSTERIOUS CREATURES WHO WERE ENEMIES OF THE TRIBE.
THROUGH THE LONG DAYS BAK-DAK SAT UNDER A TREE, HIS BROKEN LEG BOUND IN A SPLINT TARZAN MADE.
BAK-DAK FRETTED FOR FEAR THE LINGOOS WOULD COME, AND HE WOULD BE HELPLESS TO ESCAPE.
SO TARZAN CARVED CRUDE CRUTCHES AND TAUGHT HIM TO WALK ON THEM, WHILE THE TRIBE MARVELED.
ONE DAY TARZAN CAUGHT A STRANGE SCENT, A SCENT NEITHER HUMAN NOR ANIMAL, YET SOMEWHAT BOTH.
HOGARTH—
THE SCENT GREW STRONGER. THE APES CAUGHT IT TOO. "LINGOOS!" THEY CRIED IN DISMAY.

Close Senate Vote Seen On Relief Fund

SUBCOMMITTEE FAVORS AMOUNT FIXED BY HOUSE

Holds Brief Hearings On Roosevelt's Request For $150,000,000 More

WPA ADMINISTRATOR GETS SOME SHARP QUESTIONING

Some Members Express Doubt Any Effort Made To Curtail Expenditures

WASHINGTON, April 1—(AP)—A senate appropriations subcommittee held brief hearings today on President Roosevelt's request for $150,000,000 more for WPA and although a vote was deferred indicated strongly a disposition to accept the house's cut to $100,000,000.

The only witness at the closed session was Colonel F. C. Harrington, the WPA administrator. A vote was put off until Monday, but Chairman Adams, Democrat, Colorado, and Senator Townsend, Republican, Delaware, another subcommittee member, said they felt confident the committee would approve the house figure.

Administration lieutenants conceded they had slight chance to win approval for the other $50,000,000 in committee, but asserted they would make a vigorous fight on the senate floor for a $150,000,000 appropriation.

The final senate vote was expected to be extremely close.

The senate approved by only one vote when congress whittled $150,000,000 from President Roosevelt's original $875,000,000 relief request last January. After this cut, the president promptly requested a further $150,000,000 allocation. The house yesterday voted $100,000,000.

Members of the senate committee were reported to have questioned Harrington sharply as to what effort, if any, the WPA had made to curtail relief expenditures.

Talking with reporters after the hearing Adams said:

Between February 11 and February 25 they increased the relief rolls by

SEEK BUS LINES FOR COLLEGIANS

Movement In Progress For Bringing 300 More Students To Northeast Center

Backed by all members of the state legislature from the Fifth congressional district, as well as parish school board superintendents and high school principals in this area, every possible effort is being exerted to provide facilities for increasing the enrollment of Northeast Center by fully 300 more students this fall through the operation of five or six bus lines throughout the area.

Directing this project as a civic undertaking is Sig Masur, chairman of the Northeast Center committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who is urging action in providing these buses by Louisiana State university, sponsor of the local college.

It is pointed out that with the new buildings being completed at this time there is every reason for the present enrollment to be increased by fully 300 students which will entail a total cost of only approximately $15,000 for the buses against an estimated cost of $300,000 for dormitory facilities sufficient for 300 students.

There are at present 1,791 high school students in the Fifth congressional district to be served by higher educational facilities such as North-

CHIEF JUSTICE TO NOTE ANNIVERSARY

NEW ORLEANS, April 1—(AP)—Chief Justice Charles Austin O'Neill Thursday will celebrate his 25th anniversary as a member of the Louisiana supreme court.

He has been chief justice since 1922, a longer time than anyone has ever served in that position in this state. Only Francois Xavier Martin saw longer service on the high bench. Martin was appointed associate justice in 1815 and remained until 1846.

Justice O'Neill, born in Franklin, La., 70 years ago, held only one other public office. He was elected a district judge in 1908.

The chief justice, a widower, has two sons, six daughters, 11 grandchildren.

Asserts Germany Won't Stand For Intimidation Nor Encirclement

By Louis P. Lochner

WILHELMSHAVEN, Germany, April 1—(AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler defiantly threw back the Anglo-French anti-aggression challenge today but [illegible] going beyond the intimation he might cancel Germany's naval treaty with Great Britain.

"Germany will stand neither for intimidation nor encirclement," he declared.

He spoke to 50,000 men and women of Wilhelmshaven and its vicinity in a [illegible]-minute address after he had witnessed the launching of Germany's second 35,000-ton battleship this year, the Von Tirpitz.

In his passage on the 1935 Anglo-German naval treaty, under which Germany agreed that her tonnage would not exceed 35 per cent of Britain's, Hitler said:

"I once concluded a naval agreement with Britain. I was animated by the fervent desire that we might never again have a war with England.

"If, however, that wish does not exist on the other side, then the practical prerequisites for concluding such a treaty have vanished."

On the whole the fuehrer contented himself with heaping scorn upon Britain of which he said:

"For hundreds of years she has acted in a virtueless manner but only now in her old age she speaks of virtue."

[illegible] the Anglo-French offer of military assistance if her independence were threatened were mentioned only indirectly with the warning on application to Poland.

"He who is willing to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for others must expect to get burned."

There also was an indirect reference interpreted as aimed at either President Roosevelt or Secretary of State Cordell Hull when the fuehrer, [illegible] Germany's efforts at [illegible] expansion, asserted:

"He won't take orders in this matter from any European or extra-European statesman."

The chancellor spoke outside the Wilhelmshaven city hall from behind a bullet-proof glass screen.

Those there in the immediate audience heard his address as it was de-

THRONG IN ROME FOR HOLY WEEK

Ceremonies Will Open Today With Traditional Blessing Of Palms

VATICAN CITY, April 1—(AP)—Pilgrims began flocking into Rome for [illegible] Holy Week, which will open tomorrow with the traditional blessing of the palms.

Despite unsettled European conditions interest in the new pope apparently [illegible] tourists attracted to Rome. [illegible] reported all rooms engaged [illegible].

The mass at St. Peter's [illegible] will be celebrated by [illegible] Cardinal Tedeschini.

In the years when Pope Pius XII was archpriest of St. Peter's he celebrated the high mass there on Palm Sunday and was the principal figure in the procession of the palms commemorating Christ's entry into Jerusalem.

This year, as pope, he will celebrate Palm Sunday mass at his private chapel but will participate in the long ceremonies of the passion later in the week.

Next Sunday he will ascend his throne in St. Peter's for the magnificent Easter mass and afterward will give his blessing [illegible] to the city and to the world [illegible] the balcony of the basilica.

An enormous crowd possibly running to 200,000 is expected to be in the square before St. Peter's to receive the blessing.

Pope Pius today received a palm

MRS. E. O. SMITH OF WEST MONROE DIES

Mrs. Abigail Bailey Smith, 60, wife of E. O. Smith, died [illegible] at 3:45 o'clock at her home, 705 Trenton street, West Monroe.

Mrs. Smith, who was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Monroe, was born at Athens, Tex., March 14, 1879. She was married to Mr. Smith, a former West Monroe city councilman, in 1898.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. [illegible] A. McDonald of West Monroe, and Mrs. W. S. Kendall of West Monroe, [illegible] grandchildren, [illegible] McDonald, Martha McDonald and W. Sam Kendall Jr., all of West Monroe.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence with Rev. Ernest Holloway, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Monroe, officiating. Interment will follow in the family burial plot in the Riverview Burial park here.

Pallbearers will be John Walters, Clarence Grandberry, J. F. Jones, Jr., Travis Ellis, C. C. Bell, Jr., John Williams, Francis Hamilton and Garnett Anderson.

Peters Funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

LOSERS IN SPAIN MUST PAY COSTS

650,000 Republican Prisoners Will Provide Much Of Labor In Undertaking

By Larry Allen

BURGOS, Spain, April 1—(AP)—The Institute of Credit, Spain's Reconstruction Finance corporation, which is tackling a billion-dollar job of rebuilding the nation, has decided to make those whom the nationalists hold politically responsible for the civil war pay a large part of the bill and republican prisoners supply the labor.

Joaquin Benjumea, 60-year-old soft-spoken director of the bureau of devastated regions charged with financing and supervising the reconstruction, must raise at least 10,000,000,000 pesetas, about $1,000,000,000.

(This would place a value of 10 cents on the peseta. There is no quotation on the currency, however, in the New York market.)

That is the present estimated cost of repairing the damages of the war, but surveys of Madrid and Mediterranean ports might double the figure.

The reconstruction program is to be financed:

1. By funds from expropriated properties and other economic penalties decreed February 9 by the national-

THREE IN REVENUE OFFICE DISCHARGED

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1—(AP)—State Collector of Revenue W. A. Cooper today confirmed reports emanating in Shreveport that three more employes of the Shreveport office of the department of revenue had been discharged. He said the three were removed to curtail forces employed in Shreveport and that there are not now any vacancies in the Shreveport office.

Cooper said those discharged are J. F. White, A. E. Edmonds and J. D. Blake, who have been carried as auditors. The dismissals, effective April 1, make a total of 13 who have been dismissed from the Shreveport office since Cooper succeeded Alice Lee Grosjean as collector of revenue.

FIVE CONVICTED OF MAIL FRAUD

Shreveport Jury Spends Nearly Three Hours In Reaching Decision

SHREVEPORT, La., April 1—(AP)—Five defendants were found guilty and the remaining two were acquitted on charges of using the mails to defraud by a federal court jury at 5:30 p.m. today in the trial of T. L. Morris et al.

Nearly seven hours were spent in reaching the decision.

Morris, who is 40, his two brothers, L. Hugh Morris, 30, and M. N. Morris, 34, all of Shreveport, Z. B. Freeman, 37, and J. L. Beasley, 33, were found guilty as charged.

R. C. "Cotton" McCoy, Jr., 28, of Shreveport, and H. R. O'Gwin of Dallas, 36, were found not guilty.

A motion for hearing on a new trial was filed by J. Frank Looney, defense attorney, immediately after the verdict was read. Looney also requested that the jury be polled on the verdict. All jurors assented to the decision.

Mercy of the court was asked for L. Hugh Morris and Beasley, and "extreme mercy" was asked for M. N. Morris by the jurors.

The five insurance companies named in the original indictment, the Amer-

NEW BUILDING TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Work Starts On Monroe Furniture Company's Store Early This Week

Construction on the new Monroe Furniture company building will start early this week, it was announced yesterday by Joe Isaacman, president and general manager of the firm. The company's building, located at North Second and Jefferson, was completely destroyed by fire last August 13.

Mr. Isaacman and Mrs. Ida Kaplan, secretary-treasurer of the concern, returned yesterday from New Orleans, where final details were completed for starting construction on the new four-story building. Slight delay in the completion of last-minute details was caused by the illness of several executives.

Caldwell Brothers and Hart were low bidders on the building and were awarded the general contract. J. W. Smith and Associates are the architects and King Stubbs, a member of the firm, was in charge of drawing the plans and specifications. For special designing, Robert W. Heller, of New York, a specialist in designing furniture stores, was associated with Mr. Stubbs in designing the building, which is said to be one of the most

HERO OF BRIDGE WASHOUT

Rupert Lewis, a truck driver from Florence, Miss., is recovering in a Jackson hospital after surviving the Clear Creek bridge tragedy near Vicksburg, in which 16 persons perished when their automobiles plunged through a chasm left by flood water. Lewis' truck was one of the first to dive into the water. He reached land and hurried back to the highway to stop others. But in spite of his frantic efforts, several cars dashed past him to disaster.

Experts Say Germany Would Lose In War

Believe Britain And France, Aided By Poland, Would Be Strong

WASHINGTON, April 1—(AP)—High American military authorities expressed belief privately today that with Poland as an ally Great Britain and France were in a strong position, should the tense European situation flare into war.

Somewhat guardedly, several authorities closely agreed on these general conclusions:

1. A war over Poland would inevitably become another world conflict.

2. France and Britain would threaten Germany on the flank by circumventing Germany's heavily fortified line along the French frontier and advancing through Italy—if Italy stood with Germany. Combined with possible Russian aid to Poland, this would represent the same double pressure used in 1914.

3. Italy would be faced with the immediate decision whether to risk a French army invasion and British-French naval attacks, or abandon the Rome-Berlin axis. There was a strong belief that Mussolini would be unwilling to see his country become a pathway for marching armies.

4. Hungary was viewed as a likely German ally, but Rumania and other Balkan powers were counted on the side of Britain and France.

5. Hemmed in by British seapower on the Baltic as well as on the land, Germany would have recourse to the air. American military men professed to see no likely means by which London and Paris could be spared from devastation.

6. The allies could count on strong economic and psychological weapons, as well as military might. Some officials doubt the German people would follow Hitler to a war to the finish as they did the kaiser.

"Hitler would have to win in 60 days," one official argued.

These conclusions were tentative, based on the current status of an international situation that has changed

LATIN AMERICA TO GET PLANES

U. S. Will Seek To Increase Commercial Aviation By Six-Point Program

WASHINGTON, April 1—(AP)—This government disclosed today that five major agencies were collaborating on a program intended to meet the bid of totalitarian nations for domination of Latin American commercial aviation.

Officials of the civil aeronautics authority and the state, war, navy and commerce departments, in a series of conferences, have outlined a six-point program.

C. Grant Mason, chairman of the foreign problems committee of the CAA, said German airlines, covering 12 per cent more route-miles in Latin America than United States lines, operate on both the east and west coasts of South America and over the South Atlantic to Europe.

Italy, he declared, intended to inaugurate "in the near future," a service from Rome to Argentina, connecting with existing Italian lines there.

The departmental conference was reported to be considering a program which would:

Increase aircraft exports from the United States.

Provide faster service, with airway beacons to be set up at strategic United States territorial points along the Latin American routes to permit, for the first time, regular night flying.

Change schedules to permit more frequent service over many routes.

Stimulate air traffic by lower rates and other facilities.

Extend inter-American air routes.

PLANE LOOKS FOR HALLIBURTON JUNK

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1—(AP)—Pilots of the huge California clipper were requested today by Pan American airways to keep an alert watch for the Chinese junk of Richard Halliburton, unheard from for eight days.

The junk left Hongkong recently and Halliburton planned to sail the odd craft to the Golden Gate International exposition here.

Pan American officials said their pilots would watch for the junk, last reported 1,800 land miles west of the clipper's normal flight route between Midway and Wake islands.

LOST AT SEA?

San Francisco radio operators fear for the lives of Richard Halliburton, above, author-adventurer, and 10 other men aboard the Chinese junk, Sea Dragon, unheard from since March 24, when it sailed from Hongkong.

600 EXPECTED AT LABOR MEETING

State Federation Will Open Three-Day Convention Here Tomorrow

With an expected attendance of more than 600 delegates and a like number of visitors, the 27th annual convention of the Louisiana State Federation of Labor will open its three-day session tomorrow on the Cherokee terrace of Hotel Frances.

A large number of state and local officials and representatives of the American Federation of Labor and various international unions are scheduled to speak during the convention, which will be presided over by the state federation president, E. H. Williams of Shreveport, among them being Lieutenant-Governor Earl K. Long.

The opening session Monday will be presided over by J. J. Dieterich, president of the Monroe Central Trades and Labor council, who will introduce local speakers and then turn the gavel over to President Williams.

Mayor H. H. Benoit of Monroe and Mayor Harry Williams of West Monroe and G. D. Holland, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the convention on behalf of the Twin Cities.

Dr. F. K. Hirsch, rabbi of Temple B'Nai Israel, will give the invocation at the Monday session, Rev. M. R. Walsh, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Catholic church, will give the invocation at the Tuesday session, and Rev. C. Karlos Smith, pastor of the West Monroe Methodist church, the

MINISTER'S SON LYNCHED BY MOB

PANAMA CITY, Fla., April 1—(AP)—Miles W. Brown, 28-year-old son of a retired minister, was shot to death here today by a band of masked men who abducted him from jail after expressing dissatisfaction because he failed to receive the death penalty in a murder trial.

Brown was convicted last night of slaying Rev. Van Kleeck in whose hardware store he formerly worked. The jury's recommendation of mercy made a life sentence mandatory and saved him from the electric chair.

Jailer Johnny Goodwin declared "four or five masked men" stole into the room where he was sleeping, bound and gagged him and took his keys to open Brown's cell.

Goodwin said one of the men told him "The law didn't do justice but we will. We don't want to hurt you."

Brown's bullet-pierced body, clad in pajamas, was found a few hours later on a country road. It was Florida's first lynching since last August.

At Tallahassee, Governor Fred P. Cone ordered State Attorney General George Couper Gibbs to take charge of the investigation and "bring to justice the murderers of Miles W. Brown."

The body of Van Kleeck, well-to-do merchant and former county commissioner, was found in a bayou near here January 16. Brown was arrested at Jacksonville several days later, and Sheriff John Scott said he confessed the slaying.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, April 1—British naval authorities smiled disdainfully tonight at Adolf Hitler's threat to denounce the British-German naval treaty and there was no indication that he had swerved Britain from her joint pledge with France to defend Polish independence.

High naval experts pointed out not only that Britain had tremendous superiority over Germany in naval power but also that the combined British fleets by a margin of more British-French fleets were stronger than the combined German-Italian fleets by a margin of more than two to one.
than two to one.

Hitler's retort at Wilhelmshaven, Germany, to Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement yesterday in the house of commons of British-French guarantees to Poland came as British diplomats tried to map a new armed strategy to meet German strength with her own.

Britain reassured Poland of the breadth of her pledge and sought to rally Rumania, another German neighbor in the path of possible Nazi expansion, to similar solidarity with the Anglo-French front as a second step toward building a wide "halt Hitler" bloc in Europe.

The visit that Polish Foreign Minister Colonel Joseph Beck is expected to make here Monday assumed even greater importance after the reichsfuehrer's implied threat to Poland.

Foremost problem to be discussed, it was believed, will be the status of the Free City of Danzig, territory taken from Germany after the World war

RITES HELD FOR OAK GROVE FIVE

Throngs Pay Respects To Victims Of Clear Creek Washout Tragedy

OAK GROVE, La., April 1—(Special)—Last rites for Oak Grove's victims of the Clear creek tragedy were held today.

Throughout Friday night and Saturday morning, until the bodies were taken to the Oak Grove High school auditorium at 2 p.m. today, throngs of people passed through local funeral homes to pay respects to the five victims of the tragedy. Members of Catron Kelly post No. 55, American Legion, and the legion auxiliary stood watch throughout the night.

As the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Schilling, Mrs. Tom Bradley and Mrs. Sam H. Campbell and her 2-year-old daughter, Annette, were being removed to the school auditorium, where services were conducted, all Oak Grove went into mourning and all business houses were closed.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. B. Emmerich, Methodist Episcopal minister of Oak Grove, assisted by Rev. J. R. Campbell, Rev. Trimble and Rev. Jesse Birch, of Oak Grove; and Rev. Drummond of Bastrop.

At the conclusion of the services at

Longview Teacher And Pupils Credited With Advancing Potato Process

LAUREL, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—A Longview, Tex., high school instructor and his class of chemistry students today were credited with adding a vital step to the progress of making a year-long industry of the now seasonal manufacture of sweet potato starch.

Dehydrated sweet potato pulp prepared by Gilbert C. Wilson and his White Oak High school students of Longview was run through tests at the Laurel starch plant late today and successfully produced starch, according to W. R. Richee, plant manager.

If the dehydration process now can be worked out on a practical large-scale basis, Richee said, there is nothing to keep the industry from operating the year long. Inability to keep sweet potatoes from spoiling has kept the industry on a seasonal basis heretofore.

In preparing a pulp that would not spoil, Wilson and his pupils first ground the vegetable, next added hydrate lime, and then pressed out 70 to 85 per cent of the soluble portion including water, fermenting sugar, and salts. The product then was dried.

Dehydration has been in the experimental stage for some time, Richee said, but the Wilson method seemed to offer great improvement in the efficacy of its press.

The successful test proved a fitting climax to Laurel's "Chemurgic Appreciation day," celebration of which was in progress while the tests were being run.

Officials and delegates of the National Farm Chemurgic conference, which completed its annual meeting in Jackson last night, visited the city and its chemurgic plants during the day, and all this area turned out tonight for the coronation of Miss Chemurgy in the outstanding social event of Laurel's month-long chemurgic trek.

Wheeler McMillen, president of the National Chemurgic council, delivered an address at noon in which he declared Mississippi "could be the richest portion of the world if she would utilize her available elements."

RUSTON CHURCH MAY BE FIRST UNDER NEW ORDER

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(AP)—Rev. Guy M. Hicks, pastor, said the new Methodist church to be dedicated here tomorrow may be the first in the United States to be accepted under the new order of service resulting from unification of the three branches of Methodism.

Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Tex., will officiate at the dedication.

Rev. Hicks said that the ritual by which the church will be dedicated is expected to be finally approved at the approaching Methodist unification meeting in Kansas City, Mo.

"Bishop Smith has a prospectus of the new service," said the pastor, "and he will use the copy in the dedication ceremonies.

"Since the new ritual has not been printed for general distribution, we will be the first in Louisiana and probably the first in the nation to use the new service, which is longer and differs from the former service."

The ceremony will change the name of the local church from "Trinity Methodist Church, South" to "Trinity Methodist church."

The new building, erected for $92,600, is the church's third. The first was built in 1884. The present membership is more than 1,200.

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—Searchers dragged Lake Ferguson, an arm of the Mississippi river, today for Mrs. George Eubanks, 35, wife of a produce dealer here, who has been missing from her home since yesterday morning. She had been in ill health for several years.

FIRST GOVERNOR CANDIDATE FILES

JACKSON, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—Lester Franklin of Jackson today became the Magnolia state's first full-fledged candidate for a gubernatorial nomination, filing his $100 candidacy fee with the state Democratic executive committee and taking the corrupt practices act oath in the office of the secretary of state.

M. W. Gantt, of Meridian, has taken the oath but has yet to file with the party for a place on the August 8 primary ballot.

This campaign will be Franklin's third. He failed in attempts to obtain the Democratic nomination in the last two races.

Also filing a fee today with Louis J. Wise, secretary of the Democratic committee, was T. J. Lowry, of Houston, candidate for highway commissioner, northern district.

DR. PRINCE TO ASSUME DUTIES

Will Take Over Pastorate Of West Monroe Baptist Church At Rites Today

Dr. A. E. Prince will assume his duties as pastor of the First Baptist church in West Monroe with the morning service today, having removed to the Twin Cities with his family from Pineville, where he recently resigned as pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. Prince is regarded as an important addition to the ranks of the clergy in the Twin Cities, having held numerous important pastorates in the south where he is said to have performed a highly constructive work for his denomination.

He was graduated from Howard-Payne college in Brownwood, Tex., from the LaGrange School of Theology and also received the degree of doctor of divinity from Ewing college in Illinois. His pastorates have been in Illinois, Missouri, Texas and Louisiana. Among the number was that of pastor of the First Baptist church in Marion, Ill., the largest church of the Southern Baptist denomination in that state. He also was pastor of the First Baptist church in LaGrange, Mo.; of the First Baptist church in Brownwood, Tex., and pastor of the First Baptist church in Pineville, La., where he recently completed five years of service.

In his extended career, Dr. Prince has filled many denominational offices. Among these was that of executive secretary of the executive board of the Illinois Southern Baptist convention for seven years. He was president of the board of trustees of Ewing college for seven years and was offered the presidency of the same college in 1926 but declined the honor. He also was named secretary of the Illinois State Sunday school and Baptist Young People's association but declined to serve because he preferred to remain in pastoral work.

He was a member of the executive board of the Texas Baptist convention for seven years; a member of the board of trustees of Howard-Payne college for seven years and at the present time is president of the executive board of the Louisiana Baptist convention.

He has been serving for several years and up to the present time has served as member of the board of trustees of the Louisiana Baptist hospital at Alexandria. In accepting the call to West Monroe, he found it necessary the past week to resign as chaplain of three institutions in Rapides parish, that of chaplain of the United States Veterans' hospital, chaplain of the state industrial school for girls, and also as chaplain at the Central Louisiana State hospital.

In connection with his pastorate at Pineville, Dr. Prince founded a radio Sunday school class which he conducted every Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock over the Alexandria radio station KALB. The standard Sunday school lesson was discussed for the benefit of all church denominations. This work of course he was forced to relinquish, but he initiated a similar class which he will conduct in Monroe over KMLB each Saturday at 9 a.m. His first Sunday school lesson broadcast was given here yesterday morning and the public is invited to tune in every Saturday morning at the same hour for a half-hour period.

Dr. Prince is an evangelist who has conducted successful services in many southern states. He also is author of several religious books and tracts.

MAKING OF MAPS FAST BUSINESS

Names And Outlines Of Nations Change With Dizzy Rapidity

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Dr. Samuel Whittemore Boggs' head is whirling, but it's surely no fault of his.

Dr. Boggs is the geographer of the state department and has been for 15 years.

And never in his useful tenure at the department has he seen so much hash made of geography as in the last year.

Those who practice it say that cartography (map-making) is a very dignified science. Or that it was, until the last year when trying to follow the cavortings of boundaries became a new form of acrobatics.

Look at what has happened to the world's physiognomy since March, 1938:

Austria became German.

So did the Sudetenland.

And Bohemia and Moravia.

Slovakia became "independent."

Poland added Teschen, taken from Czecho-Slovakia.

Hungary annexed Ruthenia.

Germany took Memel.

Japan moved farther into China.

And took Hainan, large island off Indo-China.

Also the Spratly islands, 600 miles from the Philippines.

Even the United States added a complication by sticking out claims to Canton and Enderbury islands in the Pacific.

Not since the World war has there been such a geographical goulash.

And there may be more ingredients to be [illegible] the mixture very soon.

"We have had a steady flow of new maps," said Dr. Boggs [illegible] "They [illegible] The [illegible] tries which [illegible] territory are naturally [illegible] it on their maps. [illegible] Czecho-Slovakia [illegible] seem [illegible] to admit it cartographically."

He [illegible] a new map just arrived from Germany where the mapmaker, probably fed up [illegible] with bounding boundaries [illegible] blotted out names with red ink and printed new names in [illegible].

Dr. Boggs [illegible] changes.

Death Of O. W. Wanless Not Attributed To Two-Year-Old Gunshot Wound

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)—Funeral services were held here at 3:30 p.m. Saturday for O. W. Wanless, 63, Ruston filling station operator, who narrowly missed dying when he was shot in the abdomen in December, 1936. Death was not due to the gunshot wound, however, but was attributed by physicians to pancreas trouble, a disorder for which Mr. Wanless had undergone an operation last Monday night. He died at the Ruston-Lincoln sanitarium at 7 p.m. Friday.

Services were conducted at the Ruston Methodist church, with the pastor, Rev. Guy M. Hicks, officiating. Pallbearers were Howard Liner, Ned Causey, Sheriff Bryan Thigpen, Robert Tanner, Neilly Goins, J. C. Berry and C. G. Ruple. Burial was in the Greenwood cemetery here, under direction of the B. F. McClure company.

Mr. Wanless, more than two years ago, was shot by Ross McCorkle, then 18, of Ruston, who is serving a sentence of from 6 to 20 years in the Louisiana penitentiary, having been convicted of shooting with intent to murder, according to Sheriff Thigpen. Though arrested immediately after the shooting, McCorkle waited a week to confess that he shot Mr. Wanless. He declared that Wanless had "been hounding me about 20 cents that I owed him and I decided to march him down the road and give him a good talking to." McCorkle maintained that "the gun accidentally went off" when Wanless turned around as he was walking him along a street from his filling station after night.

The shot required the removal of about eight inches of Wanless' intestines.

When the operation for the pancreas disorder was performed last Monday night attending physicians observed that the gunshot wound "had healed perfectly," it was reported.

CHAIRMANSHIP GIVEN DR. RIZZO

Local Physician Named In Early Diagnosis Tuberculosis Work

The Ouachita Public Health and Tuberculosis association announced Saturday that Dr. F. P. Rizzo has been named Ouachita parish chairman of its early diagnosis campaign which is being conducted nation-wide during the month of April. The state chairman is Dr. Sidney Jacobs, New Orleans.

This year will mark the 12th annual campaign of all units of the tuberculosis associations in this particular activity. Early diagnosis stresses the need for protecting young people in whom the health of the nation in time to come is centered to large degree.

With radio addresses and public health talks in schools and before civic clubs, the early diagnosis campaign will be carried on in an effort to make the public tuberculosis conscious and to consult physicians at the very outset when symptoms of dangerous nature are apparent.

The Secret Treaties Again

If there is a showdown this spring between France and Italy, as seems likely, it will be well for every American to remember that Italian dissatisfaction with its share of the spoils of Versailles goes back even farther than 1919.

It goes back to the secret treaties of 1915 and 1916 by which the allies (chiefly France and England) made certain promises to Italy in the event of victory.

At the outbreak of the World war, remember, Italy was allied with Germany, as now. But she had little heart for the war, and hesitated. By making promises of a slice of territory here and a concession there, the allies were able to beguile Italy from the Germans and win her as an ally.

The more specific of these promises, involving South Tyrol, Trieste, Trentino, Istria and Dalmatia, and the whole "sphere of influence" of the Mediterranean area, were included in secret arrangements between Britain, France and Italy long before the United States entered the war. The question of just how much Woodrow Wilson knew of these secret treaties before the United States went in, is an historical riddle, not yet completely unraveled.

But certainly the people of the United States in general knew nothing of the deals by which the loot of the war was already divided up among the victors years before they were sure they were going to be victors. The American people have never felt as heavy a responsibility for the peace of Versailles as others, but for these secret arrangements which preceded the war, they have none whatever.

The controversies between France and Italy over Suez, slices of north Africa, and Mediterranean islands, go back to a time long before the United States ever dreamed of entering the World war.

Italy maintained at the peace conference and has maintained steadily since, that the allies failed to pay the agreed price. Italians have insisted that they were promised certain parts of the loot which they never received. And that is what they are still shouting for today when Mussolini grimaces and screams at France.

Thus the question of whether Italy or France governs the unwilling natives of Tunisia is distinctly no headache for the United States, 4,500 miles away.

SCIENCE SHOUTS

Science has been speaking for some time, but with the announcement that a new process has been developed to make a tough beefsteak tender, it shouts. This is one time that science has said a mouthful.

This process consists of hanging the meat in temperatures higher than are usually used, and killing off the resulting bacteria with ultra-violet radiations. Every grade of beef, it is believed, can be raised approximately one full grade in palatability.

A good many of the developments of science, while they benefit the average man indirectly, are too remote for him to see just where they come in. But this one, getting right down to the evening dinner table, will cause a swelling chorus from 40,000,000 dinner tables: "Good old science!"

Three years of research by the Mellon institute went into this discovery. Maybe, after many years, Andrew Mellon will be remembered not as the greatest secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton, but as the man who took the beefs out of beefsteak.

CONTROLLED HUMOR?

From the American Federation of Actors comes a ban on jokes about WPA workers leaning on their shovels and killing time. It seems that such humor is regarded by the federation as nothing but unfair misrepresentation.

Many people will feel, however, that this is an excessively serious and long-faced view of the matter. There have been many relief abuses. Then why not poke fun at them in accordance with the good old American custom of laughing things off?

But aside from that, the federation action smacks too much of controlled humor, like that now being employed in Berlin under the guidance of Herr Goebbels.

Can't we at least retain freedom in the land of smiles? Is outside interference going to deny us this last realm of jocular liberty?

FOOTBALL DE-EMPHASIS

Resignation of Jock Sutherland as head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh is cited as another indication of the trend toward de-emphasizing the gridiron game. Pitt has apparently decided to put football in its place and keep it there.

This is in no sense a reflection on Coach Sutherland, who, over a period of years, directed the Pitt teams with an effectiveness that brought a lion's share of triumphant achievement.

However, it will probably be a good thing for higher education generally to soft-pedal the popular fall sport and strip it of over-emphasis and commercialization.

Colleges, after all, should be primarily regarded as educational institutions, not as blatant centers of gladiatorial combat on the grandiose scale.

Arkansas legislators will allow bull fights in the state if the matador doesn't use a weapon. Listen, fellows, there's only one Ferdinand.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of five special columns by Bruce Catton, Monroe Morning World-NEA Service correspondent in Washington, telling, for the first time, just what United States foreign policy is today—and why.

WASHINGTON—What American foreign policy is depends in the long run on public opinion. Neither presidents nor secretaries of state really make foreign policy. Any time the American public refuses to go along with them it can cancel statesmen's profoundest plans—as Woodrow Wilson learned after the World war.

So no discussion of American foreign policy today means much unless the things that have been happening to public opinion at home in the last few months are taken into account.

Basically, of course, the American people's idea on foreign policy is beautifully simple: they want peace with justice and prosperity with security.

The administration today is committed to the thesis that this goal can be reached by positive action only. It has turned its back on isolationism and has undertaken to cooperate with democracies to restrain dictatorships. It believes the country at large will support it in this regard.

Looking At The Record

Look at the sequence of events since the first of the year.

1. On January 4 President Roosevelt told congress that "no nation can be safe in its will to peace so long as any other single powerful nation refuses to settle its grievances at the council table." He urged that America use "methods short of war" to restrain such nations.

2. Three weeks later Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles made a speech before the New York Bar association in which he sought further to mobilize public opinion. He said that since the World war we have been witnessing "a progressive and ever more rapid deterioration" in international relation: multiplication of trade barriers, massacre of women and children in air raids, terrific new arms race, decline in sanctity of treaties, constant threat of violence. In sheer self-defense, he said, America must work actively for world conditions which would make such things impossible.

3. Less than a fortnight later a military plane crashed in California, and the public learned the government was enabling the French to buy brand new American fighting planes which had been designed for United States army purchase.

4. Before that news was stale, the American fleet was conducting maneuvers in the Atlantic and the Caribbean—maneuvers admittedly designed to test America's ability to keep invaders out of Latin America, and tacitly understood to be a warning to Germany and Italy that they had best stay out of the new world.

5. On the heels of that a Gallup poll revealed 69 per cent of the American people favored helping France and England by every means short of war, in case France and England should be attacked by Germany and Italy.

6. Then, addressing the 150th celebration of congress, President Roosevelt declared that "with many other democracies the United States will give no encouragement to the belief that our processes are outworn or that we will approvingly watch the return of forms of government which for 2,000 years have proved their tyrant and their instability."

7. Shortly after that Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, introduced (with administration approval) a bill under which South American governments could buy warships built in United States navy yards.

Then came Hitler's occupation of Czecho-Slovakia.

8. Acting with the approval of President Roosevelt, Undersecretary Welles (Secretary Hull being absent) issued a statement condemning Germany as having acted with "wanton lawlessness" and implying that America looked on the extinguishment of Czecho-Slovakian independence as a temporary thing. Simultaneously, the treasury department slapped a 25 per cent penalty on goods imported from Germany.

9. Three days later the American government sent a formal note of protest to Germany, and Senator Pittman moved to extend and modify the neutrality legislation in such a way as to enable England and France to buy arms and other supplies in America in case they were at war with Germany and Italy.

Add up all this and you get a clear picture of the direction in which the United States is moving in European affairs. There are indications—not yet conclusive—that in the main the public is prepared to follow the lead of the administration.

But People Are Cautious

By the same token, however, the American people are going to be cautious about foreign policy.

One evidence of that caution is our withdrawal from the Philippines. Now that the Philippines are gaining their independence, America has no territory of any consequence to defend west of the Hawaiian islands; the house vote on Guam was a pretty definite sign that the country is satisfied with that fact.

The next few weeks, probably, will tell the tale. There has been a shift in public opinion since Munich—a shift which apparently has been hastened along by recent events in Europe, including the latest Chamberlain speech. How far that shift has gone should become evident in what congress does and in what the country says during the immediate future.

JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 1.—Even more amazing than the amount of swag garnered by the "Phantom of Bel Air," who has confessed to burglarizing some 60 star homes, is the fact that he's the only house-breaker on record who has made the Movie Colony his favorite hunting ground. The majority of our screen stars actually go out of their way to invite the attentions of bandits and second story men.

Time and again, I've seen Hollywood's big-shots make an ostentatious display of jewelry and cash in crowds where I wouldn't care to flaunt a single saw-buck. I've seen glamour girls wear $20,000 or $30,000 worth of diamonds to the Friday night prize fights, and I've seen some of our male zanies flash a roll of big denomination bills, thick enough to choke the proverbial ox, in night spots where some mighty shady characters are always among those present. And then, having thoroughly advertised what lucrative, made-to-order victims they are, they drive home—usually to some secluded mansion blocks removed from the flow of traffic.

Just to make their invitations more tempting, they also sanction the publication—in roto sections and fan magazines—of floor plans of their houses!

It seems to me that such folly—at a time when poverty has driven plenty of men to desperation—is almost great enough to make the stars themselves "accessory before the fact."

Personal observations: Kane Richmond looks slighter than most Hollywood heroes but his handclasp would make a circus strongman say "Ouch!" Catch Joan Crawford unaware, and her expression, almost invariably, is one of meditative melancholy. You'd never question Nancy Kelly's youth—especially after watching her sit in the studio cafe and "make faces" at her friends. Lee Tracy is an habitual chin-stroker. Mention motor boats to Preston Foster—and he immediately starts drawing designs on the table cloth.

Ask any male star to discuss his leading ladies and he freezes like an Alaskan lake in January—ask a stellar lady about her screen lovers and she talks . . . and talks . . . and talks. That old saw about burned children dreading the fire has at least one exception—Dick Arlen is still a sucker for slot machines. The star name most often misspelled is "Margaret Lindsay" —even the local trade papers frequently substitute an "E" for the final "A." Bing Crosby is immune to flattery about his singing, but praise his golf game and he beams like a delighted schoolboy.

Add chewing gum addicts: Carole Lombard—and wouldn't you know it? Summer is not without its hazards for Arleen Whelan—like most red-heads, she burns more often than she tans. There's something demure about Sonja Henie's habit of keeping her eyes fixed on her plate while lunching—and something pertly tantalizing about the covert glances she steals at passers-by. Come to think about it, I've never seen Joy Hodges wear a costume that didn't have her initials embroidered on it, somewhere.

Here's a Hollywood irony deluxe. After trying vainly to crash the movies for more than two years, Ralph Bowman, of Santa Monica, was offered a screen role yesterday—and had to turn it down. Some time ago, he entered the "Gateway to Hollywood" radio contest, the winner of which gets a movie contract and a featured part in a major picture. Ralph won the first lap—and looks like a bet to win the finals. Yesterday, while visiting in the RKO studios, Director Kanin, was enough impressed by his appearance to offer him a minor spot in the new Ginger Rogers opus. Ralph had to refuse: the rules of the contest stipulate that all participants in the finals must be simon-pure amateurs who have never worked professionally on either the stage or the screen.

And—speaking of ironies—consider the case of Barbara Read, who made such an auspicious debut in the first Deanna Durbin picture, "Three Smart Girls." For some reason that I've never been able to understand, Universal dropped her from contract soon after the completion of that picture, and Barbara has been in the doldrums ever since while Deanna and Nan Gray, her team-mates, soared to stardom. The other night, "Three Smart Girls Grow Up," the sequel to that first hit, was previewed—with Helen Parrish in Barbara's original role. Deanna and Nan were cheered by an enthusiastic crowd. Barbara wasn't even invited to the preview.

It's much more caustic than fair, but I like the wisecrack Ozzie Nelson postcarded this morning. "A Hollywood executive," he says, "is a guy whose efforts spelled success—even though he couldn't."

THE GIFT MAGNIFICENT—In recognition of many favors received King Louis XIV of France bestowed upon the rich merchant Antoine de Crozat, as a personal gift, the entire territory of Louisiana, to do with as he willed. It was one of the [illegible] gifts ever bestowed upon a mortal, as the territory [illegible] out of which 12 American states were subsequently carved. But Crozat could not make it pay. Human Side Of The News

In 1866, the [illegible] of the New York hospital were [illegible] at the beginning of [illegible]. [illegible] air was regarded as dangerous, to be excluded whenever possible. [illegible] was the chief item of diet and patients sometimes cooked their own meals on heating stoves in the wards. Carrot poultices were used for cancer treatment. Doctors took blood out of their patients, and [illegible] put blood into them. In [illegible] it cost $[illegible] to light the [illegible] with [illegible] candles, and $2,[illegible] to heat it with wood and coal. In 1936, heat, light and power costs were $197,739.51. Operations were performed without anesthesia.

These facts are gleanings from a fascinating book, "So Near the Gods," published by the Society of the New York Hospital, which, in a history of the 160 years of that institution, epitomizes a bold and sweeping advance in humanitarian medicine and gives new assurance of ultimate triumph in the epic struggle of "Man Against Death," at least untimely death.

This tall, white Maginot line against pain and death, at 525 East Sixty-Eighth street, is one of the greatest hospitals in all the world, obviously not an exhibit in our playtime year of the "City of Tomorrow," but, in its vast organization of medical skills and techniques, it projects us far into a happier and safer tomorrow—as science, its leader and mentor, makes seven-league strides with such new triumphs as the amazing sulfanilamide.

In its backward look, the history of the hospital reveals what a grim backdrop of ignorance and slow and faltering medical progress existed in olden days, and thereby brings into high relief the triumphant achievements of today.

In 1891, the first year the New York hospital was opened to receive patients, a savage epidemic yellow fever swept the Atlantic seaboard. The story is sketched by Sigerist, the medical historian. He had learned little or nothing about protection from plagues in the sweep of three hundred years.

"Mad rumors were afloat as to means of protecting oneself," he wrote. "Women and children went about with huge cigars in their mouths. People chewed garlic all day long, or merely kept some in their pockets or their shoes. In many houses gunpowder, tobacco or [illegible] were constantly kept burning [illegible] was sprinkled at intervals. People did not dare to walk along the walls of houses, but would [illegible] the middle of the street to avoid poisonous exhalations. Regardless of class, the dead were buried [illegible] even the simplest funeral services. Thousands fell victims to the fever."

When Sir William Howe captured New York City, he [illegible] the hospital, then at Broadway and [illegible] street, for a military [illegible]. [illegible] John Jay and Baron Steuben were [illegible] while defending the hospital against a mob of hoodlums. By [illegible] the hospital had become known as one of the world's leading schools of surgery, and from then there was steadily [illegible] today's chronicle of enlightenment and progress. The year 1847 marked the first use of ether as an anesthetic in this hospital, when a leg amputation was performed "with no pain experienced."

It costs approximately $3,880,000 a year to maintain this great hospital. Of this sum, patient fees supply only $2,624,000. The remaining $1,256,000 is met by returns from endowments and by special contributions. In one year when 19,022 bed patients were cared for in the hospital, more than 12,200 paid less than cost, and 1,153 were wholly free. The free and less-than-cost care given to patients amounts to approximately $100,000 a year. Each year the hospital widens and improves facilities for caring for patients of low income, widely extending its social usefulness.

The new hospital, on which construction was started in 1929, is severely modernistic in design, but a structure of great dignity and beauty. We suggest that it is a fitting substitute for the traditional triumphal arch of the conquerors.

PALM SUNDAY WILL BE OBSERVED HERE

Palm Sunday will be appropriately observed in Twin City churches today. Palms will be distributed in St. Matthew's Catholic and in Grace Episcopal churches and special services that will emphasize the day which is a forerunner of Holy Week and of Easter Sunday a week hence will be conducted.

All other churches will have services that will be suited to the day. There will be special services during the coming week in many of the local churches which will lead up to Easter when the usually elaborate services will be held.

GRAND JURY WILL CONVENE MONDAY

The Ouachita parish grand jury will convene Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the courthouse to investigate cases for the spring jury term of court, which will open Monday, May 1. Only eight cases are scheduled for investigation.

Judge David I. Garrett will deliver the charge to the grand jurors.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

[illegible] Charlotte [illegible] a pretty [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and friends. She [illegible] [illegible] entertain[illegible] [illegible] she had ever seen [illegible].

[illegible] mother [illegible] [illegible] Money [illegible] and she expected Charlotte to [illegible]. [illegible] must be made and [illegible] Charlotte [illegible] and she must be [illegible] happy [illegible].

There was a party at the school for the benefit of some [illegible]. Charlotte was to [illegible] a leading part and she wanted a new dress.

"There is no money for a new dress," [illegible] settled [illegible].

"[illegible] I have a [illegible] dress?" [illegible].

"We have no money for extravagances, Charlotte. I expect you to [illegible] when I speak the first time. This is no time for dressing up. Just wear what you have."

Charlotte was rebellious. The tulle overdress would cost very little and Aunt Ella could make it in no time. Mother was unfeeling and unjust and hard. Why not use her own money? Of course mother would not give her permission, but she could take it anyway and perhaps her mother would not find it out. Of course the money was being saved for her future needs, but she wanted a dress right now. She would take the money, get Aunt Ella to make the dress, and keep it all a secret from her mother. She would not be likely to attend the play. And not likely to see Aunt Ella until afterward.

It is never possible to keep a secret from the family. Thoughts leak and mother learned the whole sad story. She was angry, humiliated, hurt at the thought that her daughter would stoop to such deception, plan to deceive her, and she said that Charlotte could not wear the dress, could not go to the play, and would have to tell the people concerned the reason.

Charlotte made a mistake. So did her mother. Charlotte was weak in certain phases of her character. Mother thought that hard discipline would strengthen the girl. And that is not true. Weakness needs a crutch slipped under it, not a heavy load put upon it. Weakness needs to be seen for what it is, and patiently, slowly, kindly treated until it is eradicated by the new and sturdy growth that has been built up in its stead.

Couldn't mother have explained about the need for saving and at the same time have done something to help about that dress? Couldn't she have tried to make the child her partner in the whole situation, sharing all the complex interests involved, with her? Sharing that way strengthens the child. Enlisting her cooperation enlightens and supports her. Discipline without cooperation is about as useless as words without bread.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled "Convalescent Children," in which he tells parents how to help such children to entertain themselves without fatigue. Send for it, addressing your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope.

THEY CALL IT POLITICS

By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—In the long run, appeasement will succeed reprisals as between the country and city blocs in the house of representatives. When the cruel war is over Honest John Taxpayer will be the only sufferer, and it has been a long time since the troubles of Honest John caused any action in Washington—words, promises, yes; action, no.

So the trouble will be straightened out on the good old logrolling principle, "I will vote for you if you will vote for me." When President Roosevelt left Washington for Warm Springs he left the worst looking mess on Capitol Hill that could be imagined. The city boys were insisting on no parity appropriations for the farmers. The farm district congressmen were retaliating by threatening to save on relief.

But each has made his play to his own constituents. There is no use going on with the battle so far as the spectators are concerned. It would get monotonous. Besides, each has to have the votes of the other to get what his own constituents want.

For instance, the city congressman's constituents will be mildly pleased that "our congressman" has voted against what looks to the city dweller like absurd subsidies to the farmer—but a certain percentage of them will be more than [illegible] affected if the relief funds should be substantially cut. This percentage, be it small or large in any particular city district, will regard that cut as the most important [illegible] in the world. If its members think that their congressman's [illegible] in holding out against farm [illegible] is to blame, they might [illegible] against their congressman in the next primary, or election. Which, [illegible], aren't so far off as it seems to the average [illegible]. [illegible], indeed, it [illegible].

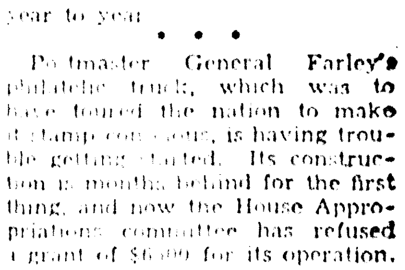
STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein



REPRESENTING 80 subjects, the 1939 wild life poster stamps are now available, either through the state federations or direct from the National Wild Life Federation headquarters, Investment building, Washington, D. C. An album containing both the 1938 and 1939 issues is also available.

Strikingly reproduced in colors, the poster stamps, one of which is shown above, include birds (upland game birds and song and insectivorous species), mammals, fish, trees and wild flowers. The originals are from paintings by eminent American artists. Returns are to be devoted to restoration of wild life over the nation. The series will be continued from year to year.

Postmaster General Farley's philatelic truck, which was to have toured the nation to make it stamp conscious, is having trouble getting started. Its construction is months behind for the first thing, and now the House Appropriations committee has refused a grant of $6,000 for its operation. Philatelists, therefore, are raining protests these days on Edward T. Taylor, Colorado, heading the House committee.

NEGRO HEALTH WEEK OBSERVED

Broadcasts And Talks To Emphasize Need To Improve Conditions

The month of April has been set aside by the United States Public Health service, Washington, D. C., as the 25th observance of the improvement of negro health. The week of April 2-9 will be observed throughout the country as "Negro Health week." Elsie Johnson, negro assistant supervisor in Ouachita parish, will give a talk and read the president's proclamation over KMLB today at 1:30 p.m.

Throughout the week there will be talks given at negro schools of the parish in behalf of negro health. The objective for 1939 is given as: "The Citizen's Responsibility for Community Health."

The national health week is described as a period for emphasis and demonstration. The national negro health movement, a year-round service, is called a clearing house for the dissemination of health information to groups and agencies, white and colored, interested in conditions unfavorably affecting the negro. The work of the United States Public Health service in quarantine, research and educational activities is directed as a national service for the protection and conservation of the health of all the people of the nation.

Closely allied with improved health for negroes is the war that is being waged on illiteracy.

Writing in a recent issue of the "Louisiana Colored Teachers' Journal," Elsie Johnson has the following to say: "A new day is dawning in Ouachita parish. Men and women are being lifted from the dark stage of illiteracy to a brighter and more promising stage. Although 1,583 illiterates and near-illiterate students are enrolled in adult classes, Parish Superintendent T. O. Brown, Mrs. Kate B. Wilkins and the 68 parish teachers will not be satisfied until all negro men and women have become 100 per cent literate in this parish."

The statement is made that before last Christmas there were between 1,600 and 1,700 illiterate negroes in Ouachita parish. Since then 1,657 have been taught to read and write, under the direction of 68 teachers in the parish and city. The project is supervised by the WPA but teachers are paid by the parish school board.

CHILD WELFARE IS TO BE DISCUSSED

The L. B. Faulk American Legion post and its auxiliary will conduct the annual child welfare meeting at the memorial Legion home in Forsythe park Monday at 8 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to devise ways and means for conducting an [illegible] campaign, first for the eradication of congenital syphilis through prenatal care and second, for the additional protection of child health through immunization and vaccination. Speakers on the program will be Dr. Douglas Williams, parish health unit director, and Dr. W. L. [illegible].

At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served by the auxiliary and the Forty and Eight.

modern furniture and house-furnishing stores in the entire country. All of the energies of the architects and designers were toward creating a furniture store "as modern as tomorrow" and at the same time creating an atmosphere of simplicity and comfort, it was said.

The building will be air-conditioned and will contain many modern features. The lighting will be arranged so as to afford the best possible illumination for customers who are inspecting the merchandise, as well as to protect the eyes of the employes, it was announced. There will be six display windows, with a large revolving window on the corner of the building, thus enabling shoppers to inspect more merchandise. Lockers and dressing rooms will be provided for employes.

"Monroe and its trade area have been kind to the Monroe Furniture company during its business life of over forty years," Mrs. Kaplan said, "and we are certain that the new store will be particularly welcomed by the many friends and thousands of customers, the majority of whom are women."

"The ideas of our entire executive personnel are embodied in the new store," Mr. Isaacman said, "and when completed will go a long way toward making shopping for furniture and other household items a pleasure. All engaged in the business are vitally concerned and have given much thought to the finished results, and each and every one concerned are in thorough agreement that the fine new home we are creating for our Monroe operations will be welcomed by the shoppers of Monroe's wide trade area. Mrs. Kaplan, with her fine sense of what pleases women most, has been a great inspiration to all the men engaged in bringing the finished details together."

The building will be completed in slightly more than four months, it was announced.

Mr. Isaacman said that none but local, union skilled labor shall be employed on the job. All labor on the project shall be performed under the sanction and in strict compliance with all rules, regulations and by-laws of union labor organizations whose members are directly or indirectly employed, he said.

Mr. Isaacman and Mrs. Kaplan head a group of associated furniture stores located in Louisiana and Mississippi, with Monroe the headquarters.

Another affiliate, the Supreme Bedding and Furniture Manufacturing company, which is the manufacturing plant associated with the group, is located here. The factory manufactures and ships upholstered furniture and bedding to the foremost furniture and department stores in the south and east. Just a week ago two carloads were shipped to Morgan's, of Boston, Mass., one of the largest retail furniture stores in the industrial east.

The architect's drawing of the front of the Monroe Furniture company's new building is shown above. Construction of the new building will start Monday or Tuesday, it was announced yesterday.

BAND FESTIVAL HELD AT RUSTON

Approximately 700 Musicians From 17 North Louisiana High Schools Participate

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)—Music was in the air here today as approximately 700 musicians, representing 17 north Louisiana high schools, participated in the first district band festival ever sponsored at Ruston by the North Louisiana Rally association and the Louisiana Music Educators' association. The festival was under the direction of the music department at Louisiana Tech, headed by LaVerne E. Irvine.

Silver loving cups and $5 in cash, compliments of the L. M. E. A. and the Ruston Chamber of Commerce, were presented to each of the bands. Louisiana Tech awarded medals to each individual musician.

In compliance with the rules of the L. M. E. A. regarding district festivals, no winners were chosen by the judges. A written, detailed criticism of each band's performance, prepared by the festival officials, will be mailed at once to each band director, it has been announced.

As a climax to the day's activities, a parade of all 17 bands through the streets of Ruston was staged. The line of march ended at Tech, where the gifts were presented.

The official judges were Howard C. Voorhies, director of the band at Lafayette, and James Purdy, director of the Natchitoches High school band and member of the Normal faculty.

Assisting Mr. Irvine in directing the festival were J. A. Smith, director of the Tech band, and Harvey Nelson, director of the Ruston High school band.

Schools represented were: Calhoun, Louisiana Training institute of Monroe, Barkdull Faulk Elementary school of Monroe, St. Matthew's Parochial school of Monroe, the Georgia Tucker school of Monroe, Arcadia, Winnsboro, Many, Mooringsport, Jonesboro-Hodge, Bossier City, Homer, Haynesville, Ruston, Neville and Ouachita of Monroe.

METHODIST PREACHER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

HOUSTON, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—The Rev. Thomas Wiley Lewis, 79, a Methodist minister for 60 years, died here today of pneumonia. At the time of his death, he was pastor of the Calhoun City Methodist church. Houston was his birthplace.

He had held many pastorates including four in Memphis, one at Jackson, Tenn., and another at Paducah, Ky. He had served at Greenwood, Carrollton, Grenada, Corinth and Tupelo, Miss.

Survivors include his widow, a son, T. W. Lewis of Columbus, Miss., and two brothers, the Rev. R. E. Lewis of Durant, Miss., and Dixie Lewis of Chattanooga. Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Sunday at Calhoun City. Burial will be in a Memphis cemetery.

LOGGERS TO MEET

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—The Southern Pine Loggers association for the district comprising Mississippi, east Louisiana and north Alabama will meet in Natchez, Miss., April 13-14.

NASHVILLE DEFEATS MONROE BY 16-9 SCORE

Monroe Will Play Philadelphia Americans Wednesday

Sports Chatter

By GEORGE V. LOFTON

GUEST COLUMNIST

Freddie Russell, sports editor of the Nashville Banner, departs with the Vols Monday for home. Freddie has been here more than a month, and has made many friends in Monroe who will regret to see him go.

And so it's appropriate that Freddie act as guest columnist today as he prepares to depart for home. Here's his contribution:

"The Vol entourage departs from Monroe Monday with memories of one of the most pleasant stays possible . . . All the necessary ingredients for enjoyment were present and voting loud and often . . . Pluperfect weather, hospitality with a personal touch, wonderful food . . . A vote of the ball players who have been with Nashville the past five or six years would show a decided preference for Monroe as a training spot . . . Ball players are hard to please and not one complaint has been heard this spring . . . Take that back, there was too much gravy on one steak a week ago Tuesday.

"The Nashville [illegible] to have started off [illegible] Getting Larry Gilbert [illegible] and then Larry [illegible] Monroe as the place for [illegible] . . . He has been training [illegible] at Room 316 [illegible] Bud A[illegible] ler, Elmer Met[illegible], [illegible] Taitt and other athletes have been running through a few plays daily.

"It is rumored that while the Cotton States league has adopted the Goldsmith ball this year since the visit of the Vols Mr. Taitt is seeking special permission for the White Sox to change to a certain type of recovered ball . . . 'Quite unexpectedly, I find that we have a few dozen on hand now, so we might as well find some use for them,' Taitt said . . . FIRST TEAM HERE

For exhibition purposes Connie Mack has formed his Philadelphia Athletics into two teams. One is designated "Team A," and the other "Team B." A squad tagged "A" of course [illegible] means the first team and "B" the second. But Mr. Mack says that [illegible] with the Athletics [illegible] He [illegible] to have split the strength [illegible] as possible.

SAILOR WATKINS TO MEET CURTIS AT LOCAL ARENA

Former Navy Champion And Vicksburg Adonis Carded For Main Event

After sending a dozen-odd telegrams about the country and making several long distance telephone calls in an effort to contract an opponent measuring up to the caliber of Jack Curtis, young Vicksburg, Miss., wrestler, Promoter Gus Kallio announced last night that he scheduled Sailor Watkins of Amarillo, Tex., former navy champion, to meet Curtis in the main event of the weekly mat program next Wednesday night at the Monroe wrestling arena, 310 Walnut street.

Sailor Watkins held the middleweight wrestling championship of the navy for three consecutive years. Taking up wrestling as a profession following his discharge from the navy he gained weight and now is a light heavyweight with an impressive record.

LIONS ENTERED IN BOLTON MEET

Sixth Annual Track Event To Be Held At Alexandria Next Saturday

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 1.—(Special)—Leading high school track and field teams from all parts of Louisiana are expected here next Saturday to participate in the sixth annual Bolton High school invitational track and field meet, according to an announcement by W. D. Allen, director of athletics at Bolton.

Fortier High school of New Orleans, defending champion, will send a full team to battle to retain the title. Other schools expected to send full teams are Ouachita of Monroe, Byrd of Shreveport, Istrouma of Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Lafayette, Crowley, Minden and Rayville.

At least 20 more schools are expected to enter, Coach Allen stated. Invitations were sent to over 100 schools.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded first, second and third place winners in each event. Trophies will be awarded the team compiling the most points in relay events and the team scoring most points in all events. Bolton will not compete for the team trophy.

MINNESOTA NINE TRIMS TULANE, 4-2

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—The University of Minnesota nine trimmed Tulane today, 4 to 2, to even the two-game series.

Walter Blessey pitched hitless ball for Tulane for four innings, held the Gophers scoreless on two hits in the fifth, and then weakened badly in the sixth, allowing Minnesota all its runs in that frame.

The Greenies scored their two tallies in the fourth inning, when Ed Dvorak gave a walk to Walter Blessey and a triple to his brother Sid Blessey. The latter scored on Tiedeman's grounder.

Score by innings:

Minnesota	000 004 000	4	6	0

L. S. U. GOLF TEAM TROUNCES TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—Louisiana State university's crack golf team defeated the Tulane squad 12 to 6 today.

Henry Castillo gained a 2-1 decision over Vincent D'Antoni, and Bert McDowell downed Maurice Picheloup 3-0, for L. S. U. Harry Deas of Tulane trimmed Lee Ramsell, 2-1. Warren Renfrow of L. S. U. and Jack Daray of Tulane split, 1 1-2 to 1 1-2.

Castillo and Ramsell nipped D'Antoni and Deas 2-1 in the No. 1 doubles competition. McDowell and Renfrow defeated Picheloup and Daray, 2 1-2 to 1-2.

Castillo played the best golf, chalking up a one over par 37 on each side for a 74.

LILLARD SEEN AS BIG HURLING HELP FOR CUBS

Pitcher By Accident Tosses Impressive Game Against White Sox

By Tom Siler

CHICAGO, April 1.—(AP)—Robert Eugene Lillard, a third baseman turned pitcher by accident, is responsible for the latest upward surge of the Chicago Cubs' National league pennant stock.

Lillard, a 2[illegible]-year-old righthander, has been pitching well in short gaps in grapefruit competition. But yesterday he served notice on Manager Gabby Hartnett he was ready to go in the big time.

A [illegible] only the past two years, Lillard yielded the Chicago White Sox four singles at Yuma, Ariz., yesterday, blanked them, 2-0, [illegible] allowed none to reach [illegible] He was the first [illegible] full game.

Lillard was [illegible] Third Baseman [illegible] Hack with the Cubs [illegible] the 193[illegible] season when he got his [illegible]

[illegible] Hack was [illegible] I [illegible] from [illegible] Roy Johnson had been pitching for batting practice every day [illegible] was dead.

Charley Grimm, then the manager, wanted somebody else to pitch to the [illegible] I figured it would give me some exercise at least, so I went out there although I knew nothing about pitching.

"I just stood on the mound and started throwing as hard as I could. The [illegible] moaned a little about it [illegible] there I was starting out to be a pitcher."

Grimm saw possibilities in Lillard as a pitcher and sent him to San Francisco [illegible] the Pacific Coast league in 193[illegible]. He won 14 and lost 10 games. Last year, pitching for Los Angeles in the same loop, he won 16 and lost 10.

Hartnett has been "high" on the rookie ever since spring training began. Lillard figures to rate a starting berth if he maintains the form he has shown thus far.

After watching Lillard again this spring, Grimm, now a radio broadcaster, said the rookie needs "to learn to let up a little more in the easy spots and save his best stuff when he'll need it."

"Then he'll be a helluva pitcher," Grimm concluded.

BENEFIT SLATED FOR PAL MORAN

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—"Lefty" Lew Tendler, old Philadelphia lightweight, climbed to fame and fortune over Pal Moran of this city.

The pair fought three times. The first bout, a 10-rounder, was a draw at Philadelphia. In the second go-round Pal decisioned Lew and won a match with Charley White of Chicago. The New Orleanian polished off the Chicagoan in 14 rounds at Madison Square Garden.

Lew trimmed Pal the third time they met over 15 rounds. He almost tore Pal's nose off in the 12th with an uppercut. The victory boosted the Philadelphia southpaw into a $125,000 purse and a fight with the titleholder, Benny Leonard. Benny won.

Lew became a successful businessman in Philadelphia and Miami Beach. Pal? A few weeks ago he was a messenger at the Fair Grounds race track here. Then he went down with tuberculosis, dangerously ill.

His friends are putting on a benefit fight program for him here April 10. Lew will referee the bouts.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT SCHEDULED AT TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—The fourth annual interscholastic tennis tournament will open at Tulane university's courts here April 12 and continue through April 15, said an announcement today by the university.

The tournament is open to all preparatory and high schools of the south, the announcement said, but entries will be limited to four players from each institution.

Both singles and doubles competition will be held and Professor Frederick H. Fox, tournament chairman, said entries will close Monday, April 10.

Billy McGehee of Fortier High school, New Orleans, won the singles championship last year and teamed with Earl Bartlett, a schoolmate, to capture the doubles title.

GIANTS, INDIANS TO TANGLE HERE ON APRIL 10TH

White Sox To Play Aces Of Evangeline League In Alexandria Saturday

Baseball big leaguers will be presented in Monroe in the next eight days, the visiting clubs of note being the Philadelphia Athletics, the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia A's invade Monroe next Wednesday for an exhibition engagement with the Monroe White Sox at 3 p.m. in Casino park.

Then on April 10, an all-major-league game will take place in Casino park between Bill Terry's Giants and Oscar Vitt's Cleveland Indians.

Some of baseball's outstanding notables are expected here, although neither the Athletics, the Giants or the Tribesmen have announced the roster of players that will come here.

However, such baseball headliners as Johnny Allen, Bob Feller, Mel Harder, Hal Trosky and Earl Averill of Cleveland, Lou [illegible] of Philadelphia and [illegible] Carl Hubbell, Bill Jurges, Alex Kampouris, Burgess Whitehead and Mel Ott of the Giants are all expected here.

In addition to the big leaguers' exhibitions the Monroe White Sox, who are meeting Nashville this afternoon at Casino park, will go to Alexandria next Saturday for an exhibition game with the Alexandria Aces of the Evangeline league. The Aces will be in Monroe for a return game with the Sox [illegible]

Radio Gold, closing at 15-1, paid $6.30 and $3.80 while Torch Stick, closing at 10-1, paid $2.50.

CAMBRIDGE CREW DEFEATS OXFORD

Light Blues Row Opponents Into State Of Collapse On Thames

LONDON, April 1.—(AP)—A makeshift Cambridge crew that had been scorned and ridiculed by the experts rowed Oxford into a state of collapse today on the Thames to win the 91st boat race by four lengths in 19 minutes 3 seconds.

After the first 100 yards it was a procession. Cambridge bounded ahead with a magnificent sprint at the start, put clear daylight between the shells in the first half-mile of the four and a quarter-mile course, and almost disappeared in the fog at the finish.

Around half a million people saw the race, which was Cambridge's first victory since 1936 and its 48th in the series.

Obviously upset by Cambridge's lightning start, Oxford never got within two lengths of the light Blues after the first mile. At the finish only their 71-pound coxswain, Hart Massey, was able to hold his head up. Little Massey, son of the Canadian high commissioner to London and nephew of Actor Raymond Massey, could be seen from the launches ringing his electric buzzer system to urge the Oxfords on but nobody answered.

Meanwhile, Cambridge, churning through the water with powerful if unorthodox short strokes, finished fresh. At the end, their American No. 5, Hugh Parker, from Boston, remarked:

"If we had been pressed I'm sure we could have given a lot more.

"We practiced starts diligently for a week before coming to Tideway and decided to try and outsprint Oxford from the start. The only thing we didn't expect was that we would get such a long lead in the first two miles. After that we practically paddled."

A recent survey disclosed 11,159 aircraft and 22,983 pilots in this country. At the same time there were 221 gliders and 172 glider pilots.

WIN STATE TITLES

Earl Bartlett of New Orleans and Tom Nixon, who entered the junior singles finals with victories in semi-final matches yesterday, will meet Sunday in the junior finals match.

MRS. PAGE WINS NORTH AND SOUTH

Captures Golf Tourney By Beating Dorothy Kirby Three And One

PINEHURST, N. C., April 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Chapel Hill, N. C., housewife, annexed the 37th North and South Women's golf championship today with a 3-and-1 victory over young Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Page, 1937 national champion, played brilliantly in every round of the tournament, after setting the pace in the qualifying round with a 74, women's par. She equalled or bettered par in each subsequent round.

In the semi-finals she won on the 14th hole from Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., and played to bye holes for a 68.

Mrs. Page was 2-up at the half-way mark of today's match. Showers fell while the remaining holes were played.

The finish came at the long 17th when Mrs. Page hit a grand drive and wooden club second to the green, putted within six inches of the hole for a birdie four. Miss Kirby, bunkered in two, was over the green in three. The match was lost as she played a chip shot past the hole.

GREER NEARLY EQUALS MARK IN TEXAS RELAYS

By Felix R. McKnight

AUSTIN, April 1.—(AP)—Baldish Wilbur Greer of Michigan State tore into a brisk cross wind on a 100-yard sprint today that left him flirting with a world record in the feature of the Texas relays, kickoff of the national outdoor track season.

The squat sprinter, pushed by Freddie Wolcott of Rice institute, scrambled to the tape in 9.5 seconds, one tenth of a second off the world record and the Texas relays most prized mark.

Wind blew directly across the track. Greer got away ahead of Wolcott, who seemed to falter at the start, and stayed there. His fine dash fell one-tenth of a second short of the accepted relays mark of 9.4 set in a memorable dead heat finish in 1935 between Ray Neugass of Tulane and Harvey Wallender of Texas.

Wolcott failed in his effort at attacking his own 120-yard high hurdle mark of 13.9 seconds, set last year with a kind wind at his back, sliding over the timbers today in a respectable 14.1 seconds to win by two full strides. The same cross wind prevailed on his hurdle excursion.

Records tumbled all over the place, six university and junior college marks going by the boards while the schoolboys toppled one and equaled another.

Climax event of the day, the mile relay, brought 8,000 fans up screaming as Louisiana State, Anchor Man Frank Church kicking in with an amazing burst, edged out Oklahoma A. and M. and Rice institute. The 3:18.5 time was only four-tenths of a second higher than a relays mark established back in 1929 by the University of Chicago.

New records were made in the shot-put, university 440-yard relay, junior college mile relay, junior college 440-yard relay, university sprint medley and the broad jump. The high schoolers kicked over their old shotput mark and equaled the 100-yard dash.

Beefy Elmer Hackney of Kansas State, national intercollegiate shotput champion, made the best heave of his competitive career, 52 feet 5¼ inches, to smash the old mark held by Sam Francis, former Nebraska fullback, at 51 feet 11¼ inches.

Two fine junior college performances in the relay events stood out. The University of Texas freshmen, anchored by Lonnie Hill, who warmed up with an outstanding 9.6 sprint in the 100 yards, cracked the national junior college record for the quarter-mile relay with its mark of 42.1 seconds. Pasadena Junior college holds the accepted national mark at 42.4 seconds.

VOLS TO BATTLE WHITE SOX AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON

Cotton States Champs Aid Foes With Poor Playing In Two Innings

April Fool's day was appropriately celebrated by the Nashville Volunteers and the Monroe White Sox in an exhibition baseball game that resulted in a 16 to 9 victory for the Vols here yesterday afternoon.

Along in the seventh inning, after the fans had witnessed six frames of good baseball, the Southern associationers turned the battle into an April Fooler's joke and got plenty of assistance from the Sox.

Monroe was leading 6 to 4 going into the seventh, but Manager Larry Gilbert's Vols trotted seven runs across the plate in that frame and followed with five more in the ninth. The Sox managed three more tallies in the final inning.

Errors and passed balls contributed to the White Sox defeat.

The lead changed hands three times

PLAY AGAIN TODAY

The Monroe White Sox and Nashville Volunteers will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Casino park in the second and final game of their exhibition series.

Manager Larry Gilbert, pilot of the Nashville club, announced last night that Ray Starr and Ace Adams, the Vols' ace hurlers, would be used against the White Sox today.

Manager Doug Taitt said Tex Nugent, member of the Monroe pitching staff last season, would start on the mound for the locals, but he was undecided on a relief hurler.

The game will mark the close of the Vols' exhibition schedule in Monroe, and the Southern association club will break its training camp here tomorrow and depart on an exhibition tour through the Southeastern league before returning to Nashville for the season opener on April 14.

BULLDOGS SCORE FOURTEEN RUNS IN SIXTH INNING

Game Called After 2 Hours And 40 Minutes For Gents To Catch Bus

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)— After Louisiana Tech had a lead of 24 runs to 4 against Centenary here today, the game had lasted two hours and 40 minutes and Umpire Hal Willis announced that "the Centenary players have to catch a bus."

The Shreveport Gents were ahead, 3-2, in the second stanza and 4-3 at the first half of the fifth. Tied at 4-4 as the sixth period started, the Bulldogs in that inning negotiated 14 runs to rout the visitors completely and added six more tallies in the seventh.

The game opened the home season for Tech, who next week at Ruston play Purdue university on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and the University of Iowa on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

NORTH CAROLINA RUNS AWAY WITH FLORIDA RELAYS

Captures First Places In All Four And Wins Mile Team Race

GAINESVILLE, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Capturing first places in all four relays and the mile team race, the University of North Carolina track team completely dominated the first annual Florida relays today.

A heavy downpour less than an hour before starting time soaked the track and made the relays an hour and a half late in starting.

Led by a great two-mile relay team, which more than lapped all its competitors in winning by a big margin, the North Carolinians were hard pressed only in the mile relay, but managed to finish several yards ahead of Florida.

In the mile team race, Jimmy Davis and Tom Crockett finished first and second, and Dave Morrison finished sixth to give the Tarheels an easy victory. Georgia Tech, whose men finished third, seventh and eleventh, in the 16-man event, placed second.

North Carolina took only two seconds in the individual events as Auburn and Florida did most of the scoring in this phase of the relay. Big John Smith of Florida was the individual star, capturing firsts in the shot put and discus and second in the javelin throw.

Robert Dickinson of Auburn was the only other contestant to win two events, capturing the 100-yard dash and the broad jump.

Alabama topped the freshmen and junior college events, winning both quarter mile and sprint medley relays. Florida's freshmen ran second in both races and Tampa third.

No team totals were scored for the meet as a whole.

More than 20 university varsity performers, freshmen, and high school runners participated in the event. Alabama, Auburn, Georgia Tech, Florida, Vanderbilt, North Carolina, Tampa, Oglethorpe, and the University of Havana, Cuba, competed in the university division.

VOLS TO BATTLE WHITE SOX AGAIN

during the close playing in the first six innings, but the last three innings turned out to be nightmares.

Bill McClain, the former University of Texas outfielder, who was sent here by Dallas, connected with the only circuit blow of the game when he clouted a homer off Dykes Potter over the left field fence in the fifth inning. The longest base-knock inside the park was a triple by Charlie Gilbert, Vol outfielder and son of the Nashville pilot.

Orlin Collier, starting Vol hurler, went four innings, allowing only one hit, but he gave up three runs in the fourth inning as the result of two walks, a sacrifice hit that was erred, allowing one run to come in, and a single that counted two more Sox runs. Other hurlers, four of whom were used by Monroe, were hit freely.

The Vols scored once in each of the first and second innings. In the initial frame Cal Chapman scored on an outfield error after getting on base with a single; and Whitey McMullen, leading hitter of the game, scored in the second after singling to center field, advancing to third on a wild throw by Pruitt to second and tallying on Collier's outfield fly.

The Sox got to work in the fourth inning to take the lead. Frank Hargrove and Manager Doug Taitt drew bases on balls. Frank Hackney was safe on a sacrifice when Collier threw wild to third and Hargrove scored, Taitt going on to third and Hackney pulling up at second. "Red" Pruitt singled into center field to score Taitt and Hackney.

But the Sox lead was short-lived. Coming to bat in the fifth frame, Wally Rospond was walked and scored on a triple by Charlie Gilbert against the center field fence. Gilbert scored a minute later on an infield hit by Cal Chapman.

Then Bill McClain's four-ply blow for the Sox in Monroe's half of the fifth tied the score.

The Sox took a two-run lead in the sixth when Pruitt singled and scored on Tony Woods' double into left field. Hank Taylor flied out to left field and Floyd Speer fanned, but McClain walked and Johnny Conway beat out an infield hit to load the bases. Hargrove was hit by Pitcher Potter, forcing in Woods with the Sox sixth run.

Then in the seventh inning the Sox went to pieces and the Vols went to town. Three errors, two bases on balls, a passed ball and singles by Potter, Rodda, Williams and McMullen accounted for seven runs before the hectic inning was over.

The seventh frame was almost duplicated in the ninth when three more Monroe errors, a passed ball, a base on balls, singles by Rae Blaemire and Rodda and a double by Lutz accounted for five more Vol runs.

The Sox tapered off with three runs in the last inning. Hargrove singled, advanced to second on Taitt's out at first, stole third and scored on a passed ball. Hackney walked and eventually scored on a wild pitch. Ted Jarreld doubled and scored on a single by Woods.

CROSSETT NAMES BUSINESS MANAGER

CROSSETT, Ark., April 1.—(Special)—Leo Scriber, Crossett filling station manager, has been named business manager of the Crossett Millers of the Ouachita Valley baseball league.

"Chick" Galeria, former Cotton States league hurler, who pitched for the Pine Bluff Judges several years ago and last year won 20 games for the Greenville, Miss., Buckshots, has been signed as playing manager.

Holdovers from the Millers' 1938 team are Cortez "Tex" Moore, catcher; Ike Rorie, pitcher; Fred Alexander, Paul McDaniels, Rich Cole, Harold "Shorty" Oslin and James Scriber, infielders, and Roland "Governor" Laiche and Jerry "Mule" Fryer, outfielders.

Manager Galeria announced today that Berry Hinton, a first baseman in the league last year, would report for duty at the close of the school term at Junction City, where he is teaching.

The Millers' field is being improved and bleachers repaired. It has been announced that most games here will be played at night.

SWIM MEET WON BY OHIO STATE

Captures National A. A. U. Indoor Championship Second Straight Year

COLUMBUS, O., April 1.—(AP)—Ohio State university, only college swimming squad ever to win the National A. A. U. indoor championship, snagged that title tonight for the second straight year.

The Bucks, scoring in nine of the 10 events, piled up 28 points to 23 for the second-place New York Athletic club team, and 19 for Medinah club of Chicago.

In addition to taking the team title, the Bucks furnished the meet's only double-champion, diver Al Patnik of Ohio State annexing both the one and three-meter board crowns for the third season.

Patnik and Earl Clark of Ohio State finished one-two in the high board diving to clinch the team laurels for the Bucks, but they added two more with a fourth place in the final event, the 400-yard medley relay, which went to Princeton's world record-holding trio.

In the other event Ralph Flanagan of Austin, Tex., unattached, successfully defended his 500-yard free style title in the long-awaited duel with Jack Medica of the New York A. C., holder of the world record. Although Medica boasts the world mark of 5:16.3 for the route, he was at least eight yards back of Flanagan as the latter won tonight in 5:30.7, almost a quarter of a minute off the record pace.

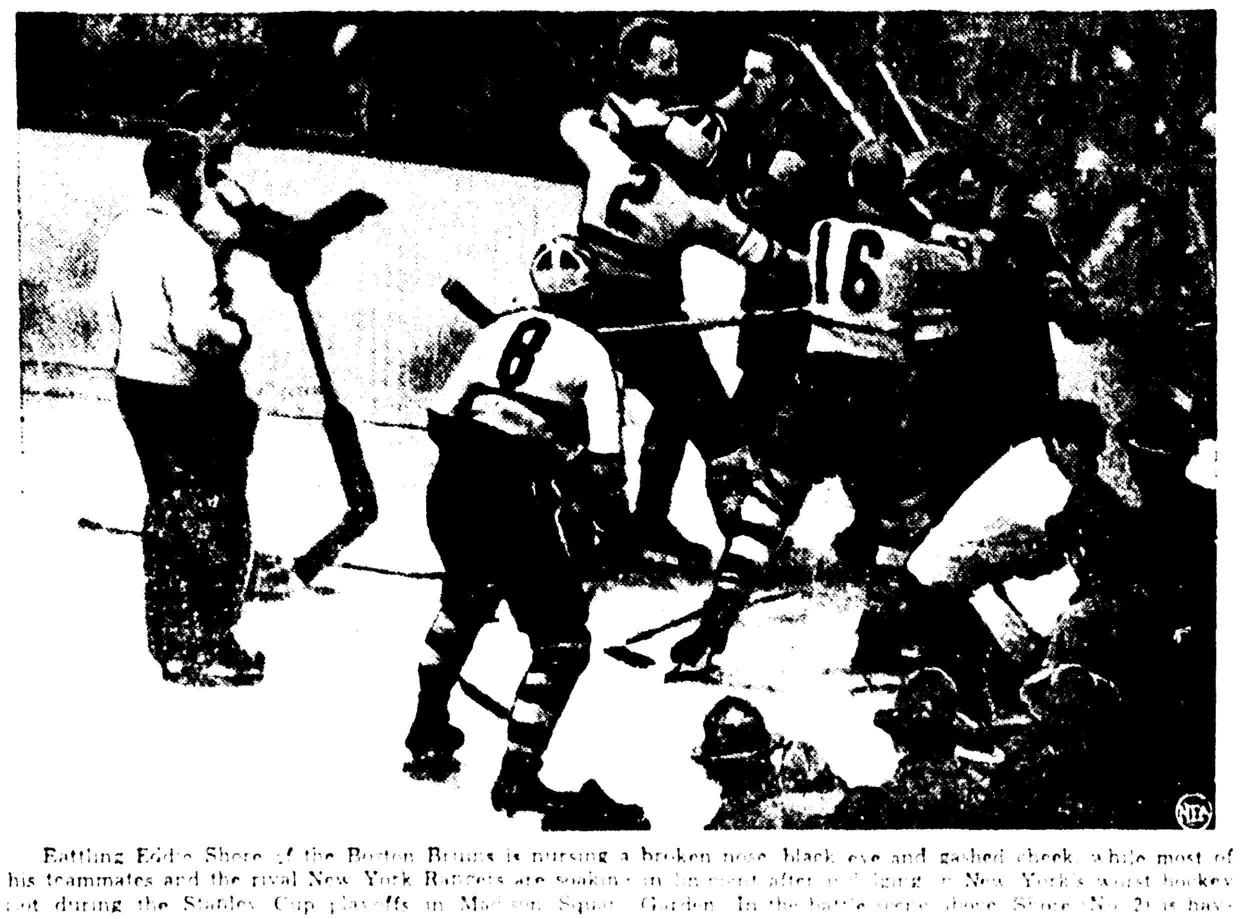
THEY ALSO PLAY HOCKEY



Battling Eddie Shore of the Boston Bruins is nursing a broken nose, black eye and gashed cheek, while most of his teammates and the rival New York Rangers are soaking in liniment after indulging in New York's worst hockey riot during the Stanley Cup playoffs in Madison Square Garden. In the battle scene above Shore (No. 2) is having a couple hung on his nose by the Rangers' Murray Patrick, former amateur heavyweight champ of Canada. At right, Ranger Phil Watson is backed against the boards by Hamill of the Bruins. P. S. There was a hockey game and the Rangers won, 2-1.

Exhibition Games

CARDS WHIP ALBANY

ALBANY, Ga., April 1.—(AP)—Lon Warneke wasn't fooling today and he yielded only three hits and struck out 10 in seven innings as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Albany of the Georgia-Florida league, 9 to 2, in an exhibition game.

Clean fielding would have given the Cards a shutout. Albany tallied once off Warneke on an error and got its second round also on an error off Ken Raffensberger, who finished for the Cards.

Score by innings:

St. Louis (N)	123 000 [illegible]	9	12	[illegible]
Albany (G-F)	000 001 [illegible]	2	6	4

A'S TROUNCE CATS

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—Behind the three-hit pitching of Carl Byrd and Leroy Parmalee, the Athletics' so-called first team defeated Fort Worth, of the Texas league, 7 to 3, here today.

Byrd, up from Williamsport of the Eastern league, yielded only one hit in five innings.

Five hits, coupled with two errors, gave the A's four runs in the fourth to sew up the game.

Score by innings:

Philadelphia (first team) (AL)	000 402 100—	7	13	1
Fort Worth (TL)	000 001 020—	3	3	3

PHILLIES SHADE BROWNS

WACO, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—In a game featured by eight home runs, the Phillies again defeated the St. Louis Browns today, 13 to 12. Gill Brack, Phils' center fielder, smacked out three round-trippers. Chuck Klein and Les Powers also connected for the circuit for the Phils with Joe Glenn, Harland Clift and Joe Grace doing honors for the Browns.

Score by innings:

St. Louis (A)	021 510 030—	12	15	5
Philadelphia (N)	301 124 20x—	13	14	4

Newsom, Van Atta, Tost, Cole and Glenn; Hollingsworth, Dickinson, Smith, Beck and Davis, Millies.

SENATORS DEFEAT BEES

BRADENTON, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—Held to seven scattered hits, the Boston Bees registered a ninth-inning score today to escape a shutout in an exhibition game won by Stanley Harris' American league Senators, 6-1.

The Senators tallied 11 hits, highlighted by a seventh-inning homer by Estalella. Joe Krakauskas allowed but four safe bingles in seven innings.

Score by innings:

Boston (N)	000 000 001—	1	6	0

Krakauskas, Masterson and Ferrell, Early; Turner, Errickson and Lopez, Masi.

YANKS SWAMP PELS

NEW ORLEANS, April 1.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio led an 18-hit attack today as the New Orleans Yankees walloped the New Orleans Pelicans, 15-2, in an exhibition game. DiMaggio figured in every scoring rally for the Yanks, poling out four straight extra-base hits with runners on the sacks. He doubled with one aboard in the first inning, tripled with one on in the third, drove home two more tallies with a fifth-inning double and finished up with another two-bagger in the sixth. Bump Hadley and Steve Sundra limited the Pels to seven hits and had a shutout up to the last inning.

Score by innings:

New York (A)	102 014 400—	15	18	1
New Orleans (S)	000 000 002—	2	7	7

Hadley, Sundra and Dickey; Perrin, Cohen, Pulford and Redmond.

NO. 2 A'S BEAT DALLAS

DALLAS, Tex., April 1.—(AP)—A three-run rally, sparked by Lou Finney's triple, gave the so-called Athletics' second team, under Coach Earl Mack, an 8-to-5 victory over Dallas of the Texas league in 10 innings today.

Score by innings:

Philadelphia (A)	100 003 001 3—	8	16	2
Dallas (T)	300 000 020 0—	5	6	2

Ross, Pippen and Brucker; Gliatto, SoRelle and Cronin.

CRACKERS SHADE RED SOX

ATLANTA, April 1.—(AP)—Five errors, one of which resulted in Rookie Ted Williams' removal from the game by Manager Joe Cronin, helped the Atlanta Crackers to a 10 to 9 victory today over the Boston Red Sox.

Missing a short foul fly to right field in the eighth, Williams picked up the ball and in a burst of temperament tossed it right out of the park. Cronin at once sent the hard hitting rookie to the showers, replacing him with Fabian Gaffke.

Score by innings:

Boston (A)	000 202 [illegible]—	9	12	4
Atlanta (SA)	003 202 [illegible]—	10	13	3

BUCS ROUT ARIZONA U.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—A triple play by the Pittsburgh Pirates high spotted their 14-4 rout of Arizona university in a exhibition today.

Lloyd Waner might have made the three-star feature all by himself had he kept on charging toward the infield after making a shoe-string catch of a Texas leaguer in the second frame. Instead he tossed to Arky Vaughan who touched second and the second runner almost at the same time.

Score by innings:

Pittsburgh (N)	141 101 321—	14	22	2
U. of Arizona	000 000 400—	4	9	3

Tobin, Butcher and Berres, Heist; Conway, Gray and Charowhas, Devlin, Zeluff.

CUBS BEST WHITE SOX

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 1.—(AP)—Clay Bryant, making his first exhibition start of the spring, became the second Chicago Cubs pitcher to go the route today, when he limited the Chicago White Sox to seven hits, winning, 7 to 5.

After a shaky start in the first inning, when the Sox scored all their runs aided by errors, Bryant settled down and hurled shutout ball.

The victory was offset, however, by news that Dick Bartell, ailing regular shortstop, had been ordered back to Chicago for an examination by doctors.

Chicago (N)	110 011 102—	7	14	5
Chicago (A)	500 000 000—	5	7	2

Bryant and Mancuso; Lyons, Knott and Silvestri.

GIANTS NOSE OUT TRIBE

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1.—(AP)—A run scored by Alex Kampouris after a foul fly gave the New York Giants a 9-to-8 victory in the 12th inning of their game with the Cleveland Indians today.

Kampouris, who forced the affair into extra innings by hitting a home run with one on during an eighth-inning Giant rally, received one of two walks issued by Lefty Al Milnar after Tom Hafey opened the 12th with a triple. Jim Ripple forced Hafey, whose place on third was taken by Kampouris.

Then Johnny McCarthy smacked a long foul into left and Jeff Heath, instead of letting the ball drop, caught it and Kampouris streaked home with the winning run.

Cleveland (A)	000 401 300 000—	8	16	1
New York (N)	110 200 040 001—	9	9	0

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—One of the gifts Monty Stratton will receive on "Stratton day" in Chicago will be a contract to coach the White Sox. . . . The football Giants think they have another Bronko Nagurski in Walter Neilson, ex-University of Arizona fullback. . . . One of these days the P. G. A. will get around to announcing the Ryder cup matches will be played during the last ten days of November. . . . A two-year-old named Praetor is getting ready to show you some speed down at Bowie. . . . It was just another day in Armstrong's life, but a pretty busy day, at that.

Ho hum, just a bum.

Well, the critics agreed that as an actor Signor Galento is no worse than expected. Some comment:

Post—The only thing that can help [illegible] act is the sanitation department.

Sun—As a Thespian Two-Ton Tony is best described by the word with which he refers to fans.

Mirror—His witticisms proved he hasn't asked Joe Miller to the bone.

Herald-Tribune—No Broadway actor's reputation is threatened!

World-Telegram—He boxed one round, then had a tough time speaking into the mike. . . . Heaven Out of Steps.

(The Times' Mr. Kieran admits he gave the act a [illegible].)

Reviewers for the News and Journal-American fell asleep and wrote exactly nothing.

Did you know that outfielders use longer spikes on their shoes than infielders? . . . Babe Pinelli, National league umpire, has two sons on the Notre Dame baseball squad. . . . Don Meade isn't going to ride in Maryland until he makes his peace with the racing brass hats here. . . . Duke 33, Springfield 1; Duke 26, Colby 5. . . . Down there the idea seems to be offense for baseball, defense for football. . . . Escobar and Morgan will draw around $20,000 for tomorrow night's bantamweight title scrap in San Juan.

Today's guest star:

Francis E. Stan, Washington Evening Star: "There is a suspicion around the Senators' camp that Clark Griffith was right when he said his ball club might get worse before it gets better."

Old Grover Cleveland Alexander turns author in one of the weeklies and blasts modern day pitchers, calls 'em sissies. . . . Illinois alumni here will wine and dine Coach Bob Zuppke at a big stag affair soon. . . . Maxie Baer is due any day to start getting ready to administer the old Nova-cain. . . . All this ballyhoo hasn't done Freddy Hutchinson, the $50,000 rookie, any good, but Del Baker of the Tigers still is high on him.

John Young, sports editor of the Pasadena (Cal.) Junior college paper, is getting a lot of publicity on the coast for suggesting the Cubs make a first sacker out of Dizzy Dean. . . . Says Dean is a natural and if played regularly would pack 'em in for years to come.

CINCINNATI PREPARES TO LEAVE TAMPA CAMP

TAMPA, Fla., April 1.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds prepared to break camp today and Manager McKechnie, in a mood for summing up, found things good among his crew.

"The morale is high, the pitching is good. The batting of the team will improve. I know the Reds can play ball when the chips are down," was the substance of his reflections.

NEVILLE TENNIS SQUAD DEFEATS ARCADIA, 12 TO 7

Tiger Racqueteers To Participate In District Rally At Tech

The Neville High school tennis team opened its season at Arcadia Friday by trouncing the Arcadia High school Hornets, 12 to 7. The Arcadia team had not previously been beaten this season, having defeated Winnsboro, Homer and Ruston.

PEDDY OF NEVILLE 98-POUND STATE CHAMPION

Plaquemine Noses Out LaGrange For Team Title; Tigers Finish Sixth

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1.—(AP)—By a margin of a single point, the Plaquemine High Green Devils won their fourth straight annual state high school boxing title tonight, nosing out the LaGrange High, Lake Charles, squad 17 to 16.

Catholic High of Baton Rouge won third place honors with nine points.

Plaquemine's margin of team victory was the closest in the meet's history. A consolation win by Hollis Simpson in the 112-pound class, earning a single point, was the difference between a championship and a tie with LaGrange.

Plaquemine's champions tonight were Shelby Dupont, 126 pound class, and P. A. Monson, 105 pound division. Carol Ourso was 90 pound runnerup, Tony Palermo was runnerup in the 155 pound class and Simpson got third place in the flyweight division.

LaGrange, which suffered two close setbacks in the important 112 and 126 pound classes, either of which would have given the Lake Charles team the championship, had individual kingpins in the 155 pound and 165 pound classes in Leo Coe and J. L. Jinks.

Jinks won the 175 pounds title last year. Clarence Thibodeaux, who won the Brink sportsmanship trophy, was LaGrange's loser in the 112 pound final, dropping a very close decision to Istrouma's Frank Seemann.

LaGrange's other finalist, Batson Dugas, was outpointed by Plaquemine's Dupont in the featherweight division. The latter was his fourth successive state championship.

Catholic High of Baton Rouge, third team winner, [illegible] lightweight champion in V. J. Culmone, a classy southpaw who scored the lone knockout of the championship class tonight. Culmone cracked a hard left to Fred Edgerton's body and the Tallulah boy was completely out, after only 27 seconds, a new record for brevity in the state meet bouts.

Plaquemine High won the lightweight division, consisting of the first five weights, while LaGrange was easily winner in the heavy division.

Fifteen schools shared in the scoring.

Following are the team scores: Plaquemine, 17; LaGrange of Lake Charles, 16; Catholic High, Baton Rouge, 9; Istrouma (Baton Rouge) 8; Baton Rouge 7; Neville (Monroe), 6; Bossier City, Abbeville and Bastrop, 5 each; Tallulah and Lutcher, 3 each; Lafayette and Morgan City 2 each; Donaldsonville and Gonzales, one each.

126 pound consolation: Burton LaHaye, Lafayette, won decision over George Stovall, Baton Rouge High.

126 pound championship: Shelby Dupont, Plaquemine, won decision over Batson Dugas, LaGrange.

135 pound consolation: Eddie Odom, Baton Rouge High, won on forfeit from Tibbets, Bossier City.

135 pound championship: V. J. Culmone, Catholic High (Baton Rouge) won over Fred Edgerton, Tallulah, technical knockout in 26 seconds of first round.

145 pound consolation: Frank Blakeman, Morgan City, won decision over Harry Langlois, Catholic High.

145 pound championship: Billy Culbertson, Bossier City, won decision over Haskell Sumrall, Istrouma.

155 pound consolation: Royal Mason, Morgan City, won decision over Perry Snyder, Neville.

155 pound championship: Leo Coe, LaGrange, won decision over Tony Palermo, Plaquemine.

165 pound consolation: Albert Merey, Catholic High, won on forfeit from Dean, Farmerville.

165 pound championship: C. L. Jinks, LaGrange, won decision over Ivy Thompson, Baton Rouge High.

175 pound championship: [illegible] Mansfield, won [illegible] LaGrange.

175 pound consolation: [illegible], White Castle, no opponent.

Heavyweight championship: Broussard, Lafayette, [illegible] second [illegible].

90 pound championship: Thomas Goodnight, Bastrop, defeated Carol Ourso, Plaquemine, decision.

90 pound consolation: [illegible], Bossier City, defeated [illegible], Lafayette, decision.

98 pound championship: F. B. Peddy, Neville High, [illegible] from [illegible], Catholic High, Baton Rouge, decision.

98 pound consolation: George Williams, Gonzales, won decision from Tony Nastasi, [illegible].

105 pound championship: P. A. Monson, Plaquemine, won by decision over Charles Sharkey, Baton Rouge High.

105 pound consolation: Charles Canova, Donaldsonville, defeated Underwood, Bogalusa, decision.

112 pound championship: Frank Seemann, Istrouma (Baton Rouge) won from Thibodeaux, LaGrange (Lake Charles), decision.

112 pound consolation: Hollis Simpson, Plaquemine, defeated Roe Cagnolatti, Tallulah, decision.

118 pound championship: Hebert, Abbeville, won from Roy Amedee, Lutcher, decision.

118 pound consolation: Buck Brantley, Neville, beat Carl Brown, Istrouma, technical knockout in second round.

Bobby Jones Far Down In Ranks At Halfway Point In Own Big Show

By Kenneth Gregory

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 1.—(AP)—It was April Fool's day and the weather, as customary here, did a lot of fooling—but the fellow who fooled all the wiseacres was Mr. Eugene Sarazen, the Connecticut farmer-golfer.

Dripping wet but uninjured by hailstones whipped furiously by the wind, Sarazen walked into the club house in mid-afternoon after breezing through the second act of Bobby Jones' Augusta national golf show in 66 shots.

Some one accused the Connecticut squire of playing white hailstones near the cup to get three birdies on the last four [illegible], but Sarazen ordered a cup of tea and assured one and all that his record-equalling 66 was legitimate.

As the sun played hide-and-seek with lightning, hail, rain and wind to give golf's "World Series" a clean sweep of the elements, Sarazen finished in a [illegible] to take the lead [illegible] 36 holes at 139, one shot in front of the field seeking the $1,500 check.

The freak display of weather threatened for a while to force postponement of play but after 45 minutes the sun [illegible] down again and the field [illegible] with Jones [illegible] 77, [illegible] strokes over par, [illegible] in a half-way [illegible].

Sarazen, who scored the famed [illegible] 1935 [illegible] Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and then defeated him in the playoff, was one shot under three favored players, [illegible] Snead, Ralph Guldahl and Byron Nelson, as the field lined up for tomorrow's 36-hole finale.

Although he equalled par, Billy Burke of Cleveland, O., the 1931 National Open champion who led the opening 18 holes [illegible] with a 69, dropped [illegible] with a [illegible]. He [illegible] one stroke in front of Henry Picard, winner a year ago.

Sarazen's great 66 was two strokes under the day's next best effort. Guldahl put together nines of 34-34 for a 68 and Nelson shot 35-34 for a 69 to step up to contending position. Tommy Armour, the silver Scot from Chicago, who was tied for third after the first round, slumped to a 74 and dropped to a tie for [illegible] place with Wood at 145.

A stroke in front of Armour and Wood were [illegible] Runyan and Lawson Little.

[illegible] Yates and Chuck Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich., were tied for the amateur leadership with 147 [illegible] as Jones' 153 dropped him into a tie for 32nd place. Yates and Harbert had identical scores today of 36-37—73.

GREER NEARLY EQUALS RECORD

Rideout burned up the junior college mile relay with 3:19.6 time that fell four-tenths of a second shy of the national record but broke the relays mark by 6.2 seconds.

The Rice institute 440-yard relay team, composed of Blagg, Steakley, Sanders and Wolcott, clipped one-tenth of a second off the old mark they jointly held with Texas as Wolcott stormed in on the anchor with a five-yard margin.

The Rice sprint medley team, made up of Turney, Jones, Blagg and Bell, built up a bare margin for Bell, great middle distance runner, and he converted it into a rout to finish the distance in 3:28.4, bettering the old mark of 3:29.6 they set in 1937. Rice robbed itself of a chance at bagging another relay when they dropped the baton in the 880-yard relay while going neck and neck with Oklahoma.

The Rideout twins, with Wayne a stride in front of Blaine, led the North Texas Teachers to easy triumph in the one-mile team race. Texas' Jud Atchison bettered his own broad jump record by one-quarter of an inch in a leap of 24 feet 8 inches.

B. F. (Beefus) Bryan of Texas failed to break his pole vault record, stopping at 13 feet 6 inches, but he took one more pull in practice and hurtled over at 14 feet.

T. A. Weems of Rockdale High school made the most impressive school boy showing, putting the shot 51 feet 9 inches to scrap the old mark of 51 feet ¼ inch. Fleet Jack Cooley of Kaufman High stepped the 100-yard sprint in 9.9 seconds to equal the existing record while G. D. Hopper of Brackenridge, San Antonio, leaped 6 feet 1⅞ inches in the high jump—a scant one-eighth of an inch below the record.

Practice Game Indicates Tennessee Will Have Good Defensive Team

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 1—(AP)—Tennessee's Volunteers, who held 10 opponents to 16 points last fall in winning the Southeastern conference football crown, will have another strong defensive team next fall if today's intra-squad practice game is any tipoff.

A regulation game between an "orange" team, composed largely of last year's first-stringers, and a "black" ended in a 6-6 tie, concluding several weeks of spring drills.

The "orange" outfit, with George Cafego igniting the fuse, blasted through a stubborn "black" line for a touchdown in the second quarter after a 34-yard march. Fullback Joe Wallen plunged over after Cafego had set the stage with two sparkling runs of more than 20 yards.

A 70-yard sustained march led by Halfback Buist Warren accounted for the "black's" marker in the third period, Warren [illegible] over the [illegible] center. The fleet reserve back completed four passes in the drive.

A few moments later he started another slashing attack that bogged down on the "orange" 24-yard stripe when he was carried from the field with a head injury.

The first-string infield of the A's is expected to include Gantenbein at second, Newsome at short and Lodigiani at third, unless Bill Nagel, who played with Clarksdale year before last, beats him out of the job. Moses, of course, is a fixture in the outfield, and Miles, who was a holdout but broke in last week with some lusty clouting, and Finney are first string gardeners. Old Bob Johnson, of course, is still to be reckoned with. Brucker is the top catcher, while Caster, Smith, Gumpert, Ross, Potter and Nelson undoubtedly will start the season on the Mackmen's mound staff. Maybe some of the others who will be seen in action here also will be around when the gong sounds.

Moses, incidentally, will be returning to the scene of his early activities. You remember, of course, that Wally was a member of the Monroe club back in 1932.

From all reports the lads who furnish the opposition for the White Sox next Wednesday are Connie Mack's prized possessions.

Tigers To Try To Make Clean Sweep Of Games Monday And Tuesday

BATON ROUGE, La., April 1.—(Special)—Louisiana State university's baseball team, winner of four straight games from Minnesota in its 1939 collegiate debut, will seek to make a clean sweep of intersectional competition by defeating Northwestern here Monday and Tuesday.

The two-game series with Northwestern and a tennis match with Illinois' netmen Monday afternoon will inaugurate a busy week of campus activity for four Tiger sports teams.

Tiger track and golf teams will go into action next week end to climax a busy week's activities that will see seven intercollegiate sports contests played at the university.

The golfers, preparing to defend their Southeastern conference and Southern intercollegiate titles, will meet Washington university of St. Louis in an intersectional tilt over the L. S. U. Country club course Friday.

Coach Bernie Moore's defending Southeastern conference track champions will engage Southwestern Louisiana institute and Louisiana Normal in a triangular meet on the Tiger track Saturday afternoon.

Coach Harry Rabenhorst's baseball team will open its conference season against the University of Mississippi here next Friday and Saturday. The second game of the Ole Miss series will be played at ten o'clock Saturday morning in order to avoid a conflict with the New York Giants-Pittsburgh Pirates exhibition game that afternoon.

One of the best L. S. U. nines in recent years appeared in the making as the Tigers opened their season with four straight victories over Minnesota.

L. S. U. showed more power at the [illegible] than any Ole War Skule nine in years.

The heavy bats of the Bengals rattled off 32 hits in four games to account for 36 earned runs.

Four hurlers, three veterans and a sophomore, held the Big Ten team to 17 hits and only three earned runs as L. S. U.'s mound staff registered 28 strikeouts. Bryan Hammett, veteran right hander who starred as a relief pitcher last season, performed [illegible] in the opening game and then came back in the finale to shut out the Minnesotans with four hits in an abbreviated seven-inning contest.

Ray Radosvich, stocky sophomore from New Orleans, blanked the intersectional foe with four hits in his varsity debut in the third game.

Coach Charles Diel's tennis squad, paced by the veteran Jack Bushman, inaugurated its 1939 campaign at midweek by defeating Western State Teachers college of Kalamazoo, Mich., and the University of Alabama on successive days.

The track team opened L. S. U.'s spring sports season by dominating the Southwestern relays at Lafayette March 25.

DUROCHER DECIDES TO MAKE REISER A DODGER

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 1—(AP)—While rain prevented his watching Pete Reiser play second base against the Detroit Tigers, Manager Leo Durocher today decided definitely to make the sensational rookie an official member of the Dodgers. He now belongs to Brooklyn's Elmira, N. Y., farm club and buying him will be a mere formality.

Durocher said he would play Reiser at second in every exhibition game, adding: "He will make and has made plenty of mistakes afield—but only one of each kind."

Trochesset Wins N. C. A. A. Title; Michael And Daniel Lose In Finals

MADISON, Wis., April 1.—(AP)—Omar (The Assassin) Crocker, Wisconsin's hustling 145-pound boxer, tonight knocked out Anthony Guida of Temple in one minute and nine seconds of the second round of their bout in the finals of the National Collegiate Athletic association's fifth annual tournament.

It was Crocker's twelfth knockout in 16 straight victories and his third straight knockout of the tournament.

Carl Eckstrom of North Dakota, the defending 127-pound champion, lost his title to Ted Kara of Idaho, who was captain of the 1936 Olympic boxing team. Kara got the decision in three rounds.

Gene Rankin of Wisconsin, former national diamond belt champion, outpointed Henry Davis of Mississippi State for the 135-pound title.

Sewele Whitney of Loyola (New Orleans) took 120-pound laurels by outpointing Al Michael of Louisiana State.

Summaries:

120 pounds: Sewele Whitney, Loyola of the South, outpointed Al Michael, Louisiana State.

127 pounds: Ted Kara, Idaho, outpointed Carl Eckstrom, North Dakota.

A SPECIAL

SPRING TONIC

FOR YOUR AUTOMOBILE

For a long time automotive engineers and oil company chemists have tried to prevent the formation of sludge, gum, and grit deposits in automobile motors. Air cleaners, crankcase ventilators and oil filters help in a small way, but a large amount of the sludge and gum formed in every automobile engine is produced by the combustion of gasoline and air in contact with oil in the motor.

Right now, there is probably a diluted, black, dirty mixture in your crankcase. Chances are your winter oil is contaminated with carbon, gritty dust, unburned fuel and water—all the natural by-products of winter driving. These foreign substances are NOT lubricant and by their abrasive action, can only do harm to your motor.

The formation of this sludge and gum can not be avoided, but with our new GRACO VITALIZER we are able to remove these harmful deposits, to clean out the sludge, gum, grit and carbon deposits from the inside of your motor, freeing the piston rings, valve stems, and other working parts enabling them to work more smoothly to develop the maximum power of which your motor is capable.

Automobile racing has been recognized as the acid test for all commodities identified with automobiles for three decades. In the 1939 racing season GULFPRIDE MOTOR OIL was used by 45 winners in as many AAA Contest Board-sanctioned races.

When an oil can take it at over 100 miles per hour in a race driver's car, when it is the pick of experts whose lives and livelihood depend on unfaltering engine performance, isn't it doubly safe at the speeds you drive, doesn't it stand to reason it is a better oil?

Bring your car in today and let us with our GRACO VITALIZER clean out the accumulation of gum, sludge and gritty carbon that is in your crankcase, and refill with summer grade Gulfpride motor oil, that is refined from 100% Pure Pennsylvania crude by Gulf's patented Alchlor process.

FOOT ITCH

ATHLETE'S FOOT

Relief Guaranteed Or Your Money Back

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get relief from this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious, and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to relieve it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salves or ointments seldom do any good.

Here's How to Relieve It

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to kill the germ, so you can see why the ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of relieving Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

Itching Stops Quickly

As soon as you apply H. F. you may find that the itching is quickly relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. should leave the skin soft and smooth. You may marvel at the quick way it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get relief from Athlete's Foot without success.

to give Poland an outlet to the Baltic at the head of the Polish corridor.

Poland was understood to be willing to substitute for theoretical League of Nations control a German-Polish joint rule over the Free City but not to renounce her rights in it.

(Nominally, Danzig is governed by a League of Nations commission but actually all its officials are Nazis and its laws are based on German Nazi law. However, Danzig is within the Polish customs administration.)

Poland also was understood to want a loan from Britain and emigration facilities for Jews she may want to emigrate.

In return, it was believed, Poland would reciprocate Britain's defense pledge, making Chamberlain's declaration a two-sided British-Polish military alliance.

Last December 30 Germany took advantage of a clause in the Anglo-German naval pact, which restricts her generally to 35 per cent of British naval tonnage, to announce her intention of building up to parity with Britain in submarine tonnage.

Informed British naval sources, however, cited what they considered would be important reasons why Hitler would have no desire to get into a capital ship race with Britain.

They pointed out:

1. It would be too expensive.
2. Britain has an advantage in men and materials available.
3. The building of capital ships would take too long in the face of present European conditions.
4. The German navy being designed as an aggressive, offensive force, to strike chiefly with submarines and bombing planes, Hitler would gain little by spending vast sums on large craft to fight on the high seas.

British reassurances of the scope of her pledge to Poland were understood to have been given to Count Raczynski, the Polish ambassador, who spent an hour with Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, at the foreign office.

The British reply to Count Raczynski's reported request for clarification as to whether Chamberlain's momentous statement really was an unconditional pledge of armed aid or merely an invitation for Poland to come to some agreement with Germany over Danzig and the corridor was not disclosed.

British officials emphasized privately, however, that should Poland resist German action in either territory as a threat to her independence, Britain and France would go into action.

Some doubt had been cast by an editorial in the pro-government Times of London that Britain's promise did not bind her "to defend every inch of the present frontiers of Poland."

Shortly after the Polish ambassador's visit to Lord Halifax an official statement was issued expressing "surprise . . . that attempts should have been made in London to minimize the prime minister's statement in the house of commons yesterday."

The prime minister's announcement, it said, "is regarded (in official circles) as of outstanding importance, the meaning of which is perfectly clear and categorical."

POLAND BELIEVES HITLER WANTS TIME

WARSAW, April 1.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's Wilhelmshaven speech was interpreted in Poland tonight as a bid for time in which to split this nation from her new-found solidarity with Britain.

Authoritative sources reiterated, however, that Poland was willing to discuss the future of Danzig with Germany as an equal but that Poles would resist forcibly any German attempt to take Danzig by arms.

The British ambassador, Sir Howard William Kennard, conferred with Foreign Minister Joseph Beck, who is to leave for London tomorrow noon.

In London, Beck is expected to prepare for any contingency despite the comparative mildness of Hitler's speech.

After considering Hitler's words, informed quarters declared he was playing for time in which to recast German demands.

They contended that by mobilizing last May Czecho-Slovakia balked Hitler but the Nazis, by biding their time, got what they wanted in September when the Munich accord arranged the first Czecho-Slovak partition.

Warsaw observers believed Prime Minister Chamberlain's promise Friday of British-French military assistance to protect Polish independence had taken Hitler by surprise.

As the Nazi fuehrer was speaking, a German newspaperman was arrested at Bydgosz, in the Polish corridor, charged with "inventing atrocity stories" which he sent to Germany regarding the treatment of the German minority in Poland.

The Lithuanian minister to Poland, Jurgis Szaulys, declared Polish-Lithuanian relations had been brought closer together by Germany's absorption of Memel and expressed "Lithuania's belief that Chamberlain's action marked a turning point in European history."

PITTMAN BELIEVES PEACE CAUSE AIDED

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP)—Chairman Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, of the senate foreign relations committee, said today in his opinion recent events in Europe had diminished the possibility of a general war in Europe.

Pittman, who often reflects in congress the administration view toward foreign affairs, said it was his personal opinion the statement of Prime Minister Chamberlain, pledging Great Britain to fight to preserve the territorial integrity of Poland, had "opened the door to peace in Europe."

He said it was his belief that the clear indication from American officials of favor for aiding the European democracies, in every way short of actual armed support, had had an effect in dissuading Chancellor Hitler of Germany from pursuing further territorial ambitions.

FRENCH BELIEVE HITLER RETREATING

PARIS, April 1.—(AP)—Belief that Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy now may be backing down from their campaigns of expansion in the face of a stronger French and British stand was expressed in diplomatic quarters tonight.

Chancellor Hitler's speech at Wilhelmshaven today was interpreted as a gesture for at least temporary conciliation with the democracies.

Hitler's address followed by only a day Premier Mussolini's announcement that Italy could "wait" for satisfaction of its colonial demands against France.

Study of Hitler's speech led to the conclusion it contained "no sensational announcement."

The French-British pledge to support Poland in event of aggression was received at a cabinet meeting this morning, and further negotiations were foreseen with Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

French diplomats, accepting Prime Minister Chamberlain's pledge to Poland as a final decision by Britain to commit herself on the continent, sought to complete a mutual assistance bloc around Germany and prevent any expansion of Hitler's empire to the detriment of France, Britain and their allies.

almost daily especially since the Munich crisis of last September.

Should war come this year, opinion appeared virtually unanimous that the United States would escape direct involvement, as at the outset of the 1914-18 conflict.

Privately, high American military officials reported they considered the French army Europe's best, and Soviet Russia able to stand off Japan in Siberia as well as aid Poland.

Major-General H. Rowan-Robinson, of the British army, writing in the semi-official American Infantry journal, predicted Italy would be defeated if she sided with Germany.

Italy, he said, "is exceedingly vulnerable and likely to remain so even should she win the alliance of Spain."

"Britain, for her part, is subject to a threat in Egypt, but any Italian success there would have no decisive value.

"Aided by France, she should be able to control the Mediterranean, provided she were to discard it for her trade and larger warships, and to initiate at once a policy of building small craft in large numbers."

78,000. This was despite the fact that about 150,000 persons leave the relief rolls each month because they obtain other employment."

A further opportunity for reducing the relief rolls was offered, Adams said, when the WPA dropped 45,000 aliens under provisions of the last relief measure. He said that 36,000 persons were eliminated because they were found not to be in "actual need" of relief.

"But," he said, "these have all been replaced by others and the relief total still stands at approximately 3,000,000."

The WPA has announced that 200,000 persons would have to be dropped from relief rolls during April if the $100,000,000 appropriation should be retained. Adams disputed this, saying that the "normal withdrawal" of 150,000 monthly from relief rolls would make it necessary to eliminate only 50,000.

FIVE CONVICTED OF MAIL FRAUD

ican Benefit association, Shreveport, La.; the Southern Protective union, Denver, Colo.; the Guardian Benefit association, New Orleans, La.; the Imperial Protective union of the District of Columbia, and the Imperial Life Insurance company of Shreveport, all were found guilty as charged by the jurors.

Date of sentencing was not set definitely by Judge Ben C. Dawkins, but he indicated that it would be the latter part of the coming week. The defendants found guilty were permitted release on bonds in the same amount on which they previously had been held.

The first trial of the Morris case occupied six weeks in June and July, 1938, and ended in a mistrial when the jury failed to agree.

The Morrises, Freeman and Beasley were found guilty, as charged, on 11 counts of using the mails to defraud in connection with their operations of the various insurance companies. Various positions in the insurance companies were held by the five found guilty. Morris, president of several, testified during the trial that he formed all the policies of the companies and assumed all responsibility for operation of the insurance business.

The government charged that some $2,500,000 insurance was put in force, that $1,000,000 was collected in premiums and only approximately $120,000 in claims paid out.

The case went to the jury at 10:55 o'clock this morning following nearly two hours of instructions to the jury by Judge Ben C. Dawkins.

At 3:30 o'clock today, the jury requested that a letter and insurance policy introduced in evidence be given them for examination, but gave no indication that they were near a verdict.

The letter requested was signed by L. Hugh Morris as secretary of the American Benefit association, and gave permission to an agent to issue a policy to one John W. Mahan, of Newark, Ark., Spanish-American war veteran who had written to the association stating that he still suffered ill-effects from an injury, and wanting to know if he might secure a policy in spite of it.

The letter authorizing the policy and the policy were introduced by the government as part of its case involving the insurance methods used by the American Benefit group and other defendant companies.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Dawkins authorized them to find any defendant or group of defendants guilty, and asked that each count charged be considered separately.

Trial of the case opened on March 13, and two weeks were spent by Special Prosecutor J. Fair Hardin in presenting the case of the government. Ninety witnesses were called to the stand by Hardin.

Hitler proclaimed anew that the Rome-Berlin axis was unshakeable for all time and he called Italy "the state with which we shall march now and in all the future."

"If any nation wants to measure its strength with ours (the axis) in any other way than a peaceful one," he declared, "we are ready for that also."

Hitler insisted that the Czechs, who have become subjects of the Reich "will have more freedom than the suppressed peoples of virtueless nations have."

He defended his course in Czecho-Slovakia by asserting that state had been created only as a base for attacking Germany.

"We have no hatred against the Czechs," he said.

"The British evidently do not know that we have lived with them (the Czechs) for hundreds of years.

"Neither the British nor the French built Hradcany castle (in Prague)—it was a German architect who did it.

"And a thousand years before me, a German king stood there and received the homage of Bohemians.

"I had hoped very much to solve the Czech problem in a simple and sensible way. But when it became apparent that the same forces which brought about the September events were again getting the upper hand, I went back to our good old German right of self-defense.

"I rendered a big industrial area secure in the interests of all.

"I advanced peace, for I destroyed the instrument intended to start a war against Germany."

Germany, he insisted, "is not thinking of making war upon anybody, provided others leave us alone."

LOSERS IN SPAIN MUST PAY COSTS

ists against persons judged to be responsible for the war, or its prolongation, under the law of political responsibilities.

2. By fines not assigned by law to other funds.
3. By individual contributions.
4. By treasury advances.
5. By issuing Institute of Credit bonds up to denominations of 100,000 pesetas.

The institute will seek to spur provincial, municipal and private reconstruction by advancing funds against first mortgages and loans, bearing interest at three per cent, payable in 20 years.

The nationalists have 650,000 prisoners, the majority of whom will be used for building highways, bridges, railroads, homes, streets and churches.

Three hundred thousand prisoners already are working in Catalonia and southern Spain.

They are paid four and one-half pesetas (45 cents) daily and get their food and living quarters but two-thirds of the wage goes to their dependents.

The government will require that employers give jobs back to soldiers when they leave the army.

The army now has a strength of between 900,000 and 1,000,000 men and gradual demobilization is to start in two months.

Soldiers not absorbed by private industry will be given reconstruction jobs.

Juan March, multi-millionaire financier, placed his fortune at the disposal of Generalissimo Francisco Franco to help pay the cost of the war.

The nationalists received millions to conduct the war through a ten per cent tax on all sales, including food. In addition, during the last two years, there was a restriction on the amount of food served but customers were required to pay the bill for a normal meal—the difference going to the government.

Franco issued and declared legal his own greenback peseta currency, backed solely by his confidence in victory.

He expects to reconstruct Spain without asking for foreign loans.

Some expected that foreign legionnaires would leave Spain in the next two months. The foreigners include an estimated 13,000 to 20,000 Italians and 8,000 Germans.

east Center offers, a survey shows. With a bus system operated in all directions from Monroe, over concrete paved highways, two years of college instruction will be available at almost no cost as students can reside at home. Unless these facilities are provided, many of these high school students will never be able to attend college, Mr. Masur points out.

Northeast Center is fast outgrowing its swaddling clothes and is becoming recognized as an important educational center as has been recently borne out, Mr. Masur stated, by the two high honors that have been accorded Dean C. C. Colvert in his election to high national offices of educational groups.

HURT IN PLANE CRASH, VICKSBURG MAN DIES

VICKSBURG, Miss., April 1.—(AP)—Lieutenant Joe Moore, injured in the crash of his light airplane a week ago in which George Millican, Vicksburg insurance man, was killed, died late today. He had had several blood transfusions.

Lieutenant Moore, a government licensed pilot-instructor, was clearing shrubbery at the edge of the local airport when his dual-controlled Aeronca-K was caught in a downdraft. He and Millican were taking off on a pleasure flight.

Moore was a graduate of Kelly field, army air base at San Antonio, Tex.

Sugar

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—Domestic sugar futures advanced today under speculative buying and purchases by trade and refiner accounts. Selling came principally from local commission houses and Cuban trade interests. Final prices were unchanged to one higher.

World futures were influenced by Wall Street and speculative support and commission house buying. Selling in large part was through Cuban houses. The market ranged unchanged to 1-2 higher at the close. May was bid 1.19 1-2 and July 1.1-8 1-2.

No sales were reported in raw sugar, the spot price holding to 2.88 for duty frees. Refined was unchanged at 4.40-4.50.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP)—In one of the fastest Saturday sessions in more than a year, the stock market today rallied and relapsed at frequent intervals but managed to end on a rising note.

The European scene held Wall Street's attention to the virtual exclusion of domestic business and political happenings. Many traders were said to have stepped in on the buying side at the opening on the theory the sharp declines of the past two days called for a "correction" no matter what occurred overseas.

The rapid churning of the list put the ticker tape several minutes behind floor dealings during almost the entire first hour. There was a slow-down in the final period as Hitler started his speech at Wilhelmshaven. A revival of bidding at the last resulted in a substantial come-back for numerous issues that had undergone pressure after the opening. Transfers for the two hours approximated 1,500,000 shares.

Final gains ran to two or more points for favorites, but there were a number of losers of as much.

The financial district seemed to derive some courage from the belief that the stronger stand of the Anglo-French entente might avert war. In addition indications of calm over the week-end were seen in the fact Prime Minister Chamberlain left London for his country home, Polish Foreign Minister Josef Beck had not seen fit to postpone his trip to London tomorrow, and Mussolini's latest utterances were viewed as relatively moderate.

United States recognition of the Franco Spanish government and the coincidental lifting of the embargo on the export of arms to Spain by the president were thought to have propped market sentiment to some extent.

American issues at Amsterdam, the only important foreign market open today, advanced. Bonds and commodities were somewhat irregular.

Thousands Listen Despite Penalties Ranging As High As Death

NEW YORK, April 1.—(P)—Radio company officials, puzzled by the sudden cut-off today on Hitler's speech, disclosed tonight that thousands of Germans regularly listened to American news broadcast by short wave in defiance of penalties ranging as high as death on the guillotine.

A National Broadcasting company spokesman said there were 11,000,000 radio receiving sets in Germany, with at least half of them capable of receiving short wave broadcasts.

"During the first three months of 1939, we have received 1,348 letters from German short-wave listeners," the spokesman said.

"A majority of them wrote guardedly of their appreciation of the 'objective' news supplied by foreign stations and said they got the news through foreign broadcasts as much as 20 hours before the official German releases.

"Many of the letters indicated that Germans gather in groups to listen to the broadcasts in defiance of published orders."

Officials of the Mutual Broadcasting system said they also received "hundreds of appreciative letters a month" from German listeners.

The abrupt cut-off of Hitler's reply to Prime Minister Chamberlain was attributed by German officials tonight to technical reasons.

For American listeners, the speech lasted just 78 seconds. Hitler addressing his unseen audience as "Germans, [illegible] although the broadcast was verboten to Germans [illegible]. U. S. RECOGNIZES SPANISH REGIME

Follows Lead Of Other Powers In Conceding Rule By Franco

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(P)—The United States followed the lead of other powers [illegible] and accorded formal recognition [illegible] General Francisco Franco's [illegible] regime as the legal government of [illegible] Spain.

President Roosevelt at the same time lifted a two-year embargo on the shipment of arms to either side in the long conflict which ended with Tuesday's fall of Madrid and the final collapse of the former republican government.

The recognition of Franco was [illegible] after Great Britain and France [illegible] recognized [illegible]

Secretary Hull sent a telegram [illegible] General Gomez Jordana [illegible] of the Burgos regime [illegible] position of [illegible] to establish diplomatic [illegible] government [illegible]

Hull [illegible] at a press conference a [illegible] answer to a question whether [illegible] had been taken of the [illegible] Italian and German troops [illegible] Spain. For obvious reasons, he said, he [illegible] go into details now on [illegible] He replied likewise to a question as to the possibility of a [illegible] for the former republican fighters.

The proclamation lifting the arms embargo was signed by the president at Warm Springs, Ga. In it the chief executive stated that in his judgment the state of civil strife in Spain described in a joint senate-house resolution of January 8, 1937, had ceased to exist.

Simultaneously with its publication, the state department revoked regulations governing the soliciting and receiving of contributions for use in Spain.

NEGRO WHO BEAT EMPLOYER HELD

Posse Captures Black Accused Of Attacking Calhoun Mill Foreman

[illegible] the capture by a posse [illegible] swamp Saturday morning [illegible] negro, 35, employe of [illegible] near Calhoun who [illegible] white foreman, was [illegible] here to the negro clinic of the St. Francis sanitarium for treatment of bruises. Sheriff Milton Coverdale said the negro would be charged [illegible] with intent to commit [illegible]

[illegible] fled to the swamp after he had beaten his foreman, Paul Wright, a man of slight physique, with a heavy piece of board a few minutes following his discharge from the mill. The negro had received his bruises when the posse brought him from the swamp to the mill offices, where he was being detained when Sheriff Coverdale and Deputies Frank Cline and Clyde Mitchell arrived.

The negro was employed at the J. B. Brown sawmill. He had given his employers some trouble, Sheriff Milton Coverdale was told, and [illegible] he was discharged by Mr. Wright Saturday morning. He was [illegible] demanded his pay [illegible] Wright and the negro entered an automobile to go to the mill office located in Mr. Brown's store, about a quarter of a mile from the mill. The automobile had not left the mill yard before the negro's harangue caused Mr. Wright to stop the automobile, Sheriff Coverdale was told. The negro then was said to have jumped out of the car, and to have beaten Mr. Wright, who also jumped out, with the board. Mr. Wright said he was beaten to the ground three times before the negro left the scene. The blows were delivered to his body.

Employes of the mill soon learned of the attack on Mr. Wright, and the mill was closed and the posse formed. Sheriff Coverdale and deputies brought the negro to Monroe.

MID-WEST SENATORS FORM WHEAT BLOC

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(P)—Midwestern senators, ignoring party lines, formed a corn-wheat-dairy bloc today similar to the older and powerful cotton bloc of southern senators.

The presence of Secretary Wallace at the birth of the new legislative group gave rise to immediate speculation it was formed to oppose the cotton bloc, now engaged in controversy with Wallace over his proposed cotton subsidy program, but the middle western senators emphatically denied that.

Senator Lucas, Democrat, Illinois, leader of the new bloc formed in his office, said its purpose was "a broad-scale, unified farm program affecting all sections of the United States against current uncertainties in world affairs."

The Illinois senator said the middle westerners would designate a committee of three to meet with a similar group of southern senators to "reach an agreement upon broad questions of general farm policy."

DEATHS

REIVE RITES HELD

The funeral of Charles Reive, 89, father of Mrs. C. C. Bell of West Monroe, who died at the Bell residence Friday at 6 [illegible] was held at the residence Saturday at [illegible] Dr. C. Karlos Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church of West Monroe, officiated, and interment was made in Hasley cemetery [illegible] the Mulhearn Funeral home in charge. Pallbearers were A. W. Riggs, W. A. Kirkpatrick, H. H. Bass, [illegible] A. Kendall, C. B. Brown and M. L. Langford.

Mr. Reive was a native of Ontario, Canada, but spent his early manhood at Muskegon, Mich. He moved to Louisiana in 1890 and had resided with his daughter in West Monroe for 15 years.

Surviving are four daughters and two sons, Mrs. C. C. Bell, West Monroe; Mrs. M. D. Abbott, Topeka, Kans.; Mrs. S. H. Dew, Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. J. W. Dew, Marshall, Tex.; Emery Reive, Houston, Tex., and [illegible] Reive, LeCompte. Also he leaves 17 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

RUPERT GRASBY

OAK GROVE, La., April 1.—(Special)—Funeral services for Rupert Grasby, 45, World war veteran who died at Lake Village, Ark., hospital Friday, will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the Oak Grove American Legion hut.

Interment will follow at McGehee, Ark., at 2 p.m., with members of Catton Keys Post No. [illegible], American Legion, conducting the rites at the grave under the direction of Arden B. Smith, fifth district commander of the American Legion.

APPARENTLY POOR, WOMAN DIES RICH

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—(P)—Miss Louise E. Pim, 89-year-old spinster, lived for years in the atmosphere of poverty.

But a few days after her death, March 21, an ancient piano in her poorly furnished room was found to be the hiding place of $40,000 in old currency.

Yesterday puzzled executors of the old lady's estate went to her bank safety deposit box searching for a will. They found it tied up with a second secret fortune of $103,000 in old bills.

The bulk of the estate will go to Catholic charities.

ROOSEVELT EYES EUROPE CLOSELY

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., April 1.—(P)—President Roosevelt kept a watchful eye on fast-moving European developments today but withheld comment on Adolf Hitler's Wilhelmshaven speech because he said he had not seen the text.

Talking with reporters from his car after he had dedicated two new buildings, a school and medical center—at the Warm Springs foundation for infantile paralysis, the chief executive said he had been in frequent touch with Washington but had received nothing new except terse press dispatches.

Asked how he regarded Hitler's speech, the president said he did not know because he did not have the whole speech before him.

Asked whether he thought the European crisis had "eased," the president again declined to give an opinion.

Late in the day Mr. Roosevelt delivered two informal speeches dedicating the two brick structures here for the benefit of crippled children.

He also accepted on behalf of the foundation a bronze plaque in memory of the late George Foster Peabody, co-founder of Warm Springs, donated by Peabody's daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Peabody Waite.

SEARCH LOSES PUNCH

JACKSON, Miss., April 1.—(P)—The search for an airplane, which residents near Prentiss said they saw crash in a swamp Wednesday, lost some of its punch late today. Wally Schanz, Ohio pilot who had been reported missing in the area, notified authorities he was very much alive—had in fact been one of those aiding in the fruitless search.

LOCAL PEOPLE'S KIN AID RESCUE

In First Car To Avoid Tragedy On Jackson Side Of Clear Creek Washout

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Tennant of Vicksburg, together with members of their party, who were in the first car which stopped on the Jackson side of the Clear creek bridge washout in time to keep from going into the water, are a son-in-law and daughter of C. C. Earnwine, living at 509 Layton street, Monroe.

In the car with Mr. and Mrs. Tennant at that time were their daughter, Miss Katherine Tennant, and Misses Ann Marie and Billy Leist of Vicksburg. Mrs. Evelyn Leist of West Monroe is the mother and Mrs. Norman Rushing of West Monroe is an aunt of the Leist girls.

Members of the Tennant party were returning from Jackson Wednesday night where they had gone to meet Miss Tennant who was returning from Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus for the spring holidays, when they came up on the Clear creek bridge tragedy.

"We were driving along at a moderate rate of speed not exceeding forty miles an hour," said Mr. Tennant today, "and any number of cars passed us. The last two cars that passed us between Smith's station and the bridge were the two cars that we saw disappear over the bridge.

The last car was approximately a half a block ahead of us when it went in. Upon seeing this car disappear my daughter remarked, 'Daddy, did you see that?' Then I stopped my car as quickly as possible. Just how far I was away from the washout I could not say. However, I was close enough to see the tail lights of three cars down in the creek which were still burning.

"Hearing the screams of those who were in the creek I turned my car around and returned to Mrs. Pennybaker's home. On arriving there I got out of my car and flagged a man driving a Ford car. He stopped immediately, and after telling him what had happened, he proceeded on to the bridge to help out. The next car I attempted to flag but did not stop, but the man in the Ford who had reached the bridge was successful in stopping him before he went off.

"The next car was Miss Hazel Ryan and a party of Vicksburgers who were returning from Jackson. They were attracted by Mrs. Tennant waving a red coat from the rear of our car and stopped.

"Leaving Mrs. Tennant and the other members of our party on guard in the middle of the highway to stop all cars possible, I ran into Mrs. Pennybaker's to telephone for help from Vicksburg.

"Raiford Guion of Guion-Theobald Funeral home was the home I talked to in Vicksburg and asked to send ambulances, doctors and highway patrolmen to the scene.

"Then I got in my car with my party and proceeded to Edwards. But did not pass a car on the way. At Edwards I stopped at the Chichester home and asked that they help me to locate help in that town telling them what had happened.

"While I was at the Chichester home the man who I had flagged in the Ford came to the house with the first victim rescued from the creek that I knew of. The injured man stated his brother and his two lady friends who were in the car with him he felt sure were dead. He asked that we do our best to recover them.

"My party and I then immediately returned to the bridge and my daughter and I began to assist in the rescue work. The first person we contacted was Mr. Lewis, driver of the Westbrook truck. We were taking him to my car, when Mr. Noble, the mayor of Edwards came up and then we put Mr. Lewis in his car and sent him on into Edwards.

"Then I was successful in stopping a colored man in a car en route from Jackson, who assisted in helping us rescue the others. These were one woman and two men. The woman was Miss Schrack of Mansfield, O. I did not know the names of the two men.

"The man in the Ford who I first stopped took the lady and Mr. Rucker of Vicksburg carried the two men off.

"There was only one dead man brought from the water while we were present. I did not know his name.

"After we rendered what assistance we could and with hundreds of rescuers at work, and my family tired out, we proceeded home by Utica arriving in Vicksburg about 2 o'clock."

Concerted efforts are being exerted to obtain action by Louisiana State university to purchase and operate six bus lines carrying students daily from cities and towns in north Louisiana to Northeast Center. The six buses will cost approximately $15,000 and after their purchase they will be self-sustaining. With these buses, a total of 300 students could be conveyed from their homes to college daily, enabling them to obtain two years of college studies at a minimum cost. The map above shows the proposed six bus routings. Also a recent survey discloses that there are 1,405 high school graduates, of the year 1937-1938, living on these routes. The number of high school graduates in proposed bus line parishes of the years 1937-1938 total 1,791.

Palm Sunday Is Being Celebrated Throughout The Christian World Today

Local Girl To Be In Rome Easter Sunday

Interesting Events Of Past Week Include Lecture By British Knight And Concert By Rubinoff

PALM Sunday! Fragments of palms, reminiscent of the Sunday long ago when Christ made his last entry into Jerusalem where palms were strewn along his way by the multitude, are being distributed in churches throughout the civilized world today.

"The Palms," one of the most beautiful sacred songs ever written, will highlight the services. The words of the song, "Bless Him who cometh to bring us salvation," still ring down the ages and will be associated with Palm Sunday for all time to come.

A week devoted to prayer and fasting awaits the devout who observe Holy Week. The 40 days of abstinence and deprivation will be over next Sunday when a gala Easter parade, thrilling music, and a world fragrant with lilies awaits those who look forward to this season of gladness and rebirth.

Imagine being in Rome on Easter Sunday! Winnie Graham Breard, who is attending school in Switzerland, writes that she will be among the thousands who will see Pius XII pontificate in St. Peter's on Easter morning. She will be on the broad square in front of the Duomo, or cathedral, to watch the Explosion of the Sacred Cart, a ceremony which has no duplication in Europe and which has been taking place in Rome every year since 1303 A. D.—a strange mixture of pagan beauty and romance of medieval Christianity. At high noon, while the cathedral bells ring out, a flaming dove, carrying fire struck from a flint brought from the Holy Sepulcher at Jerusalem, shoots over the heads of the crowd inside the cathedral, out through the wide doors and alights on the sacred cart which is waiting in the middle of the square. On the top of the cart is fastened a fuse. In a flash, fireworks concealed in every crevice of the wagon's frame begin to sputter and shoot. A wire reaching from the altar inside the cathedral and passing over the heads of the congregation to the cart, guides the bird in its flight. In olden times popular superstitions attached great importance to the manner in which the bird made its flight.

Winnie Graham will go from Rome to Florence where, according to the old saying, "Easter time is Florence time." She will be among the thousands who steep their soul in the fragrance of the lilies growing wild on the sunny slopes at Easter time. She will also be among the vast throng congregating on the Via Tornabuoni and the ancient Ponte Vecchio where Michelangelo and Donatello once worked as silversmiths.

Interesting events to spice our urban life took place last week. There was a lecture by a celebrated speaker, Sir Charles Morgan-Webb, a member of the British parliament, for instance. Leta Tisdale, like the proverbial early bird who gets the choicest morsels, was on hand to take Sir Charles driving over the city. Her motif was not exactly ulterior, but nevertheless she did ply him with questions regarding the Duke and Duchess of Windsor—of the attitude of the people toward the duke's abdication and numerous other questions of which no one is better informed than Sir Charles. Leta evidently got an earful.

Of luncheons there were many last week. There was Irene Fox's luncheon at the Virginia hotel, where white iris, an army of them, marched down the white satin damask-covered table. There was Mabel Wallace and Helen Sherrouse's luncheon and Emily Wright's luncheon at the Lotus club, all for Elizabeth Cutler and her sister-in-law, visitors at Bethaven, the Henry Biedenharn home.

Then there was Mrs. Ray Rhymes and Mrs. Patrick White's luncheon at the Frances hotel where bridal wreath and pink honeysuckle formed the table's floral decor. Francesca Biedenharn's luncheon table was gloriously beautiful—handsome silver and china and sparkling crystal and a floral piece of supreme artistry.

We tip our new Easter bonnet with the blue ribbon on it, to a band of courageous young women—members of the Junior Charity league, for putting over with a grand flourish their main project of the year—the Rubinoff concert. It was simply stupendous—well—one can't find a word nice enough for it. The great artist drew his bow across his famous violin and such enchanting melody poured forth. The parade of fashionables down the aisle was equal in style to the Easter parade. Hats that look so ridiculous when perched on mannequins in the shop windows, looked simply adorable on heads of pretty girls with their beautifully coiffed hair. The leaguers were out with their husbands in tow and the sight of them was far more stimulating than the cocktails served at the number of parties before the concert.

Mary Lee Milam, the league president, was beaming—and why not? She did some good work that brought splendid results and now there will be no need for wading through another project such as the Follies. From a financial standpoint their work is over for the year.

Review Club Holds Meeting

The Review club met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. E. Major, Sr. After a brief business session presided over by Mrs. C. B. Braun, vice-president, an excellent program on Louisiana coastal life was presented by Mrs. C. B. Braun and Mrs. DeWitt Henry.

Mrs. Henry gave a general description of this back region located below New Orleans and running to the gulf. Mrs. Braun discussed books written with this section of Louisiana as a background, such as "Chita" by Hearne, "Madame Touissant's Wedding Day" by Thad St. Martin and "Green Margins," by E. P. O'Donnell.

The following members were present to enjoy this program: Mesdames A. T. Givins, Henry Colvert, C. C. Colvert, Fred Fudicker, W. R. Hatchell, C. V. McGimsey, C. B. Braun, Ben Breard, Roy Hale, E. P. Cudd, D. M. Moore, C. A. Nenny and R. E. Major, Sr.

Laura Grace Kendall And Dr. Faler Marry

Marriage Of West Monroe Girl Takes Place In New Orleans On 31st Of March

Announcement is made today by Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Calvert of West Monroe of the marriage of Mrs. Calvert's daughter, Miss Laura Grace Kendall, to Dr. Lewis George Faler, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hood of Shreveport, which took place on the afternoon of March 31 at the Holy Name church in New Orleans, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Edward Cassidy, S. J.

Miss Kendall wore a long fitted coat, a Schiaparelli model of ivory porosa over a navy blue Stehli sheer, a large hat of ivory rough straw trimmed in navy, accessories of ivory and corsage of orchids and pink Token roses.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Martha Elmer of New Orleans, who wore a navy blue sheer with white accessories and corsage of Souvenir roses.

Dr. Fred Boyd served as best man.

After a brief wedding trip on the gulf coast the couple will return to New Orleans, where they will be at home to friends in the future.

Miss Kendall is a direct descendant of Joseph M. Papin and wife, Marie Louise Chouteau, who with Pierre Laclede Liguest, was among the founders of the city of St. Louis. She is a great-granddaughter of the late Theophile Papin of St. Louis, and a granddaughter of the late Bernard Caulfield, who represented the state of Illinois in the 43rd and 44th congresses.

Miss Kendall attended Ursuline academy and Gulf Park college, and is now studying voice in New Orleans. She is a member of the Delta Beta Sigma and Delta Alpha Sigma sororities and a great favorite in younger social circles of this city.

Dr. Faler is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta, Theta Beta and K. O. S., the last two being honorary fraternities. He is president of the class of 1939, school of dentistry, Loyola University of the South.

Little Theater Plans Two Plays

The Little Theater will present two one-act plays on the evening of April 4, at 8 p.m., at Northeast Center. This is in accord with their policy to alternate three-act plays with evenings of the shorter variety of play. Those responsible for the selection of the two plays to be given on April 4 believe that they present particularly interesting questions. "The Other Side," directed by Lucyle Godwin, is an intensely dramatic picture of a father who must mete out the ultimate punishment to his son, who has set himself against society as a criminal. "Two Crooks and a Lady," directed by Rosalia Kusin, is in lighter vein, but interestingly enough, deals with two more criminals. The methods an old lady, who is a helpless invalid, uses to defeat the ends of these two crooks make as gripping a play as one could find.

Wayne Wamsley, Jr., Bill Walker, Olan Black, and Fred Fudicker, Jr. compose the cast of "The Other Side." Mrs. Olan Black, De De Arnold, Jackie Gulley, Jacob Seligman, Rufus Goza, and H. O. Coates compose the cast of "Two Crooks and a Lady." The Little Theater has come to expect large audiences, with its current membership of over 800, and there are always nonmembers who swell the crowd by paying admission to see the evening's entertainment. Following the April 4 presentation, there will be one more three-act play, and another evening of one-act plays which will close the present season.

Noe's Ark Scene Of Delightful Affair

Redecorated River Craft Furnishes Charming Setting For Informal Gathering On Friday

The Noe's Ark, spic and span, after five months in drydock, where it was completely overhauled, repainted and additional comforts added, drifted down the river on Friday with a congenial company of guests on board.

Their gracious hostess, Mrs. James A. Noe, wearing a sport model of dusty pink with a big pink rose from her gardens tucked in her belt, and wearing a sun bonnet made of natural colored grasses, welcomed her guests in the cabin. Later everyone became comfortably seated on the broad upper deck where the glory of the springtime is seen to the very best advantage along the margin of the river. The boat drifted down stream past low hanging water oaks decked in bright green foliage and blossoming locusts sending forth divine perfume.

A splendid view of White Hall, the Noes' plantation home situated near the bend in the river, was obtained from the deck of the boat. The hostess had planned to serve tea in the spacious hall at her plantation home, but due to recent rains the banks of the river looked rather formidable. The change of plans, however, did not lessen the charm of the occasion as refreshments were enjoyed on the upper deck where white-clad servants passed trays of luscious sandwiches, relishes, cakes, cold drinks and coffee.

The guests on this occasion, the second of a series of afternoon teas, included Mrs. A. G. McHenry, Mrs. Reese Major, Jr., Mrs. Reese Major, Sr., Mrs. Carl McHenry, Mrs. M. A. McHenry, Mrs. Albert Horuff, Mrs. H. R. Speed, Mrs. T. O. Bancroft, Mrs. Charles Wallace, Mrs. John Potts, Mrs. Charles McCord, Mrs. John Munholland, Mrs. Dix Ellett, Mrs. John Breard, Mrs. D. A. Bradford, Mrs. Travis Oliver, Mrs. Henry Biedenharn, Mrs Haydn Cutler, Mrs. Travis Oliver, Jr., Mrs Richard Allen, Mrs E. C. Gibson, Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell, Miss Lucy Moore, Mrs Victor Coquet, Miss Eve Bradford, Mrs Gordon Cummings and guest from New York, and Mrs. Leon McHenry.

Mrs. Dennis Fetes Readers Clique

Crystal bowls of spirea and pink snapdragons added a note of spring time to the home of Mrs. J. Leon Dennis when she entertained members of the Readers clique on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. G. L. Morgan, study leader, gave an interesting talk on "Modern or Contemporary Decorating." She said in part: "Modern art and decoration, far from being a fad, have become a definite part of modern life. The modern [illegible] especially designed to meet [illegible] requirements of present day [illegible]. One of the most striking features is the sense of spaciousness it achieves. We find extreme elements have disappeared and modern, as interpreted in furniture and furnishings of [illegible], introduces only the most simple and pleasing forms. Modern furniture manufacturers have made use of all the new and interesting materials available. Such materials as glass, metal, rough-textured fabrics, rare woods and synthetic products all combined are found in the furniture of today.

"Textiles, [illegible] furniture, are keeping pace with the progress in modern design. [illegible] evidence of the uniformity they have attained is that textures and weaves [illegible] the main point of interest [illegible] fabrics of the present day [illegible] perfectly the mood of modern furniture.

"Color also [illegible] an important role. [illegible] the architect and decorator [illegible] to create [illegible] effects, as [illegible] and light [illegible] shades of color on the [illegible] of a room.

"Glass [illegible] is one of the most [illegible] of all the elements [illegible] way into the [illegible]. It has become an important medium in the architectural field as well as in the decorative. Perhaps the most interesting development [illegible] is the vacuum block [illegible] in the actual construction of [illegible] walls and interior partitions. [illegible] stream [illegible] of light to [illegible] other [illegible] between. We find [illegible] of plate mirror [illegible] as well as [illegible].

"Those of [illegible] many of the [illegible] a very pleasant [illegible] what is called classic modern. One is neither adhering to the strictly traditional nor are you going completely modern. For instance, the walls of the room are painted a pale blue with a classic wallpaper border in white and soft gray-blue, giving the effect of a deep cornice."

A distinct feature of the afternoon was the music presented by Mr. Max Kuike, pianist of note, who entertained the guests with classical and popular selections.

Members present were Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Clyde Blanchard, Mrs. Leon Dennis, Mrs. J. S. [illegible], Mrs. W. F. [illegible], Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. X. H. [illegible], Mrs. G. L. Morgan, Mrs. Clay [illegible], Mrs. C. J. [illegible], Mrs. H. B. Staples, Mrs. J. L. [illegible].

Numerous Courtesies Extended During Past Week To Olive Hodge, Bride-Elect

Hostesses Include Mrs. Rhymes, Mrs. White, Miss Hogge; Buffet Supper Is Held At Arant Home

Breakfast at 10 o'clock in the blue room of the Frances hotel was a charming interlude in a week overflowing with pre-nuptial courtesies honoring Miss Olive Hodge, whose marriage to Mr. Walker Glenn, Jr., will take place this morning at the Methodist church in West Monroe. Hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. Ray Rhymes and Mrs. Patrick White.

The table, overlaid with white damask and serviced in silver, was florally adorned with pink snapdragons and white bridal wreath spreading to the table's edge.

Miss Hodge was wearing a smart tailleur of beige with japonica pink accessories.

A luscious four-course breakfast was served to Miss Hodge, Miss Priscilla Hodge, Mrs. W. F. Thurmon, Mrs. Wesley Hodge, Mrs. Dorothy Apgar Hodge, Mrs. Walker Glenn, Sr., and the two hostesses.

Among other courtesies of the week, abounding in beauty of appointment and gracious hospitality was the buffet supper at the Abe Arent home with Dr. and Mrs. D. I. Hirsch, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Selig, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kuhn, Mrs. Jake Block and Mr. Henry Haas assisting in the courtesies.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Haas' hospitality Wednesday night brought a few intimates together in their home with Miss Hodge a charming figure in one of her loveliest trousseau models.

Miss Juanita Hogge's boating party on board the Brown Kraft was still another gracious compliment bestowed upon Miss Hodge and Mr. Glenn.

A buffet supper in the suburban home of Mrs. E. E. Pritchett brought a congenial company of guests together with Miss Hodge and Mr. Glenn the central figures.

White garden flowers, iris and bridal wreath, were employed in the table's floral decor. White tapers in low silver holders burned in the midst of the flowers.

The delectable viands were served from silver platters placed along the board for the convenience of the guests who were seated at small tables, serviced with silver and adorned with silver bowls of spring flowers.

The two hostesses, Mrs. Pritchett and Miss Lois Golson, presented Miss Hodge with pieces of china in her chosen pattern.

The courtesies extended Miss Hodge and Mr. Glenn climaxed in a supper party at the Virginia hotel Saturday night, with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thurmon and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Thompson the genial hosts.

Considerable beauty was reflected in every detail of this gracious compliment.

Poetry Society Holds Meeting

Mrs. H. J. Fernandez was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon when she entertained members of the Monroe Poetry society at her lovely home, Helendale, on the Columbia road.

The luncheon table was centered with a flaring bowl of pink roses and white spirea. A delicious fried chicken luncheon was served the guests.

After the luncheon a business session was held by the members and officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Warren Gregory, president; Mrs. J. R. White, vice-president; Mrs. H. J. Fernandez, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. L. V. Tarver, parliamentarian; reporter and historian, Mrs. L. F. Grigsby.

A motion was also adopted by the club to work toward the compilation of a book to contain either the published or unpublished poems of the club members and that these poems must be favorably criticized by an acknowledged critic of poetry before publication in the book.

Parent-Teacher News

Plans for the state convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association, which will be held in Monroe April 20, 21, 22, are rapidly nearing completion and the three-day program, which includes several speakers of national prominence, has just been released by Miss Essae M. Culver of Baton Rouge, who is chairman of the program committee. The theme of the convention will be "The Family in a Democracy," and Mrs. Paul Blanchard, state president, Baton Rouge, will preside. Miss Myrtle Rodgers, Monroe, will officiate as convention chairman.

Outstanding among the convention speakers will be Dr. Charles Knudsen of George Peabody college, Tennessee, who will deliver an address, "In Defense of Youth," Saturday morning, April 22.

Representing the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will be Mrs. C. H. Turner, national vice-president, Redonda Beach, Calif., and Miss Marion Telford, national safety chairman. Mrs. Turner will address the convention Thursday afternoon, April 20, and Miss Telford who has spoken at Louisiana P.-T. A. conventions on numerous occasions, will talk on "Safety in the Home," Saturday morning, April 22.

Other speakers on the program will be Dr. Pierce Cline, president of Centenary college, Shreveport, whose subject will be "The Future of the Family in a World of Turmoil," Thursday afternoon, April 20. Mr. Larry Fox of the department of sociology, L. P. I., Ruston, will speak on "Protecting and Training Youth," and Dr. Henry O. Dresser, associate professor of health and physical education, L. S. U., Baton Rouge, will deliver an address on "A Democratic Experience for the Family," Thursday evening, April 20.

Dr. Charles Hyneman, director of the school of government and public affairs, L. S. U., will be the guest speaker at the banquet, Friday evening, April 21. His subject will be "Is Democracy Worth Saving?"

Miss Margaret Lesser, editor of junior books, Doubleday Doran, New York City, will also be a prominent speaker.

Georgia Tucker

The March meeting of the Georgia Tucker P.-T. A. was held in the school auditorium, with Mrs. Elmer Richards, president, presiding over the business meeting.

Mrs. Sam Smith, publication chairman, acted as secretary during the absence of Mrs. X. Holt. She also acted as treasurer during Mrs. J. M. Drouett's absence and gave the report.

Mrs Richards thanked Mayor Benoit and the lighting department for the new lights, that are so much appreciated by the faculty and students in the library and office.

Some of the members nominated a committee to nominate the officers for the ensuing year. They were as follows: Mrs. C. B. Broun, Mrs. J. C. Liner, Mrs. F. C. Bennett, Mrs. W. R Hammond and Mrs. R. H. Johnson.

Mrs. F. D. Lippman passed the bulletins and Mrs. Richards called special attention to the article on "Monroe Welcomes the Convention," by Miss Myrtle Rodgers, sixth vice-president, chairman of the convention.

A motion was carried that Mrs. Richards appoint the delegates to the state convention and the registration fees would be paid.

Miss Rodgers, principal, was unable to attend the meeting because of illness.

Swartz

The Swartz Parent-Teacher association featured a safety skit, "Ten Little Autos," at their regular March meeting which was held last week. The play was given by girls of the fourth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Roy Pittard. A short playlet was also presented by the sixth and seventh grade girls, entitled "The Pumpkinville Center P.-T. A.," and was directed by Mrs. John Scarf and Mrs. Eddy Matthews.

The playlet, which was both interesting and instructive, carried out a model P.-T. A. meeting, bringing out all the fundamental rules of parliamentary law.

Following the program, the president, Mrs. G. B. Wilson, gave an interesting report of the Fifth district meeting which was held at the Crosley school, West Monroe, March 9.

The report of the nominating committee was read and accepted and the following officers were elected by acclamation: President, Mrs. G. B. Wilson; vice-president, Mrs. H. S. McGlohon; secretary, Miss Opal Davis; treasurer, Mrs. John Scarf.

Miss Eloise Jeansonne was introduced as the winner of the Fifth district winner of the safety poster contest. It was announced that Constance Spatafora was awarded the second place. The winner of third place will be announced later.

After adjournment the mothers of the pupils of the third grade served sandwiches and iced tea to the members.

Clarks

Mrs. Walter Crowell, president, Miss Marie Minard, secretary, and Mrs. G. N. Harrison, program chairman, presided at the meeting of the Clarks P.-T. A. unit, held at the Baptist church. The program was as follows:

Cornet solo, "Finlander," Charles Cooksey and the school band; lullaby, the school band; piano solo, Gloria Anne Bradford; trio, "In My Garden," Mary Ferree, LaVerne Lewis and Sylvia Greene; vocal solo, "Florian's Song," Mary Ferree; and a piano solo, Gloria Anne Weaver.

A fourth grade music lesson was taught by Mrs. Walter Crowell, using the following students as a representative group: Inez Hutson, Rose Mary May, Hazel DarDeve, Mary Francis Kraft, Eddie Glenn Jordan, Eugene Eason, L. J. Cooper, Robert Howell, Murphy Ballard, Paul Young, Murelyn Carter, Calvin Hilliard and O. C. Thompson. Preceding the lesson, Mrs. Crowell gave a talk on "The Four Types of Singing Taught in the Elementary Grades," and selected the "Reading Song," for her demonstration lesson.

The life of Stephen Collins Foster was read by Joy Kees, after which Billy Harrison gave a flute solo, "Sewanee River," by Foster. "The Sharpshooter's Band" was played by the school band.

Mrs. U. N. Bradford presented the highlights of her Indian unit, in an introductory talk. She also explained "The Progress Method of Education As It Operates in the Classroom." Contributory parts were given in the unit by students, and the concluding number was a dramatization of a scene from "Hiawatha." The children participating in the unit presentation were Gloria Anne Bradford, Naomi Harris, Lois McCrea Steeley, Pauline Broussard, Bennie Ray Gandy, Evelyn DePriest, Charles Patton, Jr., Dorey Allen, Billy Gilbert Pettijohn, Fred Jackson and Carl Fowler.

The school band students presented in the band numbers were Betty Thomas, Jimmie Harrison, Charles Riser, Stuart Richman, E. P. Chapman, Jr., Helen Francis Harris, Margie Bass, Charles Cooksey, Billy Harrison, Hazel Dean Gilbert, Billy McDermott, Mary Beth Lewis and Virginia Eason, with Mrs. G. N. Harrison, accompanist.

Dr. Wilson To Talk To Tallulah Club

The Tallulah Book club is fortunate in securing Dr. Fadra Holmes Wilson of Louisiana State university as speaker for its meeting April 6. She will not only address Tallulah club members but also other club members of surrounding territory and other women interested in this subject, "Family Relationship."

Y. W. C. A. Plans Busy Program

During the week following Easter Sunday, an opportunity will be given Y. W. C. O. board members, committee members and members at large to receive help in understanding and interpreting the entire program of the association. April 10 through April 12, Miss Ooloooah Burner, secretary of the national board of the Young Women's Christian association will be with the Monroe association. She will spend her time instructing, counseling, and planning.

Miss Burner is one of two general advisory secretaries for associations other than student in the southern region. This includes all states south of the Mason and Dixon line, from the Atlantic west through Louisiana and Arkansas.

Counseling with leadership groups and individual leaders among younger and adult members, boards of directors, committees, councils, chairmen and staff members is the major part of Miss Burner's advisory work during her visits to local associations. She is especially interested in the religious purpose of the association as it works out through the relationship of various groups in the Y. W. C. A. and in wider community life.

The following schedule has been planned for Miss Burner:

Monday morning a conference with the general secretary will be held. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the worship technique group will meet. The house committee will meet at 4:10.

Monday night there will be a general meeting of representatives of various civic, literary, and religious groups.

Tuesday morning at ten o'clock the board members will meet. A luncheon will be served at noon. The training for board members will continue during the afternoon. Girl Reserve advisers will be at 4 p.m.

Wednesday morning at ten o'clock the nominating committee will meet. In the afternoon the education and public affairs committee will meet.

Miss Burner will leave Wednesday afternoon for El Dorado for a two day stay. She will attend the conference of the southern region April 17 through 20.

Announcement is made by Mrs. G. B. Wilson, state safety chairman of the Louisiana P.-T. A., that safety posters designed by the following school children have been awarded first and second place by the committee of judges: Eloise Jeansonne, Swartz, first place; Constance Spatafora, second place. The third place will be announced later. The posters, which were on display at the Fifth district meeting held in West Monroe March 9, depicted phases of safety, sponsored by the state safety committee. Only school children are eligible for competition in designing the posters.

Awards for the three best publicity scrap books will be announced in the near future. Owing to the fact that several of the judges were unable to be present at the Fifth district meeting due to illness, the decision regarding the book has been delayed.

Neville Group To Stage Plays

The second in a series of one-act plays will be presented by the Neville Play-Production class, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Neville auditorium.

Miss Dorotha Fluke, director of the plays, says the class has selected outstanding plays for this presentation.

The first play, "Wienies on Wednesday," is the story of what happens when the Foster family entertains Madame Castinelli, a noted singer.

The second play, "The Valiant" an unusually powerful drama which tugs at the heartstrings, is generally considered to be the finest one-act play of its kind, having won over ninety prizes in contests throughout the country.

"Farewell, Cruel World," is a comedy about three young people who decide to commit suicide when all the world seems against them. Circumstances, however, change their minds, and the outcome is hilariously funny.

The "old set" is taking on some very new aspects. First it is the cozy breakfast room in the Foster home, then the cold, bleak walls of a warden's office in a state prison, then it becomes a sophisticated living room of a fourth-story city apartment.

Miss Richardson Will Wed John B. McIntosh

Announcement Of Engagement Made In Home Of Mr. And Mrs. R. Guthrie Jarrell Of Epps

Of paramount social interest was the candlelight tea given last week by Mrs. L. L. Lipp in the home of Mrs. R. Guthrie Jarrell of Epps, to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her cousin, Miss Betty Clark Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamilton Richardson of Los Angeles, to Mr. John Brown McIntosh, son of Judge and Mrs. John R. McIntosh, of Oak Grove.

The Jarrell home was banked with beautiful garden flowers—bridal-wreath, pink azaleas, blue and white iris—forming a florescent setting for the hostesses, their guest of honor and friends who called during the receiving hours.

Joanna and Marion Louise Lipp, dressed in crisp Swiss dresses and carrying baskets, handles tied with fly-away bows of pink tulle, presented each guest with a miniature scroll which disclosed the announcement. Mrs. Lipp, the honoree, Miss Richardson and Mrs. J. R. McIntosh were receiving. In the dining room the bridal motif was carried out with white and pink. The bride's table, which was overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a miniature bride and groom standing under an arch of English ivy and white sweet peas; crystal candelabra, supporting white tapers graced the four corners.

Pouring were Mrs. M. H. O'Connell and Mrs. D. M. McIntosh, and assisting with the courtesies in the dining room were Mrs. W. L. Gill of Darnell, Mrs. Marion T. Lipp, Baton Rouge, Misses Helen Long, Eleanor Long, Edna Carol McIntosh, Gloria Koerner and Naomi Pollard.

Individual wedding cakes inscribed with the letters B and J, and ices frozen in the form of bride's slippers were served during the afternoon. Wedding ring mints decorated with valley lilies and other confections were also served.

The approaching marriage of Miss Richardson and Mr. McIntosh is of much interest to a host of friends and relatives throughout the south.

Miss Richardson is a graduate of San Marino Hall of Pasadena, Calif., and attended the University of Washington, at Seattle.

She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and since college days has been active in the social life of Los Angeles, having served as president of Debutante Service league and is now on the board of directors of Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts club.

The wedding will be solemnized on Friday, April 14, at 5 o'clock, in the Oak Grove Methodist Episcopal church.

Mrs. A. R. Williams of Los Angeles will serve the bride as matron of honor, Miss Valerie McIntosh, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, and Joanna and Marion Louise Lipp, as flower girls.

Mr. McIntosh has chosen his brother, Mr. David McIntosh, as best man.

Mr. McIntosh is the oldest son of Judge and Mrs. McIntosh. He attended Centenary college and Tulane university and is affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon.

The young couple will reside at Oak Grove, where Mr. McIntosh is a prominent young planter.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and the bride-elect's cousin, Mrs. Audrey R. Williams of Los Angeles, will arrive next week to attend the wedding.

Current Literature Club Holds Meeting

The gracious hospitality extended by Mrs. John Best in her attractive home was enjoyed by the members of the Current Literature Book club. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. G. D. Holland. Reports were submitted by the treasurer, membership chairman and program chairman.

Mrs. J. C. Kramer, Jr., gave a splendid review on "Young Doctor Galahad," by Elizabeth Seifert. She said in part:

"The author, Mrs. Elizabeth Seifert Gasparatti, wife of the chief engineer of the City Ice and Fuel company of Moberly, Mo., got an idea for a novel. Mornings after her four children were off to school, she hurried through the house work, wrote until a luncheon [illegible]. Afternoons she could sometimes squeeze in a couple of hours more [illegible] gave her prose an [illegible] style. She knows hospitals and doctors. Before her marriage she worked in St. Louis hospitals, and she has definite ideas about the social role of the medical profession.

"The young Canadian physician, Tony McNeill, has accepted Dr. Gordon's offer of a job in his Westover hospital, and at once began to learn the facts of life in a place like this Missouri town of [illegible]. Acting as Dr. Gordon's assistant, Tony comes in for a great deal of hard work and a wide variety of surgical cases as well as the usual hospital routine."

Members attending were Mesdames R. L. Conway, Jr., G. W. Garrison, F. T. Harkness, G. D. Holland, Mike John, Jr., J. E. Kersh, J. C. Kramer, Jr., Louis Peters, E. R. Whitaker, William Whitfield, Raymond John, R. G. Seiler and Warren Gregory.

Junior Gavel Club Meets

The Junior Gavel club held a very interesting meeting in the home of Mrs. John Naylor on Pargoud drive Thursday afternoon. Throughout the reception suite were colorful spring flowers in graceful arrangements.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. H. L. Deloney, who welcomed to the club two new members, Mrs. Gordon Elliott and Mrs. Oliver Lowery.

Roll call and minutes were read by Mrs. C. O. Boyce, in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. D. L. Bozeman, Jr. The president urged the members to attend the Federated Women's clubs Fifth district meeting to be held in Oak Grove, April 15, starting at 9:30 in the morning.

Mrs. H. V. Collins, contact chairman for the Welcome Branch club announced that Mrs. Fagan J. Cox, Fifth district director of the women's field army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, is planning a public program in this city, April 13, in behalf of warfare on cancer, and invited all members to be present.

The subject for study, practical English and effective speech, was ably presented by Mrs. Ray Rhymes and was followed by an open discussion.

"Spotlight on the News" was the title of Mrs. John Richardson's interesting talk, which included the most outstanding current topics of the past weeks and a prophesy of coming events.

During the social hour delicious refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Olan Black, Mrs. H. L. Deloney, Mrs. L. A. Duffee, Mrs. G. V. McCaskill, Mrs. Ray Rhymes, Mrs. Blair Bartleson, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. C. O. Boyce, Mrs. Gordon Elliott, Mrs. Oliver Lowery and Mrs. H. V. Collins, contact chairman for Welcome Branch.

Rubinoff Concert Sponsored By Junior Charity League Outstanding Success

Auditorium Packed With Music Lovers

Celebrated Artist And Two Piano Accompanists Are Given Great Ovation

The Junior Charity leaguers have a smart, new feather in their cap. Their presentation of the celebrated violinist, Rubinoff, and his superb piano accompanists, Fray and Braggiotti, at the Neville auditorium Friday night was indeed a triumph and added one more bead to their rosary of achievements.

The generous proportions of the auditorium were filled to capacity with musical connoisseurs and music lovers who gave the artist all of the applause of which they were capable.

Sensing the depth of feeling prompting the lusty applause, Rubinoff expressed his appreciation in an impromptu talk. He told of his early youth in Russia. His genius, although ill-nourished and incompletely expressed, was discerned by the great American composer, Victor Herbert, who brought him to America. One of the most beautiful numbers on the evening's program, "Sweet Mystery of Life," was dedicated to the artist's benefactor, Victor Herbert.

Rubinoff came to America in his youth and has become Americanized yet he speaks in music of his native Russia—a sort of emotional force that one always associates with Russian artists.

Technical mastery is one of the characteristics of Rubinoff's playing. Combined with a dramatic instinct, he sways his audience with his artistry. A technical achievement was "Danse Russe," one of his compositions. His fingers flying with lightning rapidity played as important a part as the bow on the violin.

Rubinoff was at his best, perhaps, in "Dance of the Russian Peasant." Gay and lilting the music poured forth, growing louder until sonorous accents and tones were obtained. Rubinoff's facial expression accented his playing. His heavy brows were raised and lowered with the poignancy and the depth of his music. His face lit up during the lighter strains and grew serious when the heavier passages required the utmost skill.

Believing that swing music can be played to advantage on the violin, Rubinoff treated his audience with his version of American swing. There were many in the audience who were disappointed that even a small portion of the time was taken up with "jazz" but a great number were highly pleased as manifested in the ringing applause.

It was one of the happiest moments of the evening when Rubinoff drew the bow of his violin across the violin for the ever beautiful "Souvenir." The player delved deeper and deeper toward truth of melody and harmonic investiture in this number. He was called back again and again by the enraptured audience.

"Mon Reve d'Amour" was poignantly beautiful. It could well be classified as food for the soul, so soothing, so lyrical and so emotionally rendered was this particular number.

The duo-pianists, Fray and Braggiotti, shared plaudits with Rubinoff. The audience was thrilled with their performance and gave vent to their feelings in thunderous applause.

Mr. Braggiotti, responding to a curtain call, expressed a desire for such an audience when he and his partner appear in concert at the fair in New York City. He said such a responsive audience inspired him and he felt like giving them the very best of which he was capable.

Members of the Junior Charity league, headed by their president, Mrs. DeWitt Milam, were out en masse, in evening attire. They stood in the foyer of the auditorium and were assisted in ushering by members of the Delta Beta Sigma sorority, a lovely coterie of girls in evening gowns.

Mrs. Harvey Rester of Baton Rouge, formerly of this city, was privileged to greet old friends in the home of Mrs. Clifford Johnson Wednesday afternoon when she entertained with an informal conversational hour.

A variety of delicious confections were served with iced drinks during the afternoon.

Mr. J. Hunter Thatcher has returned from a trip to Cuba on board the steamer Rotterdam. During his absence Mrs. Thatcher visited friends in New Orleans.

Miss Mamie McNeil was forced to cancel her reservation on board the Rotterdam bound for Havana, on Sunday, due to an attack of influenza.

Mrs. Roumain Peters and two sons, John and Benny, of Alexandria are the guests this week of Mrs. Peters' mother, Mrs. John Potts.

Claiming the interest of friends today is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Cleola Hudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hudson, and Mr. Darwin McCormick, of West Monroe, Tuesday, March 21.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick are now at home to their friends at their plantation home near Cheniere.

Mrs. McCormick was a member of the Ouachita Parish High school graduating class of 1935.

The following article appearing in the Hollywood Herald concerning Mrs. Janette Powell, Mrs. Alice Nelson Briggs and their brother, Mr. William Nelson, will be of interest to friends in this city:

"Mrs. Charles L. Smith of Whitley Heights, and her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Gilpin of Toluca Lake, are helping to make interesting the visit here of three southerners, William Nelson and his sisters, Mrs. Janette Nelson Powell and Mrs. Alice Nelson Briggs, all from Monroe, La.

"The travelers are making the Hayvenhurst their home for a month or two, while they tour southern California's beauty spots.

"Mrs. Smith saw Mrs. Briggs, her sister-in-law, for the first time in 23 years when she went to Louisiana last year, and at that time she persuaded her to interrupt her series of annual trips to Florida with a journey to California.

"Mrs. Robert Hoyt gave a dinner party Saturday night for the visitors and followed it with an informal Sunday night supper party. Others who are entertaining the Louisianians are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. De Pattie.

"The visitors will spend this weekend at Palm Springs."

Mrs. O. D. Brasher of Alexandria is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wadell of West Monroe.

Mrs. W. K. Hunt and daughter Jeanne spent several days last week with relatives in New Iberia.

Mrs. Earl Nance left last week for Auburn, Miss., where she will enjoy a month's visit with her parents. She was accompanied to Auburn by Mr. Nance, who returned home on Thursday.

Mrs. Gordon Cummings and her house guest, Miss Mable Moore of Brooklyn, N. Y., motored over to Natchez on Tuesday for the Garden Pilgrimage.

Miss Moore's visit in Monroe as the guest of Mrs. Cummings, will be marked by several charming courtesies of a social nature.

Mrs. B. Beasley was summoned to Orange, Tex., last week by the serious illness of her brother.

Dr. and Mrs. John Bostick of Gilbert have named the daughter who arrived in their home March 29, Alice Wilcox, for her maternal and paternal grandmothers.

Mrs. M. E. Frenkel and daughter, Mrs. Claud Crawford, of New York City, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sig Marx.

Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Trousdale of New Orleans are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Trousdale.

EASTER IS TRAVEL SEASON FOR BABY CHICKS

Tiny chicks like these, snapped with Lucy Ann Niles, 4, at Buffalo, N. Y., are filling the m[illegible] days. Just possibly, Easter has something to do with it. Visitors Continue To Claim Interest

Mrs. Haydn Cutler Already Here; Several Others Expected To Arrive During Week

Guests and expected guests continue to add interest, gaiety and the spice of expectancy to party plans of Monroe's hostesses.

Always a welcome addition to the younger married set is Mrs. Haydn Cutler, who arrived from Rochester with her two children to spend the Easter season at Bethaven with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Biedenharn. She was accompanied to Monroe by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Allen of Topeka, who was included in the many courtesies extended by hostesses last week.

Guests expected to arrive in the city this week are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chumney of Mexico City, who are now visiting relatives in San Antonio. They will visit Mrs. Chumney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Stubbs. Mrs. Chumney is remembered here, where she was a popular member of the younger set, as Miss India Stubbs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Fitzpatrick, who have made their home in Indianapolis ever since their marriage, will make their home in Memphis in the future and before they become established in their new home will visit Mrs. Fitzpatrick's mother, Mrs. Percy Sandel. Mrs. Fitzpatrick is another favorite whose visit will inspire a flurry of social activities.

The presence in the city of Mrs. E. F. Hammann of Dallas is the occasion for considerable entertaining of an informal nature.

Mrs. Joseph Ramey and Mrs. Harry Thain introduced Mrs. Hammann and Mrs. D. D. Dudley, who recently took up residence in this city, to 70 or more guests during the coffee hour last Thursday morning. The reception suite was fragrant with the perfume of many flowers, arranged with exceeding artistry in the background.

Conversation was enjoyed over the coffee cups in the dining room, where the lace-covered table was presided over by Mrs. Harold Woods, Mrs. Hugh Lennon, Mrs. Preston Fergu[illegible] and Mrs. George Phebus.

The pastel shades were used exclusively in the flowers arranged charmingly in an oblong urn for the central decor.

A fascinating array of open-faced sandwiches and sweet confections were passed among the guests by Mrs. John Whitfield, Mrs. F. E. McVay, Mrs. Louis Peters and Mrs. Jack Masur.

The hostesses were also assisted by their mother, Mrs. H. M. Branch.

Compliments planned for Mrs. Hammann during her visit in the city include a bridge with Mrs. George Phebus and Mrs. B. L. Risher, hostesses, and a dinner party, with Mrs. D. D. Dudley, hostess. Mrs. Jack Masur named Mrs. Hamman guest of honor when she entertained her luncheon-bridge club. Mrs. W. J. Veazey's compliment was a morning bridge on Saturday. A coffee hour Monday morning with Mrs. J. Prendergast, hostess, will pave the way for other activities during the week.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
3400 Lee Avenue
D. D. Cantrell, Pastor
Dale Cobb, Choir Director

The Sunday school begins today to study a new character from the Bible lesson. We especially are anxious to have all our people present and get started with the first lesson, beginning at 9:45 a.m. Those who study the Bible think there was never a time when we need to have this knowledge so much as now. Come and study with us.

The Baptist Training union will begin at 6:30 p.m. Be on time and bring your friends, and let us make much of the fine lesson, "How Christians Should Live." The new quarter's study will be a great asset to our church if we will be gleaning from this harvest field.

The pastor and church were greatly encouraged last Lord's day by the coming of five fine people for church membership, one from the young people's department and four from the adult department. There are many Baptists out of service in this city who ought to be in the church and at work. The enemy is abroad in the land and the Lord is looking to the saved to share this Gospel with those who know it not.

The pastor's subject for the morning hour of worship is: "Some Things Which Caught the Eye of Jesus" and for the evening: "God's Work Shop." We cordially invite all our friends to worship with us in all these services. "Let's not forsake our own assembling together (for worship) as the custom of some is, but exhorting (encouraging) and so much the more as you see the day drawing nigh (the coming of Christ)." (Hebrews 10:25.)

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
St. John And Grammont Streets
L. T. Hastings, Pastor
D. C. Black, Pastor's Associate

The regular services will be held Sunday, beginning with Sunday school at 9:45. The pastor will occupy the pulpit both hours. The choir under the direction of Mr. Black with Mrs. B. D. Allbritton at the piano will bring special music. The services will be broadcast over KMLB. Although many are still sick on account of the flu, still we are looking for large crowds. Visitors and strangers are always welcome. The ordinance of baptism will be administered at the close of the evening service. The Baptist Training union and the Baptist Brotherhood will welcome you to their services at 6:15. In these days of mental strain and soul anxiety people want to know the things of the Lord. [illegible] Sunday. [illegible] where we need you [illegible] need us.

Young people's C. E. meeting at 6:30 p.m.

Intermediate C. E. meeting at 7 p.m.

Evening service at 7:30 p.m.

This will be the first service in our pre-Easter evangelistic campaign. W. B. Boozman, of Alexandria, will be with us to lead the song service. There will be a service each evening except Saturday. Come promptly at 7:30, and the service will close promptly at 8:30. Mr. Boozman and the choir will furnish special music each night. The minister will deliver the sermons. Some of the sermons will be "Who Killed Jesus?" "Lord, Is It I?" "The Person Who Ought Not Be a Christian." Bring your friends, and come every night. On Thursday evening, after the sermon, the annual candlelight communion service will be conducted. Everyone is most cordially invited.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Auburn Avenue Avenue And North Second Street

"Unreality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 2, 1939.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error" (I John 4).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The confidence inspired by Science lies in the fact that truth is real and error is unreal. Error is a coward before truth. Divine Science insists that time will prove all this" (p. 368).

GRACE CHURCH
Fourth And Glenmar Sts.
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for this Sunday next before Easter, commonly called Palm Sunday, are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. [illegible] at 9:45 [illegible] Holy Eucharist [illegible] of Palms and sermon [illegible] will be the service at 10:45 [illegible]. Evening prayer and address at 7:30 p.m. The rector will journey to St. David's, Rayville, and hold service at 4 p.m.

We are now come almost to our journey's end. Today we are at the gate of the Holy City and the Passover is nigh. From all directions the Jews have been coming up to Jerusalem to keep the feast, and there is excited talk about the Prophet of Nazareth, for the news of the raising of Lazarus from the dead has gotten about. Jesus, knowing that His hour has come, prepares to present Himself to the people in royal dignity as the Messiah, but He waited until after the Sabbath. It was on the first day of the week in which He suffered that our Lord entered the Holy City. The multitude, by a divine influence, greeted His approach with hosannas and the waving of palm branches. This beautiful event, viewed with the scenes in connection with that which immediately followed—the hosanna of the Sunday contrasted with the away with Him of Friday—has taken deep and mysterious hold upon the hearts and the imaginations of men, and its associations still brighten with melancholy light the somber solemnities of the week before us.

The public is invited to Palm Sunday services, and to all other services in Grace church. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate.—The Rector.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST
J. M. Alford, Pastor

We earnestly request all the members and all our friends, who will do so, to meet with us at the church today at 11:00 a.m. for the communion of the Lord's Supper. This is observed once each month, the first Sunday. However "unworthy" you may feel you can come and partake in a "worthy" manner. The pastor will bring a message on "Why Was It Necessary for Christ to Suffer and Die for Sinners." The Sunday school will open at the usual hour, 9:45, we hope with all the teachers and officers in their place on time. We request all the children who are members of the church to remain for the service and participate in this most precious service. The Epworth leagues will meet at 6:45 p.m. At the evening service the pastor will deliver a message on some evangelistic subject. The Woman's Missionary society will meet at the church Tuesday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock, for the regular monthly business [illegible] Mrs. C. L. Taylor, the president, will be in charge. There [illegible] as well as [illegible]

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH
Stone Avenue And South Third Street
I. L. Yeager, Pastor

In this [illegible] age, in order to evade the fact of personal responsibility, a brother [illegible] to the divine question asked, "Am I my brother's keeper?" The [illegible] of Holy Writ reveal [illegible] that we are our brother's keeper so far as our example and influence is concerned. What will the harvest of my life's influence and example of this day be? May we each ask ourselves this question and endeavor to answer it in the light of eternity. Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. Christian Endeavor at 6:45 p.m. Evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m. Circle meeting Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Song service Tuesday evening at 7:30. Midweek prayer service Thursday evening at 7:30. At this service we will begin the study of Revelation using the first chapter for the evening lesson. We invite you to begin with us.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH
'The Church With The Lighted Steeple'
Walter C. Scott, Minister

Palm Sunday! This day of the triumphant entry at the beginning of Holy Week calls to mind the cheering multitudes who hailed Jesus as a conquering king. May we today sing, "Hosanna to the Son of David. Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." Jesus cannot go through the world on a triumphant march unless we go before Him and make a path for Him. Human hands and hearts may open the way along which the Spirit of Christ gets into human souls and into the world.

"What the Church Stands For" is the sermon theme for the 11 o'clock service at which time a large class of children and young people will be received into the church. There will be no communion service today, but on Thursday evening at 7:30 and also on Friday morning at 9:30, the sacrament will be administered. You are cordially invited to attend these services. A retreat and devotional service on Good Friday from 12 to 3 will be an important occasion for members of the Woman's Missionary society and any others who desire to attend. On Friday evening, from 7:30 to 9, there will be a special devotional program, "The Christ of Calvary." You are welcome to all of these services. The doors of our church are open at all times for any who desire to worship here.

The Woman's Missionary society will meet at the church Tuesday at 3 p.m. for the business meeting. The Parker Memorial class will have the social and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Clark Ransom Wednesday evening at 7:30.

On Easter Sunday, at the 11 o'clock service a class of adults will be received into the church. At 4 o'clock of that day there will be a special service for the baptism of infants and small children. At the evening hour on Easter day the choir will present an Easter cantata, "Rabboni." The public is invited to all services.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
West Monroe
C. Karlos Smith, Pastor-Evangelist

This is the ideal time to attend church and Sunday school. It is the dawn of spring and then it is that holy time when we are thinking of the tragedy of the trial and crucifixion of Christ, the glorious resurrection and what it should mean to all humanity.

We invite you to be present at our church for Sunday school and church services. The Sunday school meets at 9:45 a.m., with Mr. R. M. McClendon as our efficient superintendent waiting to greet you, and to direct you to a class for every member of the family. Preaching services will be held at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The subjects for the morning and evening will be "The Arrest and Trial" and "The Crucifixion." Every member and friend of the Christian church should hear these messages.

The choir will be under the direction of Mr. G. C. Williams, assisted by Miss Maida McClendon and a fine choir.

Let us attend every service even if it does look like rain. The church does not leak and you will be well protected from the weather.

"The church with a welcome."

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Thomas Avenue And Richmond Street
G. M. And Mrs. Akin, Pastors

Sunday school will open at 9:45, S. P. Quigley, superintendent. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. Evening evangelistic service 7:30.

Young people's meetings at 6:30 under the direction of their respective leaders.

Monthly business meeting of the church Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Woman's Missionary society will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. E. L. Hickam, 405 Lee avenue. This will be the business meeting of the month and all women are urged to be present.

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening 7:30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa Street
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

The communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed this Sabbath morning. The members of the congregation are urged to attend. Our [illegible] will be turned [illegible] above to the [illegible].

Sunday evening we are thinking [illegible] Mark [illegible] the parts [illegible] be effected.

The Sabbath school attendance is good. Will you attend today? Will you study with us the book and discover its meaning for us now?

The pastor will lead a communicant's class. The first meeting of the class will be held Monday afternoon, April 3, from 4 to 4:30 p.m. If you are thinking about uniting with the church, we believe it will be to your profit to attend. Fathers and mothers are urged to encourage their own sons and daughters to enroll. Our Redeemer expects His people to unite with the church.

The session will meet Easter morning, April 9, to receive people into the church. The hour is 9:30, the place the primary room.

With your prayers and interest, this will prove to be one of the high points in the history of our local congregation. The Lord is counting on you.

SALVATION ARMY
Adjutant Glen Washburn

Sunday school 9:45 a.m. Holiness meeting 11 a.m. Sunday night 7:30 p.m. Revival services will continue during the next week, ending Easter Sunday.

Evangelist Roy Lewis will speak Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service on "Consider Him." Sunday night the subject will be "The Triumphant Entry."

The interest has been good at these meetings and those who have not attended are missing some real old time gospel messages.

Oak Grove

Circle No. 2 of the Methodist Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Clayton Gunter for a Bible lesson taught by Mrs. J. R. McIntosh from the books of Samuel and Kings.

The meeting was presided over by the leader, Mrs. J. T. Williams, and opened with a piano selection by Miss Jerry Gunter, followed by the 21th chapter of Second Kings, given by Mrs. J. J. Joyce, Jr.

A short business session was held and reports were given, followed by the lesson taught by Mrs. McIntosh. Miss Gunter gave another piano selection, and dismissal was made by Mrs. Williams.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. S. Pollard, Misses Nina Love Gunter, Jerry Gunter and Ollie Robinson, served a plate lunch and ice tea. Mesdames Spencer Farmer, J. J. Joyce, Jr., J. R. McIntosh, C. H. Neely, J. S. Pollard, J. T. Williams, J. L. McKenzie, Harriet Buchanan, D. M. Copeland and one guest, Mrs. A. Dozier.

The executive committee of the Methodist Missionary society met at the home of the president, Mrs. Jesse James, and discussed reports for the first quarter. Those in attendance were Mesdames Mae E. Kelly, W. A. Ross, B. H. Bolding, O. C. Roberts, C. H. Neely, D. M. Copeland and Jesse James.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER XIX

John Harker looked up from papers on his desk. He looked up with interest, but not the slightest sign of recognition. He got to his feet.

"How do you do," he said politely.

Susie inclined her head, enjoying the situation. It was drama and Susie had never experienced the heady sensation of holding the center of the stage.

"How do you do, Mr. Harker," she said.

He looked at bit confused. There was something familiar about her voice.

"May I do something for you?" He wore the flattering expression of a man who looks once, then quickly again.

"You have done something for me," Susie said softly, graciously. "So much that I can never thank you."

"Oh," he was enlightened now. "You have been following our Susie rules for beauty. May I say that you have been vastly successful?"

Susie laughed. The little play had gone far enough. "Yes," she said, "I have been following the Susie rules and I'm glad you are satisfied because—well, you see—I'm Susie."

There was an instant of stunned silence, then he shouted, "No," and again, "No."

"Yes, yes," Susie laughed. It was the proudest moment of her life.

Harker flung open the office door. "Hear—hear—," he shouted. And added, in a stentorian voice, "Presenting Suzanne. Come in—all of you."

Susie held court until the store closed. Mr. Harker complimented each and every member of his staff who had taken a part in the transformation. Susie thought he went out of his way to shake Jeff's hand, to congratulate him on the splendid publicity.

She heard Jeff say, "How about having her on parade, sort of as hostess, in the different departments? Wearing the famous Princess makeup, Avalon shoes, knitted frocks by Anslow and so forth. Advertising her appearance here and there through the store on different days. I think it would bring out a crowd."

She saw Mr. Harker nod, heard him say, "Great idea, Jeff—swell."

Jeff took Susie to dinner that night. From the menu she chose wisely and not too much. In fact she scarcely felt the need of food. She was wrapped in the glory of achievement and success. Men at adjoining tables paid her the tribute of second and third glances, women looked frowningly at her clothes, smoothing their own garments, taking compacts from their purses to look into tiny mirrors [illegible]. Quite humanly Susie reveled in the sensation she created.

Over a dessert of green gage ice and cake Jeff inquired, "Well, Susie, where do you go from here?"

She looked up, faintly startled by the question. Not once had she looked beyond the day when she was to burst her cocoon.

"I don't know," she faltered. "Mr. Harker wants me through the holidays. Miss Jones, in the dresses, suggested that I'd make a good model—"

"Not thinking of leaving Chicago, are you?" Jeff asked. For some vague reason, unknown to himself, Jeff did not want Susie to leave the city. "I'd be lonely as the dickens if you went away."

"Oh, I won't go away," she said quickly. The very thought of leaving Chicago made her feel lost, helpless. Could it be that Jeff lived in Chicago? The thought did not occur to her.

"You see I'm going to be a stray dog one of these days," he told her.

"I don't understand, Jeff."

"Edna is wearing an emerald, completely smothered in diamonds. The chief gave it to her." There was a queer tightness about his mouth as he attempted to appear unconcerned.

• • •

"How wonderful," Susie breathed.

"Yes—wonderful. I want Edna to be happy, cared for, but I don't know how I'm going to get along without her." Jeff was trying to laugh.

"I know, Jeff—that's bad," she went on sympathetically. Then she brightened. "But you'll have a home of your own one of these days—a wife and—." She stopped, not quite pleased with the thought.

"Ha," Jeff snorted. "I'm not the marrying kind. Be scared to death of a wife." But after a moment, when she said nothing he continued, "Do you know something, Susie? I'm absolutely in the dark concerning this thing called love. There must be such a thing or the poets and scenario writers wouldn't spend so much time building it up, but it leaves me cold."

Susie still said nothing, raised and lowered her eyes so distractingly that Jeff lost the thread of conversation for a moment.

Then Jeff resumed. "Edna's got it and I've noticed the signs. She gets all rosy when the Chief telephones, spends hours dressing up for him, moons over his flowers and gifts—I don't know what it's all about."

Quite unexpectedly Susie remarked, "Love is a terrible thing, Jeff."

"Then why does everyone do it?"

"It's something you can't help."

"Oh, rats—say—what do you know about it?"

"I know everything about it."

Jeff was plainly disturbed. He glanced about the thinning room, puzzled. "Where is he? Do I know him? For gosh sakes, Susie, why didn't you ever tell me?"

"I've never told anyone."

Jeff's distress was more and more obvious. He looked positively miserable.

"Does he love you?"

"Not yet." Dreamy-eyed, she twisted the stem of her goblet.

• • •

"Look here," Jeff said irritably, "give me the low-down, will you? I'm responsible for you. I can't have you running around loose like this."

"What do you mean, loose like this?"

"Well, loving some guy, thinking about him, getting all starry-eyed and silly." Jeff hadn't the remotest idea what ailed him. He was confused, he was baffled.

"There isn't much to tell," Susie began, the silly stars way back in her eyes. "Once upon a time I fell in love with a boy, he's a man now. Naturally he didn't know it. To him I was only the dumb-bell who passed out waffles over a counter. But he was nice to me, Jeff—so very nice." Her voice trailed away on a soft thrill.

"And you still love him." Jeff seemed to be having difficulty crediting the news.

"Oh, yes. It was because of him that I had to be beautiful, it was for him that I've starved and worked and struggled to this day. Do you think he'll like me, Jeff?" she added with sudden wistfulness.

"When're you going to see him?" Jeff asked gruffly.

"I don't know—but I'll see him—if I have to cross the continent to find him." She spread her hands in a pretty, expressive gesture. "That's what it's all been about, don't you see?"

"Yeah—I see." Jeff was silent during the evening. A queer despondency held him speechless. In vain he endeavored to break through it, finally deciding that he must be suffering a letdown after the feverish advertising campaign.

His abstraction troubled Susie not at all. Jeff must feel terribly about his mother. She was sweet and understanding and friendly. Each time she caught a glimpse of herself in a mirror or plate glass window she completely forgot Jeff's difficulties. Intoxicated with her own surprising charms she went to bed with a feeling of absolute contentment. From the unhappy past she carried only one memory, Dick Tremaine, the beautiful white knight of her dreams.

Meeting Is Held By Wisner Women's Club

Mrs. Segrest Named President; Reviews Given By Mrs. Mitchell And Miss Wilson

The Woman's club of Wisner met in the home of Mrs. P. Archibald, with Mrs. W. S. Knotts, Mrs. E. B. Knotts and Mrs. W. C. Knotts as co-hostesses.

The "Awakening of Spring" was reflected in the background of flowers, which suggested on this occasion the specific subject, "Flowers."

The meeting was opened with the singing of "Louisiana," accompanied by Mrs. Tom Gilbert at the piano.

During the business hour, presided over by the president, Mrs. T. L. Owen, the officers for the coming year, selected by the nominating committee, were announced. They were as follows: President, Mrs. R. L. Segrest; vice-president and chairman of the year book, Mrs. T. L. Grace; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. R. S. Mecom; reporter and chairman of the press, Miss Georgia Knotts.

"The South's Pageantry of Flowers" was presented by Mrs. Gordon Mitchell. This interesting number gave brief glimpses into some of the outstanding gardens and pageants.

Mrs. Mitchell said in part:

"The city of Nashville, Tenn., is designated as the city 'where the world pays homage to the iris.' Every May iris festivals are held and displays are made by the iris fanciers of the nation. Here is featured the annual iris show with elaborate pageants in costume. At this time the most famous private gardens of Nashville are opened to visitors in the spirit of cordial southern hospitality with no admission charges.

"Garden week in Virginia is rich in historical lore dating to pre-Revolutionary days. Hundreds of homes are opened to the public. Though the magnificent homes, such as Monticello, Williamsburg and Berkeley, are among the chief centers of interest, yet each of them has its attractive gardens. Jefferson not only introduced new styles of architecture and decoration but he was the first in America to step aside from the old-fashioned gardens and to introduce the naturalistic garden. His proposals for Monticello anticipated some of the finest European gardens."

Discussing the gardens produced by Luther Burbank, the noted horticulturist, Miss Blanch Wilson gave a highly interesting account of the life and accomplishments of one of America's most lovable characters.

She said in part:

"Luther Burbank was born on the Burbank farm in Lancaster Township near Boston, Mass.

"He owed most of his education to his cousin, Levi Sumner Burbank, a professor of Paducah college, who had a bent for natural science. He was a great believer in Darwin and spent much time reading his works.

"He believed in heredity and environment in man, animal and plants. His father, Samuel Walton Burbank, loved beauty, and was greatly influenced by the pleasantness of the land in its garments of spring and autumn. His mother loved her garden and loved to make things grow whether domesticated or the things she found in the woods. He believed that he inherited these traits from his parents. Even as a child he was a great lover of flowers.

"He also thought that the environments in which he was reared in Massachusetts, with its keen sweetness of air on sharp mornings, the sun on snow or green carpets of grass, rugged rocks, sharp crack of ice on a pond in winter, its unexpected vistas, hidden vales, unanticipated breathless sights of the sea made him notice and love natural beauty.

"When he first began a garden patch he only had a hoe, a pair of overalls and a voracious appetite for knowledge.

"After the death of his father he bought 17 acres of very fine land on which was a good old house. He set himself up as a market gardener. It was his idea that the garden pay its own way, while he experimented, but he found that he was not the only one who thought of raising produce for market. His competitors knew much more about raising vegetables than he, a mere youngster, did. He found that the only way to success was to raise better vegetables and get them to market earlier than anyone else could.

"Better vegetables meant not only the best seeds and roots to be had, but the best that could be produced. He began by finding certain plants on the same row that grew more rapidly and some with better foliage. He marked these plants and when the seeds matured gathered them for the next year's planting. Stored in every cherished seed was all the heredity of the variety, and improvement that environment had placed there. After a time he found that part of the second year's growth would show all the finer characteristics of the marked plants, and a tendency to improve on their improvement.

"It was not long before he knew that he was on the right track. His start had been made."

OOPSIE, DAISY!

New as the spring season and sure to attract the right kind of attention are long, pull-on gloves of the same colorful silk print as the smart day dress. To go with them, Eric, Paris' so-called Mad Hatter, created a spectacular spring bonnet. Of Mediterranean blue straw, it is finished with a tall spray of feather leaves. For sheer flattery, the lines of the hat itself can't be beaten. For sheer novelty, neither can the trimming.

Members of circle No. 8 of the Baptist Missionary society met with Mrs. O. B. Roark for a social hour. The guests engaged in various kinds of sewing and fancy work. Mrs. J. M. Yeates and Mrs. Clyde Lawton conducted a brief period of worship.

THERE is a common impression that only the family that owns property pays taxes . . . that if you, for example, pay nothing to the tax collector directly, you pay no taxes at all. ● NOTHING COULD BE FARTHER FROM THE TRUTH. ● The need for greater tax revenues to finance huge increases in government spending, has brought about many new methods to make everyone pay taxes without realizing it. The men who think up these taxes call them "Painless Taxes" . . . because they are easy to collect, for this kind of taxpayer does not realize he is paying taxes. ● Those who have studied the subject call them "Hidden Taxes" for the same reason. ● YOU PAY TAXES WHETHER YOU OWN PROPERTY OR NOT. If you buy a loaf of bread you pay 58 taxes . . . which began before the wheat for the flour was harvested. Your 15c package of cigarettes is really only 9c worth of cigarettes plus 6c in taxes. OUT OF EVERY DOLLAR YOU SPEND FOR ELECTRIC SERVICE, 15½ CENTS GOES TO TAX COLLECTORS. ● While the tax bill is paid by the manufacturer, by the retailer, by all others in business . . . they simply pay this money "on account" for you and all the other consumers of their products. The butcher, the grocer, the landlord . . . each is actually a tax collector, adding to his price the taxes which are levied on him and on his products. They have no choice but to pass the taxes along, for otherwise, they would have to go out of business. ● Amazing as it may seem, it has been found that THE MAN WHO EARNS $100 A MONTH PAYS $231.72 A YEAR IN HIDDEN TAXES . . . IN ADDITION TO ANY OTHER DIRECT TAXES HE MAY PAY. ● The man who earns $150 a month pays $363.60 a year in Hidden Taxes. ● Year by year, month by month, new taxes . . . Hidden Taxes . . . are being invented and added to the total which you already pay. ● Unless this increasing burden of hidden taxes is stopped, it will continue to take a constantly greater share of every family's income.

$231 A YEAR IN "HIDDEN TAXES"

The amazing table on HIDDEN TAXES appearing at the right was compiled from figures gathered by accountants and tax experts for the State Committee for Florida Tax Information. It represents an accurate estimate of HIDDEN TAXES paid by the average American family in three income groups, reduced to monthly comparisons. It very clearly demonstrates the tremendous growth of so-called "painless" taxation.

'Adventures Of Huckleberry Finn' Opens At Paramount

Chester Morris and Victor McLaglen are seen here as they appear in "Pacific Liner," the romantic drama of the sea which plays today and Monday at the Capitol theater.

Louis Hayward, Richard Carlson and Tom Brown are three of the dukes starred in "The Duke of West Point," which plays next Friday and Saturday at the Paramount theater. Joan Fontaine is co-starred in this authentic, most touching and the most thrilling story ever told about Uncle Sam's West Point.

James Dunn, Horace MacMahon and "Jinx" in a scene from "Pride of the Navy," which also features Rochelle Hudson, Gordon Jones and Gordon Oliver and plays Tuesday at the Capitol theater.

Rooney Stars In Picture Of Twain's Story

Delightful Tale Of Youngster's Adventures Makes Engaging Film

"THE ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN," Mark Twain's sequel to "Tom Sawyer," with Mickey Rooney in the title role, playing his first solo starring part in a dramatic story of life on the Mississippi, is the attraction starting today at the Paramount theater.

Familiar to millions of readers, the Mark Twain story presents Mickey as the river lad who seeks to aid a runaway slave to escape up the river to a free state. Their raft is invaded by two comical swindlers, "The King" and "The Duke," who give bogus Shakespearean plays, plot to sell the slave back to slavery, and are about to defraud two girls of their father's estate when Huck exposes them and precipitates a dramatic climax.

Much of the action was filmed on the Sacramento river, which did service as the Mississippi, and where one of the last old river steamers still in service in this country staged the dramatic race to rescue the slave from a lynch mob.

Richard Thorpe, who filmed "The Crowd Roars" and other hits, directed the new picture. The cast includes Walter Connolly as the "King," who, with Mickey as Juliet, stages an absurb "Romeo and Juliet" performance in a river village. "The Duke," second of the swindlers, is played by William Frawley, veteran of stage and screen, and the kindly Widow Douglass, benefactress of the boy, is enacted by Elizabeth Risdon. Jim, the runaway, is played by Rex Ingram, the negro actor who scored as "De Lawd" in "Green Pastures."

The two heiresses whom Mickey rescues from the swindlers are played by Lynne Carver and Jo Ann Sayers, and the remaining supporting roles are filled by Minor Watson, Victor Kilian and Clara Blandick.

Dramatic highlights include the boy's attempt to run away to save the widow from paying blackmail, his discovery of the runaway slave, their raft trip up the river with its narrow escapes, the encroachment of the swindlers, the absurb Shakespearean performance and the plot to swindle the girls. The negro carrying the boy, bitten by a snake, to medical aid, knowing it means return to slavery, and the mad dash of the steamer to save him from the lynch mob, are other dramatic thrills.

Florence Rice, Ann Rutherford, Mary Howard, Una Merkel, Buddy Ebsen in "Four Girls in White," the attraction which plays Wednesday and Thursday at the Paramount theater.

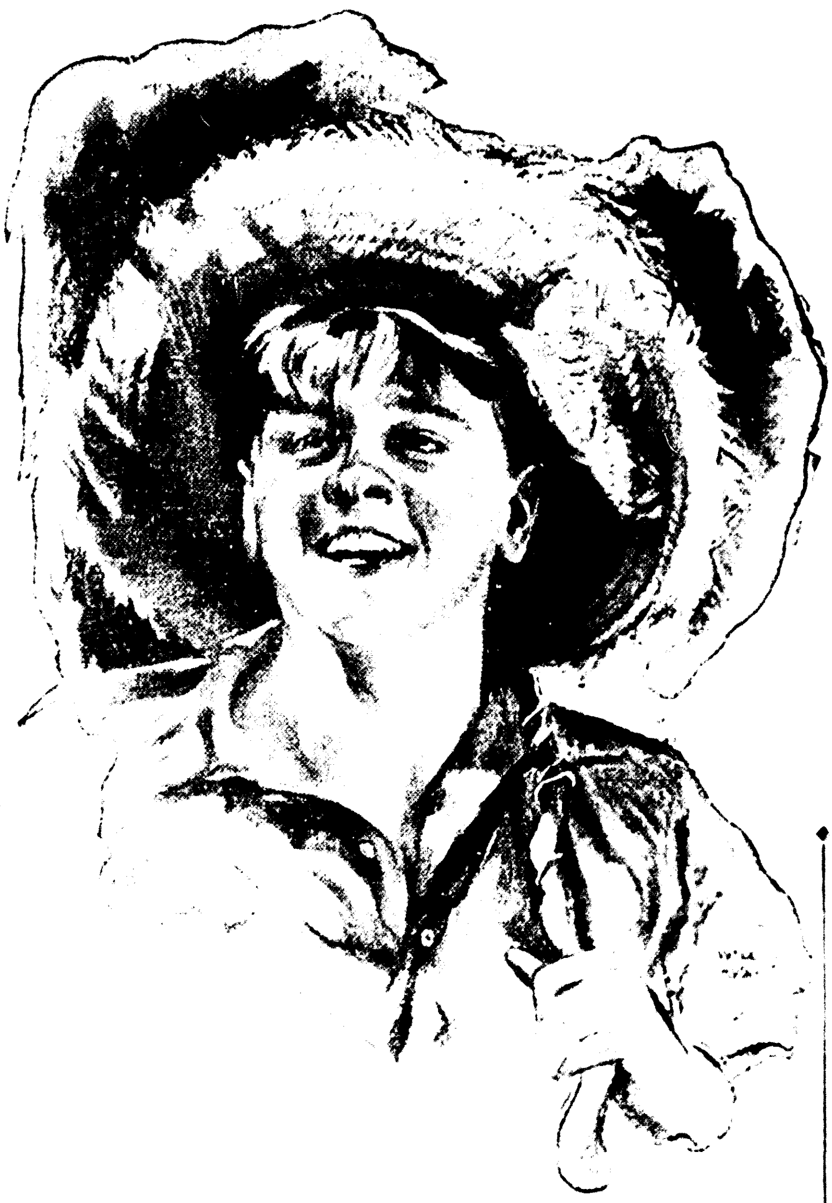
SCHOOL BOARD BUILDING IN CATAHOULA GRANTED

The Works Progress administration has just approved the allotment of $3.441 for Catahoula parish, according to information received from the office of Representative Newt V. Mills.

The project comprises the construction of a school board office building at Jonesville, including the installation of electrical and plumbing facilities, preparing the site, excavating, landscaping and performing appurtenant and identical work. The sponsor and owner of the property is the Catahoula parish school board.



"The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" brings Mickey Rooney to the Paramount screen in his first solo starring role as the young hero of Mark Twain's immortal story of a boy who represents the carefree ideal of boyhood the world over. It plays today through Tuesday.

Newspaper romance climaxes in wedding of Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell in the swiftly-paced drama playing Thursday at the Capitol theater. Bobby Jordan is in support.

There was "The Covered Wagon," there was "Cimarron," there was "Wells Fargo" and now roaring from the screen is "Stand Up and Fight," starring Wallace Berry, Robert Taylor and Florence Rice. The supporting cast includes Helen Broderick, Charles Bickford, Barton MacLane and John Qualen. It plays Friday at the Capitol theater.

Gloria Dickson and John Garfield are the romantic pair in "They Made Me a Criminal," starring the Dead End Kids, playing Wednesday at the Capitol theater.

'Pacific Liner' Cast Headed By Victor McLaglen And Chester Morris

TWO determined men pitted against each other in a deadly struggle of brawn against brains, within a steel-walled world surrounded by treacherous high seas—that's RKO Radio's "Pacific Liner," gripping drama of unleashed passions which is coming to the Capitol theater today.

Virile Victor McLaglen as a two-fisted chief engineer, swaggering dictator of an ocean liner's murky stokehold and Chester Morris as a rugged ship's-doctor are co-starred.

Crammed with adventure, romance and conflict, the story unfolds during an ill-fated voyage from Shanghai to San Francisco. Morris ships aboard the S. S. Arcturus as physician in order to be near nurse Wendy Barrie, although his skill with tropical diseases has brought him more lucrative offers. McLaglen accepts the post as chief engineer on the liner because the captain, looking forward to a record-breaking run, wants the only man who holds the throbs of a ship's engine more important than the pulse beats of his motley crew.

It is inevitable that the two strong-willed men should clash, especially when the hard-boiled engineer takes too great an interest in the pretty nurse. The conflict becomes further aggravated when a strange epidemic breaks out, concentrating itself below deck among the grimy members of the engine and fire rooms where the chief engineer rules so tyrannically.

From this point on the drama and suspense of the story reach spectacular heights, with the doctor and the nurse striving desperately to halt the spread of the malady, and the chief engineer struggling to keep the engines running in the face of hysteria among the fast diminishing survivors. How the stricken ill tyrant finally succumbs to the disease himself, thus precipitating a near mutiny among his men, and how the physician saves his life and wins the girl are events leading to the film's smashing climax.

In addition to the principals, other important roles are played by Barry Fitzgerald as a good-natured "wiper"; Alan Hale as a pugnacious fireman and Allen Lane.

Lew Landers directed "Pacific Liner," which was produced by Robert Sisk from a screen play by John Twist.

CLUB HEARS HOW ENDURANCE BUILT

Business Men's Athletic Club Works Out For Health And Strength

Members of the Business Men's Athletic club, which meets at 8 o'clock each Tuesday and Friday nights at the Monroe Recreation center, 124 1-2 DeSiard street, are learning the technical meaning of endurance and the scientific explanations of how endurance is attained.

One of the reasons why the club's instructors impart this educational knowledge is that it is interesting to young men determined to build up their health and strength, but the primary reason is that it is designed to curb the enthusiasm of club members who would attempt to build up their bodies too quickly and who would thereby draw too heavily upon their reserve strength, break down their muscular tissues too greatly and accomplish an opposite end, the weakening of endurance.

Exercise, such as the weight lifting, tumbling, boxing, wrestling and calisthentics performed by members of the Business Men's Athletic club, actually breaks down the muscular tissues, according to the instructors. But when nature rebuilds the tissues, they are stronger than they were before. This is where the club's practice of progressive breaking down and rebuilding of tissues builds endurance.

Endurance is defined as "the ability of the body to keep up repairs during continuous physical activity." The circulatory and respiratory functions rid the blood of poisons generated by exercise, but when the untrained and ambitious physical culture student engages in too much exertion, the poisons accumulate faster than his system can get rid of them. On the other hand, when the lungs and heart are progressively trained to perform their proper functions, endurance is being developed, it was explained by the instructors.

Membership in the club, which fills a long-felt need of an organization in which young business men may obtain exercise, is open to interested persons. The membership fee of one dollar a month is used to purchase athletic equipment. The instructors work without pay and count the exercise they receive and the fellowship of the club as their reward for their services.

'BEST DRESSER' CONTEST TO END

Wednesday Last Day; Pictures To Be Published On Easter Sunday

The Twin Cities' "Best-Dresser Campaign" is nearing its close for the contest ends on Wednesday and after that it will be too late. No one knows who the judges are but it is known that they have been out on the streets of the two cities for the past few days and everybody has been subjected to the most searching scrutiny.

The five best-dressed men and five best-dressed women will be announced in the Morning World on Easter Sunday, when their pictures will be published.

Good-natured rivalry has been the regular rule the past few days and men and women have been better dressed than usual, people evidently paying more attention to their attire than usual.

Men have taken to green suits, the prevailing rage, while women's apparel has been of the usual varying hues, there being a riot of spring colors to be seen on every hand.

No one was sure just when those elusive judges would be on duty and the mystery shrouding the affair lent to its interest.

The contest is being staged by the retail merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB NINE YEARS OLD

A double celebration was held by the Y's Men at their meeting at Hotel Frances the past week to observe the ninth anniversary of the founding of the group here and also to conduct a ladies' night. Members of the club and "Y's Manettes" attended.

The program comprised a vocal solo by Miss Johnette Register, a piano solo by Dr. Verne Kelsey, local pastor and prominent musician, a reading by Miss Dorothea Fluke and a musical number by Jack May.

John L. Madden, international vice-president, discussed some of the features and objectives of Y's Men's clubs and a "birthday cake" with nine candles was cut by President "Doc" Bennett. But the cake proved to be pasteboard, so the expected feast in that direction failed to materialize, but the evening was one of great pleasure, members asserted.

HODGE SCHOOL ADDITION IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

JONESBORO, La., April 1—(Special)—Construction of a two-story, eight-room brick addition to the Hodge Grammar school is progressing satisfactorily and the work is expected to be completed early in July.

Having four rooms on each floor, the addition will form a wing on the south side of the building and will be finished with the same type of brick as the main building.

CLASSES MAKE TOURS

CHOUDRANT, La., April 1.—(Special)—Senior and sophomore classes of the Choudrant High school have made their annual tours, the former class going to Natchez, Miss., and the latter to Barksdale field, near Shreveport. Mrs. Mary O'Neal and Miss Doris Durrette chaperoned the seniors, and Mrs. R. W. Kemp chaperoned the sophomores.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING!

Glass Work Done While You Wait At Ouachita Glass Co.

You can get automobile glass, plain or safety, rapidly replaced while you wait at Ouachita Glass company, 310 Washington street. Or you can have a window or windshield glass replaced in your car while you shop. There's plenty of parking space for your machine on all sides of the place of business occupied by the firm.

But Ouachita Glass company offers more than convenience for motorists. It gives first class workmanship. Its owners, Johnny Cutrer and Hardy Rutherford, are generally conceded by Monroe automobile dealers to be two of the best auto glass men in this section.

Besides automobile glass work, however, Ouachita Glass company engages in the installation of window glass and in the manufacture of glass tops for desks and other pieces of furniture.

When in need of the services of Ouachita Glass company, just call telephone number 270. You'll receive prompt attention.

Be Thrifty, Buy Yourself A Home

Be thrifty! That, in modern-day language, means to spend wisely, to invest carefully rather than save slavishly.

The best investment now open is a home. It's something you can enjoy while you're buying.

Never before have such values in Monroe and West Monroe properties been offered as have been made availabl by the People's Homestead and Savings association, corner of DeSiard and Catalpa streets. And never before have such convenient purchase terms and financing been offered as are available at the People's Homestead and Savings association.

Think of it—10 per cent down and the balance at only 5 1-2 per cent interest over a long period of years! That makes the acquisition of a home possible for almost everyone.

The sale of all properties owned by the People's Homestead and Savings association is handled by Jonas Selig and Morton Myatt, licensed real estate brokers. They maintain an office at the association and their telephone number there is 4990. Mr. Selig's home phone is 978 and Mr. Myatt's, 3382.

Their listings include homes in every section of Monroe and West Monroe. They're virtually certain of having exactly what you've been looking for at the price you are able to pay. Moreover, they have listed several pieces of desirable business property.

Spatafora's Gives Excellent Service

It's that it's-a-pleasure-to-serve-you atmosphere that prevails at the establishment that makes Spatafora's Pharmacy, 801 DeSiard street, one of the most popular drug stores in Monroe.

That and the fact that it handles the high grade of merchandise in its line that the public demands. That and the fact that it maintains a fast free delivery service.

All customers are greeted with genuine cordiality and given prompt service by the employes of Spatafora's Pharmacy.

The prescription department—the department devoted to the relief of the sick—is the pharmacy's pride. All prescriptions are carefully compounded with the best of drugs by the four registered pharmacists who serve the department.

You can get anything you need in the line of toilet articles, cosmetics, cigarettes, cigars and the like at Spatafora's Pharmacy. A combination bar and soda fountain is operated in connection with the drug store. It serves plain and fancy drinks of all kinds and deals in packaged liquors, both domestic and imported.

HOWARD GRIFFIN'S MODERN ESTABLISHMENT

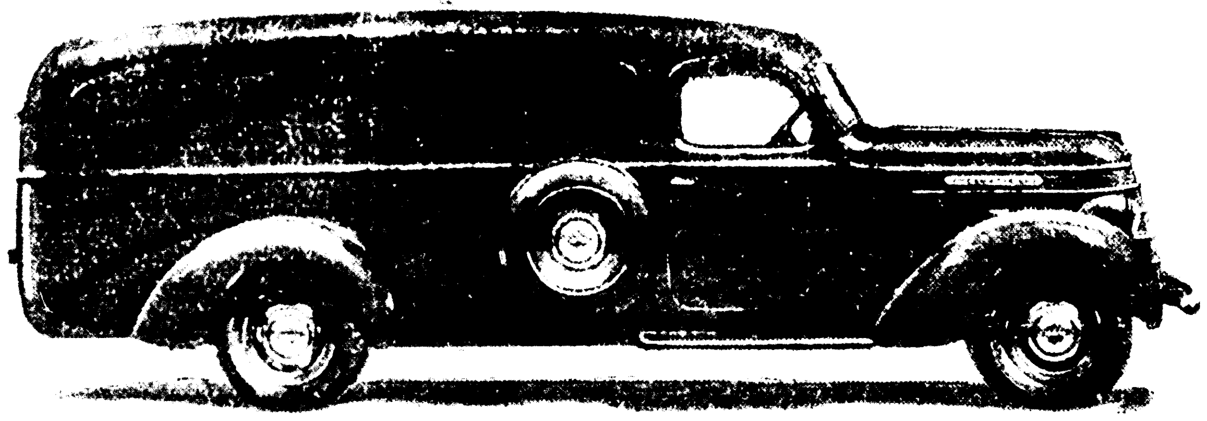
BEAUTY AND ECONOMY COMBINED



Smart modern styling, dependable performance and long life are yours in an International truck. International trucks are built for trucking in the first place and built to operate at a minimum expense. And International Harvester company, 720 DeSiard street, the dealer for this area, is here to keep them operating that way. Factory standard parts and factory standard methods of repair will make your Internationals earn their way on every load they carry. Make Internationals your truck partners—and make International Harvester company the truck service department of your business. Pictured above is one of the panel models handled by International Harvester company. There are many other types of Internationals, one for every requirement. And remember this: International trucks are motor trucks with motor truck motors.

Fine Used Cars Are Being Sold By O. K. Welder

Some of the best used tires you've ever laid eyes on can be had at O. K. Rubber Welder, 2404 DeSiard street. The concern has a fine stock of 6.00x16's and 5.50x17's priced from $2.50 to $8. These tires are scarcely visibly worn and are good for 5,000 to 15,000 miles of service. In other words, they're almost new.

But these are not the only used tires stocked by O. K. Rubber Welder. The firm has tires as cheap as 50 cents and used tubes varying upward in price from 35 cents. Moreover, O. K. Rubber Welder will trade with you on your old tires and tubes if they are useable.

The establishment handles tires and tubes of all sizes, including retreaded and recapped tires as cheap as $5, and operates a free road service within a radius of five miles of Monroe. If you have a blowout or puncture and need a tire or tire service, O. K. Rubber Welder will provide it for you. Just call telephone number 9233.

In addition to buying, selling and swapping used tires and tubes, O. K. Rubber Welder engages in the tire repair business. It welds patches on tires and tubes—patches that stay put, patches that will wear as long and take as much punishment as the tire or tube itself.

Your tire or tube is permanently repaired, without sacrifice of balance, when it's repaired by O. K. Rubber Welder. Don't throw your injured tires and tubes away. Save money. Have them repaired by O. K. Rubber Welder.

NORMAL STUDENTS CHOOSE OFFICERS

Frank Eason Potpourri Editor, Joe Polancic Junior Vice-President

NATCHITOCHES, La., April 1.—(Special)—Seventeen officers including heads of the student association and classes and editors of publications were selected for the 1939-40 session at the Louisiana State Normal college here in the annual election staged by the student body.

Melvin Bradley of Sarepta defeated John D. Bell of Franklin and Elmo Futrell for president of the student association, and Edmund Saucier of Eunice won over Patrick Murphy of Natchitoches for vice-president of the organization. Alma Fluitt of Haynesville was named secretary-treasurer of the student association without opposition.

Frank Eason of Monroe was named editor of the 1940 Potpourri, student yearbook, over Mary Bell White of Oil City, and William Rigdon of Coushatta was chosen editor of Current Sauce, student paper, winning over John Duffy of Alexandria and Theresa Harbourt of St. Gabriel.

In the class elections Jack Fisher of Natchitoches defeated John Renwick of Monroe for president of the senior class, with Hampden Murrell of Crowley named vice-president over Meredith Cravens of Little Rock, Ark., and Marjorie Gaunt of Shreveport winning over Frances Mae Fournet of Natchitoches for secretary-treasurer of the class.

Roland Migues of Kinder defeated Ernest Tyler of Springhill for president of the junior class; Joe Polancic of Monroe won over Jimmy Steen of Crowley for vice-president; and Marjorie Gathright of Natchitoches was named secretary-treasurer over Helen Lowe of Haynesville.

David Bramley of Arcadia won over Tom Schwalm of New Orleans for president of the sophomore class; Sheila Caldwell of Shreveport defeated Warren Allen of Winnfield for vice-president; and Beverly Dumestre of New Orleans was named secretary-treasurer of the sophomores over Thelma Palmer of Natchitoches.

Student council members at large selected in the general election are Jimmie Perkins of Natchitoches, Abe Rhodes of Waterproof and Donnie Waller of Haynesville.

MANY TO GO TO MASS MEETING

Highway Project For South Arkansas Will Be Given Emphasis

Interest is being exhibited in two states over the proposed mass meeting and luncheon scheduled for Monticello, Ark., Thursday noon, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis and Lions clubs of that city.

The purpose of the meeting is to emphasize the necessity for the Arkansas state highway commission to hardsurface the present unpaved gaps on state highway No. 13 to connect at the state line with Louisiana highway No. 204, which in turn links up with federal highway No. 165 through Monroe to Alexandria and New Orleans.

Governor Carl Bailey of Arkansas will attend as will the following members of the Arkansas state highway commission: Hugh B. Benton, Fordyce; W. W. Mitchell, Little Rock; John H. Vogel, El Dorado; and large delegations from Bastrop, Columbia, Monroe, West Monroe, and from south Arkansas cities such as Hamburg, Monticello, Star City and Pine Bluff.

A Twin City delegation, headed by Tom Hicks, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee, has the past week visited Bastrop and Columbia and has secured active support for the project from Chambers of Commerce and civic clubs in these two cities.

The local party plans to leave Monroe Thursday at 9 a.m. and will proceed directly to Monticello where the luncheon will be held in one of the buildings of the A. and M. college. Those desiring to attend but who lack motor transportation can obtain same by calling the office of the local Chamber of Commerce which assures that all who desire to go will be provided with means of making the trip.

Ruston Methodist Church Will Be Dedicated Today

Service Is Believed To Be First In Nation Following Unification

RUSTON, La., April 1.—(Special)—Unusual distinction will come to Ruston with the dedication of the new Methodist church here at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. The occasion, it is believed, will mark the first church dedication in the nation to be performed under the new acceptance service resulting from the unification of Methodism between the north and south.

In fact, the ritual by which the local church will be dedicated has not yet been formally adopted but is expected to be approved at a meeting of the united Methodist churches in Kansas City within the next few weeks, according to Rev. Guy M. Hicks, pastor of the church here.

Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Tex., who will officiate at the dedication ceremonies here Sunday afternoon, has a prospectus of the new order of service and he will use that copy, Rev. Hicks said.

"We will be the first in Louisiana and probably the first in the United States to use the new service," the pastor stated.

To Change Name

The dedication will change the name of the local church from the "Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South," to the "Trinity Methodist Church." With the unification of the northern and southern churches, the word "Episcopal" was dropped, it was announced, but the churches may continue to use such "given" names as "Trinity."

Bishop Smith's dedication of the church here will conclude a series of revival meetings he has been conducting at Ruston this week.

The new building is Ruston's third Methodist church. The first was erected in 1884, only a few months after the town was founded. The second was built in 1902.

Property on which the second church was built was deeded to the Methodists by Robert E. Russ, for whom Ruston was named. After the third church was erected about a year ago one block east of the second church, the Russ heirs sought to prevent sale of the second church and lot by the Methodists, maintaining, in effect, that the lot was deeded for church purposes and could not be sold as property of the Methodist group. The state supreme court, it is said, recently decided in favor of the Methodists and the property will be sold the Methodists, probably in private sale.

Canvass Conducted

Prior to beginning the new church, a canvass for funds was conducted among the membership and a total of $92,600 was raised. Included in that sum is $1,000 listed in the record book as "A Gift of God," given anonymously by the parents of a baby daughter, who burned to death several years ago.

"When the little girl was born," the father told Rev. Hicks, "my wife and I started to create a fund for her education. When she was three years old, her clothing caught fire and she was burned to death. We have kept up the fund and would like to give the money to the church."

It is understood that another anonymous gift of about $3,000 recently was given to the church to provide stained windows. A contract for the stained glass is said to have been awarded a few days ago.

With the sum raised since the fall of 1937, the Ruston Methodists have erected one of the finest buildings of its kind in this part of the state. The attractive brick building adjoins the Methodist education building, which was erected a few years ago. A distinctive feature of the new church is a porte-cochere entrance on the south side, which permits convenient entering of the building in case of funerals and other occasions.

Membership Of 1,200

A history of the Methodist church in Ruston, compiled by Judge S. D. Pearce of Ruston to be placed in the cornerstone of the new building shows growth from a handful of members and a frame building to the present membership of about 1,200 and church property valued at more than $100,000.

Among other items to be placed in the cornerstone will be the fragile and moulded remains recently removed from the cornerstone of the second church. These items will be placed in a glass jar and labeled.

All living presiding elders of the Ruston district and all former Methodist pastors serving the Ruston church are among those invited to attend the dedication and cornerstone laying Sunday afternoon. Since the church was organized here by Rev. J. H. Stone in 1883, with Rev. T. B. White being the first officially appointed pastor, 22 ministers have served the Ruston church.

THE FOE DRAWS NEAR
MAL-YUT, CHIEF OF THE HALF-MEN, WAS AWED BY THE DEADLY MAGIC OF MARSADA'S THUNDER-STICK.
WITH ANIMAL CUNNING AND HUMAN CRAFTINESS HE DECIDED TO MAKE THIS WIZARD HIS FRIEND. MARSADA WAS DELIGHTED. HE COULD TRAIN THESE FIERCE CREATURES TO RAID NATIVE VILLAGES FOR IVORY.
BUT FIRST HE MUST DESTROY THE ONLY OBSTACLE TO HIS PLAN-- TARZAN, THE JUNGLE GUARDIAN.
TARZAN AND LINDA DWELT NOW WITH THE APE-TRIBE, OF WHICH TARZAN HAD BECOME KING.
THE GIRL FELT SECURE WITH SO MANY STRONG PROTECTORS. BUT TARZAN WAS NOT SO CERTAIN OF SECURITY.
HE WAS PUZZLED BY THE LINGOOS, THE MYSTERIOUS CREATURES WHO WERE ENEMIES OF THE TRIBE.
THROUGH THE LONG DAYS BAK-DAK SAT UNDER A TREE, HIS BROKEN LEG BOUND IN A SPLINT TARZAN MADE.
BAK-DAK FRETTED FOR FEAR THE LINGOOS WOULD COME, AND HE WOULD BE HELPLESS TO ESCAPE
SO TARZAN CARVED CRUDE CRUTCHES AND TAUGHT HIM TO WALK ON THEM, WHILE THE TRIBE MARVELED.
HOGARTH—
THE SCENT GREW STRONGER. THE APES CAUGHT IT TOO. "LINGOOS!" THEY CRIED IN DISMAY.

HECK, NO! I WOULDN'T TAKE TH' JOB AS A GIFT! FOOEY!! WHAT A PAIN IN TH' NECK!
ALLEY OOP! KING GUZ WANTS T'SEE YOU! HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS IS IN A HURRY, SO MAKE IT SNAPPY!
AW, NERTZ! NOW WHAT HAVE I DONE?
OOP -- HOW'DJUH LIKE TO BE BOSS OF MOO FOR A FEW DAYS?
WHO, ME? WHY, ER ---
NEVER MIND -- I GOTTA ATTEND A CONFERENCE IN LEM, SO YOU'RE ELECTED! HERE -- YOU'LL WEAR THESE AS YOUR BADGE OF AUTHORITY IN MY ABSENCE
NOW, SEEIN'S HOW I'M IN A HURRY, I'M GONNA BORROW YOUR DINNY, IF IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH YOU
WHY, SURE, GUZ -- I WON'T BE NEEDIN' HIM
AN' BE CAREFUL OF THEM JEWELS - THEY'VE BEEN IN TH' FAMILY SINCE OL' GRANDPAW GUZZLE TH' FIRST OKAY
I'LL BE DAGGONED!
HEH! IT LOOKS LIKE I'M COMIN' UP IN TH' WORLD
KING OF MOO! NOT BAD! NOT BAD!
HI, OOOLA! GIVE A LOOK -- TH' ROYAL BEADS -- I'M A BIG-SHOT NOW! PRETTY SWELL, EH?
WHY, ALLEY OOP! HOW NICE!
YEP! HEAD MAN, THAT'S ME! C'MON, KID.. LE'S GO SHOW FOLKS AN' STUFF!
GRAND! BUT WAIT - A BIG SHOT SHOULDN'T BE SEEN WITH A GIRL WHOSE NOSE IS SHINY!
MY, ALLEY -- I'M SO PROUD OF YOU!
YEAH! HEH, HEH! SO'M I!
ALLEY! LISTEN! DO YOU HEAR SOMETHING?
YEH! IT'S SOME KIND OF A BUZZING!
OH! I FEEL SO QUEER --
EH? GOOD GIDDILTY GOSH!
